COLLECTIONS  700.000

GENERAL STATEMENT ON COLLECTIONS  702.000

IMPORTANCE OF COLLECTION ACTIVITY  702.010

One of the main responsibilities of the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) is to collect all amounts due under the tax and fee programs it administers. To accomplish that task, it is necessary to have an efficient and effective collection program. The primary objective is to maximize the collection of unpaid tax and fee liabilities while minimizing effort, cost, and time.

To reach this objective, staff in the collections program must be thoroughly familiar with the provisions of the laws pertaining to collections under the CDTFA’s various tax and fee programs, and there must be proper control of collection assignments. This chapter provides collection staff with basic tools to:

1. Interview tax/fee payers,
2. Locate missing tax/fee payers and assets, and
3. Perform collection actions as necessary.

To advise taxpayers of the CDTFA’s collection policies, publication 54, Tax Collection Procedures, is available on CDTFA’s web site. Collectors should be prepared to provide information about publication 54 and advise taxpayers how to obtain it. Although each taxpayer should be given a chance to pay voluntarily (except in situations where delay jeopardizes the chance of collection), prompt and effective collection action should be taken when necessary. When promises are broken, the taxpayer should be contacted promptly and advised that appropriate remedies will be taken unless payment is made immediately. Failure to promptly follow up with appropriate collection action when a promise is broken sends a message to the taxpayer that payments can be easily delayed or avoided and may encourage some taxpayers to procrastinate when future payments become due.

As used in this manual, “full collection efforts” means and includes the entire range of activities pertaining to collecting delinquent taxes and fees. “Passive collection efforts” include contacting the taxpayer by mail and phone, skip tracing and locating assets. “Active collection actions” are actions imposed upon the taxpayer such as levying bank accounts, filing liens, etc. In most cases, it is preferable to begin working a collection case by utilizing passive collection efforts first. Whenever possible, staff must speak to the taxpayer before employing active collection procedures.

Tax/Fee Payers Facing Financial Difficulties

While continuing to follow existing policies and procedures, staff should be flexible when working with taxpayers facing financial difficulties, particularly businesses that, until recently, were in good standing with the CDTFA. While staff should continue to objectively evaluate a taxpayer’s request for a payment plan, they should also allow some flexibility and employ reasonableness when determining the terms of the agreement. For example, if a taxpayer requests to temporarily make reduced payments or post third party collateral to support those reduced payments, such a request should be reviewed and considered and not automatically denied.

CDTFA collection policies are designed to deal with all collection situations including those where taxpayers are experiencing financial difficulties. Several payment or resolution options are available to taxpayers with a liability, including payment plans, Offer in Compromise, and Innocent Spouse Relief programs. When a taxpayer is unable to pay their liability in full immediately, staff should inform the taxpayer of all payment or resolution options that may apply to their situation. In addition, the taxpayer should be informed of their option to apply for a payment plan online prior to beginning negotiations with collection staff (see CPPM section 770.010). Staff should evaluate each taxpayer’s unique circumstances and payment history while concurrently following existing CDTFA polices and making decisions that are in the State’s best interest.

Collection Assignment Control 702.020

Collection assignments are controlled by an electronic system. It is the responsibility of compliance supervisors, branch office supervisors, and administrators to ensure assignments are being worked appropriately. However, it is also the responsibility of each collector to ensure that all assignments are given appropriate attention in a timely manner.
Compliance Policy and Procedures Manual

SOURCES OF LIABILITY AND WHEN TO PROCEED 703.000

SOURCES OF LIABILITY 703.010

Tax and fee liabilities are either self-assessed or CDTFA-assessed.

1. SELF-ASSESSED. A self-assessed liability is an amount that the taxpayer declares is owed to the CDTFA. This type of liability occurs when the taxpayer files:
   a. A tax or fee return without payment (“no remittance” or “NR” return),
   b. Return(s) accompanied by a payment that is subsequently dishonored by the bank or other type of financial institution,
   c. A return without full payment (“partial remittance” or “PR” return), or
   d. A return after the due date with payment for the tax or fee but not penalty or interest.

2. CDTFA-ASSESSED. A CDTFA-assessed liability is an amount that staff determines is due from the taxpayer. The source of the amount determined to be due may be any of the following:
   a. Audit,
   b. Examination of taxpayer records from which estimated returns or a field billing order (FBO) is prepared,
   c. Computation errors in a return filed showing an underpayment of tax due, or
   d. Information received from other sources such as county Assessor’s offices, the Department of Motor Vehicles, Federal Aviation Administration, United States Coast Guard, vehicle dealers or Information Use Tax returns disclosing a liability.

WHEN TO PROCEED ON SELF-ASSESSED LIABILITIES 703.020

Full collection efforts may commence immediately for tax/fee liabilities resulting from “no remittance” or “partial remittance” returns, provided the due date for filing the return has passed. As indicated in section 702.010, in most cases it is preferable to locate and contact the taxpayer prior to taking active collection actions. All penalty and interest charges resulting from the late filing of a return or the late payment of amounts shown to be due on a return are also subject to collection effort at the time the return becomes delinquent. When a return is filed after the due date, or filed but not fully paid, the taxpayer must pay immediately, otherwise collection action should begin without delay. It is not necessary for a demand notice to be issued to the taxpayer before initiating collection efforts or actions.
The CDTFA–1210, Notice of Determination (NOD), formally notifies taxpayers of a CDTFA-assessed liability. RTC section 6486 for sales and use tax, and equivalent statutes for special tax and fee programs, state that the notice shall be placed in a sealed envelope, with postage paid, addressed to the taxpayer at his or her address as it appears in the records of the CDTFA. Service of the notice is complete at the time the notice is deposited in the United States Post Office, or a mailbox, or other facility regularly maintained or provided by the United States Postal Service. If a notice is served in person, service is complete at the time of delivery.

The NOD has a “letter date” and a “notice service date.” The notice service date is the date the NOD is mailed, which is the letter date plus one business day, and is the date used to determine whether a notice was issued within the statutory timeframes, interest calculations, and the deadline for the taxpayer to file a petition for redetermination. When the NOD is manually issued by a collector, the NOD can be issued with the same letter date and notice service date if it is mailed the same day it is created.

All CDTFA-administered tax and fee program NODs, except for jeopardy NODs and those made for the payment of cigarette tax stamps, become final 30 days after the notice service date on the NOD, unless the taxpayer files a petition for redetermination within that 30-day period. Under Cigarette and Tobacco Products Tax Law (RTC section 30174), an NOD for failure to pay for cigarette tax stamps becomes final 10 days after the notice service date on the NOD, unless the distributor files a petition for redetermination and posts a security deposit within the 10-day period. Jeopardy NODs also become final 10 days after the notice service date on the NOD unless the taxpayer files a petition for redetermination and posts a security deposit within the 10-day period. The date on which the NOD becomes final is known as the “finality date.”

As in the case of self-assessed liabilities, a demand notice does not need to be issued prior to taking collection action. Passive collection efforts (e.g., contacting the taxpayer by phone, skip tracing, locating assets) may commence before the finality date. Regular NODs become due and payable as of the finality date, and active collection action may be initiated immediately thereafter. Jeopardy NODs are immediately due and payable, meaning that active collection efforts may begin on the notice service date of the jeopardy NOD (see subsection Jeopardy Determinations below). However, if the taxpayer files a timely petition for redetermination with the requisite deposit, the NOD does not become final, and active collection activities are stayed, pending resolution of the petition for redetermination. A “finality penalty” is added if the tax assessed by the NOD is not fully paid by the finality date, equal to 10 percent of the unpaid tax.

Retention of NOD Report

The Bulk Mail Unit receives the original NOD Certification List daily via email and verifies each NOD listed in the report. Two verification team members and one supervisor sign the report certifying the mailing of all NODs listed. The signed reports are scanned by date and saved in the Notice Certification folder on the Y drive where all team members have read-only access. Once the scanned copy of the report is verified and readable, the paper version will be stored in a secure location with the Bulk Mail Unit supervisor. Electronically stored versions of the report are kept for 10 years.
Address Changes and Returned Mail

If the NOD issued to the address of record is returned to the CDTFA after mailing, the only basis to deem the service of the NOD as “invalid” is if there was an error on the part of the CDTFA. If the NOD is received as returned mail and the taxpayer had notified the CDTFA prior to the NOD being issued of a change of address, either in writing or in another manner documented in CDTFA’s records, but the CDTFA failed to update its records accordingly, the NOD should be cancelled and, if the statute of limitations period has not expired, a new NOD issued to the correct address.

IMPORTANT: Team members responsible for issuing the new NOD to the correct address must first invalidate the original NOD and investigate the appropriate way to issue a new NOD. If the bill item is not final (has not staged to finalized), it should be staged back to issue NOD by a supervisor so a new NOD may be issued.

However, if the bill item is final, it must be reversed and all transactions related to it must be cancelled (e.g., reversing estimated returns, reducing the original audit to $0, unlinking bill items in a dual collection case). The new NOD must relate to a new bill item to properly tie to the correct billing timeline (i.e., new finality date). Team members may need to request assistance with reversing bill items from the Return Analysis Unit, Return Processing Branch, Collections Support Bureau, Appeals and Data Analysis Branch, or Petitions Section, depending on the type of billing. Team members must ensure that the NOD is tied to the appropriate bill item.

Team members must verify and timely update CDTFA records to reflect the address change information received from a taxpayer as soon as they become aware of the new address. When the NOD contains one or more periods for which the statute of limitations is close to expiring and the NOD was mailed to an invalid address, the statute for some periods could expire before a new NOD can be issued and mailed to the correct address. This could mean the CDTFA is unable to include some periods on the NOD. For example, when the NOD is cancelled and rebilled, periods falling outside the statute of limitations (and not subject to a waiver signed by the taxpayer) must be eliminated. Additionally, a note should be entered regarding the source from which the information was obtained.

Every effort should be made, using any resources available to CDTFA for locating people, to verify the address of the taxpayer prior to issuing the NOD. If there is reason to believe that the taxpayer is at an address that has not been confirmed, the NOD should be issued to both the address of record and to the address where the CDTFA believes that taxpayer receives mail. Additional addresses may be entered into the system to generate multiple copies of the NOD to the same taxpayer.

Team members in the office responsible for the account should ensure that all reports, including reaudits and adjusted field billing orders, include verified, up-to-date addresses for all partners and corporate officers. Registration records should always be updated in the system prior to the transmission of such reports.

Generally, NODs received as returned mail by the Customer Service Center are sent to the office of account for handling. NODs for estimated returns received as returned mail are sent to the office that issued the NOD.
Team members in the responsible office will check the system for a new address. If the investigation reveals an address change that the CDTFA received prior to mailing the NOD and the address was not updated in the system, the NOD will be cancelled. If the statute of limitations has not passed, the NOD will be reissued with the new address and mailed to the taxpayer at the correct address. Note that in cases where the statute of limitations for a period is near expiration, the expiring period must be eliminated from the NOD if the replacement NOD will not be issued prior to that expiration date.

If the investigation discloses an address change that was received after the NOD issue date, a copy of the original NOD will be re-mailed to the taxpayer at the new address and the new address should be entered into the system along with appropriate notes.

Petition for Redetermination

For sales and use tax NODs and most special tax and fee NODs, the person against whom the NOD is made, or any person directly interested, may file a petition for redetermination within 30 days of the notice service date or, if a jeopardy or failure to pay cigarette stamps NOD, within 10 days of the notice service date (see publication 17, Appeals Procedures). The filing of a petition must be in writing and state the specific reasons why the taxpayer believes the amount determined to be due is incorrect. Additionally, a petition of a jeopardy or failure to pay cigarette stamps NOD will not be accepted unless the petitioner posts the required security within 10 days of the notice service date.

If the CDTFA receives a timely petition for redetermination, the liability enters the appeals process and does not become final because the system places the bill item into a “locked” petition for redetermination stage. The petition stage on the bill item prevents users and the system from staging the bill item forward into a finalized or subsequent collectable stage. Additionally, an Active Appeal Case indicator will automatically be added to alert users that the case exists.

When the taxpayer files a timely petition, the original NOD is superseded by a Notice of Redetermination at the conclusion of the appeal process. Only passive collection efforts may be taken until the Notice of Redetermination becomes final. Active collection actions may not be taken on NODs tied to bill items in a petition for redetermination stage.

Administrative Protest

A petition is timely only if filed within 30 days of the notice service date. A petition is invalid if it is filed prior to the issuance of the NOD or more than 30 days following the notice service date. The Petitions Section or Appeals and Data Analysis Branch (ADAB) may accept an invalid petition into the appeals process as an administrative protest pursuant to Appeals Regulation 35019. Exceptions to the 30 days to file a timely petition are jeopardy NODs and NODs made for the payment of cigarette tax stamps, which become final in 10 days.

An invalid petition may be accepted as an administrative protest when the Business Tax and Fee Division Deputy Director or designee, determines that there is a reasonable basis to believe that there may be an error with the NOD. (See below for discussion regarding late appeals of jeopardy NODs.) The section assigned to review the appeal is responsible for notifying the taxpayer when an appeal is accepted as a timely petition, is accepted as an administrative protest, or is not accepted into the appeals process because it was not filed timely (as explained above).
The CDTFA generally accepts an invalid petition as an administrative protest when the taxpayer:

- Has a known representative (power of attorney) on file and a copy of the NOD was not mailed to the representative,
- Has another pending case with similar areas of contention that is already in the appeals process,
- Received multiple NODs for different periods on the same account and a timely petition was previously filed for the first period billed,
- Is a corporate officer who received a dual NOD and a timely petition was previously filed for the corporation,
- Can document that they were unavailable to reply during the petition period (e.g., out of town, hospitalized, incarcerated) and files an appeal as soon as they are able to do so (within 30 days of becoming available) with documentation supporting the reason for the delay, or
- Filed a premature appeal and then filed a late petition, but filed the late petition within a reasonable period of time. While reasonable time is meant to be flexible to accommodate the taxpayer’s circumstances, it typically does not exceed 30 days.

The Petitions Section or ADAB must notify the taxpayer who files a premature appeal that such appeal cannot be accepted as a timely petition since it was received before the date the NOD was mailed and that the taxpayer should resubmit the petition within the required timeline(s) once the NOD is mailed. The Petitions Section or ADAB will attempt to call the taxpayer to advise them to refile the petition within the timeframe required to be accepted as a timely appeal.

The Petitions Section or ADAB will also upload a copy of the CDTFA’s letter and a copy of the premature petition into the system. If the office that originated the NOD is in contact with the taxpayer, they shall remind the taxpayer to file a timely appeal and enter notes into the system about the receipt of, and response to, the premature appeal.

When the taxpayer submits new documentation or information that supports the amounts listed on the NOD are overstated, the office that issued the NOD being disputed should carefully consider the new information and, if warranted, make the appropriate adjustments to the final liability without requiring the taxpayer go through the formal appeals process.

The CDTFA generally will not accept an invalid petition as an administrative protest when the taxpayer:

- Cannot document that they were unavailable to reply during the petition period (e.g., out of town, hospitalized, incarcerated) or can document that they were unavailable to reply during the petition period but nevertheless there was a significant delay in filing an appeal once the taxpayer was able to do so. A significant delay is typically more than 30 days after becoming available;
- Claims they did not receive the NOD, but the NOD was mailed to the address of record and the CDTFA has not received any returned mail; or
- Claims they were not aware of their tax or fee obligation.
The taxpayer may request the section assigned to review the petition to reconsider an invalid petition previously not accepted as an administrative protest. If upon reconsideration, the section continues to believe the appeal should not be accepted as an administrative protest, the taxpayer’s reconsideration request will be submitted to the BTFD Deputy Director for final review and decision. When an invalid petition is not accepted as an administrative protest, the taxpayer may still appeal by paying the tax due and then filing a claim for refund. One claim for refund may be filed to cover all installment payments made towards the NOD that are still within the applicable statute, and that claim will also cover future payments towards the NOD. The taxpayer does not need to file separate claims for refund for each individual payment.

The treatment of an invalid petition for redetermination as an administrative protest does not stop the accrual of interest, and generally will not stop collection action with regard to a final liability unless the Petitions Section or ADAB determines the liability should not be subject to active collection action. If the Petitions Section or ADAB accepts a late petition as an administrative protest, an administrative protest case is created. An Active Appeal Case indicator is automatically added to alert users that the case exists.

If it is determined that active collection activities should be suspended until resolution of the administrative protest case, Petitions Section will remove the bill item from the collection case on sales and use tax accounts. For special tax and fee accounts, ADAB will assign the Stop Collection on Bill Item task to the administrator or designee. The collector will manually remove the bill item from the collection case pending the resolution of the administrative protest case. Upon resolution of the administrative protest case, Petitions Section will add the bill item back to the collection case on sales and use tax accounts when a balance remains on the disputed bill item. For special tax and fee accounts, ADAB will immediately notify the administrator or designee that active collection activities may be resumed provided a balance remains on the disputed bill item.

Regardless of whether the liability is subject to a pending administrative protest, if Petitions Section does not remove the bill item from the collection case or ADAB does not request that active collection activities be temporarily suspended, collection activities may be pursued to obtain payment of the liability. However, the collector should use judgment on a case-by-case basis in determining whether it is appropriate to pursue collection activities. Therefore, it is important to do the following:

- Research the status of the liability and the administrative protest to determine whether active collection action should be suspended while in the appeals process. This may require obtaining information from the Petitions Section, ADAB, or the Legal Division regarding the current status of the administrative protest and documentation requested or received from the taxpayer.
- Discuss the collection approach with a supervisor.
- Contact the taxpayer to discuss payment options and remind the taxpayer that interest continues to accrue.
- Encourage the taxpayer to make voluntary payment(s) against any agreed upon amount.
- Consider the use of the auto-payment feature if no collection stay exists. This may require special handling to ensure payments do not exceed the agreed upon amount.

When to Proceed on CDTFA-Assessed Liabilities (Cont.5) 703.030

- Advise the taxpayer to submit a Claim for Refund for payments made on an administrative protest. Note that this is particularly important because an administrative protest is moot as to any amount paid since, regardless of the decision made on the administrative protest, the CDTFA cannot refund any payment in the absence of a valid and timely claim for refund. As such, if the amounts disputed by the administrative protest are paid in full, the administrative protest will be dismissed. However, the same appeal may continue as a claim for refund provided the taxpayer filed a timely claim for refund prior to CDTFA’s dismissal of the administrative protest.

- For involuntary payments, contact the taxpayer to advise of the taxpayer’s right to file a claim for refund within 3 years of the involuntary payment.

An administrative protest will generally be reviewed in the same manner as a timely petition for redetermination; however, Appeals Regulations provide that an appeals conference may be denied. Taxpayers should be advised the appeals process does take time and that, in the interim, it is in their best interest to continue with voluntary payments and file a claim for refund.

When a collector assigned to a collection case contacts the taxpayer and the taxpayer indicates that an administrative protest has been filed, the collector should verify whether the taxpayer’s appeal was actually accepted as an administrative protest in the system. The collector must also inform the taxpayer to file a claim for refund for payments made on an administrative protest. The collector must emphasize that, although the appeal was accepted as an administrative protest, that does not constitute the filing of a valid claim for refund. If CDTFA publication 17, Appeals Procedures: Sales and Use Taxes and Special Taxes, had not been previously provided, it should be sent by the collector.

Stop Collection Policy on Claim for Refund When Tax/Fee is Paid

In cases where all of the tax or fee is paid and a claim for refund has been filed, final amounts remaining for the period are placed in an appeal status and a Refund Claim indicator is added to the account or period. This prevents active collections until the Refund Claim indicator is removed.

When a taxpayer files a claim for refund online, a case is automatically created in the system. If a paper claim for refund is received in a field office, the instructions available on the CDTFA’s intranet site for processing refunds should be followed.

If a levy was served against a taxpayer and they subsequently inform the collector that they filed a claim for refund for that liability, the collector should review the system to confirm the claim for refund was received. If the refund claim has been received but there is no Refund Claim indicator linked to the disputed amount, staff should contact the team member assigned to the case to determine if a Refund Claim indicator should be added. If the Refund Claim indicator is added subsequent to issuing a levy, the levy should be released.

The denied claim for refund case on partially paid and otherwise collectable liability will remain open for 90 days from the date the Notice of Denial is sent or until the litigation is concluded if the taxpayer files a suit for refund. Once the 90 days has lapsed and the claim for refund case has closed, the unpaid liability from the denied claim for refund will be added to a collections case. The collector must first contact the taxpayer and ask for voluntary payment of the penalty and interest. If the taxpayer fails to comply, or if the collector’s attempts to contact the taxpayer are unsuccessful, summary collection action to collect the penalty and interest should resume, unless the collector has information that the taxpayer has requested relief of penalty and/or interest.

If the CDTFA receives proper notice of a suit for refund (see CDTFA Manual of Administrative Policy section 7701), the collector must suspend collection of the affected liability. Any legal documents received pertaining to the suit should be forwarded to the Collections Support Bureau (CSB). The CSB will contact the Litigation Bureau to determine if a Stop Collections indicator (customer level) should be added or if the remaining penalty and interest bill item(s) should be manually removed from the collection case and a Stop Billing indicator added to the bill item(s) at issue. No action to collect the penalty and interest will be taken during the duration of the legal proceedings. Upon resolution of the court case, the Litigation Bureau will notify the CSB regarding the outcome of the case. If the CDTFA prevails in the lawsuit and the taxpayer’s legal remedies are exhausted, the CSB will add the bill item(s) at issue back to the collection case and remove the Stop Billing indicator, or remove the Stop Collections indicator if appropriate. CSB will enter a note in the system regarding the outcome of the court case. Collection of the liability will resume if the taxpayer’s suit is unsuccessful, and the liability remains unpaid.

Jeopardy Determinations

The purpose of a jeopardy determination is to provide a means of protecting the state’s interest when there is substantial evidence that any further delay in collection activity would seriously impair or jeopardize the CDTFA’s ability to collect the taxes or fees due. Therefore, a jeopardy NOD is due and payable upon issuance, even though not final. Use of active collection action on a jeopardy NOD prior to the finality date of the NOD or prior to the filing of a timely petition with security, is limited to cases where immediate action is necessary to protect the interest of the state. This also applies to an NOD that is converted to a jeopardy NOD.

In addition to having the right to file a petition for redetermination, along with security, within 10 days of the notice service date of a jeopardy NOD, the person against whom the jeopardy NOD is issued may also file an application for an administrative hearing to:

1. Establish that the NOD is excessive,
2. Establish that the sale of property that may be seized after issuance of the jeopardy NOD or any part thereof should be delayed pending the outcome of the administrative hearing because the sale would result in irreparable injury to the person,
3. Request release of all or a part of property to the person,
4. Request a stay of collection activities, or
5. Request administrative review of any other issue raised by the jeopardy NOD.

An application for an administrative hearing must be filed within 30 days after the notice service date of the jeopardy NOD. However, an application filed after the 30-day period may be accepted for good cause. A late petition filed for a jeopardy NOD, or a timely petition filed for a jeopardy NOD without the required security, may be accepted as an application for an administrative hearing at the discretion of the CDTFA.
Payments Received in Field Offices – No-Cash Policy

The CDTFA does not accept cash payments. However, an exemption may be granted for taxpayers able to show that cash payments are necessary to avoid undue hardship. Taxpayers should be encouraged to pay on the CDTFA website using their bank account or credit card information. Alternatively, team members should provide taxpayers with a list of nearby businesses that can convert their cash to a money order or cashier’s check. Note that taxpayers required to pay by Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT) will incur a penalty if they send their return payment or prepayment using any method other than EFT unless an exemption is granted.

Hardship Policy

The no-cash policy may cause an undue hardship to taxpayers with cash-based businesses that are unable to open a bank account. Taxpayers requesting an exemption from the no-cash policy must complete and submit a CDTFA-245-NC, No Cash Exemption Request, and explain the nature of their business and the reason they need to pay in cash. The CDTFA-245-NC must be signed by the owner, partner, member, or corporate officer. The request must be reviewed and signed by the Office Administrator or equivalent, or their designee, with notes entered in the system regarding the approval or denial of the request. Once the office reviews the exemption request, a decision letter will be provided to the taxpayer: CDTFA-245-NCA, No Cash Approval, or CDTFA-245-NCD, No Cash Denial. If approval is made for a sales and use tax account and there is a related cannabis account, approval will apply to both accounts and account numbers for both accounts should be included on the approval letters provided to the taxpayer.

If an exemption request is approved for a sales and use tax account that is required to pay by mandatory EFT, team members will mark the EFT box and email the CDTFA-245-NC and any documentation to the Return Analysis Unit at BTFDRAUeServices@cdtfa.ca.gov with the subject line identified as “EFT Account - No-Cash Exemption Request.” If an exemption request is approved for a cannabis account, team members will email the CDTFA-245-NC to the Return Processing Branch at BTFD-RPBCannabisRequ@cdtfa.ca.gov with the subject line, “Approved Cash Exemption Request.”

If approved, the exemption is valid for the calendar year in which it is granted. Taxpayers are required to reapply for the exemption every calendar year. Only select offices may accept in-office cash payments by appointment only. The office responsible for the account must coordinate with the taxpayer on the date and time for their cash payments. When setting the date and time, team members should attempt to schedule the payment earlier in the day to ensure cashiers have adequate time to process the funds. If the exemption request is denied, the taxpayer may request the case to be referred to the Deputy Director of the Field Operations Division for further review.

Payments Received During Field Calls

A collector often receives payment from taxpayers during field calls. A field receipt must be issued to the taxpayer to document these transactions. If cash is collected, it must be converted to a cashier’s check or money order prior to returning to the office to be submitted to the cashier. Collectors may claim reimbursement for fees incurred for cash that is converted to a cashier’s check or money order (see CPPM sections 705.060 and 705.065).

1 The Motor Carrier Office is exempt from the no-cash policy.

September 2021
There are 25 field receipts in each receipt book. There are three copies to each receipt, the original and two copies. The original (white) is the taxpayer’s copy. The canary copy is retained by the Receipts Custodian, after review by the cashier’s supervisor. The person writing the receipt will keep the goldenrod copy for 90 days in a secure location (e.g., locked desk drawer).

Every collector assigned a receipt book is personally responsible for the book and all its receipts until they are transferred to the cashier, or the book and any remaining unused receipts are surrendered to the Receipts Custodian. Each receipt must be used in numerical sequence.

Collectors must use the CDTFA–602 when collecting money from a taxpayer whether in the field or office. While collectors normally do not accept remittances or issue receipts when in the office, exceptions to this rule may occur. For example, if the field office cashier is attending a staff meeting and a collector is acting as a backup cashier, or during rush periods.

Whenever a CDTFA–602 is issued by a collector, the CDTFA–609, Tax Representative’s Daily Report, serves as the document transferring the payment to the cashier. When a collector issues receipts in the office, a CDTFA–609, must be prepared listing the receipts issued (including any voided receipts). For monies collected in the field, all payments, receipt copies and supporting documents must be submitted to the cashier along with the CDTFA–609, upon returning to the office.

Because receipts are prepared in triplicate, a ballpoint pen or similar writing device should be used when writing a receipt to ensure that all the receipt copies are legible. The collector accepting the payment and preparing the receipt must sign the receipt.

Collectors are to use extra care and be certain each CDTFA–602 is prepared properly. CPPM sections 705.020-705.035 set forth certain types of errors that may be corrected and how such corrections are to be accomplished.

Payments for more than one account number can be written on one receipt when a payment for multiple liabilities is included in the same remittance. When a taxpayer pays with multiple remittances, a separate receipt must be issued for each remittance received, regardless of the remittance type (e.g., check, cash, money order, cashier’s check, ComCheck or T-Check). For example, if a taxpayer pays with two separate money orders, two receipts must be prepared and delivered to the taxpayer.

The CDTFA–602 only allows for the entry of four payment applications. If a taxpayer has a remittance that covers more than four payment applications, write “A/R” once in the PERIOD box for that account. In addition, if one remittance is being applied to more than four accounts, enter the taxpayer’s identification number (TIN) for the person making the payment in the ACCOUNT box, if available.
Below are instructions for completing each line of the CDTFA-602:

1. LOCATION — Name of the city or town where the receipt is written. For Motor Carrier Office collectors, the location of the roadside CHP/Agricultural Inspection Station where the receipt is written should be used.

2. DATE – The date the receipt is written.

3. ACCOUNT NAME – Name of the account holder in the CDTFA’s registration records.

4. RECEIVED FROM – Name of the person making the payment. If payment is made on behalf of the taxpayer, such as from an employee or delivered by messenger, the name printed on the check should be used. If payment is made by a third party (e.g., a payment received in the field from a levy), the name of the person making the payment should be used. If cash payment is made, the name of the taxpayer should be used.

5. TYPE OF PAYMENT RECEIVED – Check the box for the type of payment received. If a postal money order, ComCheck, or T-Check is received, the “Other” box should be checked.

6. ACCOUNT NUMBER(S) – Multiple account numbers may be entered provided all payments are from the same remittance.

7. PERIOD – The period code (DD-Mon-YYYY format) and/or appropriate application type should be entered (Account Payment, Audit Payment, Collection Payment, Escrow Payment, Prepayment 1, Period Payment, Return Payment, etc.). For security deposits, enter the account number with Security Deposit in the PERIOD box.

8. AMOUNT – Amounts must be entered with dollars and cents written out numerically. To indicate zero cents, enter the numbers 00; do not use a dash or leave the field blank.

9. TOTAL – The total amount received.

10. BY – Signature of the collector issuing the receipt.

11. INITIALS – The initials of the collector issuing the receipt.

12. INTERACTION ID NUMBER – The Cashier Section or field office cashier will enter the Interaction ID obtained from the online system onto the file copy of the receipt.

Outdated and/or unused CDTFA-602’s may be returned to the Cashier Section for destruction. Collectors must follow the procedures as outlined in CDTFA Manual of Administrative Policy section 7404.
ERRORS NOT REQUIRING A REPLACEMENT RECEIPT 705.020

The following errors may be corrected without issuing a replacement receipt:

1. An error in the date that does not affect penalty and/or interest.
2. A misspelled name.
3. An incorrect period.
4. An invalid account number.

These errors are corrected by lining out the incorrect entry, while still leaving it legible, and making a correcting entry. These corrections must be reviewed and signed by a supervisor.

If the error is found after delivery of the receipt to the taxpayer, the error may be corrected on the CDTFA’s receipt copies. When a correction of this type is made, it is not necessary to recover or correct the taxpayer’s receipt copy.

VOIDING FIELD RECEIPTS 705.025

Field receipts will be voided when any of the following errors are discovered before delivery of the receipt to the taxpayer:

1. An error in the amount (i.e., the dollar amount entered on the face of the field receipt).
2. An error in the date that affects the incidence of penalty and/or interest.
3. Extensive errors that make the validity of the field receipt questionable.

A voided field receipt will be clearly marked by:

1. Stamping or writing the word “VOID” or “CANCELED” on all copies of the receipt.
2. Showing the reason for voiding the receipt.
3. Signing in ink across the face of all copies.

Every voided field receipt must be approved with the signature of a supervisor on the voided receipt. If all three copies of the voided receipt are available, the issuing employee should take all three copies to their supervisor for signature. Reference to the replacement field receipt number (if issued to the taxpayer) should be written on the voided receipt. If a replacement field receipt was not issued to the taxpayer, the cashier will provide a receipt using the MICR reader/printer equipment and the Interaction ID from the MICR receipt should be entered on the voided receipt. The white and canary copies should be returned to the cashier and the goldenrod copy should be retained by the issuing employee.

If the taxpayer has the original field receipt to be voided, the canary copy will be forwarded to the Receipts Custodian, after review by the cashier’s supervisor. The goldenrod copy will be held by the issuing employee and a letter will be sent to the taxpayer along with the MICR receipt with the corrected information.
When the amount of cash collected is more than shown on the CDTFA–602, the error will be brought to the attention of the supervisor. A supplemental receipt will be prepared for the difference and a copy mailed to the taxpayer with a letter of explanation. If the original remittance is a check, the field receipt must be voided, and a new field receipt issued for the correct amount or an accurate MICR receipt replacement with a letter of explanation. If a MICR replacement receipt is issued, the Interaction ID from the MICR receipt must be written on the voided receipt. It is not necessary to retrieve the erroneous field receipt from the taxpayer.

The supervisor must send a letter to the taxpayer explaining that the incorrect amount was written on the original field receipt containing the following information:

1. The original CDTFA–602 receipt number and Interaction ID number if available.
2. Date of original CDTFA-602.
3. Original amount.
4. Revised amount.
5. Brief explanation for revision.
6. Request for the taxpayer to contact the supervisor with any questions about the revised receipt.

If the taxpayer claims that the cash amount shown on the receipt is correct, no letter will be sent, but the matter must be brought to the attention of the supervisor and the Administrator.

If an erroneous date affecting penalty and interest is not discovered until after delivery of the taxpayer’s copy, it must promptly be brought to the attention of the supervisor. The taxpayer must be informed in writing of the error and the CDTFA’s copies of the field receipt must be corrected and approved with the signature of the supervisor placed near the correction.

When receipt books are issued by the Receipts Custodian, the recipient is responsible for security of the receipt book. Collectors issued a receipt book must keep the book locked in their work area, or a compartment in the safe to which only they have access. Receipt books must never be left on top of desks or counters or placed into unsecured (do not lock) desks. It is incumbent upon collectors to use the same level of care to protect the receipt books outside the workplace as within. If a receipt book or an individual receipt is missing, the supervisor must be notified immediately.
Collections

LOST OR STOLEN RECEIPT BOOKS 705.045

If a receipt book is lost or stolen, the collector must notify their supervisor immediately. The supervisor will follow established procedures relating to lost or stolen receipt books.

MONTHLY RECEIPT REPORT 705.050

On the morning of the first working day of each month, all persons issued receipt books will immediately complete a CDTFA–18, Unissued Receipts, and turn it in to their supervisor, together with receipt books, for the supervisor's verification of unused receipts and signature. The original CDTFA–18 is given to the Receipts Custodian for additional verification and retention.

ENDORSEMENT OF CHECKS 705.055

When a check, money order, cashier's check, or other non-cash instrument (hereinafter “check”) is collected in the field, the collector must immediately endorse the check by writing on the back “For deposit only to CDTFA” along with the receipt number within the top half-inch of the endorsement area.

If the maker does not complete the “payee” line on the front of the check, the collector must enter “CDTFA” in that space immediately upon acceptance of the check. The CDTFA account number must also be written on the face of the check.

CASH COLLECTIONS — OVERNIGHT RETENTION OF FUNDS 705.060

When a collector deems it necessary to collect cash, all bills in denominations of $20 or greater must be tested with a counterfeit detector pen in the presence of the taxpayer. The bills must be segregated in individual envelopes together with the CDTFA copies of the CDTFA-602, Field Receipt.

All cash collected must be converted to a cashier’s check or money order payable to the CDTFA before the collector returns to the office. The cost of the cashier’s check or money order will not be deducted from either the cashier’s check or the money order but will be paid from the collector's own funds. The collector will then claim reimbursement on their travel expense claim. Note that in many instances, there will be no charge for a cashier’s check purchased from a Bank of America branch.

The overnight retention for cash collected is not to exceed $500. All funds should be kept segregated (by receipt number) until exchanged for a cashier’s check or money order. Separate cashier’s check(s) or money order(s) must be obtained for each cash remittance.

In any instance not covered by the above items, the collector will take whatever action is necessary to protect the cash collected. In all circumstances, the collector will exercise good judgment and use every precaution to prevent loss or theft.

September 2021
Collectors are required to write receipts for all field collections and record the receipt numbers and their totals on a CDTFA–609, Tax Representative’s Daily Report.

If a cashier is not available and it becomes necessary for a collector to issue a CDTFA–602, Field Receipt in the office, a CDTFA–609 must be prepared listing all the receipts issued (including any voided receipts). The CDTFA–609 will be used as the transfer document between the collector and the cashier.

Collectors should turn in remittances, completed receipts, supporting documents, and the CDTFA–609 to the cashier either the same day, or by 9:00 a.m. the following day for field receipts covering the previous day’s field work.

The following guidelines must be followed when completing the CDTFA–609:

1. Receipts are to be written on the CDTFA–609 in consecutive numerical order. The receipt number, including voided receipts and the amount of the receipt must be listed in sequence showing the taxpayer to whom it was written.

2. Any receipts that were written for cash should have the amounts circled on the CDTFA–609. When cash is converted to certified funds, the receipt numbers representing those amounts must be shown under “Remarks.” Each exchanged remittance must have a separate cashier’s check or money order.

3. The collector must pay any charges for the cashier’s check or money order and indicate the expense incurred on the CDTFA–609. These charges may not be deducted from the taxpayer’s remittance.

4. At the time the collector submits the funds and related documents to the cashier, the total collected is to be shown in the space provided on the CDTFA–609. When the receipts are received, the cashier must count the funds, date and initial the CDTFA–609 in the presence of the collector, make three copies and return one copy and the original to the collector.

5. All entries for receipt numbers, amounts, cashier’s initials, and date must be written in ink.

The collector will provide a copy of the CDTFA–609 to their supervisor. The collector retains the original the CDTFA–609 for a minimum of 90 days when funds have been transferred to the cashier.
The following procedures should be followed when a collector identifies a counterfeit bill(s):

1. Inform the taxpayer of the counterfeit bill(s).
2. Confiscate the counterfeit bill(s).
3. Notify your supervisor of the counterfeit bill(s).
4. Prepare a separate CDTFA-602, Field Receipt for the counterfeit currency as instructed in CPPM section 705.010. However, specified fields should be completed as follows:
   a. Check the box marked “Other” and write in “Counterfeit Currency,”
   b. Write the serial numbers of the bills in the Account column next to the account number,
   c. Write the currency amount in the column titled “Amount.”
5. Provide the taxpayer with a copy of the receipt.
6. Segregate the quantity and denomination of the bills received in individual envelopes with copies of the CDTFA-602.
7. Inform the taxpayer that credit for payment will not be given.
8. Notify the taxpayer that a letter will be forthcoming confirming the conversation, describing the counterfeit bill(s), indicating that the counterfeit bill(s) will be sent to U.S. Secret Service, and informing that a copy of the U.S. Secret Service results will be sent to the taxpayer.
9. Prepare and mail the CDTFA-469, Field Call Counterfeit Bill(s), to the taxpayer after returning to the office.
10. Retain a copy of the CDTFA-469.
11. Transfer the counterfeit bill(s) and a completed CDTFA-602 as instructed in CPPM section 705.005, to the cashier to verify that the bill(s) are counterfeit.

