

Memorandum

to Mr. Donald J. Hennessy

Date August 29, 1979

From: Philip R. Dougherty

Subject: Suggested Revision of Annotation 420.0590 to Include New Material from Kodak

420.0590 Photographic Chemicals. Following is a list of Kodak photographic chemicals, classified according to whether or not they may properly be purchased for resale. The list is applicable to photofinishers or photographic studios processing film by the negative/positive process or reverse processing. The list is also applicable to color separators who do not pass title to negatives to their customers prior to using the negatives to produce positives (prints). In the left-hand column of the list, the suffix "chrome" is applied to reversal materials, and the suffix "color" to non-reversal materials. The following ten chemicals, which are classified in the list as not properly purchased for resale, may be properly purchased for resale by a color separator who passes title to negatives to his customers prior to using the negative to produce positives (prints):

1. Kodak Liquid Developer Process C 22
2. Kodak Liquid Developer Replenisher C 22
3. Kodak Hardener C 22