The collector’s responsibility ends after the suspected counterfeit bills are transferred, with the proper receipts, to the cashier. The cashier unit will verify with the U.S. Department of Homeland Security/U.S. Secret Service that the bills are counterfeit.
ACCOUNTS RECEIVABLE — SPECIAL MAILING 706.000

GENERAL 706.010

Semiannually, the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) mails a Statement of Account to consumer use tax accounts, most special taxes and fees accounts and all sales and use tax accounts (active and closed-out) that owe a “final” liability. The United States Postal Service will return incorrectly addressed statements to CDTFA headquarters who, in turn, will forward them to the office responsible for the account to investigate for a current valid address.

PROCEDURES FOR RESPONSIBLE OFFICE 706.020

The office responsible for the account makes online changes to clients/accounts when valid addresses are located. When making an address change, comments should be entered into the system.

Upon finding a current valid address, line out the old address on the envelope, write in the new address and re-issue the statement of account to the taxpayer at the new address. If the account is active and an investigation does not disclose a better address, a field call should be performed to determine if the business has closed or has moved and the case notes updated with the results of the investigation.

CPPM 635.010 allows a closed out account to be reinstated within 18 months after the closeout is processed (sublocations may be reinstated up to 6 months after the close out date). An account cannot be reinstated until the taxpayer files all delinquent tax/fee returns, pays the tax, penalty, and interest owing along with the appropriate reinstatement fee, and posts an appropriate security deposit if deemed necessary.

In general, an account closed for more than 18 months (or 6 months for sublocations) may not be reinstated. The taxpayer must file and pay all delinquent tax/fee returns, pay all amounts due, and meet any other requirements necessary to complete the close out. The taxpayer must then register for a new seller’s permit or special taxes account. The start date of the new permit will be backdated to the closeout date of the previous permit. In addition, the office in control of the account may require the taxpayer to post a security deposit under the new permit.
PAYMENT APPLICATION 707.000

PAYMENT APPLICATION RULES 707.020

If a payment voucher is submitted with a payment, the payment will be applied according to the direction information contained in the voucher.

Payments not directed by the customer or any excess amounts from the directed payments, depending on the voucher type, will be applied first to any Cost of Collection/Cost of Investigation amounts due. If there are none, the payment will be applied to the oldest period first until that period is paid in full. If there are multiple bill items within the oldest period, the payment will be applied to the oldest bill item within the period first, until the bill item is paid in full. Any remaining payment will be applied to the next oldest bill item within the period, until the period is paid in full. Any remaining payment will be applied towards the next oldest period in the same manner.

If the payment is not enough to pay the oldest bill item within the period in full, it will be applied in the order listed below depending on account type:

All accounts except Motor Vehicle Fuel Tax:

1. Tax
2. Interest
3. Penalty
4. Collection Cost Recovery Fee

For Motor Vehicle Fuel Tax accounts (RTC section 7658.5):

1. Interest
2. Penalty
3. Tax

Customers may direct their payment to a specific payment type (e.g., return payment, audit payment, period payment) or pay their account balance when making a payment online. Team members with appropriate security access can also manually redirect a payment to one or more periods as requested by the customer. However, payments cannot be directed specifically to the tax, interest, penalty, or collection cost recovery fee portion of the liability, nor to any specific bill item within the period.

The Collections Support Bureau (CSB) may, in accordance with CDTFA policy and Civil Code section 1479, change the payment application in some situations.

Security payments are first applied to established liabilities designated as “pending security” and then any excess is applied in accordance with the standard rules for application of payments.

Payments received from warrants can only be applied to the specific periods covered by the warrant.

August 2021
APPLICATION OF PAYMENTS — PRIMARY AND SECONDARY ACCOUNTS

All liabilities originate from a “primary” account. A “secondary” account is based on the liability of the primary account. There can be multiple secondary accounts linked to a primary account. For example:

1. A corporate account is a primary account and a dual determination on the corporate officer is a secondary account (the corporate officer is the “dualee”). If dual determinations are issued to multiple corporate officers, then each one of the billed officer’s accounts constitutes a secondary account.

2. A predecessor account is the primary account. A billing for successor’s liability is a secondary account.

3. A partnership account is the primary account. Secondary accounts can be established for, and a billing notice sent to, any partners, even those not named on the original partnership application.

When a payment is received for a liability where primary and secondary accounts exist, the payment should be applied using the payment voucher for payment plan payments and collection payments (e.g., Collection ID Payment, Levy/EWO ID Payment, Payment Plan ID Payment). This ensures the payment automatically applies to the linked primary account and credits the secondary account with the payment by automatically marking the payment “From Secondary.”

Payments will be applied to the oldest linked bill item until that bill item is paid in full before being applied to the next oldest linked bill item. If the secondary account is only responsible for a portion of the primary account’s liability, the dual collection case will automatically give full credit for the payment towards the debt, even if the payment is applied to a period in which the debtor no longer has any remaining balance due.

For example:

Beginning balance before a payment of $800:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Period</th>
<th>Primary Account</th>
<th>Secondary Account</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1Q</td>
<td>Original Balance $1,000</td>
<td>Dualee Balance $500</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2Q</td>
<td>Original Balance $2,000</td>
<td>Dualee Balance $1,000</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Ending balance after the payment automatically applies:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Period</th>
<th>Primary Account</th>
<th>Secondary Account</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1Q</td>
<td>New Balance $200</td>
<td>Dualee Balance $0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2Q</td>
<td>New Balance $2,000</td>
<td>Dualee Balance $700</td>
</tr>

If the dualee makes a payment directly to their secondary account for amounts due, other than the Collection Recovery Fee (CRF), the payment must be unapplied from the secondary account and applied to the shared bill item in the dual determination collection case on the primary account. To locate payments incorrectly applied to the secondary account, team members will select the Financial tab and Payments subtab on the secondary account and view all payments. Unless the linked dual determination debt has been paid in full, there should not be any payments applied to the secondary account. Payments incorrectly applied to the secondary account must be manually unapplied and moved to the primary account. Instructions for moving payments are available in the system’s Help Manager.
APPLICATION OF PAYMENTS — PRIMARY AND SECONDARY ACCOUNTS

A final payment intended to pay off the CRF on the secondary account by the dualee should be applied to the CRF bill item on the secondary account. These accounts incur their own CRF billing and the final payment should be applied to that billing only. The dualee is only liable for the CRF on their secondary account and is not liable for a CRF billing on the primary account.

Payments made using a Statement of Account from the secondary account will automatically be applied to the linked primary account and credit the secondary. However, payments made using a Statement of Account from the primary account may not automatically credit the secondary account. If a payment is made using the Statement of Account and is applied to a linked bill item, and that bill item is 100% shared with the dualee, then both primary and secondary balances will be reduced. If the bill item is not 100% shared, the secondary will not be given credit until the balances are equal. If the dualee should be given credit, the payment can be marked “From Secondary” to credit the secondary account.

REFUNDS OF EXCESS OR ERRONEOUS AMOUNTS RECEIVED

CDTFA may receive funds from an enforced collection action in excess of the liability due and therefore determined to be remitted in error or otherwise not due. Such instances include, but are not limited to:

1. Funds from an escrow for an account where the liability was paid, but a release of lien was not recorded.
2. Amounts billed, such as a successor or predecessor liability, innocent partner or spouse, which are determined not to be due.
3. Funds not subject to or exempt from levy, such as amounts over the maximum allowed by law for a wage garnishment.

In such cases, the collector should assist taxpayers in filing a claim for refund using online services or offer to assist taxpayers in obtaining and completing the necessary forms to file a written claim for refund. When a taxpayer files a claim for refund with a field office or headquarters office for funds that have been applied to a sales and use tax account, the taxpayer’s written refund request must be sent to the Audit Determination and Refund Section in Headquarters. The request must be accompanied by the Compliance Principal’s recommendation to either approve or deny the refund claim. A claim for refund involving special taxes and fees programs should be sent to the Appeals and Data Analysis Branch.
COST OF COLLECTION REPORT

Collection costs incurred in the collection of outstanding liabilities, such as sheriff’s keeper fees and liquor license renewal fees, must be reimbursed before any non-voluntary payment is applied to the taxpayer’s liability. Since the funds for collection costs come from the Accounting Section, they must be tracked and reconciled when the payment is received. A cost of collection report is created in the system and provides the Accounting Section with the necessary information to reimburse the cost of collection amounts to the General Revolving Fund. In addition, the report provides information about payments that have been moved or changed. For example, the report will show the change if the payment is subsequently moved to another liability in the system. This data is necessary since the Accounting Section is responsible for transferring funds from the retail sales tax account to the general revolving fund.
The California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) relies upon the voluntary cooperation of taxpayers to file and pay taxes and fees when due. Most taxpayers file their returns timely and pay in full. Those who do not are “delinquent.” Explaining the proper filing procedures to a new applicant during the registration process, updating accounts timely when new information is received, and promptly investigating returned mail helps prevent most delinquencies. However, when returns and payments are not received timely, establishing a delinquency allows team members to begin taking appropriate collection action(s).

A delinquency occurs when:

1. A tax or fee return is not filed.
2. Taxes or fees are not paid.
3. The taxpayer otherwise fails to comply with the law or CDTFA’s requirements.

There are two types of delinquencies, “periodic” and “cause.” A periodic delinquency is established automatically when a taxpayer does not file their return. A cause delinquency is established when a team member determines that a taxpayer has not paid their liability or has otherwise failed to comply with the law or CDTFA’s requirements. Other programs may have additional automated delinquency cycles (see CPPM section 708.021, subheading Cannabis and Alcoholic Beverage Tax Accounts).

THE DELINQUENCY PROCESS

Periodic Delinquencies

Failure to file a return, even a return representing a partial period, constitutes a “periodic” delinquency, which begins the automated delinquency cycle. A delinquent prepayment, however, does not result in a citation or revocation notice being generated. The system automatically identifies taxpayers who have not filed returns and controls the preparation of delinquency notices and various reports pertaining to these accounts.

Cause Delinquencies

When a taxpayer fails to comply with the law or a CDTFA requirement other than a periodic filing, a cause delinquency may be established (exception for International Fuel Tax Agreement (IFTA) accounts (see subheading IFTA Accounts below)). Team members must manually create a cause delinquency in the system. Cause delinquency collection cases follow a set timeline of automated events leading to either resolution or account revocation, and may be established for any of the following reasons:

1. Failure to pay a balance due.
2. Failure to file a required schedule.
3. Failure to post a security deposit.
4. Failure to post additional security.
5. Failure to post a replacement security deposit.
6. Failure to comply. (This usually involves the taxpayer not producing requested documentation. For example, when registration with other agencies differs from CDTFA’s records, we may require documentation of business ownership.)
7. Failure to comply with the requirements of the Prepayment of Sales Tax on Purchases of Gasoline (SG) program.
When a cause delinquency is established, a Notice of Delinquency or Notice to Appear (CDTFA-431 series) is mailed to the taxpayer. If the delinquency is resolved before the Notice of Revocation is initiated, team members must manually close the Cause Delinquency case to prevent the account from being revoked. If, at the end of the timeline, the taxpayer has not complied with CDTFA’s requirements, the taxpayer’s account will be revoked. Tax Technicians may be assigned to work delinquent accounts. If efforts by the Tax Technicians to resolve the situation are unsuccessful, the account may be transferred to a Business Taxes Representative. For information on working revoked accounts, see CPPM section 751.000.

Accounts not Subject to Revocation

The following types of accounts are not subject to revocation:

- Part-time accounts,
- Temporary accounts,
- Some special tax and fee accounts (see below), and
- Closed accounts.

IFTA Accounts

The following information pertains to IFTA accounts only:

- Cause delinquencies for failure to pay are automatically created by the system (minimum $100 threshold).
- Revocation process is not stopped due to account closure.

Guidelines for Working Delinquent Accounts

The following guidelines provide suggested actions for working delinquent accounts. As with all collection accounts, complete documentation of the collection action(s) taken is essential.

1. Review account history for any previous delinquencies or actions on the account. Check Online Services, Require Attention sub-tab for return filed but not yet processed.

2. Determine if the taxpayer has filed a duplicate tax return for another period by checking account Open Tasks section for suspended return task.
   a. Duplicate filings can occur when a taxpayer logs into online services to file a return and selects a period for which a return was already filed, or if the taxpayer uses the same return form that was filed for a prior period. In all instances where it appears that a duplicate tax return was filed, the taxpayer must verify the duplicate filing.
   b. Once verified, a CDTFA–523, Tax Return and/or Account Adjustment Notice, is prepared and emailed to the BTFD-RAU Electronic Maintenance Requests shared mailbox to transfer the return to the appropriate period. For special tax and fee accounts, adjustment requests are emailed to the BTFD-RPB Action Requests shared mailbox.

¹ Generally, accounts should remain in revoked status for at least 120 days before being referred to the Inspections Section. Accounts may be referred earlier depending on the account’s compliance history, size of liability, or concern for the safety of team members. The 120-day waiting period will remain in effect to provide the taxpayer an opportunity to clear the account before proceeding toward criminal prosecution.

Compliance Policy and Procedures Manual

3. Determine if a partial return was filed. Partial returns occur when a taxpayer files a tax return designated as only part of the filing period. For example, the taxpayer timely submits a tax return form and indicates that it represents a return period for April through May only, instead of the full 2nd quarter. The account is now delinquent for the partial period of June. To resolve this problem and remove the delinquency for the partial period, the taxpayer should provide an amended tax return reporting the total gross receipts for the entire quarter and pay any additional money owed.

4. Review the account for any unapplied credits that may be for the delinquent return period. This occurs when:
   a. A taxpayer has sent in the tax due for the return period but failed to send along the return, or
   b. The taxpayer has sent in both the return and the payment, but the return has not been posted in the system.

Once the tax return is posted, the payment will match the return and clear the delinquency.

5. Review the notes. The taxpayer may have recently contacted the CDTFA with changes to their business, mailing, or email address and did not receive the returns or notices.

6. If the account still has a delinquency after reviewing the guidelines above, contact the taxpayer by phone (business and personal), email and/or by mail.

7. When the taxpayer is contacted, team members should ask questions such as:
   a. Has the tax return been filed? If so, when and how was it filed?
   b. Was any tax due?
   c. Did you keep a copy of the return? If no monies were due, the taxpayer can file online or fax over a copy to be re-submitted.
   d. Do you have the confirmation code for the payment or a copy of a cancelled check? (A trace can be done online for the payment).
   e. Did the business open? If not, what is the anticipated start date?
   f. Has the business closed? If so, on what date? Was it sold, to whom, and for how much? Was an escrow involved?
   g. If the business is active, have sales been made and in what amount?
   h. Do you need assistance in filing the return?
   i. If the return has not been filed, when will it be filed? Explain to the taxpayer that failure to file the delinquent return after the promised date may initiate further action by the CDTFA. For example, closing the account or billing the taxpayer for the estimated amount of tax due.
   j. If you are unable to communicate with the taxpayer due to a language barrier, every effort should be made to provide the taxpayer with a qualified bilingual employee who can gather accurate information and explain to the taxpayer the consequences for failing to file.

8. If the taxpayer cannot be reached, contact the taxpayer’s bookkeeper, landlord, etc. to see if they have updated information.

9. Check the Internet for any additional phone numbers for the taxpayer. Check the collection tools link on the CDTFA’s intranet site.

10. Check the taxpayer’s website for contact information.
11. If mail has been returned by the post office, investigate for a current address by checking FTB and DMV records.

12. If the taxpayer is selling at a swap meet location, contact the swap meet operator to confirm the taxpayer is actively selling there. If so, inform the swap meet operator that the taxpayer must contact the CDTFA or the permit may be closed, and sales cannot be made without a valid permit. Do not inform the swap meet operator of the delinquencies.

Cannabis and Alcoholic Beverage Tax\(^1\) Accounts

For Cannabis and Alcoholic Beverage Tax accounts where the CDTFA is not the licensing agency, the CDTFA cannot suspend or revoke the license when the associated account becomes non-compliant. However, the system will communicate directly with the Bureau of Cannabis Control (BCC) and Alcoholic Beverage Control (ABC) to inform them when the license suspension or revocation may need to take place based on liabilities or delinquencies with CDTFA. When a Cannabis or Alcoholic Beverage Tax account is referred for suspension or revocation complies with the requirement, the system automatically communicates this status back to the licensing agency.

Following is the delinquency process and timeline for these programs.

LOCATING MISSING TAX DEBTORS AND/OR ASSETS 720.000

GENERAL 720.010

RTC section 7092 and similar provisions for other tax and fee programs prohibit the CDTFA from conducting an investigation of any person for any purpose other than tax/fee administration. Any person violating this prohibition will be subject to disciplinary action in accordance with the State Civil Service Act, including dismissal from office or discharge from employment. For the purposes of this section, “investigation” includes any oral or written inquiry directed to any person, organization, or governmental agency.

The personal information of the CDTFA’s customers and taxpayers is protected from unauthorized inspection and disclosure by policy and state and federal laws. To do a satisfactory job in collecting delinquent taxes and fees, collectors must be able to identify and locate taxpayers and their assets. This activity requires the review and evaluation of confidential personal information. All requests for this type of information must be made only for valid CDTFA–related business use.

All CDTFA team members are responsible for protecting the confidentiality of the information to which they have access. Therefore, team members will not request, access, examine, use, disclose or modify information for any non-business related reason such as out of curiosity or for personal gain. This includes browsing any information that is not a part of your assigned workload, e.g., information about the collector’s own personal information, family members (including spouse or children), friends, neighbors, business associates, co-workers, celebrities or any other individual(s) or entities not related to the team member’s work assignments.

Confidential information is not to be removed from the work site without proper authorization. Confidential information (most tax and fee payer information) must be secured in approved locations while in the office, such as locking file cabinets, etc. If confidential information is required when in the field, care must be taken not to allow non-authorized parties access to the information. Once the confidential information has served its business-related purpose, the information must be destroyed in an appropriate and confidential manner. (CMAP section 7403, Destruction of Confidential Records.)

EXAMINATION OF ACCOUNT RECORDS AND SYSTEM INFORMATION 720.020

Discussing a tax or fee liability with a taxpayer without knowing the basis for the liability or being familiar with the taxpayer’s filing history creates an unfavorable impression with the taxpayer. This can have a direct influence on the success of the collection interview. Before making contact with the taxpayer, the collector should review the taxpayer’s current liability and account history in the system. As a preliminary step in organizing a collection case, it is often helpful to take notes during the review that summarize previous relevant account activity and then transcribe those findings into a “Case Summary” in the system in order to have available all of the details pertinent to the case. This will help the collector to request all the needed information at one time when requesting asset or skip-tracing information.

Performing a case review before contacting the taxpayer will allow the collector to:

1. Understand the basis for the liability.
2. Determine whether the taxpayer has filed and paid all tax/fee returns and prepayments or posted a security deposit, if one was required.
3. Formulate a plan to overcome any excuses or objections.
4. Anticipate taxpayer questions.
5. Prepare answers to those questions.

Examination of Account Records and System Information (Cont.) 720.020

The review might also disclose information on assets, sources of income, financial status, and other general information that might otherwise be overlooked. Examining account records, audit working papers, and system information will often reveal names of references, relatives, banks, other creditors, debtors, former residence addresses, or other information that will help to locate a missing taxpayer or their assets.

It is essential to have a complete written record of a taxpayer’s case history. All discussions with the taxpayer about the current collection case, any promises made by the taxpayer, and subsequent actions taken by the collector must be documented. Proper documentation will assist in resolving taxpayer disputes or misunderstandings regarding any actions taken by the collector and is essential if the collector is served with a subpoena to testify in court.

Prior to contact with the taxpayer, always:

1. Have a thorough understanding of what is necessary to clear the assignment.
2. Review the actions necessary to clear delinquency, revocation, or collection problems.
3. Note and do not repeat previously unproductive actions, unless there is reason to believe that the action may be successful if carried out, e.g., sending a levy to secure funds in a bank account.
4. Use closely-spaced follow-up contacts with the taxpayer and limited acceptance of promises if the taxpayer has a history of broken promises or missed deadlines.
5. Summarize all relevant file and on-line computer information and input summaries into the case notes.
6. Take actions to complete the entire collection case, not only the particular assignment. Collectors are responsible for obtaining all delinquent periods for the account, as well as collecting all final billed account receivable balances and the applicable reinstatement fee(s).
7. Review the account to determine whether there is a need to send the taxpayer a letter requesting a security deposit.

If the taxpayer cannot be located after examining the account records and system information, the information of other agencies, organizations, and commercial enterprises that gather and maintain information on large segments of the population is available to staff.
DATA WAREHOUSE INFORMATION

The Data Warehouse, pursuant to specific agreements, contains information from various governmental agencies including, but not limited to, the Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV), Employment Development Department (EDD), Franchise Tax Board (FTB), United States Coast Guard (USCG), and U.S. Customs and Border Protection. Additionally, some of the information contained in the Data Warehouse is derived from CDTFA systems and other informational sources such as auction houses.

The information in the Data Warehouse is confidential and all CDTFA disclosure policies must be followed. Information must not be disclosed unless authorized by law. Additional information can be found by visiting the Disclosure Office page of CDTFA’s intranet site. Select the Disclosure Policies and Memos link and then select the CROS Data Warehouse Permitted Uses link. All questions concerning disclosable information should be directed to the Disclosure Office.

Team members must have a business need to conduct a search in the Data Warehouse (e.g., to facilitate collection or locate a missing taxpayer). Browsing without a business need is prohibited. Some agreements with other agencies limit what information may be accessed; however, if there is a link to data in the Data Warehouse, team members may only access it when there is a business need to do so.

When there is a conflict of interest between the team member and the account (for example, the business owner is a relative of the collector assigned to the case), the team member must immediately notify their supervisor of the conflict of interest and stop working that account, and furthermore must not access the information in the Data Warehouse. For additional information on what is considered a conflict of interest, see CDTFA Manual of Administrative Policy section 1226, Ethics and Rules of Conduct Policy.

A list of the various links and descriptions of the data provided in each link is available on CDTFA’s intranet site by searching “Data Warehouse Field Descriptions” on CDTFA’s intranet main page. The information is also available by going to the Technology Services Division’s webpage and selecting the CROS link. Under the Resources heading, select CROS Cheat Sheets and Guidance. Under both Collections and Audit cheat sheet links is the heading, Other Resources, and the information is accessed by selecting the Data Warehouse Field Descriptions link.

The following information may be automatically populated in the Data Warehouse:

DMV INFORMATION

Information available includes:

1. Taxpayer information
2. Vehicles registered to the taxpayer
3. Occupational licenses held by the taxpayer (dealers, dismantlers, etc.)
4. Licensed dealer’s vehicle sales data

EDD INFORMATION

Information available includes:

1. Wage information
2. Unemployment claims information
3. Employer information
Information available includes:

1. Personal Income Tax (PIT) taxpayer information
   a. Address for current and previous years, spouse information, income tax return for current and previous years

2. 1099 K information
   a. Income and payment information for California retailers that accept a payment card as payment or payment made by a third-party settlement organization on behalf of the purchaser

3. 1099 Misc information
   a. Matches payee’s tax ID or name and address with CDTFA permit holder database

4. Financial Institution Record Match (FIRM)
   a. Matches tax debtors’ social security numbers (SSNs) and federal employer identification numbers (FEINs) against accounts held at participating financial institutions (banks, credit unions, insurance, and brokerage companies).
   b. It is important to note that some financial information received through FIRM may be inaccurate or contain information that does not match our taxpayer. For example, there may be instances where FIRM information on corporations includes corporate officers’ personal financial information. Additionally, you may find information on individuals not related to our taxpayer’s account because of wrong SSNs, FEINs and/or names entered by the financial institutions. Therefore, it is imperative to verify FIRM information against our taxpayer’s records before taking any action, such as sending a bank levy.

5. Income tax return information
   a. Name, address, FEIN, gross receipts reported, cost of goods sold, NAICS code.

6. Corporation information
   a. Corporation name and address, FTB status and status date (active, suspended, etc.)

7. Use tax reported to FTB

Data Warehouse Information (Cont.2) 720.021

Misellaneous Sources

Sources that provide information for review include:

1. Alcoholic Beverage Control (ABC) - license and licensee information
2. Attorney General Office – cigarette Internet purchaser information
3. Auto Auctions – sales data of vehicles sold
4. California County Assessor – vessels and aircraft information
5. CalRecycle – CalRecycle Tire Fee information
6. Cities/Counties/Consultants – business license information, and Local Tax Petition Log information
8. Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) – aircraft information and aircraft dealer information
9. Internal Revenue Service (IRS) – Federal Tax Information (see CPPM section 720.031)
10. Secretary of State (SOS) – license information (corporations, LLC, etc.) and voter registration information (see CPPM section 720.025)
11. Social Security Administration (SSA) – popular names per year registered
12. U.S. Coast Guard (USCG) – vessel registration information
13. U.S. Census – most common surnames from the U.S. Census

Data Warehouse Manager Search 720.022

Collectors may search the Data Warehouse Manager for taxpayer or third-party information when there is a business need to do so. The Data Warehouse Manager search may be accessed from the New Manager screen. A search of this kind occurs when investigating a related or responsible person who is not registered with an account in CDTFA’s registration system. For example, collectors may search for wages of a taxpayer’s spouse who is not on the permit before issuing a spousal earnings withholding order. Searches can be conducted by name, SSN, or California Driver License number. For additional information on how to search see “Search in the Data Warehouse Manager” in the system’s Help Manager.

External Sources Information 720.023

Through investigation and skip tracing, collectors gather information to locate taxpayers and their assets. In addition to information available in the Data Warehouse, there are other sources listed on the Collection Tools page on CDTFA’s intranet site. Any information received from external sources, including information received from an External Agency Tracking (EAT) request, shall be entered in the External Sources Findings.

Taxpayer information and assets from external sources may be added by team members by accessing the Collection springboard, External Sources tab, and selecting the Findings subtab. For additional information on entering the data in the External Sources Findings subtab, see “External Sources” in the system’s Help Manager and other cheat sheets available on CDTFA’s intranet site.
INTERNET COLLECTION TOOLS

The Internet is a very useful tool that can be helpful in locating:

1. Business website addresses.
2. Physical address(es) for the business or the business owners.
3. Phone numbers.
5. Business ownership.
7. Property information.
8. Suppliers.
10. Financial Information.
11. Other information about the taxpayer, the business, its competition, etc.

Many collection tools are available using the Internet. The following list highlights some commonly accessed collection tool websites; however, this list is not intended to be comprehensive. Hyperlinks to these websites, and others, are available at CDTFA’s intranet site under “Collection Tools.”

Some available sections include:

- Search Engines and Directories
- Government Resources
- Legal Search Sites
- Phone Directories/People Finders
- Maps/Vehicle Pricing/Real Property Information/Misc.
The California Secretary of State (SOS) maintains the business filings required of corporations, limited liability companies (LLC) and limited partnerships (LP). The Articles of Incorporation, Statement of Information, Certificate of Dissolution, etc. are accessible on the SOS website, www.sos.ca.gov, by selecting the Bizfile link from the home page. The California Business Search link, located directly underneath the Search Online button, provides the search function.

First, select the type of search (corporation name, LP/LLC name, or entity number), and enter the search criteria. After getting the search results, much of the entity’s information is available by clicking on the Entity Name hyperlink. Many of the documents are available as PDF files.

Information available online includes:

- Entity number.
- Date of incorporation or registration.
- Status of the entity.
- Date of last complete statement by the officers/members/partners.
- Type of stock.
- Entity name and address.
- Entity name change (if applicable).
- Name and address of agent for service of process.
- Merger date and name of surviving corporation (if applicable).
- Attorney for entity.

Additional information available through the SOS includes voter registration information and list of notaries public licensed to do business in California.

To request copies of documents that are not available online, send a CDTFA–877, Request for Corporate/Limited Liability Company/Partnership Information, to the Use Tax Administration Section (UTAS). UTAS will then forward the request to the Secretary of State’s Office.
The Uniform Commercial Code (UCC) allows creditors to perfect liens on specified personal property in all California counties by filing, at a single location, a Financing Statement describing the property. Transactions involving UCC filings may be conducted online at the Secretary of State’s UCC Online website at https://bizfileonline.sos.ca.gov/. An office that levies personal property and receives an allegation of priority from a third party pursuant to the UCC can verify the alleged information through the Secretary of State’s office. In addition, state tax liens recorded with the Secretary of State’s office are also accessible from the UCC Online website.

The UCC includes provisions to assist lenders or secured parties in dealing with borrowers who move their chattels and inventories across county and state lines. The UCC deals with chattel mortgages, consignments, conditional sales, trust receipts, inventory liens and assignments of accounts receivable and provides for centralized filing of financing security information with the Secretary of State’s office. For example, when a bank finances a business, the bank will file a Financing Statement with the Secretary of State’s office instead of filing a chattel mortgage in the county recorder’s office.

The lender or secured party files the Financing Statement on a UCC–1 and generally keeps the security agreement in its possession. The term “security agreement” replaces the terms “chattel mortgage, trust receipt, consignment, assignment, pledges,” etc. The UCC–1 is a brief statement, or abstract, containing the descriptive essentials of the security agreement. When there is a continuation, release, assignment, termination, or other change to the Financing Statement, a UCC–3, Financing Statement Change, is filed.

As a general rule, Financing Statements will be filed in the Secretary of State’s office in Sacramento. The following transactions are exceptions:

1. Collateral such as timber, farm products, farm crops, or contracts relating to farming, are filed in the county recorder’s office.
2. Conditional sales contracts on consumer’s goods do not need filing.
3. The DMV records changes to the legal title for motor vehicles and equipment used on the highway.
4. Under certain conditions, the legal title to a mobile home is filed with the Department of Housing and Community Development.

Requesting Information or Copies

To determine whether a taxpayer has loans or encumbrances on personal property, collectors can use the Free Searches & Copies link on the UCC Online website. The website also has a link for Help which provides instructions on using the site.

If the information on the Secretary of State’s website does not provide sufficient information, a CDTFA–426–U, Request for Secretary of State Information or Copies, may be completed and sent to UTAS to request the information from the Secretary of State’s office.

UTAS will forward the information response or copies of statements to the requesting office as soon as they are received from the filing officer at the Secretary of State’s office. If no record is available, the request form will be so noted and a copy will be returned to the requester.
Compliance Policy and Procedures Manual

ACCESSING INFORMATION FROM EXTERNAL AGENCY DATABASES 720.030

CDTFA has agreements with the Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV), Franchise Tax Board (FTB), and Employment Development Department (EDD) for the exchange of information. Most of the available information is stored in the system’s Data Warehouse. Additional information may be available through the External Access Tracking (EAT) system. Authorized team members (Resource Persons) may electronically request and track information from the databases of those agencies. The EAT request page is found on CDTFA’s intranet site under the “On the Job” tab under the heading “Tax Tools.” For information security purposes, the EAT program specifics are confidential. Therefore, the following information is only an overview of the program.

Field offices and specified headquarters units designate a team member who is authorized to access the external agencies’ databases via the EAT system. External agency information available through the EAT system may only be requested through the appropriate Resource Person(s) in their office, section, or unit.

Resource Person Guidelines

1. Resource Persons are authorized to obtain information only from a specified agency. For example, if authorized to access FTB information, the Resource Person must not attempt to access other government agency databases.

2. Resource Persons are responsible to ensure to the best of their knowledge that requests for confidential information are for valid CDTFA business use only. Requests are tracked through the EAT system.

3. Resource Persons may not access other agencies’ information for their own assignments. Resource Persons must route the request(s) for information to one of the office’s other resource persons (with limited exception for Consumer Use Tax Section (CUTS)).

4. Resource Persons may print a copy of the original request for their records; however, when there is no longer a “business need” to maintain the printout, it must be destroyed using the destruction methods for confidential information (See CDTFA Manual of Administrative Policy section 7403, Destruction of Confidential Records). The destruction date of the material must be documented in the EAT system by the Resource Person.

5. Unless there is an extenuating circumstance, such as litigation of a case, all requested FTB, EDD, and DMV documents must be returned to the Resource Person upon completion of the case for which the documents were requested, or when retention is no longer necessary. Resource Persons will promptly destroy the returned documents in a confidential manner and enter the destruction date in the EAT system.

6. The EAT system must be updated with the destruction date of all printouts. This includes situations where database information is printed in one month but is not destroyed until the following month (or later). A list of all undestroyed documents older than three years is generated through the EAT system. Supervisors are responsible for periodically reviewing the list to determine if a need still exists to retain the material. The Internal Audit Bureau (IAB) conducts periodic reviews to ensure that printouts of information are confidentially destroyed, and the destruction is properly documented by the Resource Person(s).
Requestor Guidelines

Requestors must submit all requests for external agency information from DMV, FTB, and EDD via the EAT system.

1. Using the EAT system, the Requestor enters the request for information in the “Enter an Access Request” area and then clicks on “Submit.” The applicable Resource Person will receive an e-mail notification that the request was submitted. The “Enter Online Access Made” link must only be used by those in pre-defined situations (for example, CUTS) who are authorized to access information on their own cases.

2. The requestor of the search must request information only from the authorized Resource Person(s) within the requestor’s office/section/unit of responsibility. Also, because FTB, DMV, and EDD Resource Persons often are not the same individuals, requestors may need to send separate requests to more than one Resource Person. For example, a request made for DMV information from an FTB Resource Person will not be carried out and must be returned to the requestor for proper routing.

3. The requestor must complete a separate request for each “person” (individual, corporation, partnership, or each individual partner of a partnership).

4. The EAT system provides a list of options for the purpose of the request. If the purpose of the request is not found in the options provided, the requestor must select “other” and enter an explanation of the purpose for the request.

5. Documents may be retained for valid business reasons including, but not limited to, write-off account reviews, quarterly collection reviews, dual determination investigations, petitions, claims for refund, and training purposes. During the time the documents are retained, the documents must remain attached to the case file in a secure area to prevent unauthorized access. When retention of the documents is no longer necessary, FTB, EDD, and DMV documents are to be promptly returned to the EAT Resource Person for confidential destruction.

6. External agency information obtained through the EAT system is confidential and is protected from disclosure by law, regulation, and policy, as is all other taxpayer information. This information is to only be used for valid CDTFA-related business purposes.

7. Federal tax information (FTI) never loses its identity. Federal tax return information may accompany the FTB documents provided. If a collector receives FTI from any source and transcribes the data into notes, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) still considers the transcribed notes to be FTI even if the original document is destroyed. Please see CPPM section 720.031 for guidance on identifying and safeguarding FTI.

Supervisor Review Guidelines

The information available from these external agencies is an important collection tool and should be fully utilized by team members in handling their cases/assignments. However, to ensure that the information is only being requested for valid business purposes, supervisors and managers will conduct random periodic reviews of the requests made through the EAT system.
The California Revenue and Taxation Code (RTC) and the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) contain reciprocal provisions permitting an exchange of information. The California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) receives federal tax information (FTI) from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). In addition, IRC section 6103(p)(4) requires CDTFA to establish and maintain safeguards to prevent unauthorized use or disclosure of FTI.

Unauthorized access, inspection, use or disclosure of FTI can result in civil and/or criminal penalties. See the CDTFA Manual of Administrative Policy section 7205 and IRC sections 7213, 7213A, and 7431 for specific penalty provisions.

To help prevent unauthorized access, the system hides FTI from team members without authority to access FTI. Team members without access to FTI are not able to see that FTI exists in the system even if they can view other taxpayer information. For example, team members with system view-only access will not be able to add a new FTI Note, read an FTI Note, or even see that an FTI Note exists.

Definition of FTI

FTI is a term used to describe all federal tax returns and return information (and any information derived from it) that is in the CDTFA’s possession or control which is covered by the confidentiality protections of the IRC and subject to IRC section 6103(p)(4) safeguarding requirements, including IRS oversight.

FTI is categorized as “sensitive but unclassified” information and may contain personally identifiable information such as a taxpayer’s full name, social security number, etc. FTI includes a return or return information received directly from the IRS (for example, information requested using the CDTFA-33-B, Request for Federal Tax Information), and information obtained through an authorized secondary source, such as the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau, Social Security Administration, or other entity acting pursuant to an IRC section 6103(p)(2)(B) agreement (for example, information accessed in the Data Warehouse or information received from a Franchise Tax Board (FTB) External Access Tracking (EAT) request). However, IRS returns that are attached to FTB returns received in response to a CDTFA-1144, Official Request for Return Information, request are not considered FTI.

FTI also includes any information created by CDTFA team members that is derived from federal returns or return information received from the IRS or obtained through a secondary source. For example, if FTI is incorporated into an exhibit in a dual determination memo, the entire memo must be handled and protected as FTI. Similarly, if FTI is transcribed into an audit schedule, the entire audit must be handled and protected as FTI. FTI may not be masked to change the character of the information to circumvent IRC section 6103 confidentiality requirements.

Conversely, copies of tax returns or return information provided to the CDTFA directly by the taxpayer or taxpayer’s representative (e.g., 1040, W-2) or obtained from public information files (e.g., federal tax lien on file with a county clerk, Offers in Compromise available for public inspection, court records, etc.) is not considered FTI and is not subject to the safeguarding requirements of IRC section 6103(p)(4).
Authorized Use

Any team member who receives FTI for an authorized use may not use the information for any purpose other than that specific authorized use. An unauthorized secondary use of FTI is specifically prohibited and may result in the discontinuation of FTI disclosures to the CDTFA and imposition of civil or criminal penalties on the responsible team member. For example, audit team members may only use FTI to perform their official duties as auditors and must not disclose the FTI to any other person who does not have a “need to know” or statutory authority to access FTI under the IRC. Browsing FTI or other tax information in any information system for personal gain or interest, or any other improper purpose is strictly prohibited. For more information, please read the “Federal Tax Information (FTI)” link on the Disclosure Office’s page on CDTFA’s intranet site.

Authorized users consist of team members and contractors who have successfully completed the CDTFA Disclosure Training and Mandatory Information Security Training within the last twelve months, and have a signed CDTFA-4, Confidentiality Statement, submitted to their supervisor within the last twelve months. These prerequisites must be completed before access to FTI can be provided. Supervisors are responsible for ensuring that each team member and contractor reporting to them annually completes the training and provides the signed CDTFA-4.

Team members must first inform or consult with their supervisor before requesting or using FTI on any assigned case (audit, Field Billing Order, or other investigation) to ensure compliance with CDTFA and IRS standards. If you encounter a situation where the use of FTI seems questionable, please discuss the matter with your supervisor or the Disclosure Office before proceeding.

Please refer to the section “SharePoint” below to ensure compliance with key procedures, dealing primarily with how to provide copies of audit working papers (AWP) containing FTI to taxpayers and how to accommodate related audits and dual determinations that cannot be attached in the system.

Internal audits are routinely conducted to ensure that the authorized use of FTI complies with CDTFA and IRS standards.

Verifying FTI

If team members independently verify FTI provided by the IRS or a secondary source with the taxpayer or public information files, then the verified information loses its FTI characteristic and is no longer subject to FTI safeguarding guidelines, provided the IRS source information is replaced or overwritten with the newly verified information.

For example, if a levy containing FTI is mailed to a bank, and the bank’s response contains the same FTI rewritten in the bank’s own writing, then the original FTI information is considered third-party verified. Team members can now overwrite the original IRS sourced information with the third-party verified information, thereby removing the information’s FTI characteristic and safeguarding requirements.

Another example is if the taxpayer’s address received from IRS sourced information is subsequently verified by a third-party source such as CLEAR, the original FTI information can be overwritten with the third-party verified information.
The FTI Tracking Log

The FTI Tracking Log is used to track FTI (see exceptions under subheading FTI in the CDTFA’s Internal System and subheading SharePoint). An entry must be made in the FTI Tracking Log whenever FTI is requested, received, handled, copied, or transcribed. For example, when team members print letters containing FTI (e.g., levies) or when an EAT resource person prints FTB information containing FTI, an entry must be made in the FTI Tracking Log.

The FTI Tracking Log is available on the CDTFA intranet site under the On the Job drop-down menu. Step-by-step instructions regarding how to use the FTI Tracking Log are located in the User Guide located on the FTI Tracking Log’s homepage and in two separate CDTFA Take 5 videos titled, How to Submit a Request Using the FTI Tracking Log, and, How to Track a Request Using the FTI Tracking Log.

Safeguarding FTI

Safeguarding FTI is critically important to ensure taxpayer confidentiality is maintained, as required by IRC section 6103. Team members in possession of FTI are personally responsible for safeguarding it and must protect the information from unauthorized disclosure. Team members must keep detailed notes in CDTFA systems to record the receipt, use, and transfer of FTI information. In all instances, FTI must be safeguarded in the following manner:

Electronic Files on Portable Media (e.g., compact disk (CD), flash drive, portable hard drive, SD card)

- Files containing FTI must contain “FTI” in the file name.
- CDTFA-85, Inspection or Disclosure Limitations (Federal), must be affixed to all portable media.
- Portable media must always be stored in a locked cabinet when not in use.
- Receipt and transfer of FTI saved on portable media must be recorded in the FTI Tracking Log.

Hard Copy Documents

- CDTFA-85, Inspection or Disclosure Limitations (Federal), must be affixed to all hard copy documents.
- Hard copy documents containing FTI must always be stored in a locked cabinet when not in use.
- Receipt and transfer of hard copy documents containing FTI must be recorded in the FTI Tracking Log.

Retaining FTI

FTI should not be retained once it is no longer needed. However, the retention of FTI in AWP and active collection cases should follow normal retention policies. The current procedure for retaining AWP that is described in Audit Manual section 0117.02 also applies to collection case files.
Collections

Obtaining and Safeguarding Federal Tax Information (FTI) (Cont. 3) 720.031

Transcribing FTI

When FTI is transcribed (e.g., copied, recreated, reproduced) in any way, the transcription is also considered FTI and is subject to the same protection and restrictions as the original FTI. Transcription can occur in many ways. For example, if FTI income figures are incorporated into digital AWP or a dual determination memo, the AWP or dual determination memo is now considered FTI. Also, if an EAT resource person accesses the FTB’s systems and prints or transcribes IRS information, the printed or transcribed material is considered FTI (see additional information under subheading in this section FTB Information Received Through EAT Request).

Furthermore, merely writing notes that contain FTI information on a notepad is considered transcription. In all instances, team members must take precaution when FTI is transcribed and use the FTI Tracking Log to record each occurrence.

Email and Fax

To accurately comply with IRS safeguards, team members may not email or fax any document or information containing FTI.

Voice over Internet Protocol (VoIP)

Team members may discuss a taxpayer’s FTI information over the VoIP phone system only after confirming the taxpayer’s identity.

Telework

Team members cannot physically remove FTI from any CDTFA location and therefore must physically be present at a CDTFA location to receive, view, transfer, and destroy all tangible FTI, including FTI stored on removable media. While teleworking, team members may access and view FTI contained in the CDTFA systems, provided a business need exists, and only when connected through the CDTFA’s Virtual Private Network (VPN) on a CDTFA-issued computer. However, all transcriptions must be recorded in the FTI Tracking Log. For example, electronically transcribing FTI sourced from the Data Warehouse into an audit or dual memo requires an entry in the FTI Tracking Log. Furthermore, team members who are teleworking will only print documents containing FTI on a printer connected to the CDTFA system and located on the premises of a CDTFA location.

Requesting FTI

All requests for direct access to FTI must be documented in the FTI Tracking Log. Requests for FTI shall only be made when the information is not available from any other source. A request for FTI is made using the CDTFA-33-B, Request for Federal Tax Information, which is subsequently approved by an authorized person listed on the CDTFA Exchange List who then creates the request and records it in the FTI Tracking Log.
Obtaining and Safeguarding Federal Tax Information (FTI) (Cont. 4) 720.031

The following summarizes the request process:

1. The requestor completes the CDTFA-33-B and sends it to the approver via email. The email subject line shall contain the account number and taxpayer name, unless the taxpayer’s name is derived from FTI. If the CDTFA-33-B contains FTI, the requestor must hand-to-hand deliver it to the approver or send the request via interoffice mail (not email or fax) using the double envelope procedure described in this section under the subheading Sending and Receiving FTI, and must create a new entry in the FTI Tracking Log.

2. The approver will verify that the requestor is assigned to work the account listed in the request. After verifying, the approver will complete the approver sections on the form (including their signature), open a new request in the FTI Tracking Log, and attach a copy of the approved CDTFA-33-B to the request before sending it to the BTFD FTI Custodian. If the CDTFA-33-B contains FTI, it must be sent via interoffice mail using the double envelope procedure described in this section under the subheading Sending and Receiving FTI.

3. The BTFD FTI Custodian shall fulfill the request by either using the IRS’ Transcript Delivery System (TDS) for transcripts, or if requesting photocopies, completing the IRS Form 8796-A, Request for Return/Information (Federal/State Tax Exchange Program – State and Local Government Only), and mailing it along with a cover letter to the IRS at:

   Internal Revenue Service
   Disclosure Scanning Operation
   Stop 93A
   PO Box 621506
   Atlanta, GA 30362-3006

The IRS provides two different forms of FTI: photocopies and transcripts. However, due to the length of time it takes the IRS to process photocopy requests, team members shall only request transcripts, unless transcripts are unavailable. Transcript requests are fulfilled online through the TDS and are typically available within two weeks from the date the BTFD FTI Custodian receives the request.

Information available through TDS:

1. Account Transcript – Includes the following:
   a. Information on the account balance, interest, and penalties.
   b. Taxpayer’s filing status (e.g., “married filing jointly”).
   c. Line item information from the return such as Adjusted Gross Income, Taxable Income and Tax Per Return.
   d. The date on which the IRS processed the return.
   e. Subsequent activity posted to an account after the return was filed (e.g., payments, credits, adjustments).

2. Return Transcript – Contains most lines from the original return, including attached forms and schedules. The transcript contains both the “per return” and “IRS adjusted” entries. It does not contain subsequent activity on the account. Return transcripts are available for returns filed during the current and three prior tax years.

3. Record of Account – Includes both the “Account Transcript” and “Return Transcript” information and is available for returns filed during the current and three prior years.

4. Wage and Income Documents – Shows income reported by taxpayers. Wage and Income information is only available for individual tax returns, and only for wages and income earned during the current and prior ten years.
Sending and Receiving FTI

All receipts of FTI must be documented in the FTI Tracking Log. Upon receipt of direct access to the FTI, the BTFD FTI Custodian will use the FTI Tracking Log to track the sending of the completed FTI request back to the approver by doing the steps listed below. (For FTI received via an FTB EAT request, see subheading FTB Information Received Through EAT Request in this section.)

FTB:

1. Attach the CDTFA-85, Inspection or Disclosure Limitations (Federal), to the FTI.
2. Place the FTI in an envelope marked as “Confidential – Only to be opened by designated team member” and list the approver.
3. Place the marked envelope into another envelope (the outer envelope shall not indicate there is FTI inside the contents of the envelope).
4. Send the hard copy FTI in the double sealed envelope marked “confidential” to the approver.
5. The approver will receive an automated email from the BTFD FTI Custodian with directions to visit the FTI Tracking Log and confirm the receipt of the FTI. The email contains the specific Request ID that must be confirmed.
6. The approver will go to the FTI Tracking Log and select the “Receive” button for the specific Request ID. When the hard copy FTI is received, the approver will send the completed request to the requestor by selecting the “Send” button in the FTI Tracking Log, then selecting the requestor’s name.
7. The approver will then hand-to-hand deliver the hard copy FTI to the requestor.
8. The requestor will confirm the receipt of the hard copy FTI in the FTI Tracking Log.
Obtaining and Safeguarding Federal Tax Information (FTI) (Cont. 6) 720.031

Destroying FTI

When FTI is no longer needed it must be documented in the FTI Tracking Log and sent to the BTFD FTI Custodian (MIC 40) for destruction in the following manner:

1. Attach a CDTFA-85, Inspection or Disclosure Limitations (Federal), to the FTI.
2. Place the FTI in an envelope marked “Confidential – Only to be opened by designated team member” and list the BTFD FTI Custodian (MIC 40) or FTB EAT resource person (see number 6 below).
3. Place the marked envelope into another envelope (the outer envelope should not indicate there is FTI inside).
4. Send the hard copy FTI in the double sealed envelope marked “confidential” to the supervisor in Compliance and Technology Section (MIC 40).
5. The team member who sends the physical FTI for destruction must also send the request to the BTFD FTI Custodian in the FTI Tracking Log.
6. FTI received via FTB EAT request must be returned to the EAT resource person. If both team members are in the same office, the FTI will be hand-to-hand delivered to the EAT resource person and tracked in the FTI Tracking Log. If the EAT resource person is in a different office from the requestor, the FTI will be sent via interoffice mail to the EAT resource person following the instructions in numbers 1-3 above, with the outside envelope addressed to the EAT resource person. The EAT resource person will follow the office procedure regarding packaging and shipping of FTI material to the BTFD FTI Custodian.
7. The BTFD FTI Custodian shall destroy FTI, such as transcribed notes, printouts, returns, and electronic media stored on removable media in the manner that complies with IRS publication 1075, Tax Information Security Guidelines for Federal, State and Local Agencies.

Destruction of electronic files must also go through the BTFD FTI Custodian. For example, when physical FTI does not exist, team members will first delete the FTI from all the drives on their computer (including the C Drive) and recycle bin. An entry must be made in the FTI Tracking Log to send a request for destruction to the BTFD FTI Custodian. After sending the request in the FTI Tracking Log, team members will send a separate email to the BTFD FTI Custodian inbox at BTFD.FTICustodian@cdtfa.ca.gov with the following information:

1. Request ID
2. Account number
3. Date the destruction was requested
4. Specific files for destruction
5. Certification statement, “I certify that all electronic FTI files were deleted from the drives on my computer and the recycle bin.”

The BTFD FTI Custodian must ensure their procedures comply with IRS publication 1075, Tax Information Security Guidelines for Federal, State and Local Agencies.
FTI in the CDTFA's Internal System

The system is built to control and monitor access to FTI that is received directly from other agencies (Data Warehouse) or added into the system by team members (e.g., operational data such as names and addresses, or FTI Notes). The system is generally considered FTI compliant because it tracks and records every access to FTI in an audit trail. Therefore, team members who have completed the requisite training including, but not limited to, the annual Disclosure Training and Mandatory Information Security Training can view and use FTI within the system without having to externally record each transaction in the FTI Tracking Log. For example, transcribing FTI from the Data Warehouse to an FTI Note, within the system, does not warrant an entry in the FTI Tracking Log. However, FTI transcribed out of the system requires an entry in the FTI Tracking Log. FTI in the Data Warehouse is clearly identified with the label, “FTI” (for example, “1099-MISC FTI”). Conversely, data that does not have the FTI label, FTI shield icon, or FTI Present indicator is not considered FTI and therefore is not subject to IRS safeguarding guidelines.

Notably, the system is not considered FTI compliant with respect to attachments. The system does not have the capacity to control and monitor FTI attachments containing the mandatory identification phrase “FTI” in the file name. Therefore, team members must not attach FTI files anywhere in the system. Instead, team members will add FTI in the operational data or an FTI Note, which are both considered FTI compliant. Team members must also remember to use the FTI Tracking Log to record all FTI transcriptions into the system (see subheading "The FTI Tracking Log"). After transcribing FTI into the system, the original FTI must be destroyed following the procedure described in this section.

Whenever FTI is transcribed out of the system, in any form, a new entry will be made in the FTI Tracking Log to record the transaction. For example, when an FTI levy is manually printed, or when FTI found in the Data Warehouse is incorporated into an audit or dual determination memo, the transcription of FTI out of the system requires an entry in the FTI Tracking Log.

Adding FTI into the System

The shield icon and FTI Present indicator are used to identify and communicate the presence of FTI. Whenever FTI is added into the system, team members will immediately add both identifiers to the FTI account. The most common FTI additions into the system are operational data (names, addresses, IDs) and notes.

When adding FTI names, addresses, and IDs, confirm that the shield icon is activated in the respective dialogue box by selecting the grey shield icon and checking the box under the heading, “Select Protected Data Source.” When active, the shield icon will change from grey to gold. Once the FTI is saved, record the transaction in the FTI Tracking Log then immediately add the FTI Indicator and an FTI Note that explains the following:

1. Description of the FTI (Name, address, ID, etc.)
2. Where the FTI originates from (IRS, FTB, etc.)
3. What form the FTI is from (Return, W-2, etc.)
4. Where the FTI is located (For example, “The FTI is located on the Registration > IDs springboard”)
When adding FTI notes, use the “FTI Note” type. For example, a payment plan review summary that contains FTI sourced income figures must use the FTI Note type. FTI Notes may be added from the Customer, Collection, and Audit springboards. FTI Notes are easily identified with the same shield icon that is applied to FTI names, addresses and IDs. Similarly, whenever an FTI is added into the system in an FTI Note, team members will immediately record the transaction in the FTI Tracking Log, then add the FTI Present indicator in the system.

If FTI already exists in the system (e.g., Data Warehouse) and an FTI Note is added from that source, no entry is needed in the FTI Tracking Log.

FTI on Outgoing Correspondence - Automated and Non-Automated Collections

When an account is staged to “Automated Collection” status, the system may incorporate (transcribe) operational data containing FTI into outgoing correspondence. For example, FTI names, addresses, and IDs may be transcribed onto a levy that is then automatically batch printed. Because the automated collection process works in the background, team members may not immediately know that an FTI transcription occurred. However, a timely entry in the FTI Tracking Log must be made when knowledge of a transcription is established. For example, when a response to the FTI levy is received, the team member responsible for resolving the levy will create an entry in the FTI Tracking Log recording the initial batch printed transcription out of the system, the subsequent receipt of the response, and finally the destruction of the FTI. Similarly, while reviewing accounts in “Automated Collection” status, team members will determine whether FTI was automatically transcribed out of the system by reviewing the account’s history (for example, indicators, notes, etc.) for evidence of auto-generated letters containing FTI (for example, levies, wage garnishments, etc.). If found, team members shall create an entry in the FTI Tracking Log to record the transcription.

Occasionally, responses to FTI correspondence may contain third-party verification of the original FTI. Third-party verification occurs when the recipient of the original FTI correspondence independently reconstructs the original FTI on their response. For example, the recipient’s response includes a statement such as, “*FTI*name closed account on x/x/xx,” in the blank spaces on the Memorandum of Garnishee levy response page. When third party verification is received, team members will overwrite the original FTI in the system with the third-party verified data, then add an FTI Note identifying the third party that verified the original FTI and explain the form of the verification. For example, “Bankname independently wrote the *FTI*name on the Memorandum of Garnishee received on x/x/xx.” Once overwritten, the original FTI loses its FTI characteristic and is no longer subject to safeguarding requirements.

For accounts that are actively being worked or otherwise not in Automated Collection status, all printing of FTI correspondence must be done manually. FTI correspondence cannot be sent to batch print. For example, applying a system recommendation that creates an FTI correspondence (for instance, an EWO, levy, etc.) requires that team members manually print the document on a local printer, then immediately create an entry in the FTI Tracking Log to record the transcription.
Because files or documents containing FTI cannot be attached in the system, distinct FTI compliant SharePoint sites were created to accommodate audits and dual determinations that incorporate FTI into the working papers. Upon completion of an audit or investigation, auditors and dual writers must upload their investigation materials, including AWP and dual determination memos, into the respective SharePoint sites. Please consult with your supervisor for the specific procedures for using the SharePoint sites.

Every access to the SharePoint is tracked and recorded in an audit trail. Although files can be viewed and modified within the SharePoint site without the need for external tracking, the FTI Tracking Log must be used to record all transcriptions of FTI, including uploads to and downloads from, SharePoint sites. Once FTI files are uploaded into SharePoint, the remaining FTI must be destroyed using the procedures described above in this section.

Audits and duals containing FTI must adhere to the following guidelines:

1. When FTI is saved on a hard drive, use the naming convention: `caseid_taxpayername_FTII`.

2. When the investigation is complete, upload all final documents to the SharePoint site.
   a. Add an FTI Note to the case in the system explaining that the audit or dual contains FTI and is attached in the respective SharePoint site.
   b. Once the audit or dual is uploaded to the SharePoint site, delete all remaining FTI on all computer drives (including the C Drive) and the recycle bin. Make entries in the FTI Tracking Log to record any transcriptions and the destruction of the FTI.

3. CRM Notes
   a. Notes can be entered on the CRM Notes springboard to record that a request for FTI was made. However, FTI-derived information, such as fact of filing or non-filing, must not be mentioned in the notes.

4. Use the FTI Tracking Log to record:
   a. The receipt of FTI.
   b. Transcription of FTI to the auditor’s or dual writer’s computer, SharePoint sites, and to any other location.
   c. When sending an audit or dual to a taxpayer, a physical copy must be printed and mailed, or hand-to-hand delivered to the taxpayer. Printing requires the creation of a new entry in the FTI Tracking Log.
FTB Information Received Through EAT Request

Although FTI received via an FTB EAT request is generally suppressed on the FTB system displays, the EAT resource person is responsible for determining whether data responsive to the request located in the FTB system contains FTI by following the instructions outlined in the Compliance Policy Management Guidelines (CPMG).

If FTI is found, the EAT resource person will create a new entry in the FTI Tracking Log and send it to the team member who requested the information by selecting the “Send” button. A notification email will automatically be forwarded to the recipient directing the recipient to go to the FTI Tracking Log and confirm receipt of the FTI. The EAT resource person will hand-to-hand deliver the FTI to the team member who made the request following the procedures outlined under the subheading in this section Safeguarding FTI. Upon receipt of the physical FTI, the team member will go to the FTI Tracking Log and confirm the receipt of FTI by selecting the “Receive” button.

If the EAT resource person and the requestor are not physically in the same office, the FTI must be sent to the recipient via interoffice mail following the double envelope procedures outlined in the subheading in this section Sending and Receiving FTI.

FTI for Joint Operations Center (JOC)

The JOC was established by the IRS to increase compliance with federal and state fuel tax programs. Audit and Carrier Bureau’s Audit Examination Branch (AEB) is a participant in the JOC program and uses JOC data primarily to identify under-reporting or evasion of excise taxes. Only AEB team members who are vetted and approved by the IRS may access the JOC data. AEB maintains a policy of never removing JOC FTI from the IRS-issued laptops.

In addition, AEB may request FTI data from the IRS for use in developing audit leads for fuel tax audits. All requests for JOC FTI shall be made using the procedures outlined in the Memorandum of Understanding dated September 5, 2007. For information on JOC FTI procedures, team members may contact the AEB Administrator.
Automated Process for Receipt of FTI Data Related to Federal Taxes on Fuel

The CDTFA and IRS entered into an exchange of information agreement whereby the IRS automatically mails hard copies of certain FTI to assist with fuel tax audit leads. Forms 5384 and 5385 – Excise Taxes Examination Changes, are received on a quarterly basis.

In addition, the following IRS forms are also received as part of the agreement; 890, 1273, 2504, 2504-WC, 3228, 4549, 4666, 4667, 4668, 5318, and 6180. The IRS sends the FTI forms to CDTFA’s Business Tax and Fee Division, Audit and Carrier Bureau, and Audit Examination Branch (AEB) directly. Upon receipt in the mail, it is delivered unopened to the AEB FTI Custodian directly. The AEB FTI Custodian logs the FTI information into the FTI Tracking Log when it is received and then secures the information in the appropriate secured IRS storage cabinet. The FTI custodian reviews the information and, if necessary, requests an AEB supervisor assign for field work investigation.

When a potential audit lead is identified, the AEB team member shall access the entity’s information in the system and add a Memorandum of Possible Tax Liability case on the account. The team member shall add a general statement detailing the potential error that was identified (excluding any FTI information) before staging the case to General Referral – Special Taxes. AEB receives the assignment and works the case to determine whether an audit, billing, or both are warranted.

After the FTI is reviewed, the AEB FTI Custodian arranges to properly destroy the FTI and logs the destruction into the FTI Tracking Log.
California Government Code section 15618.5 authorizes the CDTFA to obtain copies of full-face engraved pictures (i.e., copies of full licenses) or photographs (hereafter “photographs” for both) directly from the Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV).

Authorized staff performing field compliance and audit duties may request a photograph of a taxpayer from DMV for the purpose of positively identifying that person for valid business reasons. Any request not directly related to this business need constitutes a violation of the CDTFA’s privacy policy and Government Code section 15618.5 and may subject the requestor to disciplinary action.

A requestor code (hereafter “photograph code”) for requesting photographs was granted to CDTFA by DMV. DMV issued a separate photograph code to each field office for their use. Knowledge of the photograph code is limited to compliance supervisors in the Field Operations Division (except the Out-of-State Office), and supervisors of special taxes and fees programs. The photograph code is not to be shared with other CDTFA staff.

Staff needing a photograph of a taxpayer must first secure supervisory approval. The request and approval comments will be entered in the system.

Audit staff requiring a photograph of a taxpayer should make their request through the compliance section. The request will be made at the audit supervisory level. An adequate explanation as to why a photograph is needed should first be entered as comments in the system by the audit staff. When the request is granted, it must also be noted in the system.

Initiating a Request

Compliance staff requiring a photograph of a taxpayer will open the account for which a photograph is to be requested, create a permanent note and explain the need for a photograph. Staff will then complete the DMV form INF 254 Gov’t. Agency Request for Driver License/Identification Record Information, containing the following information:

1. All the taxpayer information, except the “Requestor Code” field.
2. Under “Information Requested, check the ballot box for “Other” and write in, “Photo of Subject.”
3. Check the ballot box for “Status and Record,” if that information is needed.
4. On the return address fields:
   a. On the line marked “Attn,” print the name of the staff member’s supervisor and the staff member’s initials in parentheses.
   b. Complete the return address as instructed on the form (four-line limit, each line not to exceed 35 characters).
5. The account number must be entered in the available space at the upper right hand of the form above the word “Record Information.”

Staff will place the completed INF 254 in their supervisor’s in-box.

Department of Motor Vehicles - Pictures/Photographs (Cont.1) 720.032

Approving or Denying the Request

To approve or deny the request, the supervisor will:

1. Access the account in the system to ensure that the INF 254 request is for the client/taxpayer on the account.
2. Verify that the permanent notes entered adequately explain the need for a photograph.
3. Grant or deny approval of the request by entering a permanent note in the system. The note should state the approval is granted or, if denied, the reason for denial.
4. Enter the photograph code on the INF 254 and put the form in an envelope, and seal it.
5. Check that the address on the envelope is correct.
6. Ensure the envelope is sealed and securely deposited in the outgoing mail.

If a request is denied, the supervisor will write “Denied” at the bottom right corner of the INF 254, initial it, return the form to the requestor, and enter comments specifying the reason(s) for the denial.

Processing Requests Returned from DMV

To keep knowledge of the photograph code secure, mail received from DMV, whether marked confidential or not, should remain unopened and be delivered to a supervisor. The supervisor receiving the INF 254 which bears the photograph code should enter notes that the photograph was received. The supervisor will remove and destroy the INF 254 before giving the photograph to the staff person who requested it.

Sharing DMV Information with other Agencies

The CDTFA has agreements to share information it acquires or develops with other specific agencies. However, the photographs acquired from DMV may only be shared with local law enforcement, the California Highway Patrol, and local district or city attorneys. The photographs may only be released to these agencies for the purpose of positively identifying the taxpayer and providing an address or location if a civil or criminal action has been initiated by the CDTFA against that taxpayer.

Record Retention and Destruction

While in their possession, staff must safeguard the DMV photographs by securing them in a locked drawer or cabinet. Staff must retain photographs securely for as long as necessary while resolving a case or assignment. When the business need for the photograph no longer exists, the photograph must be returned to the supervisor for destruction. Retaining a photograph for possible future use does not constitute a valid business need. If a photograph is needed again, it should be requested again.

Supervisors should shred or otherwise destroy photographs in a manner that ensures that the remnants cannot be reconstructed. Photographs should never be deposited in a confidential destruction bin intact. Destruction of photographs should be documented in the system notes.

Staff can search the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation’s website Public Inmate Locator System to obtain information about whether a taxpayer is incarcerated and the facility of incarceration. Information is also available regarding whether the taxpayer is on parole in California. If staff is unable to locate the person using the online inmate locator they may call the office of the Assistant Information Officer at (916) 445–6713. When requesting information by phone, be prepared to provide the taxpayer’s full name and date of birth. Please note that it may take several days to obtain information about newly incarcerated persons or prisoners who have been transferred between state correctional facilities, and the website information is subject to change daily.

TAXPAYER FUNDS HELD BY OTHER STATE AGENCIES (INCOMING INTERCEPTS)

Other state agencies, including but not limited to, Franchise Tax Board (FTB), Employment Development Department (EDD), and Alcoholic Beverage Control (ABC) may have funds due to the taxpayer that may be intercepted by CDTFA. While intercepts for FTB, EDD and ABC are automated or initiated by the Collection Support Bureau (CSB), intercepts for other agencies are requested by the collector. See CPPM section 771.000 for information on requesting intercepts.

Some agencies, boards, etc., regulated by the Department of Consumer Affairs require a licensee to post a security deposit. The security is usually posted in the form of a surety bond, but may be in the form of cash, savings and loan passbooks, or certificates of deposit (CDs).

The exact requirements as to the amount of the required security deposit vary between agencies, boards, etc., and may be determined by referencing the appropriate section(s) of the Business and Professions Code. Usually, a security deposit is retained after the termination of a business, pending demands of the agency or the public that was served. For example, the Contractors State Licensing Board and the Department of Motor Vehicles do not release their bonds for three years.

The agencies listed below require an applicant to post a security deposit:

1. Department of Motor Vehicles
2. Athletic Commission
3. Cemetery Board
4. Collection and Investigation Services
5. Contractors State License Board
6. Structural Pest Control

If a security deposit is a surety bond, the agency or board can furnish the name of the company that issued the bond and the bond number. Sometimes taxpayers have deposits held by surety companies that can be levied upon. Be aware that in most cases CDTFA cannot make demand on surety for a bond in another agency’s name (for information about making a demand on surety, see CPPM section 735.030). However, companies that issue surety bonds usually require an applicant to provide a detailed financial statement along with his or her signature on the bond. If CDTFA files a lien against a taxpayer, the information of the debt is a matter of public record that can be revealed to the company. In turn, the company can be asked to provide CDTFA with the information from the financial statement.
For security deposits other than a surety bond, a request to intercept the funds may be made. Government Code sections 12419.4 and 12419.5 provide that the state has a lien on any funds owed by a state agency to a person who owes an amount to another state agency. To enforce the lien, it is only necessary that the agency to whom the money is owed notify the other agency in writing of the amount due and request that the payment to the debtor be intercepted.

Requests for an intercept for a security deposit held by another agency, when asserting a lien under the above sections of the Government Code, are sent to CSB (see CPPM section 771.080).

Most title companies will provide title information without charge upon request. When a taxpayer, or another source, provides real property information that cannot be verified through the county assessor or recorder’s records because of variations in ownership listings, these unofficial reports may eliminate the need to order a title report. However, if ordering a title report is necessary, the office making the request from the title company will also send two copies of the order, one copy to CSB and one copy to the Financial Management Division.

Property, such as dormant bank accounts, are often escheated to the State and held in trust by the State Controller’s Office. Property escheated under the Unclaimed Property Law may only be claimed by the person who had legal right to the property prior to its escheat, his or her heirs, or his or her legal representative. Code of Civil Procedure (CCP) section 1540(e). Title to such property remains vested in the state until such claimant appears and claims it (CCP section 1300(c)).

Property escheated to the state is not subject to levy or garnishment by creditors of the original owner. In no case should staff serve a levy to any state agency in an attempt to reach these types of funds or for any other purpose. When funds are held for the taxpayer by another agency, the proper procedure is to notify the appropriate agency and request that funds being held by that agency on behalf of the taxpayer be offset to the CDTFA. However, the offset process cannot be used for escheated unclaimed funds or other trust funds.
Forwarding addresses may be secured by mailing the taxpayer a letter directed to the last known address with a statement “Address Service Requested” entered below the CDTFA’s return address in lettering large enough to be readily visible.

The CDTFA-53, Postal Service Letter, may also be used in obtaining addresses from the post office. If a CDTFA-53 is incorrectly prepared or is sent to the wrong post office, the postmaster will return the request, specifying the deficiency in the space marked “Other”. Do not submit requests in duplicate.

Instructions for submitting requests for address information:
1. Address the request to the postmaster at the post office of last known address.
2. List the taxpayer’s account number and the date the request is submitted.
3. On the lines provided, list the taxpayer’s name and the last known address, including zip code.
4. The CDTFA-53 should be signed by an authorized person.
5. Type or stamp the CDTFA office return mailing address in the space provided at the bottom of the form.
6. Mail the CDTFA-53 to the postmaster at the post office of last known address.
7. Enclose a pre-stamped return envelope or E-11 Business Reply envelope for any request.

In answering a request for taxpayer address information, postmasters will provide one of the following responses:
1. Mail is Delivered to Address Given: the address the CDTFA provided is verified by the postal service as one to which mail for the taxpayer is currently being delivered.
2. Not Known at Address Given: mail for the taxpayer is not currently being delivered to the address given.
3. Moved, Left No Forwarding Address: the addressee is believed to have moved and has not provided the post office with a change-of-address order. The address is verified as one to which mail for the taxpayer is not currently being delivered.
4. No Such Address: the address given is nonexistent.
5. Other (Specify): as appropriate, postmasters will provide other responses such as “Returned — Sent to Wrong Post Office,” “Addressee is Deceased,” “Address Given is Insufficient,” etc.
6. New Address: if the addressee has submitted a change-of-address order, the new forwarding address will be provided.
7. Boxholder Street Address: if the last known address is a post office box, the taxpayer’s street address, as shown on USPS Form 1093, Application for Post Office Box or Call Number, will be provided. The location of rural route boxes is public information. Post offices usually have route maps posted in the lobby. Under some circumstances, post offices are authorized to give names and addresses of box holders when the box is being used to solicit business from the public. Staff should discuss individual cases with the local postmaster. Section 261.24 of the Postal Manual contains some directions on this subject.
All assignments will be performed in a professional manner. It is the CDTFA’s policy to administer its laws and policies fairly and efficiently, with the expectation that employees will conduct themselves with dignity, integrity and courtesy. (See publication 336, Ethics: Guidelines for Professional Conduct.) In addition, discretion must be exercised to avoid disclosing confidential information to unauthorized parties. (See publication 353, Information Security Requirements for Employees with Access to Confidential Information.)

To a considerable degree, collection productivity will depend on the manner in which the collection interview is conducted and by the impression the collector makes on the taxpayer. Whether the interview is conducted over the phone, in a CDTFA office, or elsewhere, the interview will be conducted with courtesy and professionalism; but at the same time, the collector should be firm and direct.

The collector should stress the advantages of making immediate payment in full. This includes advising the taxpayer of the applicable penalties, interest, and Collection Cost Recovery Fee (CRF) that may be added to the liability if payment in full is not made (see CPPM section 525.000 – 535.095 for further information on penalties, interest, and CRF). The system shows the date on which the CRF is expected to be assessed. Providing this information to taxpayers may encourage them to remit payment in full sooner to avoid the CRF. In instances where this is not possible, the taxpayer may request to enter into a payment plan to avoid the CRF.

The most successful collection case, aside from a paid-in-full account, is one where the tax/fee payer fully understands the consequences of failing to pay the liability promptly. If the taxpayer perceives that the collector is inexperienced or uncertain, or if the collector does not convey a sense of urgency to resolve the situation, the taxpayer may attempt to postpone payment of the liability through excuses or insincere promises. Therefore, the impression the collector should strive to create is one where the taxpayer understands that the interviewer is a trained professional who:

1. Is knowledgeable about the situation,
2. Is able to apply pertinent laws and regulations to the situation,
3. Will treat the taxpayer fairly, and
4. Will follow through, if necessary, with actions to compel payment.

The collector must always be prepared to answer taxpayer questions about collection procedures, taxpayer rights, and appeal rights. Publication 54, Tax Collection Procedures, publication 70, Understanding Your Rights as a California Taxpayer, and publication 17, Appeals Procedures – Sales and Use Taxes and Special Taxes, contain excellent information covering these areas. The collector should also be prepared to discuss with taxpayers the publications available and how to obtain them. A statement directing the taxpayer to the CDTFA website to read publication 54 for information about CDTFA’s collection procedures is on all billing notices. Publication 54 also briefly describes the taxpayer’s rights and appeal rights and references publications 70 and 17. Publication 54A, Behind on Your Payment? What You Need to Know, is a brochure that summarizes the information detailed in publication 54.
Taxpayers Questioning Liabilities

The CDTFA’s primary ethical responsibility to taxpayers is to ensure that they pay no more and no less than the law requires. When a taxpayer questions the accuracy of a CDTFA-assessed liability, all staff should be fully prepared to discuss with the taxpayer their rights and options. If differences between the taxpayer and staff cannot be resolved, the matter should be referred to a supervisor. If, after supervisor review, the taxpayer asks for review by the TRA Office, the case should be referred accordingly. See CPPM section 156.010 for guidance on when it is appropriate to refer a case to the TRA Office.

Bilingual and Hearing Impaired Interpreters Available

The CDTFA values fairness and objectivity in our treatment of all taxpayers and consistent in our administration of the law, while treating every individual with respect and courtesy. To facilitate the CDTFA’s commitment to provide excellent service to all taxpayers, the Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) Office maintains lists of bilingual employees available to assist taxpayers who have limited English proficiency. The EEO Office also makes arrangements to contract for interpreter services when there are no bilingual staff available for a particular language. When a taxpayer needs American Sign Language (ASL) or bilingual assistance, staff should contact the EEO Office at (916) 322-7639 or EEO@cdtfa.ca.gov.

CONTACT WITH TAXPAYERS REPRESENTED BY COUNSEL OR OTHER REPRESENTATIVE

In order to protect the taxpayer, it is always a good practice to secure written authorization from the taxpayer to discuss their case with a third-party representative, preferably prior to initiating any discussion or correspondence with the person claiming to be a representative of the taxpayer.
A taxpayer may be represented by legal counsel, Certified Public Accountant (CPA), Enrolled Agent (EA), or other representative. To determine if a power of attorney (POA) has previously been entered into the system, team members may find the link in the Registration tab and Links sub-tab. If the taxpayer filed a POA hard copy, it would be attached to the Customer or Account springboard with a CRM Note entered in the system. If the representative is not in CDTFA’s online system, the representative will be directed to submit the request online by accessing CDTFA’s Online Services page. The representative may also request third party delegate access which allows the representative to file returns, make payments, and update account information on behalf of the taxpayer.

The taxpayer’s representative will create a username and password in CDTFA’s online system. After logging in, the representative selects the POA link, selects the applicable tax or fee program(s), and completes all required fields to submit the request.

The online submission by the representative initiates a letter to the taxpayer and an online message in the taxpayer’s portal to either approve or deny the POA request. The online POA request also creates a task in the system. If the taxpayer responds to the request online, the task will be automatically closed. If the taxpayer contacts CDTFA, the team member can manually approve or deny the POA request.

Taxpayers may submit a POA hard copy using a CDTFA-392, Power of Attorney, or any written document identified as a “power of attorney” containing all of the following information:

1. Taxpayer’s name, telephone number, identification number(s), account or permit number(s) and mailing address;
2. The name, address (including email, if any), telephone and FAX number of the appointed representative(s);
3. The tax/fee matters the representative is authorized to represent the taxpayer; the scope of the representative’s authority; and the filing period(s) for which the authorization is granted;
4. A statement that the power of attorney revokes all prior powers of attorney, with any exceptions to the revocation noted;
5. The time period during which the power of attorney shall be in effect; and
6. The signature(s) and title of all affected taxpayers and the date of signature.

Taxpayers who submit a POA hard copy will not have their representative added into CDTFA’s online system unless sufficient information to add them was provided. If the representative is already in the system, or is added into the system, they should be linked to the customer or account (see Help Manager instructions for adding the link). The POA hard copy must be attached to the taxpayer’s Customer or Account springboard. A CRM Note must be added on the Customer or Account springboard and the representative’s contact information must be entered under the Registration tab. In addition, the original written POA must be retained in the office file until the audit or collection case is closed. These forms will be reviewed on an annual basis and confidentially destroyed as provided in AM section 0214.03. If the POA is submitted by the taxpayer using Online Services, no further action is required.

When a taxpayer has submitted a POA appointing a representative, team members must work with the representative regarding all tax and fee matters identified in the POA (unless directed otherwise by the taxpayer). Team members should continue to be responsive to any direct communication from the taxpayer.
All copies of taxpayer correspondence must also be sent to the representative. When a representative is involved with an audit, petition, or claim for refund, the representative will receive copies even though a specific request has not been made.

All online correspondence, notices, statements, or reports must also be sent to the taxpayer’s representative. If the representative is linked to the taxpayer in the system, copies of billing notices are sent to the representative automatically. For Appeals letters, a copy will be sent to the representative automatically only if the “cc” box is checked within the Appeals case. For all other letters and notices, team members must manually add the representative as a carbon copy on the Mail springboard, so they receive copies of taxpayer correspondence covered by the POA. The Help Manager in the system contains instructions for adding a copy of a letter.

If the representative has demonstrated a repeated failure to respond to inquiries or requests, especially regarding issues that are time sensitive and require immediate action, team members may, after consulting with a supervisor, contact the taxpayer directly. All actions or correspondence must be fully documented in the system.

The decision to contact the taxpayer directly should be based on the representative’s degree of cooperation with CDTFA and the taxpayer’s compliance with the action(s) requested through the representative. All contacts with the taxpayer and their representative must be fully documented in system notes to protect against potential claims or allegations of harassment.

In situations requiring personal contact with the taxpayer, a supervisor or lead person may participate in a conference call with the collector and the taxpayer or may accompany the collector when meeting with the taxpayer in person.

If the taxpayer, or their representative, has a restraining order forbidding contact by CDTFA, team members must comply with the order. See the CDTFA Manual of Administrative Policy section 7701 for procedures when a restraining order has been filed against CDTFA.

DISCLOSURE OF CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION TO TAXPAYER REPRESENTATIVES WITHOUT WRITTEN AUTHORIZATION

The Information Practices Act (IPA) (Civil Code § 1798 et seq.), Government Code section 15619, Revenue and Taxation Code (RTC) section 7056, as well as other business tax statutes, generally prohibit CDTFA from disclosing confidential taxpayer information to any unauthorized persons, including information regarding a taxpayer’s affairs obtained through audit investigation, returns, or reports. In limited circumstances, the IPA provides for the disclosure of confidential information to either the taxpayer, or to the authorized representative. An authorized representative is an individual or organization selected by the taxpayer to represent their interests before CDTFA. (See CPPM section 120.023 for detailed information on the IPA.)

Confidential information in CDTFA records must be treated in strict confidence. The only exception is when the Governor, by general or special order, authorizes other state officers, tax officers of another state, the Federal Government (if a reciprocal agreement exists), or any other person to examine the records maintained by CDTFA. Requests for confidential information should be referred to a supervisor. (See CPPM, section 140.000, Exchanges of Confidential Information.)
Under the Sales and Use Tax program, only the following information is not confidential: account number, business name, names of general partners, business address, ownership designation, start and close-out dates, and status of permit (i.e., active/inactive). This information is generally available to the public. However, disclosure of the name and address of an individual may be prohibited by Civil Code section 1798.69. (Civil Code section 1798.69 provides in part that CDTFA may not release the names and addresses of taxpayers except to the extent necessary to verify resale certificates or administer the tax and fee provisions of the RTC.) Account numbers for individuals (sole owners, husband/wife co-ownerships, and domestic partnerships) are considered confidential because an individual’s account number when input into the resale verification function on CDTFA’s website would reveal an individual’s name and address, which is considered confidential. Team members should be aware that nonconfidential information in other business tax and fee programs differs from that in the Sales and Use Tax program. CPPM section 120.026 discusses what information may be released to the public.

Requests by a taxpayer’s representative for information and records under the IPA and the California Public Records Act (PRA) will be guided by the following policy:

A taxpayer’s representative may examine and/or receive copies of the same information the taxpayer is entitled to, provided the representative presents a written authorization from the taxpayer. This includes copies of all correspondence and, if involved with an audit, a copy of the Audit Report, petition for redetermination and/or claim for refund. The written authorization need not be notarized.

Conditions for Disclosure of Information

Generally, a written authorization such as a valid power of attorney (see CPPM section 722.026) is required to provide information about a taxpayer’s account or to discuss a taxpayer’s account with an authorized representative. However, there are some situations where exceptions to this general rule are permitted. In all cases of providing confidential taxpayer information to an authorized representative, the name of the representative and the information provided must be documented in the system. Only information that would be disclosed to the taxpayer can be disclosed to an authorized taxpayer representative.

Verbal Authorization by the Taxpayer

Verbal authorization by taxpayers to discuss their case with an authorized representative may be accepted by team members over the telephone or in person. In either situation, proper identification must be furnished by the taxpayer to CDTFA.

If the authorization is by telephone, team members must first verify the identity of the taxpayer by matching a driver’s license or social security number to information in the system before accepting the verbal authorization. If the authorization is in person, the team member must ask for identification, such as a driver’s license, Department of Motor Vehicles identification card, or any other document which establishes their identity.
Compliance Policy and Procedures Manual

Disclosure of Confidential Information to Taxpayer Representatives Without Written Authorization (Cont. 2) 722.028

At the time the verbal authorization is given, the following must be provided by the taxpayer and the information documented in the system:

- Name, address, telephone number of the authorized representative,
- Specific subject matters that may be discussed with the representative, and
- Duration of the authorization.*

*Note: Taxpayers should be informed that the verbal authorization will be limited to 30 calendar days unless they request a shorter period of time. Taxpayers should be advised that written authorization is necessary if they want the authorization for longer than 30 calendar days.

It is important to clearly establish what subject matter may be discussed with the authorized representative. For example, if a taxpayer that has a seller’s permit as a sole proprietor calls a CDTFA team member regarding a bank levy that attached community property funds in the spouse’s separate bank account and authorizes CDTFA to discuss the circumstances relating to the levy with the spouse, the team member may explain the reason for the levy and general information regarding levies and community property laws but may not provide any other confidential information to the spouse (e.g., the accounts receivable balance, payment history, delinquencies) without specific authorization from the taxpayer.

Before providing confidential taxpayer information to an authorized representative over the telephone, team members should verify the identity of the caller by asking their name, address, and telephone number and matching it with the information provided by the taxpayer as noted in the system. When the authorized representative appears in person at a CDTFA office, their identity must be verified by examining their driver’s license, Department of Motor Vehicles identification card, or other form of valid identification and comparing it to the information noted in the system.

Authorization by Possession of Agency Forms, Documents, or Correspondence

Pursuant to Civil Code section 1798.24 (c), confidential taxpayer information for accounts registered to individuals (sole owners, husband/wife co-ownerships, and domestic partnerships) may also be provided to a person representing the taxpayer if it can be proven with reasonable certainty through the representative’s possession of agency forms, documents, or correspondence that this person is the authorized representative of the taxpayer. Agency forms, documents, or correspondence may include, but are not limited to, notices of determination, collection or delinquency notices, taxpayer’s copy of a notice of levy, or other forms or correspondence addressed to the taxpayer.

However, before releasing confidential taxpayer information, team members should attempt to verify that the person in possession of the forms, documents or correspondence is the taxpayer’s authorized representative. This verification can be done through a review of CDTFA records or by calling the taxpayer. If the team member is unable to contact the taxpayer and is unsure whether a person is truly an authorized representative, including the spouse of a taxpayer, the team member should request that the person provide written authorization from the taxpayer. If there is any doubt, confidential taxpayer information should not be provided. The following two scenarios are provided for example:
1. A person visits a CDTFA office claiming to represent a taxpayer that is a sole proprietor and presents a statement of account issued by CDTFA in the taxpayer’s name. The person states that certain payments made by the taxpayer were not credited to the taxpayer’s account and requests a record of all payments made during the last three months on the taxpayer’s account. If there is no record in the system indicating the person is an authorized representative of the taxpayer, a telephone call must be made to the taxpayer to verify the person is an authorized representative. If the taxpayer states that the person is not an authorized representative, or if the taxpayer cannot be contacted, team members should not provide the information.

2. The same situation as above, except the team member is unable to contact the taxpayer by telephone. The person claiming to represent the taxpayer presents additional documentation, such as copies of recent bank statements, cancelled checks issued and signed by the taxpayer, and/or copies of recently filed tax returns. In this situation, the requested information may be provided, as the person has knowledge of the account and the documentation is sufficient to indicate that the person is the authorized representative of the taxpayer.

Team members should screen for situations that may involve speculative inquiries by persons who may be aware of the general subject matter of the taxpayer’s issue(s), their business name, and/or account number, but who may not have been asked by the taxpayer to represent them. An example of a speculative inquiry is a caller who knows the taxpayer’s account number but asks to verify the taxpayer’s address or reported gross sales from a previous quarter. Assuming there is no record the taxpayer is being represented by the caller, the reported gross sales information cannot be provided, and if the account is a sole proprietorship, husband and wife co-ownership, or registered domestic partnership, the address information also cannot be provided to that person.

Confidential taxpayer information should not be provided in response to questions that are unrelated to the actual forms, correspondence, or documentation in the possession of the person, without written or verbal authorization from the taxpayer. For example, information relating to amounts reported on tax returns or matters related to an audit cannot be provided to a person claiming to be an authorized representative based on the person’s possession of a delinquency notice addressed to a taxpayer. All requests should be carefully examined and/or analyzed before inferring with reasonable certainty that the person is the authorized representative of the taxpayer.
Information Requiring Written Authorization

Requests by taxpayer representatives to examine or receive copies of taxpayer account information, correspondence, or other documents require written authorization by the taxpayer, except under the following circumstances:

1. A written request for documents by a certified public accountant (CPA) or attorney which clearly states that the CPA or attorney is the authorized representative of the taxpayer. Before releasing information, however, team members should check the system to ensure the representative was not terminated by the taxpayer.

2. Taxpayer directed — Written authorization is not required when supplying copies of audit working papers to the taxpayer’s bookkeeper or accountant when the taxpayer directed CDTFA to contact the bookkeeper or accountant to conduct an audit and the audit was made based on information supplied by the bookkeeper or accountant.

3. Oral inquiries — Attorneys and CPAs may examine and/or receive copies of information without having written authorization if the person is known by CDTFA to represent the taxpayer. Most oral requests are for an informal review of working papers before an audit is transmitted to Headquarters, and generally when the representative has been working with the auditor. Team members should screen for situations that may involve speculative inquiries by persons who may be aware of the general subject matter and a taxpayer’s business name or account number but have not been asked by the taxpayer to represent them. Team members should check the taxpayer’s information in the system to verify the person has represented the taxpayer in the past.

   - Preferably, a stream of correspondence exists for the current audit which clearly establishes the attorney’s or CPA’s relationship with the taxpayer. If the only information available in the system involves a prior audit, or the representative has recently been added, the file should be carefully reviewed to determine what event created the authorization. If the team member is still unsure as to whether the attorney or CPA is in fact a representative of the taxpayer, they may contact the taxpayer by telephone to confirm the authorization. Alternatively, the team member should ask the person to put the request in writing and state specifically that he or she represents the taxpayer in question. Attorneys and CPAs have an ethical responsibility not to misstate their authority to represent their clients.

   - Requests for copies of audit, appeals, and central files must be obtained in writing.

Without written authorization from the taxpayer, a person purporting to represent the taxpayer should not be permitted to close a taxpayer’s account, change an address, or change ownership information. Only under limited circumstances may federal tax information (FTI) be provided to a taxpayer’s representative with a power of attorney. Team members must consult with the Disclosure Office to determine if the necessary circumstances are present before any federal tax information is released.
CONDUCTING THE INTERVIEW 722.030

The objective of every contact with the taxpayer is to obtain full payment of the liability. Therefore, the representative must be in firm control of the interview from the very start. The representative should impress upon the taxpayer the seriousness of failing to pay immediately and apprise the taxpayer of the consequences for nonpayment. If payment is not forthcoming, the collector does not need to disclose the specific collection action(s) that will occur to enforce compliance.

Prior to contacting the taxpayer, it is helpful to outline a plan for working a collection case. A typical plan should include a timeline and intended actions such as the following:

Within 10 working days from date of assignment:

1. Confirm the identity of the owner(s).
2. Contact the owner, partners, or corporate officers.
3. Create a sense of urgency on the part of the taxpayer to clear the problem.
4. Give the taxpayer all the information necessary to clear the assignment.
5. Ask for payment in full on accounts receivable.
6. Ask for returns on delinquent or revoked accounts and give a specific due date. Make a reasonable effort to get the taxpayer to file returns before estimated returns are created. (Note: current policy is no more than two estimated returns be created in any 12–month period.)
7. Contact third parties such as accountants or business managers when requested and authorized by the taxpayer, but also make it clear to the taxpayer that they remain responsible for the correction of the problem, including failure of the third party to comply.
8. Do not allow third party delays. If the problem is not corrected or delays continue you must contact the taxpayer.

During the first contact:

1. Verify ownership information.
2. Obtain pertinent collection/delinquency information. Example: banks, accounts receivable, suppliers, etc.
3. Personally serve the Notice of Revocation at your first in-person contact with the taxpayer, whether in the office or the field (document the service for possible prosecution).
4. Explain RTC section 6071 and advise the taxpayer to surrender the seller's permit until the account is reinstated.
5. Set definite dates and times for compliance.
6. If practical, write down your agreement with the taxpayer and provide him or her with a copy.

Immediately After Contact:

Document all contacts and actions in the case notes. Minimize abbreviations and avoid slang. Do not include derogatory or personal comments about taxpayers or staff.

Minimum documentation must include:

1. Date of contact.
2. The name and title of the person contacted.
3. The actions that were agreed upon or that will be taken.
4. When performance is expected, including date and time.
5. An intended follow-up date.

Set Deadlines for Action or Information & Establish Follow Ups:

Time expectation: Follow-ups should range from immediately to a maximum of two weeks, depending upon the nature of the request unless extenuating circumstances are documented.

Follow-up procedure: Taking appropriate action(s) reflects favorably on the professionalism of the representative and is necessary to sustain a sense of urgency on the part of the taxpayer to resolve the problem. The key to prompt action is the use of an effective follow-up system to monitor deadlines.

1. Enter deadlines (date and time for follow up) for the next action in the case notes.
2. Set deadlines for information or taxpayer action within two weeks of contact, when appropriate.
3. Thoroughly document in the case notes the reason(s) for any delay beyond the stated time expectations.

If, after discussing the case with the taxpayer, the collector is certain that full payment cannot be obtained immediately, direct questions need to be asked to secure as much information as possible regarding sources of income, available assets, and ability to pay. This information is always documented for future reference, for reporting purposes, or for the use of another staff person should reassignment of the case become necessary.

If the taxpayer cannot pay the liability in full, attempt to obtain a substantial payment on account, or a definite promise to pay at an early date. The collector must stress to the taxpayer that if payment is not made as promised, collection action will be taken to compel compliance. When a promise of full or substantial payment is obtained, the representative has an obligation to follow up with the taxpayer to make sure payment is made as promised. Failure to conduct timely follow-up actions will give the taxpayer the impression that the situation is not important to the collector.

If the taxpayer insists that payment cannot be made in full and is reluctant to enter into payment plan, do not attempt to provide the taxpayer with any legal alternatives. It is never appropriate for staff to offer advice regarding filing a petition in bankruptcy or to give any legal advice other than an interpretation of the tax laws administered by the CDTFA. Instead, the taxpayer should be encouraged to seek the expertise of a CPA, attorney, or other paid professional who is qualified to address the taxpayer’s specific situation.
UNCOOPERATIVE TAX/FEE DEBTORS 722.040

Taxpayers who are argumentative or uncooperative with regard to discussions of their tax liability should be dealt with in a firm and professional manner, and without resorting to, or assuming, a similar attitude. The collector should inform the taxpayer of:

1. The basis for the liability,
2. The taxpayer’s rights, and
3. The time frame for making payment to avoid immediate collection action.

If the taxpayer remains uncooperative or argumentative, politely terminate the discussion and shift to an approach of compelling payment through appropriate active collection action(s). Be sure to note the taxpayer’s uncooperative attitude in the case notes and, if necessary, notify your supervisor of the situation.

In the event that the situation escalates to the point where a threat is issued by a taxpayer, or his or her representative, refer to the procedures outlined in publication 390, Workplace Violence and Bullying Prevention Plan.

INABILITY TO PAY IN FULL 722.050

If a taxpayer indicates an inability to pay the amount due in full, the collector should stress the advantages of making immediate full payment. The following points are often helpful in convincing a taxpayer to make payment in full immediately:

1. Not having to pay a 10 percent failure to file timely penalty if the tax/fee amount is paid in full on or before the due date of the return;
2. Saving an additional 10 percent by not having to pay a finality penalty on a CDTFA-assessed liability, if the tax/fee amount is paid in full on or before the thirtieth day after the date on the notice of determination;
3. Saving accruing interest every month on the unpaid tax/fee balance;
4. Saving an additional Collection Cost Recovery Fee (CRF) if the payment is made prior to the assessment of the CRF (see CPPM section 525.000 for information on CRF);
5. The negative effect on the taxpayer’s credit standing if a Notice of State Tax Lien or Abstract of Judgment is filed (see CPPM Section 757.000); or
6. The loss of personal property as a result of liens, levy, and seizure and sale procedures.

The collector may point out that, in addition to applying for a loan with legitimate lending institutions such as banks and credit unions, taxpayers often have other sources of money available that may clear the liability. Some avenues include, but are not limited to, borrowing from friends and family members, borrowing against the equity in real estate owned by the taxpayer, refinancing vehicles, vessels or aircraft owned by the taxpayer, or paying with a credit card.
PAYMENTS TO OTHER CREDITORS 722.060

A taxpayer may refuse to pay the CDTFA because payments are due to other creditors, for example, employees, vendors, other government agencies, etc. The taxpayer should not be given the impression that payments to other creditors are a higher priority than payments due to the CDTFA.

The taxpayer should be informed that:

1. Failure to pay taxes and fees at the time they become due and payable creates a perfected and enforceable state tax lien that includes the tax/fee, penalties, interest, and any additional costs. (RTC section 6757, and similar statutes for special taxes and fees),

2. Payment to other creditors will result in collection action being taken without delay, and

3. For sales and use tax, if the taxpayer is a corporation, LLC, etc., payment to other creditors can lead to the officers or other responsible parties being held personally liable. (RTC section 6829).

NOTIFICATION TO ATTORNEY GENERAL 722.070

The Office of the Attorney General of the State of California is the legal counsel for the CDTFA and represents the CDTFA as its attorney in most cases before a court. The Collections Support Bureau (CSB) may refer certain types of collection matters to the Attorney General’s Office for action when requested to do so by field offices or the Use Tax Administration Section (UTAS). These matters include filing a notice of lien on cause of action, objection to a third party claim or a claim of exemption, filing a suit for tax for collection against a surety or guarantor, spousal earnings withholding orders for taxes, out-of-state collection accounts, foreclosure on a CDTFA lien, and seizure and sale of property.

To maintain a good working relationship between attorney and client, the Attorney General’s Office must be notified whenever there is a change in the status of an account that the CDTFA has referred to it. For example, a payment received from a delinquent taxpayer in a field office must be reported to CSB so that the Attorney General’s Office may be notified. The office responsible for the account will maintain controls to ensure that CSB is notified of any status changes in all accounts that have been referred to the Attorney General’s Office.

RETENTION OF LEGAL DOCUMENTS 722.080

Whether received by mail, or through personal delivery, legal documents or documents that could have legal ramifications should be forwarded immediately to CSB for review. These types of documents include, but are not limited to, notification of an assignment for benefit of creditors, probate notice, information regarding receivership proceedings, and bankruptcy notices. After review by CSB, the documents may be referred to the CDTFA’s legal staff or the Attorney General’s Office for appropriate action. (The above statement should not be construed to conflict with the instructions contained in CDTFA Manual of Administrative Policy section 7701 covering service of legal process, summons, restraining orders, subpoenas, etc.)
EVALUATION OF COLLECTION PROGRAM 722.090

The Chief of the Tax Policy Bureau has overall responsibility for evaluating the effectiveness of the statewide collection program and determining whether the cumulative collection efforts meet the projected work goals set by the Business Tax and Fee Division.

REPORTING EXTRAORDINARY SITUATIONS OR TECHNICAL COLLECTION PROBLEMS 722.092

Whenever extraordinary situations or technical problems that require a legal opinion are encountered in a collection case, the supervisor of CSB must be notified. When this type of guidance is necessary, the Administrator, Compliance Principal, or delegated supervisor should make the contact with the supervisor of CSB and the Legal Division. The supervisor of CSB will keep the Chief, Tax Policy Bureau informed of these occurrences so that they may be included in the evaluation of the collection program.

CDTFA-ASSISTED SEARCHES OF THE PREMISES OF TAXPAYERS ON JUDICIAL PROBATION 722.100

In some instances, CDTFA staff may be asked to accompany a probation department officer who conducts a search of a taxpayer’s business and/or residence. Although rare, these situations can occur, for example, as the result of misdemeanor or felony cases where the taxpayer must pay court-ordered restitution to the CDTFA.

When a field office receives a request for this type of assistance, the request must be sent to the Investigations Section. The probation department officer should be instructed to contact the appropriate Administrator in Investigations by telephone. The Southern Area Administrator is responsible for Ventura, Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside, Orange, San Diego, and Imperial counties, while the Northern Area Administrator is responsible for all other counties. If the field office is requested to provide assistance or advice in a search, the appropriate Administrator of Investigations will send the request to the Deputy Director of Field Operations.
A partnership is a “person” as defined in RTC section 6005. A partnership is an association of two or more “persons” formed to carry on a business for profit. Partnerships can be formed either by written or verbal agreement. With sufficient evidence, a person may be considered a partner without an agreement if the person invested in the business or if, in the operation of the business, there was an exercise of rights or authority normally reserved to a partner.

There are three main types of partnerships:

1. A general partnership (entity type “P”) is one in which all the partners share in the profits, losses, and management of the business, although their capital contributions may vary. The general partners are also jointly and severally liable for all of the debts and obligations incurred by the partnership.

2. A limited partnership (entity type “L”) consists of one or more general partners and one or more “limited” or “silent” partners. The limited partners are not involved in the operation or management of the business and their liability is limited to the amount of their capital contribution to the partnership as written into the partnership agreement.

3. A limited liability partnership (entity type “K”) is only available for the business operations of accountants, architects and lawyers. A LLP is similar to a general partnership in that the partners share in the profits, losses and management of the business but the partners have limited liability for the debts and obligations incurred by the limited liability partnership.

The California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) issues permits to all three types of partnerships but most commonly to general partnerships. All general partnerships and LLPs are governed by the Revised Uniform Partnership Act (RUPA). Limited partnerships are governed by the California Revised Limited Partnership Act rather than RUPA, but RUPA does apply to some activities of general partners in a limited partnership. Under these acts, limited partnerships and limited liability companies are required to have written partnership agreements and must file with the Secretary of State.

A “partnership” also includes a joint venture (entity type “V”). As used in this section, “partnership” refers to entities whose partners have joint and individual liability, which includes partners of entity types “P” and “V”, and general partners of entity type “L”, but does not include partners of entity type “K” or limited partners of entity type “L”.

Note: A business specified as a “co-ownership” such as a husband and wife co-ownership (entity type “M”) or a registered domestic partnership (entity type “N”) is not a “partnership”, but IRIS does allow separate notices to be issued to each spouse or registered domestic partner.

REVISED UNIFORM PARTNERSHIP ACT (RUPA)

RUPA provides that a partnership is a distinct and separate entity from its individual partners and that the individual partners are distinct and separate entities from each other and from the partnership. RUPA requires that a separate notice for a liability be served on the partnership entity and on each partner individually. RUPA also imposes certain conditions on the collection of partnership debt from assets of individual partners and provides for the continuation of a partnership after the addition or deletion of partners.
RTC section 6831 (and similar statutes for other CDTFA–administered tax and fee programs) states, in part, that it shall not be subject to subdivisions (c) and (d) of section 16307 of the Corporations Code unless, at the time of application for a seller’s permit, the applicant furnishes a written partnership agreement that provides that all business assets shall be held in the name of the partnership.

The subdivisions of the Corporations Code referred to above impose the noticing requirements for issuing billings and specify the conditions under which collection can be made from the assets of individual partners. Although RUPA provisions may not apply to the CDTFA’s tax programs unless the applicant provides a copy of the partnership agreement, it is CDTFA policy to follow RUPA guidelines for all billings issued to partnership accounts, notwithstanding RTC section 6831 and other related statutes.

Summary of Key RUPA Provisions

1. Pursuant to RTC section 6831 and other related statutes, RUPA billing and debt collection requirements may not apply to the CDTFA in every case. However, the CDTFA’s policy is that all partnership accounts are presumed to have RUPA rights for billing and collection purposes, despite RTC section 6831 and similar sections.

2. The legal theory of “entity” applies, i.e., the partnership is a distinct and separate entity from each of its partners. A notification sent to one partner is not sufficient to assert liability against the partnership or the other partners.

3. A partnership (entity) survives the addition or deletion of partners (unless the written partnership agreement stipulates that the partnership terminates in such circumstances).

4. Partners are jointly and severally liable for the debts and obligations incurred by the partnership, subject to certain limitations and conditions as discussed in CPPM 724.020.

5. A partnership entity must be billed separately from individual partners, and each partner must receive a separate billing.

6. Attempts to collect partnership debt must be taken first against assets of the partnership and the partnership assets must be insufficient to satisfy the liability before collection can be attempted against assets of individual partners (unless the partnership is a debtor in bankruptcy).

1 Corporations Code Section 16307(c) states: “A judgment against a partnership is not by itself a judgment against a partner. A judgment against a partnership may not be satisfied from a partner’s assets unless there is also a judgment against a partner.” This is the section of RUPA that requires separate and distinct notices (billings) to the partnership entity and to each partner. A Notice of Determination that becomes final is, in essence, the legal equivalent to a “judgment” against the debtor to whom the liability was assessed. This is also true for demand billings for tax, penalty, and interest on NR/PR returns, dishonored checks, etc.

2 Corporations Code Section 16307(d) states, in part: “A judgment creditor of a partner may not levy execution against the assets of the partner to satisfy a judgment based on a claim against the partnership unless either of the following apply:

   a. A judgment based on the same claim has been obtained against the partnership and a writ of execution on the judgment has been returned unsatisfied in whole or in part.

   b. The partnership is a debtor in bankruptcy....”

While other conditions also apply (e.g., a partner can agree that a creditor need not exhaust partnership assets before attempting to collect from the partners), these two subdivisions of the Corporations Code are the two that most affect the CDTFA’s administration of partnership accounts.

November 2015
As noted previously, all general partners are jointly and severally liable for all the debts and obligations incurred by the partnership. Partners in a LLP (accountants, attorneys and architects) have limited liability except for liabilities arising from their own professional malpractice. In a limited partnership, a limited partner has no liability for debts of the partnership unless the limited partner takes part in the control of the business (Corporations Code section 15507).

If the partnership is no longer operating and all partnership assets have been distributed, collection action may be taken against the individual assets of the former partners without concern as to whether equal amounts are collected from each of them. CDTFA staff should not lead any general partner to believe that the partner will be relieved of further liability if a payment equal to their partner’s particular percentage ownership of the partnership is made. The fact that one or more members of a partnership may be making payments is not a reason to withhold action against other partners. Until the liability is paid in full, collection action should be imposed against any or all of the partners.

It should be noted that each individual partner, depending on that partner’s period of association with the partnership, may be held responsible for all, part or none of the total liability of the partnership. Because the partnership liability may vary between partners, the online system tracks each partner separately (through the creation of a RUPA account) so that the proper collection action may occur when necessary.

When a partner dissociates from a continuing partnership, that partner is generally not liable for partnership obligations incurred after the date of dissociation. There are two exceptions to this general rule, both of which are contained in the Corporations Code (CC) sections 16308(a) and 16703(b). However, these exceptions do not pertain to unpaid sales and use tax and special tax and fee liabilities incurred by a continuing partnership. Both of the exceptions provided by CC sections 16308(a) and 16703(b) exist for the purpose of protecting creditors who enter into transactions based upon a representation that a specific person was a partner. As such, a partner that dissociates from a continuing partnership but who does not notify the CDTFA, either directly or by filing a Statement of Dissociation with the Secretary of State, is not liable under RUPA for taxes and fees incurred by the continuing partnership after the date of dissociation.
Liability of Partners (Cont. 1) 724.020

If a partner fails to notify the CDTFA of their dissociation from a continuing partnership, evidence provided by the partner should be examined to determine if the partner did, in fact, dissociate from the partnership and the date of the dissociation. Corporations Code sections 16601(1) and 16602(a) provide that a partner has the authority to dissociate from a partnership at any time by providing notice to the partnership of his will to withdraw as a partner. The dissociated partner has the burden of proving the date of dissociation which may involve providing substantiating documentation such as:

1. Federal and state income tax returns for the periods in question for the dissociated partner and the business. Schedule K-1 of form 1065, U.S. Partnership Return of Income, should list each partner and its individual share of income from the partnership business.
2. Statement of Partnership Authority, Statement of Denial, and/or Statement of Dissociation filed with the California Secretary of State.
3. Registration records and tax returns from other government agencies.
4. Public records, such as a city business license, fictitious name statement, liquor license, etc.
5. Copy of business premises lease agreement, utilities billings, etc.
6. Cancelled business checks and bank records showing authorized signers.
7. Any other evidence that will assist in substantiating the true ownership of the business during the period in question.

The date of a partner’s dissociation must be captured in the online system by entering the date of dissociation in both the End Date and Legal End Date fields in the Client Taxpayer System.

If a partnership is dissolved as a result of a partner’s dissociation or dissolved within 90 days after a partner dissociates, the partner will continue to be liable to the partnership’s creditors for all of the obligations the dissolving partnership incurs until it winds up its affairs, including a predecessor liability pursuant to RTC section 6071.1 and Sales and Use Tax Regulation 1699(f), and CC sections 16701.5 and 16807. A predecessor liability could arise in any situation where the CDTFA was not informed that a partnership dissolved and post dissolution liabilities were incurred by an entity that continued operating the business under the dissolved partnership’s seller’s permit. Information regarding predecessor’s liability is provided in CPPM 734.000, Predecessor’s Liability for Successor’s Tax.

RTC section 6071.1 provides the consequences for failure of a permit holder to surrender a seller’s permit upon transfer of a business. The transferor (predecessor) may be held liable for up to four quarters for taxes incurred by the transferee (successor) after the transfer. Since a partner’s dissociation does not cause a partnership to terminate under RUPA (unless so stipulated in the partnership agreement), application of RTC section 6071.1 applies in the rare case where the dissociation triggers the termination of the partnership and the partnership business continues, with no actual or constructive notice being received from the dissociating partner or the partnership.
Referral to the CDTFA’s Legal Division

If it is necessary to determine post-dissociation liability in a given case and there is doubt as to what the appropriate liability period should be, staff may contact the CDTFA’s Legal Division for assistance. The request should be directed to a staff attorney and should be made at the Business Taxes Compliance Specialist level or above.

A referral to the Legal Division should be made only after there has been sufficient investigation and review of all the facts, circumstances, and available evidence, including a review of the partnership agreement if there is one. CDTFA electronic files and records should be checked for relevant information about the partnership account, such as comments that might have been entered in the IRIS system. Files in field offices, Taxpayer Records Section, and other headquarters units should be checked for information or copies of documents, such as a partnership agreement.

In addition to CDTFA files, the Secretary of State’s Office maintains information on partnerships. Both limited partnerships and limited liability partnerships are required to register with the Secretary of State by filing a Certificate of Limited Partnership (LP–1), a Registered Limited Liability Partnership Registration (LLP–1), or a Foreign Limited Partnership Application for Registration (LP–5).

Federal or state income tax returns can also be valuable sources of partnership information. All partnerships are required to file Form 1065, U. S. Partnership Return of Income, with the IRS and attach a Schedule K–1, Partner’s Share of Income, Credits, Deductions, etc,” for each partner active in the partnership business during the taxable year. The Franchise Tax Board (FTB) requires a similar filing (California Form 565) with the same Schedule K–1 attachments.

Key points to remember:

In the case of a disputed tax liability, the taxpayer has the burden of proof to show the liability is not owed. Accordingly, in cases regarding a partner’s claim of dissociation, the burden of proving the date of dissociation is on the dissociating partner. Standard appeal procedures apply.

Dissociating general partners are each 100 percent liable for all the debts and obligations incurred by the partnership before dissociation, for the entire time they were in the partnership.
RUPA noticing requirements for billing purposes apply to the assertion of liability. These requirements do not apply after a liability has been assessed and has become final. Therefore, the CDTFA is only obligated to apply RUPA rules for noticing (billing) the partnership and the partners when issuing a Notice of Determination or a Notice of Redetermination, and for initial billings for tax, penalty, and interest due to receiving a non-remittance or partial remittance return, a dishonored check(s), etc. The CDTFA has determined, however, that the RUPA noticing rules will be followed for all billings generated by IRIS to partnership accounts. This is because the first 30-day lien warning (required by the Taxpayer’s Bill of Rights, RTC section 7097) does not appear in system generated billings until the demand billing is sent, which occurs substantially after the original Notice of Determination (or Notice of Redetermination) has become final.

Compliance staff issuing compliance assessments (CAS) to closed-out partnership accounts shall ensure that the names and addresses of all general partners have been entered in IRIS.

Requesting a RUPA Demand

If the liability of an individual partner of a closed partnership is less than the partnership’s overall liability, a RUPA account may be established for the individual partner. This allows CDTFA to track a partner’s liability separately in IRIS so the partner is only held liable for those liabilities incurred while associated with a partnership. The following conditions must exist before a RUPA account may be created for a partner:

- A final liability must exist.
- The partner owes less than the total amount owed by the partnership.
- Collection action was taken against the partnership assets and the liability was not satisfied (see CPPM section 724.023).
- The liability is attributable to the partnership.
  - A partnership must have at least two partners and will dissolve on the date that it ceases to have at least two partners, unless at least one new partner joins the partnership within the following 90 days (Corporations Code sections 16101 and 16801).

Before creating a RUPA account, the collector must:

- Review the partnership account in IRIS and verify each person for whom the RUPA account is being requested has been added and/or dissociated.
- Identify the partner(s) that owe less than the partnership by reviewing each partner’s period of association and the period(s) of liability remaining unpaid by the partnership.

Staff must select “RUPA ARB” from the pop-up screen in IRIS to generate a RUPA account. After the account is generated, the collector must identify the RUPA account number by inputting a comment on the primary (partnership) account in ACMS.
After a RUPA account is established, a demand notice should be issued to the partner identifying the specific liability for which the partner is liable. To request a demand notice, staff will prepare a CDTFA-200-A in ACMS. In the section marked “Other Request,” the name of each partner for whom a RUPA account was established and for which a demand notice is being requested must be identified. Each partner’s RUPA account number, mailing address, and period(s) of liability must be included in the request. The liability period(s) is determined by the partner’s “Start Date” through, and including, the partner’s “Legal End Date” shown in IRIS. Staff should attach to the CDTFA-200-A all documentation such as copies of partnership documents, CDTFA correspondence (CDTFA-400-PD), or other material relating to the partner’s association/dissociation activity with the business. After supervisory approval, the package should be sent to the Collections Support Bureau (CSB). CSB staff will review the request, and if approved, issue a dual billing under the RUPA account. Staff should note the RUPA account number under the primary account, and enter notes in ACMS that include what documentation was included to support the RUPA billing. Once a RUPA account is established in IRIS, staff may need to use the “Manual Account Set Up” process to establish the account in ACMS (instructions are available on myCDTFA under the “Technology Tab,” by selecting the ACMS link and selecting the “Supervisor Functions and Misc” under Cheat Sheets).

Procedures for Issuing Demand on RUPA Account

CSB staff will review each CDTFA-200-A and the accompanying documentation for accuracy and completeness. CSB staff will calculate the portion of the liability that was incurred while the partner was associated with the partnership. Corrections to the CDTFA-200-A or questions should be resolved with the requesting office in the most practical manner possible (e.g., phone call, email, and fax). If a correction or question cannot be resolved by phone, email or fax, CSB staff may return the CDTFA-200-A and documentation to the requestor with an explanation of why the request could not be processed.

After the demand is issued, CSB staff will enter notes in ACMS on the primary account by using the ADD Summary button and selecting RUPA Summary in the Internal Summary drop-down box. Notes will include the partner’s name, RUPA account number, the period the partner was associated with the partnership, and the liability amount.

A RUPA account is a secondary account and any payments made by the partnership and applied to the primary (partnership) account will show as an adjustment, and not a payment, on the RUPA account. Payments received from a partner with a RUPA account should be applied to the RUPA account and not to the primary account. Payments applied to the RUPA account will appear as an adjustment on the primary account.

In addition, once the liability under the RUPA account is paid in full, staff may send a request for a partial lien release to CSB for liens filed under that partner’s name, if applicable. Similarly, if a lien was filed against a partnership and a partner later provides evidence that he or she was not a partner for the period of liability, staff may send a request to CSB for a partial lien release. See CPPM section 761.070 for procedures to request a partial lien release.
PARTNERSHIP COLLECTIONS

As previously stated, it is the CDTFA’s policy to follow RUPA rules regarding the collection of partnership debt regardless of whether at the time of application the applicant files a copy of the partnership agreement specifying that all assets are to be held in the name of the partnership. Collection must first be attempted from assets of the partnership entity before collection can be attempted from assets of the individual partners. The partnership assets must also be insufficient to satisfy the liability before collection is allowed against the partners.

NON-PARTNER CLAIMS

If a partner is billed for a partnership liability and claims that he or she was not involved as a partner during all or part of a liability period (and therefore should not be held responsible for payment of the liability), the claimant must make a written request for relief. The burden of proof for substantiating the request rests with the claimant. The claimant’s request must state the specific reason(s) why the claimant should not be held liable as a partner and must include supporting documentation. The request should be presented to the office of control.

Examples of supporting documentation include the following:

1. Federal and state income tax returns for the periods in question for the claimant and the business. Schedule K–1 of Form 1065, U.S. Partnership Return of Income, should list each partner and their individual shares of income from the partnership business.
2. Statement of Partnership Authority, Statement of Denial, and/or Statement of Dissociation filed with the California Secretary of State.
3. Registration records and tax returns from other government agencies.
4. Public records, such as a city business license, fictitious name statement, liquor license, etc.
5. Copy of business premises lease agreement, utilities billings, etc.
6. Canceled business checks and bank records showing authorized signers.
7. Any other evidence that will assist in substantiating the true ownership of the business during the period in question.

The receiving office will forward the written request along with the claimant’s documentation to the Collections Support Bureau (CSB) whose staff will review the documents, the seller’s permit application, tax return signatures, other CDTFA records, and the submitted reasons when considering the claimant’s request. The CSB makes a recommendation and forwards the case to the Deputy Director of the Field Operations Division (FOD) for an approval or denial decision. After a decision is rendered, the case is returned to the CSB supervisor who will send the requester a denial or approval notification letter with a copy to both the receiving office and the FOD Deputy Director.

For approved requests, the case is forwarded to the Tax Policy Bureau’s Registration Specialist, Compliance Policy Unit (or appropriate program area) for removal of the claimant from the liability. If the request is denied, an appeal must be made through the refund request/appeal process as long as the refund request is for paid amounts or the appeal is within statutory periods.
LIMITED PARTNERS 724.030

As noted in CPPM 724.020, the liability of a limited partner for debts of the partnership extends only to its contributed and un-contributed obligation to the business enterprise. Contributions of a limited partner may be in the form of money, goods, real or personal property, and, in the case of restaurants, bars, or liquor stores, interest in the liquor license. All of these are subject to levy and execution for debts of the limited partnership. However, unless a limited partner contributed real property that was all or part of the partner’s contribution to the business, the name of the limited partner cannot be included in liens or abstracts recorded to acquire liens on the real property.

JOINT VENTURE 724.040

A joint venture is a legal organization that takes the form of a short-term partnership in which the persons jointly undertake a transaction for mutual profit. Generally, each person contributes assets and shares the risks. Like a partnership, joint ventures can involve any type of business transaction and the “persons” involved can be individuals, groups of individuals, companies or corporations.

In general, collection of liabilities from joint ventures is governed by and enforceable under the rules applicable to partnerships. If collection cannot be made from the assets of the joint venture, then collection action may commence on the assets belonging to the members of the joint venture.
CORPORATE COLLECTIONS 726.000

GENERAL 726.010

Revenue and Taxation Code (RTC) section 6005 recognizes a corporation as a “person” separate and distinct from its members, stockholders, directors, or officers. Generally, a corporate liability is collectable only from assets of the corporation. Although personal liability for amounts owed by a corporation can be asserted against members, stockholders, directors, or officers under certain conditions, they do not acquire personal liability solely through affiliation with the corporate entity.

When a corporation has no assets, is defunct, or when personal liability cannot be asserted against the corporate officers, there is no source from which collection can be made. Therefore, to minimize losses arising from delinquent corporate liabilities, it is necessary to take appropriate actions when first in contact with the corporation, such as:

1. Thoroughly analyzing the corporation’s financial status when financial documentation is provided.
2. Assessing if a security deposit is warranted when difficulties with the corporate account develop.
3. Documenting all responsible parties and determining if it is the normal practice of the corporation to collect tax reimbursement.

CORPORATIONS SUBJECT TO DUAL DETERMINATION 726.015

A “dual determination” is a determination made against a person for a tax liability that is also the obligation of another person. Under RTC section 6829, a corporate officer or other person may be held personally liable for the tax liability of the corporation if certain criteria are met (see CPPM section 764.030 et seq. for information on dual determinations).

The best time to gather evidence to support a dual determination is while an entity’s business is still active. While working an active corporate account, the following questions should be asked and responses documented in system notes:

- Who is responsible for sales and use tax matters? When did the responsibility begin? Who ultimately determines which bills get paid? Is this person aware of the delinquency/liability owed?
- Is the corporate officer/member/partner information on record with CDTFA current? If it is not, obtain the necessary information to update CDTFA’s registration in the system. What are the start and end dates for each officer/member/partner?
- Does the entity collect sales tax from its customers? If so, request a copy of an invoice or receipt showing tax reimbursement collected. Does the entity collect use tax on its sales? If so, request a copy of an invoice or receipt. Upload these copies to the system. Enter detailed notes about how the tax is collected, whether it is included in the sales price or charged separately, and whether or not they have a Point of Sale (POS) system that charges tax automatically.
- What other bills are currently being paid? If the taxpayer is requesting a payment arrangement and financial information is being requested, the document should be uploaded as an attachment to the Customer springboard.

If a team member is made aware of an impending closeout of an entity’s business, the officer, member, or partner should be informed of RTC section 6829 and its implications, should any outstanding sales and use tax liability of the entity remain unpaid when the entity’s business terminates. For information about issuing a dual determination under RTC section 6829, see CPPM section 764.080.
REQUIREMENTS AS A CORPORATION 726.020

A corporation is formed after filing articles of incorporation with, and receiving a corporate charter from, the Secretary of State’s office. A corporation does not legally exist until this process is complete. If the unincorporated entity begins to make retail sales or purchases of tangible personal property for self-consumption in California without payment of use tax, a dual determination for sales or use taxes applicable to those sales or purchases should be issued against the individual owner(s), sole proprietorship(s), partnership(s), joint venture(s), or other entities comprising the ownership of the business.

If an entity, after obtaining a seller’s permit as a corporation, is found to be an unincorporated entity, a dual determination should be issued against the true owners of the business, e.g., a sole proprietorship, an individual or individuals, a partnership, a joint venture or other entity. For purposes of tax administration, a foreign corporation that has not registered with the California Secretary of State is an incorporated entity not qualified to conduct business in this state.

Under RTC section 23301, a corporation may have its active status suspended for a variety of reasons. If a corporation is suspended, the liability for payment of sales and use tax becomes the obligation of the individual members, stockholders, directors, or officers for the period in which the corporation is suspended. Certain requirements must be satisfied prior to issuing a determination against a corporate officer or officers of a suspended corporation (see CPPM section 764.060).

INFORMATION WITHOUT NOTIFICATION TO CDTFA 726.030

Occasionally, an individual or partnership will obtain a seller’s permit and then incorporate without notifying CDTFA of the change. The newly formed corporation is a separate “person” under RTC section 6005 and is required to obtain a new permit. If a liability is disclosed that was incurred after the date of incorporation, team members will request the individual or partnership to register for a new permit and transfer the liability to the corporation using a CDTFA-523, Tax Return And/Or Account Adjustment Notice. If the taxpayer refuses to obtain a new permit, team members may create an account using the procedures under CPPM section 295.090.

If the liability is uncollectible from the corporation, a report may be sent to the Collections Support Bureau (CSB) requesting a dual determination against the entity to which the initial permit was issued (the predecessor). The basis for issuing a dual determination against the predecessor is that the taxpayer’s failure to notify CDTFA of the incorporation deprived CDTFA of an opportunity to obtain an adequate security deposit resulting in a loss to the state. To request a dual determination in the above circumstance, notify CSB by sending a memorandum along with supporting documentation. (See Regulation 1699(f) and RTC section 6071.1.)
OVERVIEW

There are various forms of business entities recognized in California. They are: corporations, partnerships, limited partnerships, limited liability companies (LLCs), and limited liability partnerships. As discussed below, the first four entity forms can participate in various transactions that may affect their status, including merger, conversion, and acquisition, all as provided in the California Corporations Code (CCC). Limited liability partnerships, however, are precluded from some such transactions. (There are also sole proprietorships, the treatment of which is discussed below.) A merger involves two or more entities while a conversion involves only one. A merger, or merger reorganization, is the absorption of one entity by another that survives, retains its name and identity, together with the added capital, franchises, and powers of the merged (or disappearing) entity, and continues the combined business. The merged entity ceases to exist, and the merging entity alone survives. Thus, the surviving entity acquires all rights and property of the disappearing entity and is subject to all debts and liabilities of the disappearing entity (as if the surviving entity had itself incurred them).

In a conversion, the entity that converts into another is, for all purposes, the same entity that existed before the conversion, except that the form of business organization (and possibly the name) has changed. In both cases, the debts and obligations of the former entity become the debts and obligations of the new or surviving entity. A limited liability partnership, however, is precluded from converting into another form of business entity.

Since the debts and obligations of the former entity become the debts and obligations of the converted or merged entity, it is inappropriate to issue successor billings or dual determinations to transfer or replicate a liability established against the former entity to the converted or merged entity. If the liability of the disappearing entity has gone final, these merged or converted entities are not entitled to the statutory 30-day petition rights accorded rightful dualees or successors. Instead, a demand billing (that includes information regarding the conversion and a reference to the origin of the liability) will be sent to the surviving or converted entity for payment of the liability incurred by the former entity. If a demand billing needs to be sent to a converted entity, an email request should be sent to CSB with all pertinent information included such as the names and account numbers of the former and succeeding entities, amount(s) and periods of liability, documentation, and information sources, etc. Any other evidence, such as written statements or documents should also be forwarded.

There are also two types of acquisitions. One involves the acquisition of the shares of a stock of a corporation (also known as an “exchange reorganization”), and the other involves the acquisition of the assets of a corporation (a “sale-of-assets reorganization”). Thus, when one person or entity acquires all of a corporation’s shares of stock from others, the corporate form remains intact, and only the shareholders have changed. The corporation has been acquired by new owners, but it retains its identity. Therefore, if the corporation holds a seller’s permit with CDTFA, that permit remains valid with the corporation’s name. Alternatively, in the case of a “sale-of-assets reorganization,” when any form of business sells its assets (as opposed to sale of its shares or membership interests), the provisions of RTC sections 6811-6814 and Regulation 1702 may apply, leading to the issuance of a successor determination. Specific types of each of these transactions (along with instructions for registration and billing requests once a transaction has occurred) are discussed below.
STATUTORY MERGERS

Statutory mergers follow the provisions set forth in the CCC for different types of entities. For a merger to be valid, the merged entities must have followed the requirements set forth in the CCC.

Statutory provisions governing merger reorganization for corporations are set forth in the CCC, Chapter 11, and specify the statutory legal formalities required to merge a corporation with another corporation or other business entity in California. Two or more corporations may be merged into one of those corporations. The board of each corporation seeking to be merged must approve an agreement of merger. As set forth in section 1107(a) of the CCC, once a statutory merger has occurred, the merged or disappearing corporation no longer exists and the surviving corporation succeeds to all the rights and property of the disappearing corporation and is subject to all of the debts and liabilities of the disappearing corporation (as if the surviving corporation had itself incurred them).

Mergers of limited partnerships are authorized pursuant to section 15911.10 of the CCC. Mergers of partnerships are authorized pursuant to section 16910. Mergers of LLCs are authorized by section 17710.10. With respect to mergers of each of these forms of entity, the surviving entities are subject to debts and liabilities of the disappearing entity, as if the surviving entity had incurred them.

There is no authority for mergers of limited liability partnerships.

Another type of statutory merger is called “short-form merger,” which is a merger of a parent corporation with one or more wholly owned subsidiaries, or the merger of a parent corporation and one or more subsidiaries of which the parent corporation owns at least 90%, but not all, of the outstanding shares of each class.

REGISTRATION FOR MERGERS

In a statutory merger, the merged corporation ceases to exist. Team members should close out CDTFA account(s) of the disappearing corporation and document that the accounts were merged into the surviving corporation and its CDTFA account(s).

CONVERSIONS

Conversions of corporations are governed by sections 1150-1160 of the CCC. In a conversion, the entity that converts into another is, for all purposes, the same entity that existed before the conversion, except that the form of business organization (and possibly the name) has changed. A corporation may be converted into a “domestic other business entity” if the shares of the converting corporation are treated in conformity with CCC section 1151 in that: (1) each share of the same class of the converting corporation is treated equally with respect to any cash, right, securities or other property to be received and (2) nonredeemable common shares of the converting corporation are converted into non-redeemable equity securities of the converted entity. An entity in California that wishes to convert to another domestic entity must have an approved plan of conversion that states all of the following:
Collections

Business Conversions, Mergers, and Acquisitions (Cont.) 726.033

- The terms and conditions of the conversion.
- The jurisdiction of the converted entity and of the converting corporation, and name of the converted entity after conversion.
- The manner of converting the shares of each of the shareholders of the converting corporation into securities of, or interests in, the converted entity.
- The provisions of the governing documents for the converted entity, including the partnership agreement or LLC articles of organization and operating agreement, to which the holders of interests in the converted entity are to be bound.
- Any other details or provisions that are required by the laws under which the converted entity is organized, or that are desired by the converting corporation.

Conversions of limited partnerships are authorized pursuant to CCC section 15911.02. However, a limited partnership may not convert to a limited liability partnership (CCC section 16955). Conversions of general partnerships are authorized pursuant to CCC section 16902. Conversions of LLCs are authorized by CCC section 17710.02. With respect to conversions of each of these forms of entity, the converted entities are subject to all debts and liabilities of the converting entity, as if the converting entity had incurred them.

There is no authority for conversions of limited liability partnerships.

Registration for Conversions

In this type of situation, it is not necessary to close out the account(s) of the converting entity and issue a new account(s). The name of the entity and type of business may be changed on the account(s).

If a sole proprietor decides to incorporate or form another type of business entity (such as a partnership, limited partnership, or LLC), it is not considered a conversion. Team members should close the account(s) of the sole proprietor and have the taxpayer register a new account(s) for the new entity. There would be no question of the liability of the individual for taxes and/or fees owed prior to the incorporation. The liability of the individual owner(s) for the subsequent liabilities of the new entity would be subject to CDTFA's rules as set forth in RTC section 6829 or RTC section 6071.1 (a) and (b).

Conversions - Administrative Fees for Cigarette Licensees

Under the Cigarette and Tobacco Licensing Act of 2003, cigarette manufacturers and importers are required to pay an administrative fee when they begin operations in the state. In cases where a corporation undergoes a conversion, the entity would not be required to pay an administrative fee. Conversely, if a sole proprietor incorporated, or formed an LLC or other form of business entity, the resulting corporation or other form of entity would be required to obtain a new Cigarette and Tobacco Products License and pay an administrative fee when it begins operations in this state.

Billing Requests for Statutory Mergers and Conversions

To obtain a demand billing for a merged or converted entity, a request should be sent to CSB. The request must indicate the status (final or non-final) of the liability. An open petition or appeal of one or more of the disappearing entities must be respected. In such case, rather than issue a demand billing, CSB will send the new entity a Statement of Account with specific bill notes and notify the Petitions Section who will add or substitute the surviving entity in place of the disappearing entity during the petition or appeals process.
Along with the status of the liability, the request should include all pertinent information such as the names and account numbers of the former and succeeding entities, amount(s) and periods of liability, documentation, and information sources, etc. Any other evidence, such as written statements or documents, should also be forwarded.

DE FACTO Mergers

A more difficult issue arises when one entity has effectively shut down without formally dissolving, and the owner has formed a new entity, doing the same business in the same location. There is no formal merger and no contract of sale that would support a successor liability billing. If the facts have been sufficiently investigated and certain conditions are present, CDTFA may be able to assert that there has been a “de facto” merger and that the new entity should be billed as a “mere continuation” of the former entity. The following elements must be present to determine that there has been a de facto merger:

Elements of a De Facto Merger

1. Transfer of substantially all business assets of the former entity to the new entity,
2. Substantial alignment of ownership and/or control of the new and old entities (are the owners and managers of both entities substantially similar?),
3. Absence of meaningful consideration paid by the new entity for the assets of the former entity,
4. Evidence that the new entity is merely continuing the business of the former entity, such as: using a substantially similar business name, using the same business location, maintaining the same vendor accounts who supply to the new entity, using the same phone number, and having the same employees, and
5. The absence of evidence that the former entity formally dissolved, filed appropriate documentation with SOS and wrapped up its affairs.

Before registering the new entity under a de facto merger theory, or submitting billing requests for the new entity, a dual determination under RTC section 6829 must have been explored. CDTFA may not issue a de facto billing until after a dual determination under RTC section 6829 has been issued, or until after CDTFA has determined that the requisite elements for a section 6829 dual determination are not present.

Registration for De Facto Mergers

In this situation, the account(s) of the terminated entity should be closed and a new account(s) issued for the new entity. If the new entity is not willing to self-register, an account can be issued to complete the registration (see CPPM section 295.090). Registration should be performed based on the results of CDTFA investigation.
Billing Requests for De Facto Mergers

A demand billing for a final liability can be issued to the surviving entity for payment of the liability incurred by the former entity. The request must state the status of the existing liability. An open petition or appeal of one or more of the disappearing entities must be respected. In such case, rather than issue a demand billing, CSB will send the new entity a Statement of Account with specific bill notes and notify the Petitions Section who will add or substitute the surviving entity in place of the disappearing entity during the petition or appeals process.

The request must include all pertinent information such as the names and account numbers of the former and succeeding entities, amount(s) and periods of liability, documentation and information sources, etc. However, in order to pursue a de facto merger, all five elements of a de facto merger must also be present and clearly documented in the request. Send requests for demand billings to CSB who will consult with the Litigation Bureau before the request is approved.

Statute of Limitations for Mergers and Conversions

There is no specific statute that limits a conversion, merger, or de facto merger billing of a secondary entity for the liability of a primary entity. The doctrine of laches may apply in these cases where there is no statute. The doctrine affords a taxpayer an equitable defense if the billing was unreasonably delayed. Therefore, the policy is to issue the conversion, merger, or de facto merger billing within three years of acquiring knowledge of the facts supporting the secondary billing.

ACQUISITIONS

Acquisitions are a form of reorganization and are covered in subdivisions (b) and (c) of section 181 of the CCC. Persons or entities can make acquisitions of all forms of business entities discussed in the Overview part of this section. It is important to distinguish between a situation involving the acquisition of the equity securities of an entity, such as shares of stock of a corporation, a partnership interest of a general partnership, or membership interests of an LLC (also known as an “exchange reorganization”), and the acquisition of the assets of an entity (a “sale-of-assets reorganization”). The two types of acquisitions are described below.

Acquisition of Equity Securities / Exchange Reorganization

When one person or entity acquires some or all of an entity’s equity, the entity remains intact, and only the shareholders or owners have changed. The entity acquired by new owners, in whole or in part retains its identity. If it has accounts(s) with CDTFA, the account(s) should continue with the same name. The acquisition of an entity through exchange reorganization does not trigger a successor liability. The sale of equity securities, including membership interests of an LLC, is not a transfer of ownership of physical assets for a financial consideration. Any liability of the entity that existed before the exchange reorganization will remain a liability after such a transaction. There is no “disappearing entity” and no “surviving entity,” therefore, there is no billing.
Registration for Acquisition of Equity Securities

It is not necessary to close out the account(s) of the entity and issue new account(s) in this case since the entity continues to exist. Depending on the responsibility of the person acquiring the equity securities, the names of the persons acquiring the interest in the entity (such as partnership shares in a general partnership or a new CEO of a corporation) may need to be added to the account as if such purchaser was one of the owners at the time the entity was originally registered as provided in Chapter 2 of the CPPM.

Registration for Assets/Sale-of-Assets Reorganization

Team members must determine if the entity whose assets were acquired has ceased operating. All locations of the “selling” entity must be closed before closing out its account(s). Team members should issue new account(s) to the entity that acquired the assets.

Billing Requests When There is an Acquisition

If the elements of a successor liability are present, the acquiring entity can be billed as a successor. See CPPM section 732.000 for more information.

NOTIFICATION OF REGISTRATION CHANGES

Updates to registration due to mergers, acquisitions or conversions may come from the tax or fee payer or their representatives through written correspondence, communication by telephone or email, or through the team member’s investigation. Regardless of whether a liability exists, upon notification of a merger, acquisition, or conversion, the team member receiving the information should verify the status of the old and new entities via the “Business Search” function available on the Secretary of State’s (SOS) website.

Since the entity may be registered for multiple programs with CDTFA, the team member who discovers the merger, acquisition, or conversion, should check for other related accounts in the system. In the event the team member locates other accounts that are affected by the merger, acquisition or conversion which are not under their jurisdiction, they should prepare a memo or email to their Compliance Principal (or equivalent for special taxes and fees programs) with the following information:

1. CDTFA account number(s) and TIN affected.
2. SOS number (existing if applicable and new) affected by change.
3. Type of change (merger, de facto merger, conversion, sole proprietor to corporate change, acquisition of equity securities, acquisition of assets).
4. Effective date of change.
5. Action taken on CDTFA account(s) administered by discovering jurisdiction.
6. New CDTFA account number(s) and TIN established, if applicable.

The Compliance Principal (or equivalent for special taxes and fees programs) overseeing the area that discovered the merger, acquisition, or conversion should forward the aforementioned information and documents used to verify the information to the Compliance Principal (or equivalent for special taxes and fees programs) responsible for overseeing registration activities outside their jurisdiction (based on tax or fee program) requiring potential account updates.
JEOPARDY DETERMINATIONS

If a team member discovers that the secondary entity is concealing or otherwise disposing of its assets, a jeopardy determination may be issued, rendering that entity’s liability as final (see CPPM section 764.020 for information on jeopardy determinations). The mere creation of the secondary entity and the cessation of business by the primary entity, however, does not in itself justify a jeopardy determination. A jeopardy determination is used for those cases where assets are truly in danger of being immediately hidden, moved, or otherwise disposed of.
INCORRECT CORPORATE REGISTRATION  726.035

It may happen that a California corporation holding a seller’s permit dissolves and then incorporates in another state without notifying the CDTFA and without significantly changing the conduct of their business in California. The dissolution invalidates the seller’s permit as the “person” that the seller’s permit was issued to no longer exists, and therefore the dissolved corporation cannot continue to engage in business as a retailer in this state. The new corporate entity must first register with the Secretary of State’s office and then obtain its own seller’s permit from the CDTFA.

If the dissolved corporation has an existing liability, or a liability is disclosed through investigation or audit subsequent to dissolution, a dual determination should be requested against the new entity. In cases where the successor has terminated and the security deposit is in the form of a surety bond, see CPPM 732.000 et. seq.

California corporate law applies to both California corporations and foreign (out-of-state) corporations doing business in this state. If a California corporation dissolves, it is required to notify the CDTFA, the Secretary of State’s office, and all other creditors whose addresses appear in the corporate records. If it does not do so and there is no security deposit or other means of collection because the corporate assets have been distributed, shareholders who are, or were, responsible persons may be held liable for any debts of the corporation arising prior to dissolution. Examination of the company stock register or Secretary of State files will provide information on corporate shareholders. (See California Corporations Code sections 1901(a), 1901(c), and 2011(a)).

UNPAID LOANS  726.045

A corporation may authorize a loan of corporate funds or assets to stockholder(s), officer(s) or director(s). When authorized corporate loans to stockholders, officers, or directors remain unpaid, and the corporation has a sales and use tax liability, collection from such person(s) may be pursued. In other words, if the stockholder, officer or director owes money or assets to the corporation, the money or assets can be reached through the following:

1. Notice to withhold.
2. Notice of levy.
3. Warrant.

Loans that are not voted on by the holders of a majority of the shares of all classes of stock (other than stock held by the benefited person) are unauthorized loans. If officers or directors approve unauthorized loans, similar collection action can be taken against those directors and/or shareholder recipients.

When either unpaid authorized loans or unauthorized loans exist, the auditor or collector should document the type of loan, name of recipient, terms of loan, balance unpaid and type of action by the board of directors authorizing such loans (Corporation Code sections 315, 316(a)(3)).
When collection of a corporate liability is doubtful and an unlawful distribution or other unlawful act by a director or directors (as described below) is suspected, the minutes of the corporate Board meetings should be examined for proof of such unlawful distribution or other unlawful acts. Other documents that may need to be examined are the retained earnings statement, the balance sheet, the statement of changes in financial position, etc. If there is sufficient proof of an unlawful distribution, the CDTFA may seek court action against the directors and/or shareholders in order to pursue collection of the liability.

Shareholders of a corporation may be liable for unlawful distributions that they knowingly receive. Corporations Code section 506 describes the actions that constitute unlawful distributions.

Corporations Code sections 309 and 316 provide that directors who approve any of the following corporate actions are jointly and severally liable to the corporation for the benefit of all of the creditors or shareholders:

1. The distribution of retained earnings or assets to the corporation’s shareholders in the following circumstances:
   a. When the amounts of retained earnings prior to the distribution do not at least equal or exceed the amount of the proposed distribution; or
   b. When immediately after the distribution:
      1. The sum of the assets of the corporation (exclusive of goodwill, capitalized research and development expenses and deferred charges) is not at least equal to 1 1/4 times its liabilities (not including deferred taxes, deferred income and other deferred credits); and
      2. The current assets of the corporation are not at least equal to the corporation’s current liabilities or, if the average of the earnings of the corporation before taxes on income and before interest expense for the two preceding fiscal years was less than the average of the interest expense to the corporation for such fiscal years if the average earnings were not at least equal to 1 1/4 times current liabilities (Corporations Code section 500); or
   c. When a corporation makes a distribution and it is likely the corporation will be unable to meet any liabilities as they mature (Corporations Code section 501).

2. The distribution of assets to shareholders after institution of dissolution proceedings without paying or adequately providing for all known liabilities.
OUT-OF-STATE COLLECTIONS  731.000

GENERAL — FIELD OPERATIONS DIVISION (FOD)  731.010

A collection case remains with the assigned collector even when the taxpayer subsequently relocates outside of California. The collector shall attempt to locate taxpayers and their assets using collection and skip tracing tools available (see CPPM sections 720.000 et seq). A case may be referred to the Out-of-State office for additional investigation when:

1. The amount owing is sufficient to warrant an out-of-state auditor making personal contact, or
2. The account is identified in CROS as a collection case for the CA Nexus Program.

Accounts should not be referred to the Out-of-State office if the amount owing is relatively small or if it is obvious that no further action can be taken beyond the actions already completed. Additionally, accounts should not be referred to the Out-of-State office when it is clear that it is going to be written off.

Referral is made using procedures in CPPM section 749.023.

OUT-OF-STATE OFFICE ACTION  731.023

Upon receipt of a Request for Field Office Investigation case, the Out-of-State office reviews the account and any other significant factors to determine whether an auditor should make a field call if assigned an audit in the taxpayer’s area.

If the out-of-state auditor contacts the taxpayer, the auditor should obtain as much information as possible concerning the taxpayer’s assets and notify the Out-of-State office so that the compliance team member can take appropriate action.

The auditor’s report will describe the actions taken on the account and any information that may be helpful in determining whether to initiate a write off or if a referral to the Attorney General (to obtain an in-state judgement for out-of-state enforcement) is warranted. The referring office is responsible for writing off the liability if personal contact by the auditor does not result in payment or yield information on the taxpayer’s assets, or initiating a referral to the Attorney General, if warranted.

The Out-of-State office will enter case notes on the results of the investigation, then notify the responsible collector. The case will be closed when:

1. Personal contact is not practical.
2. Personal contact by the out-of-state auditor did not result in payment or positive information on assets.
3. Collection action cannot be pursued by the Out-of-State office.
OUT-OF-STATE TAXPAYER — COLLECTION ACTIONS 731.025

Under RTC section 6757 and similar special taxes and fees statutes, a perfected and enforceable state tax lien is created when a taxpayer fails to timely pay their taxes/fees, including interest, penalties, and any additional costs, when they become due. The lien is created by operation of law. Although not recorded with the Secretary of State or with a county recorder, the lien satisfies any lien requirements mandated by the various California Codes that address earnings withholding orders for taxes (EWOT).

Generally, assets of a taxpayer located outside California are outside the jurisdiction of the State of California for collection purposes. However, when a taxpayer who owes a liability is located out of state and is employed, collectors may send an EWOT to the out-of-state employer if the employer has a place of business, payroll office, payroll account, or some other presence in California or has a designated agent for service of process in California. In such a case, the employer has submitted itself to California’s jurisdiction and must honor the EWOT by garnishing the wages of the specified employee.

In addition, if a taxpayer has funds held by a financial institution with nexus in California, under certain circumstances, a Notice of Levy may be enforceable (see the Compliance Policy and Management Guidelines for additional information on out-of-state levies).

OUT-OF-STATE OFFICE — COLLECTION RESPONSIBILITY 731.040

The Out-of-State office is responsible for performing all compliance functions for retailers whose records are located out of state but who maintain a place of business in this state. However, the Out-of-State office compliance team members do not perform field calls. Therefore, if an out-of-state account has a business location in California, the responsible in-state office may be called upon for assistance in performing a field investigation.

COLLECTIONS SUPPORT BUREAU (CSB) — AUTHORITY AND RESPONSIBILITY 731.050

CSB has final authority for determining whether a request for discharge from accountability (write-off) should be made pursuant to an Out-of-State office recommendation. CSB will thoroughly review each request received. If CSB agrees with the recommendation, the write-off will be processed. However, if for any reason CSB does not agree with the recommendation, the request will be returned to the originating office.

CSB also has final authority for determining whether a referral to the Attorney General should be made pursuant to an Out-of-State office recommendation. In most cases, when such a recommendation is received, CSB will review all factors and determine whether the case should be referred to the Attorney General.

NOTIFICATION OF ACTION 731.060

In every case where a write-off is received by CSB, or where referral to the Office of the Attorney General has been recommended, CSB will inform the responsible office of the action taken.
SUCCESSOR’S LIABILITY 732.000

POLICY REGARDING COLLECTION FROM SUCCESSORS 732.010

The following Revenue and Taxation Code (RTC) sections provide that a purchaser of a business or stock of goods may become liable for taxes and fees owed by the seller:

- Sales and Use Tax 6812
- Motor Vehicle Fuel Tax 7959
- Use Fuel Tax 9022
- Diesel Fuel Tax 60472
- Oil Spill Response, Prevention, and Administration Fees 46452

The purchaser of a business or stock of goods is a potential successor and should request from the seller a Certificate of Payment (CDTFA-471 for Sales and Use Tax and Use Fuel Tax accounts; for Diesel Fuel Tax and Oil Spill Response, Prevention, and Administration Fees accounts, purchasers should obtain a letter from CDTFA containing similar language to the CDTFA-471) issued by the CDTFA showing that the seller’s tax and fee liabilities have been paid in full and that no tax or fee amounts are due. The seller can request the Certificate of Payment from the CDTFA. If the seller does not produce a Certificate of Payment, the purchaser should withhold from the seller, or any agent of the seller, an amount to satisfy the seller’s debt, up to the amount of the purchase price and request a tax clearance from the CDTFA. The CDTFA will issue a Certificate of Payment if no amounts are due from the seller. If the seller owes a liability to the CDTFA, a CDTFA–1274, Notice of Amounts Due and Conditional Release, or a CDTFA-48, Notice to Purchaser on Request for a Certificate of Payment, if no escrow company is involved (or similar documents for the applicable Special Taxes and Fees accounts), will be provided that shows the amount that must be paid in order to obtain a release from liability for amounts owed by the seller.

If a purchaser requests a tax clearance, the CDTFA must issue either a CDTFA–471, CDTFA–1274, or CDTFA-48, (or similar documents for the applicable Special Taxes and Fees accounts) within 60 days of the latest of the following three dates or successor liability cannot be assessed against the purchaser (except as noted in footnote1):

1. The date the CDTFA receives the written request from the purchaser.
2. The date of the sale of the business or stock of goods.
3. The date the seller’s records are made available to the CDTFA for audit.

If a purchaser of a business or stock of goods does not receive a Certificate of Payment from the seller or does not request a tax clearance from the CDTFA pursuant to the applicable RTC sections listed in the table, and does not withhold a sufficient portion of the purchase price from the seller (predecessor) to cover the seller’s tax/fee liabilities, the purchaser becomes personally liable for the seller’s unpaid tax/fee liabilities to the extent of the purchase price valued in money. However, no collection action can be taken against the purchaser (successor) until a notice of successor’s liability is issued and becomes final.

1 Motor Vehicle Fuel Tax Law does not have a provision for relief of the purchaser’s/transferee’s potential liability if they request a Certificate of Payment from the CDTFA. Instead, under the Motor Vehicle Fuel Tax Law, the supplier must notify the CDTFA of the sale or transfer as provided by RTC section 7956 to relieve the purchaser/transferee of potential liability.

April 2017
Certain types of transactions may not support issuing a notice of successor billing, such as a purchase of a business or a stock of goods:

1. Through a bankruptcy proceeding.
2. From a franchisor.
3. From a creditor who has obtained a judgment and seized the business assets.
4. From a landlord who has evicted a tenant and seized assets.

First efforts to collect will be directed against the predecessor. However, a notice of successor liability should be issued as soon as staff determines that there is a successor’s liability, unless there is a strong possibility of collecting the entire amount from the predecessor in a very short period of time. The issuance of the notice will make the successor aware of the liability and will facilitate their pursuit of remedies against the predecessor. Collection from the successor should not be pursued until all efforts to collect from the predecessor in a reasonable amount of time are exhausted.

If, however, it becomes clear that collection of the entire amount from the predecessor in a reasonable amount of time is not possible, collection action must be initiated against the successor immediately. In addition, collection action against the successor must not be withheld or postponed if there is evidence that collection from the successor will be jeopardized by delay, such as the successor is closing or transferring the business, liquidating assets, or intends to file for bankruptcy.

LIABILITY SECURED BY SURETY BOND

If the liability of the predecessor is secured entirely by a surety bond, no collection action should be taken against the successor even though a successor’s billing has been issued. If payment cannot be obtained from the predecessor, demand will be made upon the surety to clear the liability. The billing to the successor serves as notification of a “contingent liability” since it is anticipated that the surety will pay the liability.

If only a portion of the predecessor’s liability is secured by a surety bond and the predecessor has no assets to pay the liability, demand should be made on the surety before requiring the successor to pay. The approximate amount anticipated from the surety should be taken into consideration if collection action commences against the successor before the surety makes payment to the CDTFA. However, the successor's liability is not reduced by the amount for which the surety of the predecessor is liable until the CDTFA receives payment from the surety.

SURETY BOND ON SUCCESSOR’S ACCOUNT

The successor may be required to post a security deposit upon obtaining a seller’s permit for the purchased business. If the successor posts a surety bond, the surety (usually an insurance carrier) can only be held liable for amounts arising from the business operations of the successor. In other words, a surety bond posted by a successor cannot be used to satisfy an obligation billed to the successor for successor’s liability.
SUCCESSOR'S LIABILITY AS A TAX/FEE

With the exception of the preceding section, the liability of a successor is considered to be a tax/fee liability and is subject to all remedies and priorities as if the liability had been incurred by the successor through its own operations. A successor’s liability may be included in bankruptcy, an assignment for benefit of creditors, or probate claims filed against the estate of a successor and is entitled to the same priority as other tax claims.

Agreements or contracts between the buyer and seller that attempt to place the responsibility and time of payment of the liability cannot overcome the requirements of the law and will be disregarded.

SUCCESSOR BILLINGS

The law requires the CDTFA to issue a notice of successor liability to the purchaser of a business or stock of goods in order to enforce the purchaser's successor liability. A notice of successor liability is issued for any amount owed by the predecessor over $500, up to the purchase price of the business or stock of goods. Once the notice of successor liability is mailed, the successor has 30 days to petition the liability prior to the initiation of collection action (RTC section 6814). If the successor files a timely petition of the amount determined to be due, the account will not enter into active collection status pending the outcome of the petition.

AMOUNTS NOT DUE OR DELINQUENT AT TIME OF SALE

A successor’s liability only extends to the amount the successor was required to withhold from the purchase price at the time the successor purchased the predecessor’s business or stock of goods. The amount a successor is required to withhold includes all of the seller’s tax/fee liabilities, interest, penalties, and Collection Cost Recovery Fees (CRFs) incurred with regard to the business or stock of goods up to the date of the purchase regardless of whether the liabilities have been reported, billed, or become final, to the extent of the purchase price (with the exception that only CRF amounts assessed on or before the date the business was purchased can be included in a successor billing). The amount does not need to be a matter of record when the sale of the business takes place. For example, the successor’s liability may be disclosed during a close out audit of the predecessor’s account or generated if, subsequent to the sale, the predecessor files a final return without payment (or with a partial payment).

SUCCESSOR’S LIABILITY RESTRICTED TO LOCATION PURCHASED

The liability of the successor is limited to amounts owed by the predecessor incurred at the business location(s) purchased. If the predecessor operated the business at multiple locations, the liability incurred at the purchased location(s) must be determined to assert successor's liability against the purchaser.
PURCHASE OF FIXTURES, EQUIPMENT, OR STOCK OF GOODS

Before a purchaser can be held liable as a successor, the fact, that “a business or stock of goods” has been purchased must be established. If the purchase involved only an item or items such as fixtures, equipment, name, lease or a liquor license, successor’s liability is not necessarily applicable.

If the purchaser acquired only a portion of the business or stock of goods of the seller, the portion purchased must be substantial in order to assert successor’s liability. In all cases where there is doubt as to whether the purchaser has acquired sufficient of the predecessor’s business to become liable as a successor, a comprehensive report should be submitted to the next level of supervision for possible referral to the Collections Support Bureau (CSB).

One source of information for determining whether there was a sale of a business or stock of goods is the taxpayer’s returns filed with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). The IRS requires taxpayers to file Form 8594, Asset Acquisition Statement, when there is a transfer in the ownership of a business. IRS Form 4797, Sales of Business Property, is required when there is a sale of a group of assets that makes up a trade or business. The information contained on these forms may help in determining the value of fixtures, equipment, or other assets when a business is sold.

Bulk Sale of a Business – IRS Form 8594

IRS Regulation section 1.1060-1(e)(1)(ii) and Internal Revenue Code (IRC) section 338 require that both the buyer and seller in an applicable asset acquisition report on Form 8594 the amount of consideration in the transaction and specific information about the allocation of consideration among the assets transferred.

Both the seller and the buyer of a group of assets that make up a trade or business are required to file Form 8594 to report such sales if goodwill or going concern value attaches to, or could attach to, the assets and if the buyer’s basis in the assets is determined only by the amount paid for the assets. Generally, Form 8594 would be attached to the Federal Income Tax Return for the year in which the sale occurred. However, a supplemental Form 8594 must be filed if the buyer or seller is amending a previously filed form because of an increase or decrease in the buyer’s cost of the assets or the amount realized by the seller.

The information that must be reported on Form 8594 includes the following:

1. Name, address, and taxpayer identification number of the buyer and seller
2. Purchase date
3. Total consideration for the assets
4. Amount of consideration allocated to each class of assets and the aggregate fair market value of assets of each class
5. Statement as to whether the buyer and seller agreed upon the fair market value of the assets in the contract of sale
6. The useful life of each class III intangible and amortizable asset - Class III assets are all tangible and non-tangible assets (e.g. furniture and fixtures, land, buildings, equipment, and accounts receivable)
7. A statement as to whether, in connection with the acquisition of the group of assets, the buyer also obtained a license, a covenant not to compete, or entered into a lease agreement, an employment contract, a management contract, or similar arrangement between the buyer and the seller (or the managers, directors, owners, or employees of the seller).
Exceptions to the requirement for filing IRS Form 8594 include the following:

1. The acquisition is not an applicable asset acquisition. An applicable asset acquisition includes both a direct and indirect transfer of a group of assets, such as a sale of a business, if goodwill or going concern value attaches to, or could attach to, the assets, and the buyer’s basis in the assets is wholly determined by the amount paid for the assets.

2. A group of assets that makes up a trade or business is exchanged for like-kind property in a transaction to which IRS Regulations section 1.1031(j)-1 applies. Generally, for a like-kind exchange, there must be a property-by-property comparison for computing the gain recognized.

3. A partnership interest is transferred.

Sale of Business Property – IRS Form 4797
IRS Form 4797 is used to report the sale or exchange of property used in a trade or business; depreciable and amortizable property; oil, gas, geothermal, or other mineral properties; and IRC section 126 (certain cost-sharing payments) property. Form 4797 is also used to report the following:

1. The involuntary conversion of property used in a trade or business and the capital assets held in connection with a trade or business or a transaction entered into for profit, as well as the disposition of non-capital assets other than inventory or property held primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of a trade or business.

2. The disposition of capital assets not reported on IRS Schedule D.

3. The recapture of IRC section 179 expense deductions for partners and S corporation shareholders from property dispositions by partnerships and S corporations. The deduction allows for up to the entire cost of certain depreciable business assets, other than real estate, in the year purchased, which may be used as an alternative to deprecating the asset over its useful life. Taxpayers cannot use the IRC section 179 deduction to the extent that it would cause them to report a loss from their business.

4. The computation of recaptured amounts under IRC section 179 and IRC section 280F(b)(2), when the business use of section 179 or listed property drops to 50% or less (IRC section 179 - The limitation on depreciation for luxury automobiles; limitation where certain property is used for personal purposes).

Requesting Copies of Forms
Staff should request a copy of IRS Forms 8594 and 4797 from the taxpayer to determine the sales price of the tangible personal property when it is either sold or transferred under the conditions covered in this section. If the information is not readily available from the taxpayer, staff may request the information following the procedures outlined in CPPM section 720.031.
The purchase price paid for a business need not be in the form of money to establish a liability against the successor. Furthermore, the sale of a business or stock of goods may occur with or without documents that convey the terms of the sale and an escrow may not be involved. If the purchaser agrees to the assumption of obligations owed by the seller, agrees to cancel amounts owed to him by the seller, or gives something other than money as a consideration for the transfer of the business, the purchaser can be held liable as a successor. In cases where the consideration is represented by something other than money, the value of the business or stock of goods purchased must be determined to define the extent of liability. (RTC section 6812).

When the only consideration is an assumption of debt, the purchase price of a business is that portion of the seller’s debt obligation that the buyer has assumed. A written request should be sent to both the buyer and the seller to obtain documents relative to the transfer of the business assets. Based on the response, additional evidence may be required to support a successor’s liability action.

Some examples of documentation that may support an assumption of liability for a successor billing include:

1. Buyer’s income tax returns listing expenses of the seller.
2. Information from a county assessor or state agency that shows the buyer paid back-taxes and/or fees on the seller’s behalf

Documentation to support a request for a successor’s liability billing can be generated from many different sources such as:

1. Reviewing all file material and history notes for supplier and landlord information.
2. Searching the Internet (sites such as CLEAR or other available sources).
3. Making field calls to identify suppliers.
4. Reviewing the predecessor’s audit information.

Use Form CDTFA–1511, Dual Determination — Creditor/Supplier/Landlord, to obtain documentation from these sources. In certain instances, a subpoena duces tecum (subpoena for production of records) may be necessary to obtain copies of the payments made by the seller.
Compliance Policy and Procedures Manual

PENALTY AND INTEREST — SUCCESSOR'S LIABILITY 732.100

The liability incurred by a successor with regard to the purchase of a business or stock of goods includes all amounts incurred by the predecessor, or any former owner, from the operation of the business, including amounts incurred from the sale of the business, even though such amounts may not be determined as of the date of purchase. All tax, interest, and penalties incurred by the predecessor, up to the amount of the purchase price, shall be billed to the successor. Although the successor liability billings are not directly subject to accrual of interest, successors are liable for all the predecessor’s tax, penalty, and interest, including interest accrued after the issuance of the notice of successor liability. However, negligence or fraud penalties assessed to the predecessor after the date of purchase will not be due from the successor pursuant to Regulation 1702(d)(2) unless there is a relationship between the successor and the predecessor. Such penalties may be relieved under certain circumstances. (See RTC section 6814 and Regulation 1702.)

Successors seeking relief from penalty under RTC section 6814(b)(2) should be directed to file an online request for relief from penalty on the CDTFA website. Staff should encourage taxpayers without internet access to visit a field office or another location with internet access to complete the request. However, if these options are not available, staff should provide a CDTFA–193, Request for Relief from Penalty. This form should be returned to the office that handles the taxpayer’s account and not to headquarters.

Staff will update the system with a note to indicate that the taxpayer has either filed an online relief request, or filed a completed CDTFA–193. The system note will include the successor’s reasons for making the request. If appropriate, the CDTFA–193 is then approved and signed by the Administrator or his/her designee. The person approving the form should likewise enter notes in the system and send the form to headquarters for processing, which includes further review of the request and adjustment of the penalty, if warranted. If the liability has not been petitioned, the CDTFA–193 should be sent to CSB. If the liability has been petitioned or a late protest has been submitted, the form should be sent to the Petition Section.

PURCHASE MONEY DEPOSITED IN ESCROW DOES NOT RELIEVE A SUCCESSOR 732.110

If the purchaser allows funds in escrow to be distributed without first securing a tax clearance from the CDTFA, the fact an escrow was conducted is of no significance. A successor cannot be relieved of liability because funds in the amount of the purchase price or a portion thereof were deposited in an escrow from which the CDTFA did not receive payment.

If other creditors are serving levies on funds in escrow, the CDTFA should promptly levy for the amount of the obligation due from the predecessor in order to secure the available escrow funds. If the escrow funds are exhausted, or if there is only enough money for a partial payment against the predecessor’s debt to the CDTFA, the successor remains liable for the predecessor’s liability to the extent of the purchase price.
REQUESTING A SUCCESSOR BILLING

To request a successor billing, the collector must:

1. Gather evidence of a successor liability
   a. Purchase price
   b. Sale date
   c. Description of assets purchased, including business locations purchased
   d. Description of the type of consideration if the consideration was other than money
   e. Bill of sale signed by both buyer and seller, if available
   f. Proof of assumption of liability where applicable
   g. Other evidence to support the sale of the business

2. Create a Dual/Secondary Billing case, and select the Collection Type “Successor” (see “Adding a Dual Determination Billing” in the system’s Help Manager)

3. Complete and attach a CDTFA-1512, Dual Liability Billing Worksheet to the case

4. Create a memo containing the facts supporting the successor billing, including supporting documents as exhibits

5. Attach the memo and exhibits to the successor case as a Dual Packet

6. Forward the case to their supervisor for approval

If approved, the case will be staged for CSB approval (the supervisor will remove the name of the collector from the case so that it is unassigned when going to the CSB queue).

If approved, CSB will issue the successor billing and will notify the Petitions Section of the billing by email if the predecessor liability is in petitions status.

PERIOD WITHIN WHICH TO ESTABLISH SUCCESSOR’S LIABILITY

A notice of successor’s liability billing may be issued no later than three years after the CDTFA is notified in writing of the purchase of the business or stock of goods. The statute of limitations for issuing the notice of successor’s liability begins to run once the CDTFA has been notified of the purchase of the business.

Issuing a notice of successor’s liability can occur as soon as there is evidence of a successor. Some examples of appropriate times to request a notice of successor’s liability include:

1. The predecessor’s liability is in petition status and is not yet final.
2. After an audit has been completed, billed, but is not yet final on the predecessor’s account.
3. As soon as a liability on the predecessor’s account becomes final.
4. The predecessor’s account is closed-out with established non-final liabilities.

Issuing a notice of successor’s liability prior to the predecessor’s liability becoming final does not violate any statutory requirement. The notice can be issued at any time during the three years after the CDTFA is notified of the purchase of the business or stock of goods. Billing early allows the successor to respond to the potential liability in a more timely manner and helps protect the state’s ability to collect the outstanding balance once the petition is resolved.
Although successor liability billings are generated by CSB, the Petitions Section processes, acknowledges, and controls all petitions for reconsideration of a notice of successor liability. The Petitions Section is charged with the responsibility of seeing that petitions are resolved expeditiously and, if possible, without the necessity of an appeals conference and/or appeals hearing(s).

After being notified by CSB of a successor billing on a petitioned predecessor account, the Petitions Section will place a sundry withhold on the successor account. This will cause a sundry withhold indicator to appear on the successor’s liability difference. The Petitions Section will be responsible for the removal of the indicator once the predecessor liability is removed from petition status.

Since successor billings may be based on limited information, the Petitions Section may refer a taxpayer’s petition to the responsible office for additional investigation. Petitions referred to another office will be directed to the Administrator for assignment to the appropriate staff. Periodically, the Petitions Section will request a progress report to ensure that the office of control is handling the petition on a priority basis.

The assigned collector or other staff in the office responsible for the account occasionally receive a petition for reconsideration of a notice of successor’s liability directly from the successor. Since routine collection procedures are normally instituted on “final” liabilities, the original petition and the envelope in which the petition was mailed should be immediately forwarded to the Petitions Section for processing. When the Petitions Section places the successor billing into petition status, the account is flagged to stop any collection activity that would normally commence on the petitioned liability.

The office responsible for the account must ensure that all petitions for redetermination are handled on a priority basis. Copies of any correspondence between the successor and staff should be sent to the Petitions Section.

When the investigation is completed by the office responsible for the account, a report of the findings should be sent to the Petitions Section. This report should include the following:

1. If applicable, the basis for recommending that the successor billing either be reduced or canceled.
2. Whether or not the successor agrees with the recommendation.
3. Whether or not the successor wants a hearing.
4. Information summarizing efforts to collect from the predecessor. This information must also be clearly documented in the predecessor’s file and be included in information prepared for a hearing.
Under RTC section 6072, a person will surrender its seller’s permit to the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) for cancellation when the person is no longer actively engaged in conducting business that requires the person to hold a permit. Upon discontinuing or transferring a business, the permit holder shall promptly notify the CDTFA of the change in status. When possible, the permit holder should deliver the seller’s permit to the CDTFA for cancellation, but is not required to do so. Notifying another state agency of the transfer does not constitute notice to the CDTFA. If the predecessor claims that the CDTFA received constructive notice that the business was transferred to a successor, the information supporting the claim should be referred to the Collections Support Bureau (CSB) for possible cancellation of the predecessor’s liability.

Notice of the transfer must be received by either:

1. An oral or written statement to a CDTFA office or authorized representative accompanied by delivery of the permit, or followed by delivery of the permit upon actual cessation of the business. (The permit itself need not be delivered to the CDTFA if it is lost, destroyed, or is unavailable for some other acceptable reason).

2. Receipt of the transferee’s (successor’s) application for seller’s permit. It is unlawful for a successor of a business to operate the business without a permit issued in its name.

If the transferor has actual or constructive knowledge that the transferee is using the transferor’s permit in any way, the failure of the transferor to notify the CDTFA of the transfer or to deliver the seller’s permit for cancellation subjects the transferor to liability for taxes, interest, and penalties (excluding fraud penalties) incurred by the transferee. Except in the case where, after the transfer, 80 percent or more of the real or ultimate ownership of the business transferred is held by the predecessor (substantially the same ownership), the liability is limited to the quarter in which the business is transferred, and the three subsequent quarters (Regulation 1699(f)). Some of the ways the transferee may improperly use the transferor’s permit include:

1. Displaying the transferor’s permit in transferee’s place of business.

2. Issuing resale certificates using the transferor’s seller’s permit number.

3. Filing tax returns using the name and seller’s permit number of the transferor.

Collectors should attempt to collect from the successor first. However, collection efforts should begin against the predecessor if it appears that delaying action against the predecessor will jeopardize the collection of the liability. When it is evident that the predecessor did not notify the CDTFA of the business transfer, a notice of determination in the name of the predecessor should be requested by sending a memo to CSB. The request must explain the circumstances involved. The notice of determination, when issued, is a formal notice informing the predecessor of his/her liability. Active collection actions can be taken after the finality date of the notice of determination.
Compliance Policy and Procedures Manual

DUAL DETERMINATIONS AGAINST PREDECESSOR - WHEN APPLICABLE

When a predecessor fails to notify the CDTFA that he or she discontinued, sold, or transferred his or her business, the predecessor may be held liable for tax, interest, and penalty (except for fraud or intent to evade) incurred by the successor/transferee, if the predecessor had actual or constructive knowledge that the successor/transferee was using his or her permit in any manner. The predecessor's liability, however, is limited to the quarter in which the business was transferred, and the three subsequent quarters. However, the limitation on liability does not apply in cases where, after the transfer, 80 percent or more of the real or ultimate ownership of the business is still owned or held by the predecessor (see RTC section 6071.1(a) and (b), and Regulation 1699(f).)

DUAL DETERMINATIONS AGAINST PREDECESSOR FOR SUCCESSOR’S LIABILITY

Collection problems can arise due to the lapse of time between the determination of liability against the successor and issuing a dual determination against the predecessor. Some examples of these problems are:

1. The predecessor’s account is closed out with no record of a liability and the predecessor’s security deposit is refunded prior to issuing a dual determination.
2. The predecessor is not immediately informed of a tax liability that he/she shares equally with the successor.
3. The predecessor’s file, along with possible collection leads, may have been destroyed prior to issuing the dual determination.

When a predecessor’s liability is involved, three determinations may result.

1. A determination issued against the predecessor for any period that he/she actually operated the business.
2. A second determination issued against the successor for the period during which he/she operated the business.
3. A dual determination issued against the predecessor concurrent with the issuance of a determination against the successor. The dual determination should be issued beginning with the date on which the CDTFA first had knowledge of the change in ownership. As stated in the previous section, except in the case where the ownership is substantially the same after the transfer as before the transfer, the liability is limited to the quarter in which the business was transferred and the three subsequent quarters. Periods prior to the transfer date may not be included in dual determination for predecessor’s liability as they are not legally assessable against the predecessor.

In the case of a billing for predecessor’s liability, current practices applying to dual determinations will be followed. The only exception would arise if a 25% fraud penalty is applied to the successor’s tax liability. Sales and Use Tax Regulation 1699(e) specifically states that the predecessor is not liable for any fraud penalties. In this instance, the fraud penalty will be replaced by a 10% negligence penalty on the dual determination issued against the predecessor.
A surety can be held liable for an amount that its principal failed to pay only if the liability results from transactions that occurred during the effective period of the bond. The bond effective period runs from the date shown on the face of the bond until 30 days after the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) receives a notice of termination from the surety. The liability of the surety extends to tax, penalty, and interest, regardless of the location(s) where the liability was incurred.

The Collections Support Bureau (CSB) prepares the demand for payment against a surety bond posted by a taxpayer as a security deposit. Making a demand on the surety may only be used as a last resort (see CPPM 735.035).

In order to keep sureties informed of the status of the accounts of their principals, they are also notified when the CSB files claims in bankruptcies, assignments, or probates.

A collector may recommend making demand on the surety if all of the following conditions are met:

1. The liability exceeds $50.
2. Collection from the taxpayer is not possible.
3. There is no corporate officer personal liability.
4. There are no assets upon which to levy.

The collector should submit the request to the CSB through the system.

The recommendation to make a demand on the surety can be initiated as soon as collection from the taxpayer appears doubtful. However, Civil Code section 2845 states:

“A surety may require the creditor, subject to Section 996.440 of the Code of Civil Procedure, to proceed against the principal, or to pursue any other remedy in the creditor’s power that the surety cannot pursue, and that would lighten the surety’s burden; and if the creditor neglects to do so, the surety is exonerated to the extent to which the surety is thereby prejudiced.”

Therefore, the CDTFA must exhaust all collection avenues and investigate all other available remedies prior to making demand upon a surety bond unless the surety has similar remedies. If a bond is indemnified by the corporate officer(s) who would also be the individual(s) billed by the CDTFA, similar remedies exist.

Consequently, the following procedures will be followed when a surety bond secures liability on a corporate account.

1. If collection cannot be made from the corporation, and the corporate officer(s) indemnify the bond, and the liability for the secured bond does not exceed the penal sum of the bond plus $500 (normal minimum amount of liability required to issue a dual determination), a request for demand on the bond is in order.

2. If the liability for the secured period exceeds the penal sum of the bond by more than $500, corporate officer/employee liability must be explored. If the review for individual liability is negative, a request for demand on the bond is in order. If the review is positive, the individuals should be billed and demand on the bond deferred until the potential for collection from the individual(s) has been thoroughly explored.

Interest Charges on Demands

In many cases, the amount of the tax-debtor’s liability covered by the surety is not sufficient to pay the liability in full. When a demand is made on a surety:

1. If the total amount of the tax-debtor’s liability is less than the amount of the bond, the demand will provide for interest (calculated on the tax portion of the liability) at the prevailing interest rate required under the RTC, and any portion of the penalty, up to the full amount of the liability.

2. If the liability exceeds the total amount of the bond, the demand will be for the full amount of the bond. In addition, the demand will provide for additional legal interest at the prevailing per annum rate as provided for in the Code of Civil Procedure.

Application of Payments from Sureties

Payments received from a surety for application to a liability incurred during the effective period of the bond will be applied as follows (except as otherwise authorized by the supervisor of the CSB):

1. Tax.
2. Interest.
3. Penalty.

Limitation Periods for Demands

The CDTFA’s legal staff believes that the limitation period for making demand on a surety bond or guaranty is within ten years from the date a tax liability becomes due, or within ten years from the effective date of termination by the surety or guarantor, whichever is earlier. The CSB will make demand on the surety well in advance of the expiration of the limitation period to allow for the filing of a legal action, if necessary, or to obtain a waiver of the limitation period. If the surety will not furnish a waiver and has not made payment, the CSB will refer the matter to the Attorney General to file a legal action if the amount of liability warrants such action. Legal action must be filed against the surety or guarantor before the limitation period expires.

Demands Involving More Than One Surety

If there is more than one surety on an account, demands will be made on each surety for the amount of liability incurred during the effective periods to the extent of the penal sum of each bond. If there is an overlap of the effective periods, the liability due for the overlap period will be prorated between the sureties. If an overlap exists, each surety is liable for the full amount incurred during the overlap period.

Collection from Guarantors

The provisions applying to collection from guarantors in relation to effective periods, limitation of liability, notification, demands, interest charges, application of payments due, and limitation periods for demands are the same as those applying to sureties.
Bankruptcy is a system of federal laws, rules, and procedures pursuant to which persons and entities may submit their assets, liabilities and financial affairs to the jurisdiction of the United States bankruptcy courts. Bankruptcy often involves the interplay of both federal bankruptcy law and state law. The Bankruptcy Reform act of 1978 created the Bankruptcy Code, which became effective in October 1979. The Bankruptcy Code contains the federal statutes that provide the substantive law for all bankruptcy cases. The Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure govern bankruptcy procedures, administration, and litigation. Bankruptcy case law interprets the statutes and rules under the specific facts of a case and provides legal precedents for cases with similar facts.

The California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) is prohibited from collecting from a tax debtor outside of bankruptcy when a tax or fee is discharged in a bankruptcy case. If a debtor has a liability that is excepted from the bankruptcy discharge, creditors may continue to take collection action against the debtor, since the debtor is no longer protected by the automatic stay provided by filing bankruptcy. When a debtor has a current or potential unpaid tax or fee liability to CDTFA, the Bankruptcy Team in the Collections Support Bureau (CSB) should review the bankruptcy case to determine whether CDTFA has a right to receive a distribution from a bankruptcy estate and to collect from a debtor. If so, the Bankruptcy Team should take appropriate action to protect CDTFA’s right to receive a distribution from the bankruptcy estate and to collect from a debtor outside the bankruptcy case.

Ordinarily, to receive distributions in bankruptcy cases, creditors, including tax agencies, must file proofs of claim. The Bankruptcy Team monitors the status of bankruptcy cases, files proofs of claim, and collects liabilities for accounts in bankruptcy. Once a bankruptcy case is closed, the Bankruptcy Team will remove it from legal status, and return the account to the office responsible for the collection, if appropriate.

PACER

There are thirteen Bankruptcy Courts in California, spread among four districts: Southern (San Diego), Central (Los Angeles/Santa Barbara/San Fernando Valley/Santa Ana/Riverside), Northern (San Francisco/Oakland/San Jose/Santa Rosa), and Eastern (Fresno/Sacramento/Modesto). Although many of CDTFA’s tax debtors file bankruptcy in California, cases affecting CDTFA’s tax debtors may be filed in bankruptcy courts throughout the country.

The court dockets of cases filed in these courts and most legal papers filed in these cases can be accessed using the PACER System (Public Access to Court Electronic Records). PACER is accessible via myCDTFA or through the internet at: http://pacer.psc.uscourts.gov/pasco/cgi-bin/links.pl. To access this site, CDTFA has specific usernames and passwords available through the responsible team supervisors.

The U.S. Party/Case Index serves as a locator index for PACER. The U.S. Party/Case Index is a national index for U.S. district, bankruptcy, and appellate courts that searches the entire nation’s bankruptcy filings by name, social security or case number.

PACER can also be used as a collection tool since it can be used as support for issuing dual determinations and successor liabilities.
Identification of Bankruptcy Status 740.030

General notice that a bankruptcy case is commencing may come from many different sources such as actual written notice, verbal notice from a taxpayer, attorney or trustee, a search in PACER, or the media. After receiving notification and verifying that a bankruptcy case has commenced in PACER, the bankruptcy information should be entered into the Bankruptcy Case Springboard when CDTFA has either a current interest (current liability due on active and closed out accounts) or future interest (potential liability due) in the case. Additionally, there are occasions where it is appropriate to add a bankruptcy case that has already closed for historical purposes.

Either PACER information or an actual written notice of a taxpayer’s bankruptcy is required in order to update accounts in the online system with the legal status.

Field Operations Division (FOD) and Business Tax and Fee Division (BTFD) collection team members and CSB are collectively responsible for designating bankruptcy status for accounts in the system. Collection team members should enter the bankruptcy information into the system when:

1. A notice regarding the commencement of a bankruptcy case is sent directly to a CDTFA office either via mail or Electronic Bankruptcy Noticing (EBN).
2. Collection team members are made aware of a bankruptcy filing by a taxpayer or their representative and verifies the filing with the court.
3. Team members become aware of an immediate deadline in a bankruptcy case. If such a deadline occurs, CSB must be notified without delay after entering the bankruptcy information.

Information on adding bankruptcy information is available in the system’s Help Manager.

When a notice regarding commencement of a bankruptcy case is sent directly to the headquarters office of CDTFA, CSB will enter the bankruptcy information into the system. CSB does not forward the bankruptcy notice to other divisions.

All other bankruptcy related notices received by FOD or BTFD offices should be sent to CSB (MIC 55). See CPPM 740.230 regarding procedures for inputting information into the Bankruptcy Case springboard.

In the California bankruptcy court registries, CDTFA has designated the following address to be used for notification of all general bankruptcy matters: California Department of Tax and Fee Administration, Account Information Group, MIC 29, P.O. Box 942879, Sacramento CA 94279-0029.
United States Bankruptcy Code §362 places a “stay” (stop order) on most collection activity starting the moment the debtor files bankruptcy. Most collection efforts must be immediately released, removed and/or stopped from that date until the automatic stay and the discharge injunction no longer restrain CDTFA's collection actions.

CDTFA collection actions prohibited by the automatic stay include:
1. Revocation of a seller’s permit.
2. Supplier cut off letters.
3. Liens.
4. Levies or withholds.
5. Warrants (including keepers, till taps, and seize and sells).
6. Demands for payment (including demand notices).
7. FTB, EDD and other offsets.
8. Suspension of Liquor License.

CDTFA actions that are not prohibited by the automatic stay include:
1. Demands for tax returns to be filed.
2. Assessments including compliance assessments, field billing orders, dual determinations, successor billings and audits.
4. Continuance of any petition or appeal.
5. Withholds on transfer of liquor licenses.
6. Filing of criminal complaints.
7. Correspondence or discussions with the debtor and counsel regarding the things specifically listed in this section.

When in doubt as to whether an action may violate the automatic stay, please contact the Bankruptcy Team before proceeding. A violation of the automatic stay can lead to sanctions against CDTFA.
EFFECTS OF LAW CHANGES 740.050

Since the enactment of the Bankruptcy Code in 1978, there have been many significant amendments. Some of the more significant amendments that affect CDTFA are:

1. The Bankruptcy Reform Act of 1994. The automatic stay exception was broadened to permit taxing agencies to take the following actions:
   a. Audit to determine a tax liability.
   b. Issue a notice of tax deficiency to the debtor.
   c. Demand delinquent tax returns.
   d. Make an assessment for any tax.

2. The Bankruptcy Abuse Prevention and Consumer Protection Act (BAPCPA) became effective beginning October 17, 2005 and it:
   a. Codified the tolling of certain periods while a previous bankruptcy case was pending.
   b. Added exceptions to discharge in both chapter 13 and chapter 11 cases for:
      1. Failure to file
      2. Fraud

CLAIM PREPARATION ON PRE-PETITION LIABILITY 740.060

Prior to the filing of a bankruptcy proof of claim:

1. All potential pre-petition liabilities must be identified. To accomplish this:
   a. Delinquent returns must be filed, or estimated returns should be processed and billed.
   b. Pending audits should be completed and billed.
   c. In cases where successor liability exists, a notice of successor liability should be issued and billed.
   d. In cases where responsible person liability exists, a notice of dual determination should be issued and billed.

2. In addition, prior to filing a bankruptcy proof of claim, CSB team members should:
   a. Review filed returns to determine whether they are correct.
   b. Return any money collected in violation of the automatic stay.
   c. Determine whether a cash deposit may be applied to the account.
   d. Verify correct application of payments.

After completing the above steps, CSB team members should prepare a proof of claim including all pre-petition tax and fee liabilities. The proof of claim must indicate the appropriate designation of a liability as secured, priority, or general unsecured. When an audit or other determination is not complete, a contingent proof of claim indicating a potential tax or fee liability should be filed.

CSB is responsible for accounts in bankruptcy legal status until the Bankruptcy Case springboard is closed in the system. All account maintenance and compliance tasks required to prepare and file a proof of claim in a bankruptcy case will be handled by CSB. Team members in FOD and BTFD offices should continue to provide taxpayers with all other account related services requested by the taxpayer (e.g., provide split returns, close-out of permits, update addresses, etc.)
DELINQUENT AND SPLIT RETURNS

After entering the case into the Bankruptcy Case springboard, the office responsible for the account or CSB must ensure all pre-petition returns have been filed. In many cases, a tax/fee return must be split to account for liabilities incurred before and after the bankruptcy petition date.

Although this function is primarily the responsibility of CSB, if the taxpayer is present in a field office or in communication with team members, they should assist CSB by determining whether the permit or license is active or closed out and obtaining delinquent or split returns.

When pre-petition returns cannot be obtained with adequate time (two weeks) for CSB to file a claim, estimated returns should be prepared (see CPPM 540.170).

AUDIT ON PRE-PETITION LIABILITY

In any case where an audit is to be conducted or is in process but is not yet completed and audit team members are aware of an existing bankruptcy, they should consult with CSB immediately. Audit team members should be informed of the bankruptcy claims bar date so that an audit can be billed with sufficient lead-time to permit CSB team members to timely file a proof of claim. CSB team members need at least two weeks prior to a claims bar date to process and file a proof of claim.

Audit team members should periodically communicate with CSB regarding the status of the audit. If there are problems or delays in the completion of the audit, communication should take place as early as possible to ensure that all required steps to preserve CDTFA’s claim are taken by both audit team members and CSB.

When audit team members are contemplating an audit after a bankruptcy case was filed and the audit period is pre-petition, or pre-confirmation (Chapter 11 cases), audit team members should contact the Bankruptcy Team to determine whether the bankruptcy case will affect the unbilled liability, prior to investing time in an audit.

For requests for Determination of a Tax Liability pursuant to section 505(b)(2) of the bankruptcy code, see CPPM 740.190.

DUAL DETERMINATIONS ON PRE-PETITION CORPORATE LIABILITY

If an officer of a corporation that has a liability with CDTFA files a bankruptcy petition, the corporate account should be reviewed for a possible responsible officer dual determination against the officer. If a responsible person dual determination cannot be completed in time to file a proof of claim, but there are indications that a responsible person liability may be established, CSB team members should file a contingent claim. A contingent claim asserts the potential liability of the corporate officer. The minimum threshold for issuing a dual determination when Bankruptcy is involved is $5,000.
If a bankruptcy case is pending when an account is closed out with no delinquencies or liabilities pending or otherwise, the taxpayer's security deposit should be returned in care of the:

1. Bankruptcy trustee (Chapter 7 cases).
2. Debtor-in-Possession (DIP) or trustee (Chapter 11 cases).
3. Debtor (Chapter 13 cases).

If a liability exists when an account in bankruptcy status is closed out, the taxpayer's security deposit should be applied to the outstanding liability and the Bankruptcy Team will be notified so that a review of the account can be made. Any security in the form of cash, government bonds, or insured deposits in banks or savings and loan institutions shall be held by CDTFA in trust to be used solely in the manner provided by Revenue and Taxation Code (RTC) sections 6701 and 6815. Generally, demands are not made on surety bonds or guarantees until after the bankruptcy case is closed.

PRE-PETITION CLAIMS (IN GENERAL)

“Sales tax”, “excise tax”, and “fees”, as used in this section, are from section 507(a)(8) and other pertinent sections of the United States Bankruptcy Code. Definitions of “sales tax”, “excise tax”, and “fees” may differ under California laws.

Types of Pre-petition Claims

1. Priority Claim: A priority claim can be filed for a liability that qualifies for priority under §507(a)(8) of the bankruptcy code. This includes:
   a. Sales tax liabilities for which returns were due within three years of the petition date.
   b. Sales tax liabilities that became final within 240 days of the petition date.
   c. Sales tax liabilities that were assessable, but not yet assessed, as of the petition date.
   d. Excise tax liabilities (includes use tax) for which a return is required and due within three years of the petition date.
   e. Excise tax liabilities (includes use tax) that arise from a transaction occurring within three years of the petition date.

(These periods may be tolled for cases in which a prior bankruptcy case or offer-in-compromise was pending.)

2. Secured Claim: A secured claim is a tax or fee liability secured by an interest in real or personal property when:
   a. The CDTFA has a valid pre-petition lien filed with the Secretary of State’s Office or the CDTFA has a valid pre-petition lien recorded with a county recorder’s office in which the debtor owns real property as of the petition date, and
   b. There appears to be equity in the property to which the CDTFA’s lien attaches.

3. General Unsecured Claim: A general unsecured claim is a tax or fee liability that is neither entitled to priority treatment nor secured.
4. Gap Claim: When a debtor is forced into bankruptcy through the filing of an involuntary petition, the period after the commencement of the involuntary case, but before the order of relief, is referred to as the “gap” period. A tax liability arising during the gap period is entitled to priority and should be asserted as a gap claim.

Emergency Proof of Claims

Occasionally, a field office may be asked by the Bankruptcy Team to file a proof of claim with a bankruptcy court to meet a claim bar date.

In these cases, CSB will email a copy of the claim to the field office. The proof of claim should be signed by a Business Taxes Compliance Supervisor II at the field office. The field office will then be responsible for filing the proof of claim with the bankruptcy court. If there is no office located near the court, CSB will email the proof of claim to the office nearest the bankruptcy court. Once a proof of claim has been filed with a bankruptcy court, the field office should provide the CSB with a court-stamped copy of the proof of claim.

Claims Bar Date

With few exceptions, proof of claims must be filed before a claims bar date to be paid. The law allows governmental units 180 days from the bankruptcy petition date to file pre-petition claims. However, if a different bar date has been set by court order, then CDTFA must follow that bar date.

Proofs of claim in chapter 13 cases should be filed prior to the date first set for hearing on confirmation of a debtor’s chapter 13 plan.

Claims Agent

Proofs of claim must be filed at the address designated for filing. In large chapter 11 cases, a claims agent may be assigned to administer claims. In those cases, the CDTFA may be directed to file its proof of claim with the agent – not the bankruptcy court.
A chapter 7 bankruptcy case is a liquidating bankruptcy case. A chapter 7 case can be commenced by an individual or a business entity through the filing of a bankruptcy petition, or by creditors who file an involuntary petition.

A chapter 7 trustee is appointed to administer a chapter 7 case. The trustee is responsible for gathering the debtor’s non-exempt assets, if any, reducing those assets to cash (when appropriate), and making distributions to creditors in accordance with the distribution provisions of the Bankruptcy Code. All legal or equitable interests of a debtor in property as of the petition date become property of the debtor’s bankruptcy estate.

Chapter 7 cases can be considered either “asset” or “no asset” cases. Although a debtor’s voluntary petition will state whether a case is believed to be an asset case or a no asset case, the chapter 7 trustee ultimately makes this determination. If a trustee declares the case to be a “no asset” case but later recovers assets for distribution to creditors, the designation can be changed with a notice sent to creditors advising them to file a claim.

Late Proofs of Claim

The law allows the CDTFA to file a late proof of claim in a chapter 7 case as long as the proof of claim is filed on or before (1) the trustee’s commencement of a final distribution to creditors, or (2) 10 days after the mailing to creditors of a summary of the trustee’s final report, whichever comes first. Nevertheless, every attempt should be made to file a proof of claim before a claims bar date.

The CDTFA’s proof of claim should include all unpaid taxes and fees and all interest accrued up to the petition date. In a separate category, the proof of claim should include post-petition interest and penalties. In surplus cases where unsecured creditors will be paid in full, the CDTFA may be entitled to receive a distribution on its post-petition interest and penalties.

Discharge

A discharge in a chapter 7 bankruptcy is typically issued by a bankruptcy court within 180 days of the petition date. Only individuals are entitled to receive a discharge in a chapter 7 case.

Closure

The date of closure of a chapter 7 bankruptcy case depends on whether the case is an “asset” or a “no asset” case. “No asset” cases typically close within a few months of the petition date. “Asset” cases typically close many months, if not years, after the petition date.

Resumption of Collection Activity

If a tax or fee liability to the CDTFA is excepted from discharge, CDTFA staff may resume collection activity against a debtor and a debtor’s assets that are not included within a bankruptcy estate, after the debtor receives a discharge in bankruptcy. Ordinarily, CDTFA staff waits until a bankruptcy case is closed to commence collection action to avoid any possibility of violating the automatic stay.

A case will remain under CSB control as long as CSB deems necessary. Staff should not pursue collection against a debtor without CSB direction while a case remains under CSB control due to a bankruptcy.
Pursuant to Bankruptcy Code section 523, certain liabilities are excepted from a chapter 7 discharge. The following types of liabilities are excepted from discharge:

1. Priority tax debt (see CPPM 740.110 and USBC §507).
2. Tax or fee liabilities associated with a fraudulent return.
3. Tax or fee liabilities for which the debtor made an attempt to evade or defeat the tax.
4. Tax or fee liabilities associated with the debtor’s failure to file returns.
5. Tax or fee liabilities associated with returns filed late and within two (2) years of the petition date.

If a tax or fee liability is discharged and it is not secured by a valid state tax lien, then CSB will process an adjustment to the liability within the system. If a liability is discharged, but a valid state tax lien secures the liability and was recorded before the petition date, a “Discharge from Accountability” should be processed in the system with the reason “balance outlawed" (see CPPM 740.160). If the lien is released at a subsequent date, CSB staff will adjust the liability.

Chapter 13 bankruptcy cases enable individuals only (not legal entities) with regular income to repay all or part of their debts pursuant to the provisions of a plan confirmed by order of a bankruptcy court. Debtors make installment payments to a chapter 13 trustee, who, in turn, makes a distribution to creditors. The term of the plan is usually three to five years.

Basic Terms of a Chapter 13 Plan (USBC §1325)

The debtor’s plan should:

1. Provide for installment payments.
2. Not exceed 5 years in duration.
3. Pay priority claims in full.

A chapter 13 trustee and creditors can object to confirmation of a debtor’s proposed plan if it is not feasible or if the plan does not provide for the proper amount, treatment, or payment of the claims of the creditors.

The Bankruptcy Team will monitor chapter 13 cases to insure that all payments that the CDTFA is entitled to receive under a confirmed chapter 13 plan are being timely paid to the CDTFA and applied correctly to pre-petition liability.

Claim

In a chapter 13 case, the CDTFA’s proof of claim may include only pre-petition tax and pre-petition interest. CDTFA proofs of claim filed after a claims bar date usually receive no distributions from the chapter 13 trustee, and the liability may be ultimately uncollectible if the debtor receives a discharge in bankruptcy.

Post-Petition Tax Liabilities
A chapter 13 debtor is required to timely report and pay post-petition tax liabilities while a bankruptcy case is pending. Since the automatic stay remains in effect until a debtor receives a discharge or the case is dismissed, the CDTFA may not take collection action on post-petition liabilities. The CDTFA may move to dismiss a case or convert a case to a chapter 7 if a taxpayer does not report or pay a post-petition tax liability. The CDTFA may also file a claim under Bankruptcy Code section 1305 (see CPPM 740.170). The CDTFA’s Legal Division must be consulted before filing a section 1305 claim. Efforts should be made to collect a post-petition tax liability by voluntary compliance before either course of action is pursued.

Discharge (USBC §1328)

A chapter 13 debtor does not receive a discharge until all payments under a plan have been made and a plan is otherwise consummated. A chapter 13 discharge, for cases filed prior to October 17, 2005, discharges all tax liabilities arising prior to the petition date. If a bankruptcy case is filed after October 17, 2005, tax liabilities resulting from the debtor’s failure to file returns or fraud are excepted from discharge.

The Bankruptcy Team will process any necessary legal adjustments and lien releases for tax and fee liabilities that are discharged in a chapter 13 bankruptcy case.

In some chapter 13 cases, a debtor can receive a hardship discharge without completing all plan payments. The Bankruptcy Team should be consulted to determine the effect of a hardship discharge on a CDTFA liability.

CHAPTER 11 BANKRUPTCY CASES 740.140

USBC Chapter 11 in General, Specifically USBC §1129 and §1141

A chapter 11 bankruptcy case can be either a reorganization case or a liquidation case. Occasionally a trustee will be appointed to administer a chapter 11 case, but generally a debtor remains in control of the assets and business affairs as a DIP (DIP).

Plan (USBC §1129)

In most chapter 11 cases, a DIP or trustee is required to file a disclosure statement and a plan of reorganization or liquidation. A disclosure statement should explain in ordinary terms the reasons why the debtor commenced its bankruptcy case, describe in ordinary terms how creditors’ claims will be treated, and describe how the debtor will reorganize or liquidate.

The CDTFA often has a priority tax claim in a chapter 11 case. The Bankruptcy Code requires a priority tax creditor to be treated not less favorably than as follows:

For cases filed prior to October 17, 2005:

1. Deferred cash payments.
2. Payment of a priority tax claim under a plan are not to exceed 6 years from the date of assessment.
3. Priority tax claims should include all pre-petition taxes or fees and all interest accrued to the petition date.
4. Allowed claims are required to be paid in full, plus post-confirmation interest on the claim at a rate set by the court.
For cases filed after October 17, 2005:

1. Regular installment payments.
2. Payment of a priority tax claim under a plan cannot extend beyond 5 years from the petition date.
3. Treatment of a priority tax claim will include all pre-petition taxes or fees and all interest accrued to the petition date and will not be less favorable than the most favored non-priority unsecured claims.
4. The CDTFA’s allowed priority tax claim must be paid post-confirmation interest at the CDTFA’s rate as of the date of confirmation.

If a proposed plan does not properly provide for treatment of the CDTFA’s claim, the CDTFA may object to confirmation of the plan.

Claim

In a chapter 11 bankruptcy case, a CDTFA claim includes only pre-petition tax and/or interest.

Plan Default

Once a chapter 11 plan is confirmed, the CDTFA cannot collect on a pre-confirmation tax or fee liability except as provided for in the confirmed plan. If there is a default in payment under a confirmed plan, the CDTFA can declare a default under the confirmed plan, notify the plan administrator of the default, and demand payment. If the demand is not met, the CDTFA can collect the full unpaid balance of the amount of its allowed proof of claim.

1. “Notice of Default” letter is sent approximately 30 days or more after the debtor defaulted on the plan.
2. “Notice of Breach of Contract and Demand for Payment” is sent approximately 60 days after a debtor defaults on a confirmed plan and after no response to the first letter. It sets a response deadline by which the CDTFA will consider the default a breach of contract and will begin collection action.

Once the date specified in the second letter passes, the Bankruptcy Team may remove the account from legal status and return the account to the staff responsible for collection action. Collections are limited to the liability provided by the confirmed plan. This will include the monitoring of legal interest on the claim. The Bankruptcy Team should be consulted if there are any questions as to what should be collected – or about how to monitor the payments. (See CPPM 740.150 for specifics on the Discharge Review process).

Post-Petition Collections

The DIP or trustee who continues with the operation of the business is required to comply with the requirements of the law to file tax returns and pay taxes as they come due. Any liability that accrues subsequent to the date of the petition and prior to confirmation of a plan is an expense of administration, and, as such, is entitled to expense of administration priority. An expense of administration claim should be filed prior to plan confirmation. See CPPM 740.170 for more information on expense of administration claims. Any liability that accrues after confirmation of a plan can be collected as if the debtor was not in bankruptcy.
Discharge of a Tax or Fee Liability upon Confirmation (USBC §1141)

In chapter 11 cases filed prior to October 17, 2005, for both individuals and legal entities, discharge occurred upon confirmation of a plan. A full discharge is only granted to corporate debtor’s, not to individuals. A discharge for an individual is subject to the same exceptions to discharge provided by Bankruptcy Code section 523 in a chapter 7 case.

In chapter 11 cases filed on or after October 17, 2005, CDTFA tax and fee liabilities owed by legal entities are discharged when a plan of reorganization is confirmed. Tax and fee liabilities owed by individuals are discharged only when a plan of reorganization is fully paid and otherwise consummated. Plans of liquidation should not contain a discharge provision because discharge is not allowed in these cases.

In legal entity cases filed prior to October 17, 2005, a discharge under chapter 11 discharges all liabilities incurred prior to the confirmation date. For cases filed after October 17, 2005, tax liabilities incurred either for failure to file a return or associated with a fraudulent return are excepted from discharge.

While an account remains in chapter 11 bankruptcy status, the Bankruptcy Team will monitor the case to insure that all plan payments are made to the CDTFA. After all payments have been made, the Bankruptcy Team will make any necessary adjustments to the liability and route the account back to staff responsible for collection if a collectible liability still exists.

DISCHARGE REVIEW

After a taxpayer receives a discharge in bankruptcy or a proof of claim for a tax or fee liability is paid through a bankruptcy case, or both, it will be the responsibility of the CSB to:

1. Determine the extent to which a CDTFA liability has been satisfied through payment.
2. Determine whether or not a CDTFA tax or fee liability has been discharged in bankruptcy.
3. Legally adjust discharged liabilities using the legal adjustment process.
4. Apply discharge-in-bankruptcy status to any liability periods in the system that are discharged.
5. Post notes in the system that specifically describe the discharged and non-discharged status of pre-bankruptcy balances.
6. Analyze whether a pre-bankruptcy CDTFA tax lien has survived the discharge (CPPM 740.160).
7. Release CDTFA tax liens that have not survived a bankruptcy discharge.
8. Post notes in the system specifically describing property/conditions to which any surviving lien remains attached.
9. Post notes in the system regarding any joint debtor accounts (partnership, husband and wife co-ownership, etc.) as to discharge ability for the specific joint debtor who has received a discharge.
10. Verify that the system has issued a demand for all non-discharged liabilities and manually issue a demand if one has not been generated.
Once the discharge review is complete, the bankruptcy indicator is removed, and demands are issued. The case is then assigned to FOD or BTDF for collections. FOD or BTDF collections team members are then responsible for verifying that a demand has been issued for all eligible periods and billings. If a demand has not been issued for a non-discharged liability, team members should email the discharge reviewer, referring the case back to CSB for issuance of the demand. In some cases, due in part to the length of the bankruptcy proceedings, it may be necessary for CSB team members to work with audit supervisors to facilitate the issuance of a demand.

LIENS ON DISCHARGED DEBT

In re Carlson 292 F.Supp. 778
In re Isom 901F.2d 744

Generally, in a chapter 7 or chapter 13 bankruptcy case, state tax liens on liabilities that are discharged will survive bankruptcy if the liens are attached to real or personal property prior to the bankruptcy filing. The CDTFA retains the legal right to collect the tax or fee liability, but only from the property to which the tax lien attached prior to the bankruptcy case and not from the tax debtor personally.

Where a tax or fee liability is discharged, but the tax lien survives bankruptcy discharge, the tax or fee liability should not be legally adjusted. Instead, collection team members will process a “Discharge from Accountability” in the system with the reason “balance outlawed.” If, at a future time, the lien is released (see below), the Collections Support Bureau (CSB) will process a legal adjustment at that time.

To issue a lien release on a liability that was discharged through bankruptcy, it must be established that the lien did not attach to any pre-petition property. Evidence to support this assertion may include:

1. A copy of the bankruptcy Schedule A showing no real property.
2. Copies of IRS tax returns for the period between the time the lien was recorded to the time the bankruptcy petition was filed.
3. A statement under penalty of perjury that the taxpayer owned no property, nor had property transferred to or from their ownership between the date the lien was recorded and the petition date.
4. If property was owned, but was subject to foreclosure, all documents/deeds, etc., verifying this transfer must be provided.

CSB will review the evidence submitted to determine if additional documentation may be required. If the evidence submitted supports the assertion that the lien has no value (does not attach to any property), CSB will adjust the liability to zero. These requests are subject to approval as follows:

- Bankruptcy team members – discharged debt less than $5,000
- Administrator II or another delegated Administrator – discharged debt equal to or greater than $5,000.

Once an adjustment results in a zero balance, the system will auto-release the liens. An expedited manual lien release will be processed if requested by the taxpayer (see CPPM section 761.030).

If the CSB bankruptcy team locates pre-petition property, or the public record is unclear, CSB will send a letter to the taxpayer indicating that there is evidence that the taxpayer has an interest in real property that may be secured by the lien. The letter will further explain that, to obtain a lien release on a liability that was discharged through bankruptcy, the taxpayer must establish that the lien did not attach to any pre-petition property.

In cases where a lien secures both discharged and non-discharged debt, the discharged balance can be adjusted to zero without the release of lien. Pre-petition liens that attach to pre-petition property will remain in place until the balance secured by the lien is paid. A lien that only secured discharged debt would not attach to property acquired after the bankruptcy was filed.

Enforced collection against a taxpayer or taxpayer’s property must not take place on any discharged debt, except as against property to which the CDTFA’s tax lien attached and as permitted under CDTFA policy.

POST-PETITION CLAIMS 740.170

Post-petition claims include:

1. Expense of Administration Claims (EOA):
   a. In a chapter 11 case in which the debtor incurs tax liability after filing bankruptcy but before confirmation of a chapter 11 plan, an EOA claim should be filed for the liability between the petition date and the confirmation date, if the tax liability is not voluntarily reported and paid.
   b. In a chapter 11 or 13 case in which the debtor incurs tax liability after filing bankruptcy, but the case converts to a chapter 7 case, an EOA claim should be filed for any liability incurred between the petition date and the conversion date.

2. Section 1305 Claims: Pursuant to Bankruptcy Code section 1305, the CDTFA may file a claim for unpaid taxes incurred while a chapter 13 case is pending, however, such claims should be filed only after consulting with the CDTFA’s Legal Division.

Both EOA and section 1305 claims include tax, interest and penalties (full debt as of the date the EOA or section 1305 claim is filed).
1. Liquor Licenses:
The CDTFA should place withholds on transfers of liquor licenses when it is discovered that a debtor has filed for bankruptcy.

California Business and Professions Code Sections 24049 and 24074 provide that all liabilities owed to the CDTFA, the Franchise Tax Board, the Employment Development Department, the Alcoholic Beverage Control, and unsecured county taxes incurred in connection with a liquor license shall be paid prior to distribution of any funds to any other person.

The CDTFA is entitled to payment of the sales proceeds of a liquor license to the extent necessary to satisfy an unpaid tax or fee liability. If there are insufficient sales proceeds to pay a CDTFA tax liability in full, then the CDTFA takes the full sales proceeds and applies them to the liability. The CDTFA should be paid outside a bankruptcy case and directly from escrow.

2. Sale of Personal Property (Liquidation Sales):
An Asset Purchase Agreement (APA) is a contract between a buyer and a seller (the seller may be a debtor in possession or a trustee) for the purchase of substantially all the assets of the debtor's bankruptcy estate. The APA many times will describe the assets, the purchase price, conditions to closing, real estate matters, assumptions of liabilities, and other details that are required to complete the transfer of the assets from one party to the other. An APA must be approved by the court. The CDTFA, along with other creditors, may object to the sale.

An APA is often found in large liquidating cases. The APA should be reviewed closely to determine if there is any California taxable tangible personal property being sold – usually in the form of fixtures and equipment.

CSB staff may request audit staff to review the APA to determine the tax consequences of a sale. Taxpayers should be encouraged by CDTFA staff to declare the amount due on a Sales and Use Tax Return – or to state in writing the amount of the measure of the tax liability. If the APA does not specify a value for the fixtures and equipment, CDTFA staff should prepare an estimate of value.

Once the amount of the tax liability is declared by a taxpayer, or determined by the CDTFA, an EOA claim should be filed for the full amount due if the liability is not voluntarily paid.

If an objection to an EOA claim is filed, the CDTFA must defend it in bankruptcy court or the claim may be disallowed and the CDTFA will not receive a distribution.

When a trustee or a DIP employs an auctioneer/liquidator to sell the assets of the estate, any taxes are to be reported and paid by the auctioneer/liquidator.

The effective date of payment on all remittances received from the bankruptcy court/trustee on taxable liquidation sales will be the date the court approves the payment. All additional interest that has accrued from the time payment is approved by the court to the time the CDTFA actually receives the money will then be backed out.
3. Sale of Real Property:
If a trustee or DIP is selling real property located in a county in which the CDTFA has a lien, the CDTFA can require that the lien be paid in full prior to a release of the lien.

The trustee can request that a sale take place “free and clear” of all liens and encumbrances. Although this removes the lien from the property, the lien will usually attach to the proceeds of the sale to the same extent and validity. The funds should then be disbursed according to the priority of the liens filed. If there are other governmental agencies (FTB, IRS, EDD) involved, the agencies will typically use assessment dates instead of recording dates to determine who should receive payment (although bankruptcy is excluded from the requirements of the Inter-Agency Agreement, its guidelines are still utilized in lien comparisons between agencies during bankruptcy).

The CDTFA’s Legal Division should be advised and consulted upon receipt of a motion to approve a sale free and clear of a CDTFA lien or interest.

If there is not enough money (equity) in the property to pay the CDTFA’s lien, then the CDTFA does not receive payment – the lien remains in place (i.e. recorded in the county), but the property was sold free and clear.

4. Retail Sales
If a trustee is continuing the business or if there will be a taxable liquidation sale by a trustee who does not hold a valid seller’s permit for the estate, an account will need to be issued. The account should be opened in the name of the estate or the trustee, just as if the trustee was a regular taxpayer. (See CPPM 210.010, Sellers Permit).

If the trustee is declaring the proceeds from one sale or a few sales, then an arbitrary account number should be issued with the reason “bankruptcy, liquidation” cross-referencing the debtor’s account number. Arbitrary accounts are used because they will not create delinquencies leading to the revocation of the trustee’s account. At the time of registration, staff will provide the trustee with a tax return and information pertaining to the taxability of the liquidation sale and the completion of the return.

5. Other CDTFA Accounts
In the event a trustee requires a seller’s permit to continue an ongoing business, or an arbitrary account to report liquidation of assets, staff should determine whether the trustee needs to be registered for any other CDTFA programs. Staff should review the predecessor’s Taxpayer Identification Number for additional CDTFA accounts. In the event the trustee needs additional CDTFA accounts, staff should contact Program and Compliance Bureau (PCB) and advise them of the potential new accounts.

In such cases, a Compliance Principal (or their designee) should send an email notification to the PCB.

The email notification should include the name, address and phone number of the trustee. The notification should also include the predecessor’s and trustee’s seller’s permit number. The notification should include other CDTFA accounts the predecessor held prior to the trustee assuming control of the business.
Under Bankruptcy Code section 505(b)(2), a trustee or taxpayer may request a determination of any unpaid liability of the estate for any tax incurred during the administration of the estate by submitting a tax return and a request for such a determination. The trustee and the debtor will be discharged of any liability for any unreported tax if:

1. The CDTFA does not notify the trustee within 60 days that the return has been selected for examination (audit).
2. After notifying the trustee the account will be examined, the CDTFA does not notify the trustee within 180 days of the additional amount due (if any) or within such additional time as the court permits.
3. Once the amount determined by the CDTFA, or the court, is paid.

When staff is contacted by the CSB concerning requests made under Bankruptcy Code section 505(b)(2), it is important that they process such requests to examine or audit returns on a priority basis.

VALID SERVICE UPON THE CDTFA

The Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure and the Federal Civil Rules of Procedure are very specific in reference to what constitutes valid service. The CDTFA is presumed to have received proper notice when it is served in compliance with the following rules:

1. Summons and Complaint for Adversary Proceedings:
   Pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 7004(b)(6) and California Code of Civil Procedure (CCP) section 416.50, the summons and complaint must be served upon the CDTFA’s Director at:
   - California Department of Tax and Fee Administration
   - Director
   - 450 N Street, MIC: 104
   - Sacramento CA 95814

2. Service on the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration
   Pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 2002, the following address has been designated for all bankruptcy notices, unless otherwise indicated:
   - California Department of Tax and Fee Administration
   - Account Information Group, MIC 29
   - P.O. Box 942879
   - Sacramento CA 94279-0029

3. Objections to Claims
   Pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 3007, a Notice of Objection to Claim must be served at the address specified on the Proof of Claim filed by the CDTFA.

Requests for Prompt Determination of a Tax Liability

Pursuant to Bankruptcy Code section 505(b)(1)(A) the address designated for service of all section 505(b) requests for prompt determination of tax liability is:

- California Department of Tax and Fee Administration
- Special Operations Bankruptcy Team, MIC 74
- P.O. Box 942879
- Sacramento CA 94279-0074
When two or more persons are jointly responsible for payment of a CDTFA tax liability (partnership accounts, married co-ownership accounts, etc.), the Collections Support Bureau (CSB) will be responsible for determining which liabilities, if any, have been discharged by a joint debtor’s bankruptcy discharge.

There are several options that can be utilized to make sure that the partnership liability is handled correctly post-bankruptcy. These are used based on the best option for the individual circumstances involved in the case. CSB team members will analyze the situation and proceed with the best option.

The options include:

- Liability Remains Due (No Change) – the debt is not subject to discharge and it remains due by all partners.
- Adjustment of the Partnership Liability – typically used when all partners are relieved of the debt.
- Account Transfer – typically used when the account is closed and one of the partners is no longer liable in any capacity.
- Creation of Separate Partner Collections – typically used when all partners remain liable for some of the debt but not the same liabilities.
- Marking the Entire Liability Discharged – typically used when all partners are discharged and there are pre-petition tax lien issues – or – when only one partner remains liable and the total remaining liability is less than $500.

A partner that is not in bankruptcy is not protected by the automatic stay of the partner in bankruptcy. Collections can continue on the partner not protected by the automatic stay. When a partnership consists of a married couple, marital community property and funds will be protected from collection by the automatic stay of 11 U.S.C. Section 362(a). It does not matter whether one or both spouses file for bankruptcy. Most or all of the marital community’s property and funds will belong to the bankruptcy estate pursuant to 11 U.S.C. Section 541(a)(2)(A). Questions about community property should be directed to CSB.
Payments made during a pending bankruptcy need to be closely monitored. Only the CSB should change applications of bankruptcy payments (i.e. payments from a trustee or DIP).

1. Payments made by an estate, trustee, or debtor for payment of a bankruptcy claim through the bankruptcy court must be applied to the periods specified in the CDTFA’s proof of claim.

2. Payments made by an estate, trustee, or debtor for payment of a secured liability must be applied to the liability which that asset secured (i.e. if not all periods are subject to a lien, then proceeds from the sale of a property should be applied to the liabilities that are subject to a lien).

3. Payments made by a debtor after the petition date must be applied to the debtor’s post-petition liability. (The only exception is if a chapter 7 debtor wants to make voluntary payments toward pre-petition debt, as he will still owe it when his bankruptcy has concluded).

4. Over-payments made prior to the bankruptcy must be either applied to pre-petition liability or refunded to the trustee or DIP.

When collection staff have questions concerning the application of a payment, they should contact the Bankruptcy Team.

If a payment from a source outside the bankruptcy proceedings alters the CDTFA’s filed claim, the Bankruptcy Team should be notified to review the claim for possible amendment.
In the system, all information concerning a bankruptcy case is coordinated under the Bankruptcy Case springboard.

Generally, CSB is notified directly of new bankruptcy cases via Electronic Bankruptcy Noticing (EBN). CSB receives this data stream from all California Courts into the system with information concerning new case filings. The system then screens the data identifying when it matches one of our taxpayers and enters the case into the Bankruptcy Case springboard in a batch run. EBN also notifies CDTFA when a case receives a discharge, closes, or receives certain types of notices like Notice of Assets.

The Bankruptcy Case springboard can be accessed using the Customer or Account springboard, under the Collections Tab, and Bankruptcies Subtab. Cases that are active will be highlighted in blue; cases that have been closed in gray (to see closed cases, the History button may need to be selected).

Attached to the Bankruptcy Case springboard, under the CRM tab, will be all correspondence sent by CSB team members, copies of any CDTFA claims filed, Discharge Reviews, Discharge Orders and other documents that are used during the time the case is pending.

Adding a New Case

Prior to adding a new case, verify that the case is not yet in the system. If the case is not in the system, you may proceed with adding the case.

Having a copy of the Bankruptcy Notice or having PACER available will ensure all information is available for entering the case.

Search all parties associated with the bankruptcy filing to ensure they are already listed as Customers in the system. These would include the taxpayer in bankruptcy, any co-debtors, bankruptcy trustee, etc. By searching and accessing the Customer Springboards before you begin to enter the Bankruptcy Case, those Customers will appear at the top of your history and can easily be selected when adding the Bankruptcy Case Springboard. The important parties include our Customer in Bankruptcy, the Trustee, and any Co-Debtors. See the Bankruptcy Help Manager.

Understanding a Liability in the System after a Discharge Has Occurred

Every case should have a Discharge Review note entered by CSB prior to being released back to collections. This note should be reviewed carefully before proceeding with collections (see CPPM sections 740.150).

In cases where the taxpayer’s balance may include discharged liability an indicator is displayed in the yellow bar at the top of the Customer springboard. This indicator should prompt team members to read the review notes on the Bankruptcy Case springboard prior to proceeding with collections.

If the liability is a Primary Liability, the taxpayer’s balance will continue to include the discharged liability (until the discharged liability is adjusted off the system). The collection amount however, will be reduced by the discharged liability and will reflect only the collectible balance. This means that there is a pre-petition tax lien that survived the discharge (see CPPM section 740.160).
If the liability is a Secondary Liability, the taxpayer’s balance will not include the discharged liability. Liabilities with no liens in place will be removed from the collection amount. Liabilities with liens will be marked Discharged from Bankruptcy (DFB) to remove it from collection, but it will leave the lien securing the balance. The collection amount will only reflect the collectible balance. However, a pre-petition tax lien may survive and need to be resolved by the taxpayer (see CPPM section 740.160). Team members can confirm which liabilities are secured by a tax lien by reviewing the liens in the system on the Collection Tab/Liens Subtab. See Discharge From Bankruptcy in the Help Manager.

GLOSSARY OF BANKRUPTCY TERMS

<td>Assets Abandoned by Trustee</td>
<td>The trustee in bankruptcy may decide not to retain certain assets of the debtor as part of the bankruptcy estate. For example, the debtor may not have sufficient equity in certain assets to make retention of those assets worthwhile for the estate. The trustee may petition the court for abandonment of the assets and, if approved, the assets are released from the estate. The debtor may also file a motion to compel the trustee to abandon particular assets on the grounds that they are burdensome to the estate, or of inconsequential value or benefit to the estate.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Automatic Stay</td>
<td>The filing of a bankruptcy petition operates as a stay of (in effect, an injunction against) collection activities, including the commencement or continuation of judicial and administrative proceedings, the enforcement of liens, the setoff of mutual debts, and all actions to collect, assess, or recover a claim that arose before the bankruptcy filing. The stay does not prevent or stop an audit to determine tax liability, the issuance of a notice of tax deficiency, a demand for tax returns, or the making of an assessment for any tax and issuance of a notice and demand for payment of such an assessment. Creditors acting in violation of the stay may be sanctioned by the court.</td>

<td>The deadline date by which claims for post-petition liabilities must be filed.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bankruptcy Code</td>
<td>The informal name for Title 11 of the United States Code, the federal bankruptcy law.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bankruptcy Estate</td>
<td>The commencement of a bankruptcy case creates an estate, which is comprised of all property, real and personal, of the debtor as of the commencement of the case, plus property acquired by the estate during the case.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Case Closed</td>
<td>Administration of the bankruptcy estate is complete and the case is closed.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chapter 7</td>
<td>The chapter of the Bankruptcy Code providing for liquidation, i.e., the sale of the debtor's nonexempt property and distribution of the proceeds to creditors.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chapter 9</td>
<td>The chapter of the Bankruptcy Code providing for the reorganization of a political subdivision, municipality, public agency, or instrumentality of a state.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chapter 11</td>
<td>The chapter of the Bankruptcy Code providing for the reorganization of a business or of the financial affairs of an individual or a husband and wife (can also be a liquidation)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chapter 12</td>
<td>The chapter of the Bankruptcy Code providing for the adjustment of debts of a family farmer with regular income.</td>

<td>A creditor’s assertion of a right to payment from the debtor or the debtor’s property.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Confirmed Plan of Reorganization</td>
<td>Court approved plan that provides the terms of debt repayment, and that often re-vests the assets of the bankruptcy estate in the reorganized debtor.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Date of Order of Relief</td>
<td>The date of filing of any voluntary petition, or the date that the court enters an order for relief against the debtor in an involuntary case (commenced by creditors).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Debtor</td>
<td>A person or entity that has filed a petition for relief under the Bankruptcy Code.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Debtor in Possession (DIP)</td>
<td>A debtor who remains in control of the administration of the business and assets of the debtor’s estate during a chapter 11 case. A DIP has powers and authority similar to those of a court appointed chapter 11 trustee.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Discharge</td>
<td>The release of a debtor from personal liability for dischargeable debts. A discharge operates as an injunction against the commencement or continuation of any action to collect, recover, or offset a discharged debt as a personal liability of the debtor.</td>

<td>The actual, necessary costs and expenses of preserving the bankruptcy estate. Generally, claims arising after the commencement of the case are administrative claims. Tax debts incurred by the estate (i.e. after the case commenced) are administrative claims.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gap Period Claim</td>
<td>A creditor’s claim that arises in an involuntary case after the petition is filed but before the issuance of the order for relief.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Involuntary Bankruptcy</td>
<td>A bankruptcy petition filed by creditors against a debtor. The court will order relief against the debtor (order the debtor into a bankruptcy) if a debtor is generally not paying his/her debts as they become due. The automatic stay applies upon filing the petition. Until the court enters an order for relief, may continue to use, acquire, or dispose of property. An involuntary case can only be filed in a chapter 7 or chapter 11 bankruptcy. When dealing with an involuntary petition, complete the legal claim screen and transmit to SPS. Enter BI7 in the “type” field.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>No-Asset Case</td>
<td>A chapter 7 case in which there are insufficient assets to warrant liquidation and distribution to creditors. A no-asset case may later become an asset case if assets are discovered. Conversely, a case originally believed to be an asset case may become a no-asset case.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Petition</td>
<td>The document that commences a bankruptcy case.</td>

<td>Trustee in Bankruptcy (the Case Trustee)</td>
<td>Disinterested person appointed by the Office of the United States Trustee. The trustee has authority to control all assets of the debtor and is responsible for administering the estate. A trustee is always appointed in chapter 7 cases. In chapter 11 cases, a trustee is appointed in cases where the court finds fraud, dishonesty, incompetence, or gross mismanagement by the debtor, or where the appointment of a trustee would be in the best interests of the creditors. If a chapter 11 trustee is appointed, the trustee will manage the debtor’s business. In chapter 7 cases, the business is usually closed, but the trustee may operate the business pending liquidation if the court finds that the creditors would be better served by keeping the business open.</td>
</tr>
<td>U.S. Trustee</td>
<td>The United States Trustee Program is an agency of the United States Department of Justice that is responsible for overseeing the administration of bankruptcy cases and private trustees. The United States Trustee is responsible for the integrity of the system to insure that all the parties, including the attorneys and trustees are doing what they are required by law to do.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Voluntary Bankruptcy</td>
<td>A bankruptcy case in which the debtor files the petition.</td>

1. An assignment for the benefit of creditors (assignment) is not a court action. It is a contractual agreement between a debtor (assignor) and a company or individual (assignee) selected to liquidate all assets, and disburse the proceeds for the benefit of creditors.

2. Assignments are very loosely regulated. There is no one place in California Law to find information on assignments.

3. Notice must be given to creditors. (CCP section 1802).
   a. The assignor must file, under penalty of perjury, a list of creditors on the day the assignment is entered.
   b. The assignee has 30 days after the assignment has been accepted to give written notice of the assignment to the creditors.
   c. The assignee will establish a date by which creditors must file their claims. The date should not be less than 150 days and not greater than 180 days from the date of written notice of creditors.
   d. If a corporate officer turns the company over to the assignment company without disclosing a debt to the CDTFA and the CDTFA is not noticed of the assignment, the CDTFA can treat the liability as if no assignment has been filed. The CDTFA should determine if a dual determination should be pursued against the corporate officer.

4. Priorities of Claim. Claims are paid in the following order:
   b. Wages (CCP section 1204).
   c. Employee benefit contributions (CCP section 1204).
   d. Money placed on deposit for goods and services not delivered (CCP section 1204.5).
   e. Preferred labor claims (CCP section 1206).
   f. Amounts due to the CDTFA (including penalties and interest thereon) – except where a lien or secured interest is superior to any CDTFA lien or interest. (RTC section 6756).

5. Account Maintenance
   a. An assignee has a right to occupy any business location for up to 90 days as long as it pays the monthly lease amount. After 90 days a landlord can terminate the lease if allowed by contract (Civil Code section 1954.1)
   b. If an assignee operates a business after the business enters into an assignment, the assignee should have its own permit.
6. Preference Payments

a. Under state law, if within 90 days of the assignment a creditor received a payment either voluntary or involuntary, the assignee may assert a preference action in court. (CCP section 1800(b))

b. The assignee may also try to have any liens or attachments removed.

c. A preference action must be filed within 1 year of the commencement of the assignment.

d. If the assignee asserts that a payment to the CDTFA was a preference payment, there are several defenses listed in CCP section 1800(b) that include:
   1. The new transfer was intended to be a contemporaneous exchange for new value.
   2. The transfer was in payment of a debt incurred during the ordinary course of business, the challenged payment was made in the ordinary course of business and according to ordinary business terms.
   3. The transfer constitutes the creation of a statutory lien under RTC section 6757, or the “fixing” of that lien by the subsequent recording of the Notice of State Tax Lien.
   4. The payment to a claimant was in exchange for a release of an asserted claim of lien.

7. Control of the Account

a. Day-to-day control of the account is in the hands of the office responsible for the account.

b. CSB handles the monitoring of the assignment case.

8. Status of the Case

a. Status is only obtainable through communication with the assignment company.

b. There is no current law that requires the assignment company to provide a disbursement schedule for creditors (in general) showing the proposed distribution of the liquidated funds.

c. The CDTFA can use RTC sections 7053 and 7054 to request that a disbursement schedule or proposed disbursement be supplied.
Probate: Probate is a legal process by which legal title to property of a deceased person (“the decedent”) is transferred from an estate to its beneficiaries by the court. It is designed to ensure the fair distribution of a decedent’s assets and settlement of outstanding debts. If the decedent had a will at the time of death, an executor is named in the will as the individual selected by the decedent to fulfill the instructions set forth in a will. If the decedent did not have a will, an administrator is appointed by the court to handle the affairs of the decedent and distribute property as required by statute.

1) Assets subject to probate:
   a) Assets in the decedent’s name alone.
   b) One-half of each asset registered as community property in the decedent’s name with his or her spouse.
   c) The decedent’s portion or share of an asset where the asset is registered as tenants in common with other people.
   d) Assets which are owned by the decedent, but not registered, such as furniture, jewelry, etc.

2) Assets not subject to probate:
   a) Assets held in joint-tenancy.
   b) Assets held in a living trust.
   c) Life insurance and IRA benefits where a beneficiary is named.
   d) Assets passing to the surviving spouse, even if held in the decedent’s name alone.
   e) Assets registered by husband and wife as “community property with right of survivorship.”

3) Making a Claim
   a) Probate Code section 9201: The personal representative or administrator must make a written request to a public entity creditor. The creditor’s time to respond is based on the law of the public entity. For sales and use tax law, see RTC section 6487.1, which provides that a notice of deficiency determination shall be mailed within four months of the written request. Otherwise, pursuant to Probate Code section 9100, a claim must be filed four months after the date letters are first issued to a general personal representative or sixty days after the date notice of administration is delivered to the creditor.
   b) RTC section 6487.1: The CDTFA has four months from the written request to issue a deficiency determination to the personal representative or administrator.
   c) Probate Code section 9203: If property of the estate is disbursed before the CDTFA’s allowed time to file a claim, we can hold the distributee’s (whomever received the funds) liable with costs.
   d) A claim is either Allowed or Rejected by the personal representative (administrator).
   e) The CDTFA has 90 days to respond to a rejected claim.
4) Account Maintenance
   a) Staff must determine the status of a decedent’s business, did it close or was there a change in ownership – is a new permit needed?
   b) A sole proprietor who dies should not have a close out date beyond the date of the individual’s death.
   c) A partnership should only remain as a partnership if there are two or more remaining partners, otherwise the remaining partner should get a sole proprietor permit.

5) Probate Estate as operator of the business
   a) If the probate estate (i.e. estate administrator) is operating a decedent’s business, the estate should get its own permit (ex., The Estate of Emma Lou Pappel, as the taxpayer).
   b) Probate Code section 9760: The personal representative may continue to operate a decedent’s business for up to 6 months without a court order. A court order is required after 6 months.
   c) Staff should request a copy of the death certificate for the file – but this is not a requirement to proceed.

6) Control of the account
   a) Day-to-day control of the account is in the hands of the office responsible for the account.
   b) The CSB handles the monitoring of the probate case.

7) Status of the case
   a) A probate action is filed in probate court, which in most cases is a separate division of Superior Court. The action is usually commenced in the county in which the debtor died.
   b) Many probate courts have docket information available through the court’s website.
   c) The CSB can send a letter to the administrator requesting status of the case if unable to access the docket information – or if the information in the docket is sparse.

8) Non-Compliance of an Estate while running a decedent’s business
   a) Probate Code section 11420: Any taxes incurred by the Estate would be considered an “expense” of the Estate.
   b) The CDTFA must use the Attorney General to file a motion to allow the expense – it is not just a regular claim filing (there is no such thing as an expense claim in a probate case).
9) State Tax Liens

a) A tax lien filed before the date of death remains in effect against the estate and is fully enforceable.

b) A tax lien filed on a decedent after the death is also a valid lien against the estate of the debtor. If the CDTFA knows a taxpayer is deceased, a lien should be filed against “The Estate of X.”

c) In cases where the decedent’s property was held in joint tenancy, transferred to a living trust, or transferred to a spouse on or before the date of death – a lien filed after death would have no effect.

d) In most cases, the CDTFA’s filing of a lien after a probate action has commenced is unlikely to improve CDTFA’s position with respect to payment of its claim and it may hinder efforts by the representative to sell the property.

e) On the other hand, where a personal representative of an estate incurs a tax liability and fails to pay or there is a risk of additional liens or security interests being recorded against the property (decreasing the likelihood that the CDTFA will be paid) a lien may be appropriate.

f) Accordingly, a lien should be filed after a probate action has commenced only after consulting with the CDTFA’s Legal Division.
1. Receivership: The appointment of a person to hold in trust and administer property subject to litigation, settle the affairs of a business involving a public interest, or manage a corporation during reorganization.
   a. A receiver is appointed by the court in any case in which the court is empowered by law to appoint a receiver. (Code of Civil Procedure section 564)
   b. A receivership is not always a liquidation proceeding and, therefore, there is not always a disbursement.

2. A receiver can be appointed by the court in the following cases (Code of Civil Procedure section 564):
   a. By a vendor, partner, or creditor, where it is shown that property or funds are in danger of being lost, removed, or materially injured, or where a party seeks to vacate a fraudulent purchase.
   b. By a secured lender, where it appears that the property is in danger of being lost, removed, or materially injured (and the property is insufficient to pay the debt).
   c. By judgment or to enforce a judgment.
   d. When a corporation is insolvent or has been dissolved.
   e. In an action of unlawful detainer.
   f. At the request of either the Office of Statewide Health Planning and Development or the Attorney General.
   g. In an Assignment for Benefit of Creditors, regarding the assignment of rents to maintain real property.

3. The receiver is sworn in. The receiver has the power to bring and defend actions in his own name as receiver, keep possession of the property, receive rents, collect debts, make transfers, and generally do such acts respecting the property as the court may authorize.

4. Priorities. Claims are to be paid in the following order:
   b. Wages (CCP section 1204).
   c. Employee benefit contributions (CCP section 1204).
   d. Money placed on deposit for goods and services not delivered (CCP section 1204.5).
   e. Preferred labor claims (CCP section 1206).
   f. Amounts due to the CDTFA (including penalties and interest thereon) – except where a lien or secured interest is superior to any CDTFA lien or interest. (RTC section 6756).

5. Claims in Receiverships. There is no formal timeline to file a claim in a receivership case, however the CDTFA’s policy is to file the claim within 4 months of the filing if possible.

6. Account Maintenance. If a receiver runs the business, then the receiver should have its own permit. (See CPPM 210.010, Sellers Permits).

7. Control of the Account
   a. Day-to-day control of these accounts remains in the office responsible for the account. Status requests and questions regarding the proceedings can be directed to CSB staff.
   b. CSB staff will maintain the legal case.
8. Status of the Case. Since receiverships are monitored through the court, information regarding the case can be accessed through the Superior Court website, or, if not online, at the court itself.

COURT ORDERED RESTITUTION

Restitution is defined as the act of making whole or giving the equivalent for any loss, damage, or injury. The purpose of restitution is to help victims recover from any financial hardship caused by a criminal activity.

A restitution order is a court order directed to the taxpayer requiring the payment of restitution (monetary payment), generally as a condition of probation or parole in a criminal case. The court issues a restitution order to cover the economic loss or actual crime-related expenses incurred by a victim as a result of a crime.

Under state law, offenders convicted of a felony or misdemeanor in California may be required to pay a fine, penalty, and the cost of investigation, in addition to an amount for restitution. If the defendant is on formal probation, payments may be made to the county where the crime/offense occurred. If the payment is directed to the county, the designated county is responsible for dividing the total funds received and forwarding the CDTFA’s portion to the appropriate CDTFA office.

The stipulated final judgment documents may specify how the restitution payments are allocated between taxes, fines, penalties, and cost of investigations. When the stipulated final judgment documents do not provide specific information regarding the allocation of payments, the Investigations Section must review the criminal complaint and determine the amounts and periods to designate as restitution and whether any portion of the restitution is already billed. When any of the seized funds are provided to CDTFA, Investigations will determine how to apply any monies received toward the restitution periods.

Restitution payments ordered by the court on behalf of the CDTFA may be for less than the full amount of the civil liability (e.g., audit billing) owed by the taxpayer to the CDTFA. In this situation, the taxpayer remains liable for the full amount of the civil liability.

The passage of Assembly Bill 242, filed with the Secretary of State on October 9, 2011, and made effective on January 1, 2012, allows the CDTFA to collect on restitution orders in the same manner as other collections. Collections Support Bureau (CSB) will monitor accounts in the system that have active court-ordered restitution and are currently on probation, parole, or diversion; however, the control of the accounts will remain assigned to the Field Operations Division (FOD), or the Business Tax and Fee Division (BTFD) and will not transfer out of their assigned state in the system. The assigned collector will continue to work any additional liabilities and/or delinquencies and take the necessary collection action.

The collection of restitution by the court is a continuation of a criminal court action and therefore excepted (excluded) from the automatic stay provisions of the bankruptcy code (11 USC 362(b)(1)). However, if the court relies on the CDTFA to collect the restitution due, the automatic stay does apply, and the CDTFA cannot collect until the bankruptcy case is dismissed, or the CDTFA obtains leave from the court to collect while the stay is in place.

Payments required by a restitution order may continue to be due, even after a taxpayer’s probation has ended.
Court Ordered Restitution (Cont. 1) 740.290

Investigations’ Responsibilities:

Document the information from the court-ordered restitution in ACMS for sales and use tax accounts and IRIS for special taxes and fees accounts.

Obtain and forward the restitution orders or information from the court to CSB for monitoring while the taxpayer is on probation, parole, or diversion. A copy of the restitution order will be attached to a formal memorandum to CSB with the following information:

- Investigations’ restitution summary form.
- Copies of Investigations’ executive summary (when applicable) and all court documents detailing the sentencing, restitution, terms, and requirements during the probation period.

File a court motion to:

- Modify restitution orders that are in default,
- Request an extension of probation,
- Request an increase in court-ordered restitution payments

Attend court hearings as referred by the field office on restitution cases.

Prepare a memo to FOD or BTFD when collection of the restitution order is paid in full, or the taxpayer’s probation or parole has ended and the restitution has not been fully satisfied. The memo should include the most recent contact information available, and any additional notes or materials gathered by CSB while they were monitoring the case.

Provide quarterly reports to the Deputy Director, FOD and BTFD of those restitution cases that are being monitored by Investigations or CSB.

In the case of a Revenue and Taxation Code (RTC) section 6071 misdemeanor citation (operating with a revoked permit) where the taxpayer does not appear for a court hearing, a bench warrant is typically issued. If a bench warrant is issued, Investigations should attempt to have the taxpayer arrested or brought before the local District Attorney’s office.

CSB, Liens and Specialized Collections Section’s Responsibilities:

Monitor all active court-ordered restitution and fines for FOD and BTFD during the period the taxpayer is on probation, parole, or diversion. CSB will also monitor individual partners and corporate officers that were ordered to pay restitution on behalf of the partnership or corporation while the individual is on probation, parole, or diversion. CSB will perform the following duties:

- Coordinate with FOD or BTFD to establish an account number for court-ordered restitution and create a restitution period.
- Ensure restitution payments are applied appropriately.
- Create the unbilled cost of collection assessment for sales and use tax accounts on IRIS to track and monitor restitution payments. (Return Processing Branch personnel will create unbilled differences for special taxes and fees accounts.)
Court Ordered Restitution

- Cancel the unbilled cost of collection as soon as the restitution amount is billed.
- Make the necessary payment adjustments for restitution payments during the probation, parole, or diversion period.
- Prepare a memorandum to Investigations indicating whether restitution was or was not satisfied when the taxpayer’s probation, parole, or diversion ended.
- Provide Investigations quarterly reports on active restitution cases.

Document in ACMS/IRIS:

- Receipt of the restitution order from Investigations and the terms of the restitution.
- Receipt and adjustment of restitution payments.
- Whether restitution is or is not satisfied when the probation period ended.
- Actions taken if restitution payments are not made.
- Contacts made with the assigned probation or parole officer, County’s Revenue Department, Investigations, FOD, or BTFD.

CSB, Specialized Audit Section’s Responsibilities:

Initiate RTC section 6829 dual determinations for sales and use tax liabilities in cases where a responsible person was ordered to pay restitution on behalf of a business that was terminated. The request to issue an RTC section 6829 dual determination will be forwarded by CSB to the Audit Determination and Refund Section for processing.

Coordinate with the impacted program area to create arbitrary accounts for corporate officers or other persons who are ordered to pay restitution by the court when an RTC section 6829 dual determination cannot be established.

Coordinate with the impacted program area to create arbitrary accounts for individual partners affected by the Revised Uniform Partnership Act where the court ordered the individual to pay restitution.

Cashier Section’s Responsibilities:

Receive the payments and identifying documentation directly from the taxpayer or county. The check will be processed and the amount keyed into IRIS.

Any supporting documentation along with a copy of the payment will be forwarded to CSB, Liens and Specialized Collection Section, to determine the proper payment application.

Special Taxes and Fees Account Billings

Upon completion of the prosecution an account is created. The Return Processing Branch (RPB) will receive the referral memo from Investigations. RPB will review the court case provided by Investigations and request an account to be created (if needed) by the Registration Section. RPB also determines the amount to be billed including any penalties or interest and establishes a billing on the account pursuant to RTC sections 30483 or 60709. Since the restitution is considered “final” by court decree, the billing created in IRIS is considered ‘final’ and collectable when the restitution is established on CDTFA records.
The court-ordered restitution is applicable to Taxable Activity Types (TATs) CR, CP, LR(Q), LD(Q), and LW(Q). RPB will establish the bill using the following information:

• Difference type EAB (external agency billings)
• Difference activity type COR (court-ordered restitution)
• Notice type DER (demand court-ordered restitution)
• FO type OTB (one time billing)

A statement will then be sent to the taxpayer at their listed address by first class U.S. Mail. Once the billing is established in IRIS, it will migrate to ACMS and be routed to the collector as directed by ACMS routing rules.

Collections:

RTC sections 7157 (sales and use tax), 8407 (motor vehicle fuel taxes), 30483 (cigarette and tobacco products taxes), and 60709 (diesel fuel taxes) allow restitution orders, or any other amounts imposed by a court of competent jurisdiction, for criminal offenses upon a person or any other entity. These amounts are due and payable to the CDTFA and may be collected by the CDTFA in any manner provided by law for the collection of a delinquent tax liability.

The following points apply to restitutions and amounts due before, on, or after January 1, 2012:

• They are treated as final and due;
• Refund or credit is not allowed;
• Interest may accrue on amounts due;
• They are not subject to statute of limitations;
• State tax lien may be filed.

FOD collection staff should work directly with Investigations staff to set the taxpayer on a monthly payment plan equal to the total restitution/cost of investigations awarded divided by the length of probation, parole, or diversion. An exception will be made for cases where the payment plan has been set by the court or where the taxpayer has submitted documentation supporting a financial hardship, in which case a review of the financial documents will be used to set the monthly payment amount. (See CPPM section 770.000.) If notified by CSB, collection action should be taken if the taxpayer is in default of the probation, parole or diversion terms.

The CDTFA may consider offer in compromise requests submitted by taxpayers owing court-ordered restitution, provided the amount of the offer includes the unpaid restitution amount.
COURT ORDERED RESTITUTION

RESTITUTION ORDER TO FEDERAL AGENCY

In cases where a taxpayer is ordered to make restitution payments to a federal agency, a case referral should be submitted to Investigations with the following:

• Investigations’ restitution summary form, and
• Copies of Investigations’ executive summary (when applicable) and all court documents detailing the sentencing, restitution, terms, and requirements during the probation period.

After Investigations reviews the referral, they will forward it to CSB to consult with the Litigation Bureau to determine if collection action may be taken.
For compliance purposes, there are seven primary reasons to make a field call:

1. To reinstate an account after revocation of the permit or license.
2. To obtain payment and/or delinquent tax returns.
3. To verify that the business is operating or closed.
4. To gather collection and skip-tracing leads.
5. To gather evidence for prosecution.
6. To maintain a physical presence in the business community.
7. To conduct certain non-collection related activities, such as permit inspections pertaining to swap meets.

In addition to the seven reasons above, there are other reasons to make field calls such as witnessing the destruction of alcoholic beverages or conducting an investigation for city or county annexation purposes (an annexation investigation may be necessary when a city or county incorporates territory into its existing geographic area. When this occurs, the businesses within that area will need to have the tax area code changed.) Although the majority of compliance field calls are oriented toward reinstating accounts and collecting money, all field calls require advance planning and should never occur without proper preparation.

Before making a field call, the collector should have a plan of action and be completely familiar with the taxpayer’s account information, account history, and the requirements the taxpayer must meet in order to reinstate the permit or license, if a revocation exists. In addition, the collector should be prepared to collect all amounts owed by the taxpayer, ensure all tax/fee returns that are due from the taxpayer are filed and paid, and provide the taxpayer with any necessary documents to complete the assignment.

For each field call, the collector should have a primary plan and some contingency plans. For example, a field call reveals that the business location is vacant. In this case, the primary plan to reinstate the taxpayer’s account must be altered and the contingency of talking to the nearby business neighbors, visiting the taxpayer’s home address, contacting the landlord, or another alternative plan put into action.

The collector will normally schedule a number of field calls on the same day and should map out the business locations to be visited. Clustering the field calls together allows the collector to minimize travel time. Mapping requires the use of a Thomas Guide map book or similar resource, such as MapQuest. If the vehicle taken to the field is equipped with an onboard navigation system, the route to the various businesses can be preprogrammed to provide the most economical route.
The following tips will help to insure successful field calls:

1. Present yourself professionally by dressing and behaving professionally. By doing so, you demonstrate that you take your position as a representative of the CDTFA seriously and create an atmosphere of respect and credibility with the taxpayer.

2. Before leaving the office, you must know your reason(s) for meeting with the taxpayer, have reviewed the case history, mapped out your route, and ensured that you have all the information necessary to complete your assignment. Some recommended items to bring with you on a field call include:
   b. Receipt book.
   c. Cell phone.
   d. Copy of the revocation notice.
   e. Extra tax/fee return forms.
   f. Applications for the taxpayer to obtain a permit or license.
   g. Pertinent regulations or publications.
   h. Envelopes, notepad, and tape (for taping notices to the door when necessary).
   i. Calculator.
   j. Thomas Guide or electronic navigation system.
   k. Coins for parking meters.
   l. CDTFA–945, Receipt for Books and Records of Account.
   m. Counterfeit bill detection pen.
   n. Security deposit documents

3. Obtain all tax/fee returns, payments, or other information that will clear the assignment. If this cannot be accomplished during the field call, document the attempt to obtain this information and take appropriate action to prompt a response from the taxpayer, or to clear the assignment.

4. While in the field, safeguard the security of all CDTFA property, including equipment, work papers, receipt books and payments.

5. Upon returning to the office, complete Form CDTFA-609, Tax Representative Daily Report.
REQUEST FOR ANOTHER OFFICE TO PERFORM FIELD INVESTIGATION 749.023

When a field investigation is needed and the location of the taxpayer falls outside the jurisdiction of the responsible collector’s office, a request can be made for a collector in another office to perform a field investigation.

The responsible collector initiates the request by creating a Request for Field Office Investigation case in the system. The supervisor reviews the request and if not approved, the supervisor enters notes and sends back to the collector. If the supervisor approves, the case is forwarded to the Compliance Principal. The Compliance Principal reviews the request and if approved, forwards the request to the Compliance Principal in the receiving office and sends a bookmark in the system to notify the receiving office that the assignment is being sent. The case is then assigned to a collector in the receiving office.

The collector in the receiving office must enter investigation notes in the case to keep all persons involved apprised of the status and send information about the status of the investigation to the responsible collector within 30 days from the date the request is first received, and every 30 days thereafter. While the responsible collector will be provided the status of the investigation every 30 days, they should intermittently follow up with the receiving office as appropriate considering the urgency, complexity, or difficulty of the investigation.

The requesting office collector remains responsible for the account, while the receiving office is responsible for the Field Office Investigation case. Therefore, it is imperative that both offices monitor the status of the case. When the investigation is completed, the information will be documented in the case, the responsible collector notified, and the case completed in the system.

REPORTING SUSPECTED SALES OF COUNTERFEIT GOODS 749.025

This section outlines procedures for staff to follow when they encounter a business that appears to be selling counterfeit goods during a field call or other taxpayer contact. Pursuant to Revenue and Taxation Code sections 6007 and 6009.2, when a person is convicted of trafficking counterfeit goods, all of their sales and purchases of those goods are considered taxable. The CDTFA may bill the convicted seller for unpaid sales or use tax within one year after the last day of the calendar month following the date of conviction.

Procedure for Reporting Suspected Counterfeit Goods

When a collector encounters a person during a field call who appears to be selling counterfeit goods, he or she must report the suspected activity to the Tax Recovery and Criminal Enforcement Task Force (TRaCE) by completing the Report a Crime electronic form available on the CDTFA’s TRaCE webpage. Collectors must check the Other box and identify themselves as “CDTFA Staff” in the What is your relationship to the suspect? Check all that apply section located at the bottom of the report form. TRaCE will use this information to bill the counterfeit goods traffickers for the unpaid sales or use tax once they are convicted.

Procedure for Reporting Convicted Traffickers of Counterfeit Goods

When CDTFA receives information that a person was convicted of trafficking counterfeit goods (for instance, through news media), they must send a referral to the Chief of Tax Investigations and Inspections Bureau and include, at a minimum:

1. Staff’s name and contact information,
2. Any pertinent information about the convicted trafficker (taxpayer’s name, business DBA, permit information if available, etc.), and
3. The source of the information.
DESTRUCTION REQUESTS FOR SPOILED BEER OR WINE

All Beer Manufacturer (ABM), Winegrower (AWG), and Beer and Wine Importer (ABW) accounts are allowed an alcoholic beverage tax exemption or credit for spoiled beer or wine destroyed under the supervision of a CDTFA representative after approval is received from CDTFA (Revenue and Taxation Code section 32176). An exemption or credit may be taken for the following:

- An exemption on spoiled beer or wine that has not yet been sold in California, or
- A credit on tax-paid beer or wine that was sold in California, subsequently spoiled, and then returned to the taxpayer.

For all ABM, AWG, and ABW accounts, supervision of the destruction of beer or wine is as follows:

- 0-20,000 gallons: Written approval with supporting documentation
- Over 20,000 gallons: In-person supervision

Processing the taxpayer’s request

A taxpayer must receive written authorization from the Business Tax and Fee Division’s Return Processing Branch (RPB) prior to destroying the beer or wine to claim the exemption or credit. To receive authorization, the taxpayer must complete Sections I and II of the CDTFA-775, Approval Request and Declaration of Destruction for Spoiled Beer or Wine and email it to RPB at CDTFA775@cdtfa.ca.gov for approval.

RPB will:

- Review the request,
- Determine the type of supervision to be administered,
- If approved, complete Sections III and IV (if in-person supervision is required) of the CDTFA-775 (Note: if the amount is over 20,000 gallons, a team member from the office closest to the taxpayer shall witness the destruction and complete Section IV, as outlined below),
- Add comments in CROS listing the approval, date, amounts, type of supervision, date of last approved destruction (if any), and
- Upload the approved CDTFA-775 to the taxpayer’s online services profile.

Amounts under 20,000 gallons: Written approval with supporting documentation

Requests to destroy amounts under 20,000 gallons require supporting documentation from the taxpayer. The taxpayer, or their representative, shall receive the approved CDTFA-775 via the online services portal, destroy the designated beer or wine, complete Section V of the CDTFA-775, and upload the form along with supporting documentation when filing their return.

Supporting documentation includes, but is not limited to:

- Third-party destruction facility’s affidavits or invoices,
- Third-party hauling service’s manifests or bills of lading for delivery to third-party destruction facility,
- Notice of Intent approved by/provided to US Department of the Treasury, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau (TTB),

---

1 Pursuant to Regulation 2552, ABW accounts destroying “small quantities” of beer or wine (as defined) do not require supervision, only prior written approval.
Destruction Requests for Spoiled Beer or Wine (Cont. 1) 749.027

- TTB audit report (only request when the taxpayer does not have any other supporting documentation),
- Pictures or video of the destruction, or
- Any other supporting documentation that CDTFA deems appropriate.

If a completed CDTFA-775 is not uploaded, supporting documentation is not provided, or destruction occurred prior to approval, the exemption or credit may be disallowed, and a billing may be issued for the additional tax and interest amount in question.

Note: According to Regulation 2552, Spoiled Beer and Wine, ABW accounts destroying small quantities of beer or wine do not require supervision, only prior written approval. Therefore, these requests will not require supporting documentation. For purposes of Regulation 2552, small quantities mean 2,500 gallons or less of beer, 2,500 gallons or less of still wine, and 1,500 gallons or less of champagne or sparkling wine by volume.

Amounts over 20,000 gallons: In-person supervision

All requests for the destruction of more than 20,000 gallons of beer or wine require supervision by a CDTFA team member. Team members must contact the taxpayer and coordinate how and when the supervision will take place. In certain cases, upon management approval, team members may witness the destruction of beer or wine virtually through the use of video-conferencing (for example, MS Teams, Zoom, etc.). Factors to consider when determining if video-conferencing is appropriate may include: a COVID-19 outbreak at the taxpayer’s facility, the product being destroyed (e.g. alcohol types, the number and size of containers, etc.), the distance between the facility and the closest CDTFA office, etc. In general, team members must be able to fulfill the same responsibilities as they would supervising in-person destruction as outlined below. Also, the use of written approval with supporting documentation may be used in lieu of in-person supervision upon management approval (following the same procedures for written authorization as outlined above), taking into consideration the taxpayer’s past reporting and audit history.

For requests requiring in-person supervision:

- RPB team members will conduct in-person visits or may reach out to the Field Operations Division (FOD) or the Motor Carrier Office (MCO) to conduct the visit by uploading the CDTFA-775 in CROS, creating the appropriate case (when available in CROS), and assigning it to the office’s compliance principal. The responsible in-person supervision territories by area are as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Responsible Area</th>
<th>Responsible In-Person Supervision Territories</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>RPB</td>
<td>≤ 50 miles of Sacramento</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>MCO</td>
<td>≤ 50 miles of Banning, Blythe, or Riverside</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>FOD</td>
<td>All other locations outside of the above-mentioned areas</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

- If FOD or MCO is to conduct the visit, RPB will complete Section III of the CDTFA-775 and forward the form to the responsible office.
  - Responsibilities of team members supervising destruction in-person:
    - Contact the person listed in Section II of the CDTFA-775 within 12 business days of CDTFA’s receipt of the request, schedule an appointment, and advise the taxpayer to keep like alcohol types grouped together during the destruction to help expedite verification.
While supervising in-person destruction:
  » Observe general business operations,
  » Count the product and verify the information that was listed on the CDTFA-775 (i.e., alcohol types, the number and size of containers, etc.) , make edits to quantity listed if needed, and » Observe the counted product is destroyed.

After verification, complete and sign Section IV of the CDTFA-775 and document the field visit in CROS by entering a note on the Period Springboard (or on the Account Springboard if the period is unknown) indicating the destruction was supervised, and email a copy to RPB at CDTFA775@cdtfa.ca.gov.

• RPB will upload the completed CDTFA-775 to the taxpayer’s online services portal.
• The taxpayer or their representative will complete Section V of the CDTFA-775 and upload the form when filing their return.
• RPB will review the attachments on the Return Springboard in CROS, confirm the CDTFA-775 is completed and uploaded, and verify the amount reported on the respective lines of the return.
RTC section 6073 provides that the CDTFA may:

1. Require the operator of a swap meet, flea market, or special event to verify that any person desiring to engage in or conduct business as a seller on premises owned or operated by the operator holds a valid seller’s permit.

2. Obtain a written statement from any seller not holding a seller’s permit that he or she is not offering for sale any item the sale of which is subject to sales or use tax or that he or she is otherwise not required to hold a valid seller’s permit.

3. No more than three times a year, require an operator to submit a list of vendors conducting business on its premises as a seller.

4. Impose a fine not to exceed $1,000 for each offense on any operator of a swap meet, flea market or special event who refuses or fails to comply with the provisions of RTC section 6073.

It is often desirable to conduct a “permit inspection” of these types of special events. Prior to making a field call for this purpose, the collector should:

1. Contact the event operator and obtain a list of event participants and the booth or space number for each participant.

2. Check the names of the participants against registration information in the system and verify that the permit is valid, active and in good standing.

3. Identify the participants who do not hold a valid seller’s permit and return the list to the event operator. Advise the operator that the identified participants will need to meet with you prior to opening their booth on the first day of the special event.

4. Make a field call to the special event on the first day to obtain compliance from those participants who did not resolve the situation prior to the start of the event.
The CDTFA may, by written notice, require any person making sales to operators of catering trucks operated out of that person's facility, who resell the property in the regular course of business, to:

1. Obtain evidence the operator is a holder of a valid seller's permit.
2. Submit a list of all operators on file, who purchase goods from that person, not more than three times each year. Each list shall:
   a. Be provided to the CDTFA within 30 days of the CDTFA's request.
   b. Contain names and seller’s permit numbers of operators with valid seller’s permits.
   c. Contain names, address and telephone numbers of operators who did not provide a valid seller’s permit.
3. Promptly notify the CDTFA if a new purchasing operator does not provide evidence of a valid seller’s permit within 30 days from first purchase.

Persons required, but who fail to do any of the above actions, may be subject to a penalty not to exceed $500 for each failure.

Persons making sales to operators who do not have seller's permits, or whose permit has been revoked, shall report and pay the tax on property as if the property were sold at retail at the time of sale. RTC section 6074 does not relieve the operator of the catering truck from his or her obligations as a seller.

Field Office Responsibility

As part of an ongoing compliance program, the following procedures are recommended:

1. Periodically identify and contact catering commissaries (houses) to advise them of the requirements of this legislation.
2. Use CDTFA-570-A, Notice of Revocation to Principal’s Suppliers, to notify the suppliers of the catering truck operator when the operator’s seller’s permit is revoked. Upon reinstatement of the seller’s permit, CDTFA-570-B, Notice of Reinstatement to Principal Suppliers, must be sent to inform suppliers that the permit is valid and a resale certificate from the operator may be accepted (See CPPM 751.140).
3. Issue a request to each house for a listing of mobile truck caterers (operators) purchasing from them. The law does not specify the format in which the list should be supplied (e.g., alphabetically). Attempt to secure the list in a format that will minimize the time expended in verification by using CDTFA-12, Request for Listing of Catering Truck Operators.
4. When the list is received:
   a. Verify information where seller’s permit numbers are provided.
   b. Contact any operators without valid seller’s permits to apply for a seller’s permit immediately, following the normal procedures for non-permitted sellers.
   c. The following guidelines should be used to determine whether a catering truck driver is an independent contractor or an employee of the catering house. Indicators of employee status are:
      1. The driver's contract with the house does not identify the driver as an independent contractor.
      2. The driver receives a salary or commission from the house and the house withholds taxes and social security payments, and carries unemployment or worker’s compensation on the drivers.
CATERING TRUCKS AND THEIR SUPPLIERS

3. The house retains complete control over the detail of work performance (e.g. pricing, purchasing, etc.).
4. Drivers must account to houses for all receipts.
5. For income tax purposes, the house reports gross truck sales as their income and the driver reports as an employee.

d. Indicators of independent contractor status are:
   1. The contract between the catering house and driver specifies that the driver is an independent contractor.
   2. The driver does not receive a salary from the house, nor does the house withhold social security payments, unemployment or worker’s compensation.
   3. The catering truck drivers are not required to purchase all food and supplies from the catering house leasing the truck.
   4. No accounting is made by the driver to the house for sales. The net profit from their sales is their income.
   5. For federal income tax purposes, the driver prepares a Schedule C “Profit or Loss from Business.”

5. When the list is not received within the specified time:
   a. Send the CDTFA-12 again, using certified mail.
   b. If the house fails to comply with provisions outlined in RTC section 6074(a), send CDTFA-13, Follow-up for Listing of Catering Truck Operators, using certified mail.
   c. If no response, create a compliance assessment in the online system to apply the $500 penalty as provided by Section 6074.
   d. After the determination is issued and/or collected, issue another request for the list, using certified mail. If cooperation is still not obtained, repeat the process of assessing and collecting the penalty until compliance is obtained.

The list request procedure should be repeated as deemed necessary to encourage compliance but no more than three times in a calendar year. Staff may also consider, if appropriate, requesting a subpoena for the records. For further information regarding subpoena requests, see CPPM section 774.010.
DISHONORED PAYMENTS 750.000

DISHONORED PAYMENTS - GENERAL 750.010

Processing dishonored checks, credit cards, EFT transactions, etc., is a priority for both headquarters and field offices so that monies due to the State of California are promptly collected. Close examination of potential collection cases and prompt, firm action by the collector when the first offense occurs will tend to reduce the number of dishonored payments submitted by taxpayers.

Payment by personal check should not be accepted to replace a payment previously dishonored by a financial institution. The taxpayer must replace the dishonored payment in full using certified funds, including penalty and interest. If it is apparent that the payment was made knowingly from an account with insufficient funds or a closed account, a payment plan should not be accepted.

Team members should be aware that a demand billing or Statement of Account prepared due to a dishonored payment may not be a complete statement of the taxpayer’s liability because non-final items are billed separately from final items.

CANCELLATION OF CHARGES DUE TO BANK ERRORS 750.030

When it is determined that a financial institution dishonored a taxpayer’s payment in error, the penalty and interest charges assessed on the account will be canceled. For sales and use tax accounts, letters from financial institutions acknowledging errors should be promptly forwarded to the Return Analysis Unit for adjustment. For Consumer Use Tax Section accounts and special taxes and fees accounts, the responsible office will review all bank letters for those accounts and make the appropriate adjustments.

If a check is dishonored because of insufficient funds and the taxpayer requests relief from penalty due to extenuating circumstances, they should be directed to request relief of penalty through the CDTFA website (see CPPM section 535.055).

LEGAL COPIES OF DISHONORED CHECKS 750.040

When a check is dishonored, the financial institution will return a “legal copy” of the check to headquarters Cashier Section. The legal copy of a dishonored check is treated the same as a dishonored paper check. The legal copies and dishonored paper checks are stored with the dishonored reports for a minimum of 90 days before being confidentially destroyed.
If the taxpayer alleges that the bank honored the returned check, the following procedure will clear the taxpayer's account:

1. Obtain a copy of the front and back of the original check showing the cashier's batch number and date.
2. If it is confirmed that the payment was posted to an incorrect account number, initiate the transfer of funds in the system, or if unable to do so, contact the appropriate program area.
   a. For sales and use tax accounts, a request must be sent to the BTFD-RAU Electronic Maintenance mailbox to have the payment moved to the correct account. Team members must complete a CDTFA-523, Tax Return and/or Account Adjustment Notice, and either upload it to the CRM tab for both accounts, or send as an attachment in the request email.
   b. For special taxes and fees accounts, team members should email an Action Request (email template provided by Return Processing Branch) to BTFD-RPB Action Requests mailbox to have the payment moved to the correct account.
3. If a team member is unable to locate the payment in the system, they should obtain a copy of the entire bank statement showing the taxpayer's checking account was debited for the correct amount, and a copy of the subsequent bank statement to make sure the amount has not been credited back to the taxpayer’s account. Circle the appropriate check number and amount on the bank statement(s) and forward the copy of the bank statement(s) to the Cashier Section in headquarters along with the copy of the check.

REVOCATION 751.000

Revenue and Taxation Code (RTC) section 6070, and similar statutes for some special taxes and fees programs, provide the conditions for revocation of a permit. Before revoking a permit or license, the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) must notify the taxpayer in writing that action against the permit or license is contemplated and give the taxpayer 10 days to show cause why the permit or license should not be revoked for the specified cause. For sales and use tax accounts, a CDTFA-431-S1, Immediate Action Required – Your Seller’s Permit May Be Cancelled, is mailed to the taxpayer for this purpose. For special taxes and fees accounts, the form series CDTFA-431 includes the Notice to Appear, which is mailed to the taxpayer for this purpose. For both “periodic” and “cause” delinquencies, the system generates the CDTFA-431 and it is mailed to the taxpayer from headquarters.

The CDTFA-431 forms serve as a notice that the permit or license may be cancelled and a request for the taxpayer to appear for a “hearing” in a CDTFA office at a specified date and time to address the citation of its permit or license. If the taxpayer clears the cause of the citation prior to the hearing date, the hearing is no longer necessary. If the taxpayer does not clear the cause of the citation on or before the date specified, or fails to appear for the hearing, the permit or license is revoked 60 days after the mailing date of the CDTFA-431. The CDTFA–433–S, Notice of Revocation (Seller), or appropriate revocation form for other tax and fee programs, is mailed to the taxpayer.

If the cause of revocation is cleared in its entirety on or before the effective date of revocation, the CDTFA–433, Notice of Revocation, will not be mailed. However, if returns or payments have not posted to the taxpayer’s account on or prior to the revocation date, the taxpayer will be mailed a CDTFA–433. If this should happen, the collector should note in the system the reason why the revocation is inoperative and provide the taxpayer with a CDTFA–16, Cancellation of Revocation.

REASONS FOR REVOCATIONS 751.020

The CDTFA may revoke a permit or license for violation of any provision of the applicable law. Some of the reasons for revoking a permit or license are:

1. Failure to file and pay tax return(s) or schedule(s).
2. Failure to pay a balance.
3. Failure to post required security, replace security, or post additional security.
4. Failure to keep or make available proper records.
5. Failure to surrender permit for cancellation when not actively engaged in business as a seller of tangible personal property.
6. Failure to comply with any provision of the applicable law.
When a taxpayer fails to file a return, the revocation is an automated process. If the sole cause for the delinquency is failure to file a tax return, the revocation will be cancelled when the tax return is filed on or before the revocation date, with or without payment.

For a “cause” delinquency, i.e., any cause other than failure to file a return (such as failure to post security, failure to comply, etc.), the revocation process is manually initiated by the responsible collector.

Hearing notices require the taxpayer to appear for a hearing in a field office, or headquarters for some special taxes and fees accounts, to show cause why the permit or license should not be revoked for the cause specified in the notice.

The responsibility for conducting the hearings is delegated to the Tax Compliance Supervisors or their representatives.

Revocations are effective on the dates specified on the TPB Calendar of Notices. The TPB Calendar of Notices button can be found on the CDTFA’s intranet under the BTFD tab, TPB subtab, on the right side of the page. Where an effective revocation date is not shown, the effective date of revocation is 60 days following the mailing date of the hearing notice. (RTC section 7098 and equivalent special taxes and fees statutes).

Upon service of the revocation notice in person or by mail, all of the rights or privileges granted under a particular law are revoked or suspended until the license or permit is properly reinstated. Operation of the business after revocation of the permit or license is a misdemeanor. Taxpayers or officers of a corporation who continue operating the business after revocation of the permit or license may be subject to prosecution, punishable as provided in RTC section 7153 and equivalent special taxes and fees statutes.

In addition, revocation of the seller’s permit of a motor vehicle dealer also affects the dealer’s status with DMV. Upon revocation of a dealer’s seller’s permit, under California Vehicle Code sections 11518(e), 11617(a)(6) and 11721(f), the dealer’s license is automatically canceled as well. Sales and use tax accounts requiring a dealer license include, but are not limited to, accounts with NAICS codes 441110 (new motor vehicle dealers), 441210 (automobile trailer dealers), 441120 (used automotive dealers), 441222 (boat dealers), 441221 (motorcycle dealers), and 423100 (wholesalers).

When in contact with a delinquent taxpayer with a valid dealer’s license, the taxpayer must be informed that, upon revocation of the seller’s permit, the motor vehicle dealer’s license is automatically canceled too. Notes regarding the conversation should be entered in the system. Additionally, a CDTFA-78-A, DMV License Cancellation Warning Letter, must be sent to the taxpayer at least 15 days prior to contacting DMV. The taxpayer should be advised that once the DMV dealer’s license is canceled, it cannot be reinstated. If canceled, the taxpayer must apply for a new dealer license and go through the process of qualifying for a new license, including posting a new bond.

When a taxpayer with a valid dealer license fails to pay the self-assessed delinquent sales and use tax liability, the seller’s permit should be cited for failure to pay. In addition, if a security deposit requirement is not met, the account may be cited for revocation for failure to post security. If the taxpayer does not clear the citation and the seller’s permit becomes revoked, all conditions for reinstatement must be met prior to reinstating the seller’s permit.
REVOCATIONS — INITIAL CLEARING PROCESS

Working a revoked account begins with contacting the taxpayer by telephone to:

1. Discuss the consequences of operating with a revoked permit or license,
2. State the requirements to reinstate the permit or license, and
3. Obtain a commitment to promptly reinstate and comply with applicable tax law.

If the taxpayer is contacted but fails to reinstate or perform as promised, the collector should telephone the taxpayer again. For sales and use tax accounts, a CDTFA–433-RP, Notice of Revocation – Reinstate Permit Online, may be sent. However, if the taxpayer has a history of not responding to this type of action, it may be more productive to proceed with active collection methods.

If there is no contact with the taxpayer on the first call, the collector should make additional telephone calls to the business, to the residence, or to any other leads where the taxpayer might be reached. Calling at irregular hours may be required to reach a taxpayer(s) who are not available during normal business hours.

If telephone contact and attempts to reach the taxpayer(s) through the mail are unsuccessful, the case should be considered for a field call. Normally, only cases requiring personal contact warrant field work. However, if there is an existing assignment on an account that is currently being handled in the field, or if the taxpayer’s history indicates that notification by telephone and mail will be unproductive, the revoked account should be scheduled for a field call at the earliest opportunity.

REVOCATIONS — FIELD CALLS

CPPM section 749.000 covered some of the basics of making effective field calls. It is essential to prepare before making any field call, but even more so when working a revoked account. Operating without a valid permit or license is a misdemeanor and the account cannot be “partially” reinstated. The taxpayer’s revoked account can only be reinstated through full compliance with all the conditions imposed upon the taxpayer by the CDTFA.

When working to reinstate a revoked account, devise a step-by-step plan when performing the initial case evaluation. For example, such a plan might look like the following:

Account appears in the worklist on 01/01/XX:

1. Review the cause for the revocation, the account history, and determine what is needed to reinstate the permit or license.
2. Make phone calls to the business location, the residence(s) of owners, partners, officers, nearby neighbors or businesses, personal references, landlord, etc., and note the results of the telephone calls in the case notes.
3. On 01/05/XX, mail a CDTFA–465, Notice to Withhold, or CDTFA–425–LA, Notice of Levy, to financial institutions if taxpayer has not responded to telephone calls.
4. If appropriate, request liens to be filed with the Secretary of State and appropriate counties where the taxpayer resides or has real property.
5. If appropriate, send a CDTFA–570-A, Notice of Revocation to Principal’s Suppliers, to the suppliers of the business. This letter serves as notification that the taxpayer’s seller’s permit is revoked and the supplier may not take a resale certificate from the taxpayer for purchases until the permit is reinstated.
6. On 01/15/XX, conduct a field call if the above measures are unsuccessful. Personally serve the taxpayer with a copy of the CDTFA–433–S, Notice of Permit Cancellation, and remove the permit or license from the taxpayer’s premises. Advise the taxpayer of the penalties for operating with a revoked permit or license and gather any information that might assist in compelling the taxpayer to comply. Ensure that a change of ownership has not occurred. If the business is under new ownership or is not operating, close out the account in the system to clear the revocation.

7. Obtain payment in full and reinstate the account. If payment in full is not possible, obtain a commitment from the taxpayer to enter into a short-term payment plan.

8. If reinstatement does not appear forthcoming and a taxpayer continues to operate without a valid permit, the purchase of an item from the taxpayer’s business may be made to obtain evidence of sales after revocation. If State funds are used to make the evidence purchase, or the employee is reimbursed by the State for the purchase, the evidence must be handled in the following manner:
   - In most cases, the receipt is used as the evidence and not the item itself. The item purchased should be photographed and the receipt and photograph should be scanned and retained with the other documentary evidence to be used in support of a potential prosecution.
   - Once the items of evidence are no longer needed, a CDTFA employee must destroy the evidence while a supervisor or manager witnesses, documents, and retains documentation of the destruction. The destruction should result in the item(s) no longer being edible or usable. For example, soda should be poured down a sink drain, cigarettes should be crushed and thrown away, and items not suitable for pouring down the drain should be appropriately disposed of in a trash receptacle.
   - The supervisor or manager should document the destruction in the system.

The list of actions above outlines a very basic plan for working a revocation and illustrates only a portion of the collection activities that may need to be taken to obtain compliance. Often a plan will not survive first contact with the taxpayer and will need to be adjusted according to the circumstances. However, having a plan allows the collector to make appropriate and timely follow up calls and actions and, should the need arise to have the case transferred to another person, acts as a map for the person receiving the case to follow.

REFERRAL FOR FIELD OFFICE INVESTIGATION – REVOKED SALES AND USE TAX ACCOUNTS 751.078

If a hearing, field call or other field investigation is required for an account with a physical location near another Field Operations Division (FOD) office, a collector can make a referral request to that office. However, prior to making a referral, all reasonable attempts to clear the revocation should be made.

The responsible collector maintains ownership of the revoked account while the referral request is in process. The request should include evidence that the taxpayer is still operating their business.

Prior to making a request for a field office investigation by another office, the collector must get approval from a supervisor in their office. If approved, the supervisor will stage the case forward to “Refer Investigation” and assign it to the Compliance Principal of the receiving office indicating that a revoked account is being referred. Any original documents that need to be mailed to the taxpayer and/or headquarters will be mailed by the receiving office when applicable. Requesting a referral without following these procedures will cause the receiving office to return the assignment and any documents to the originating office. All documents will be returned to the originating office after the receiving office completes the assignment or determines it cannot complete the assignment.

Field Call:

1. The collector creates the Request for Field Office Investigation Case to be forwarded to the FOD Supervisor for review/approval.
2. The FOD Supervisor stages the Request for Field Office Investigation Case to “Refer Investigation” and changes the owner of the case to the Compliance Principal of the receiving office.
3. The receiving office Compliance Principal will assign a collector to complete the field investigation and stage the case forward.

Hearing:

1. The FOD Supervisor should contact the Compliance Principal of the receiving office.
2. The Compliance Principal will assign a hearing officer.
3. The responsible collector will prepare the hearing package or file for the assigned hearing officer.
4. The assigned hearing officer will meet with the taxpayer and prepare the Report of Discussion.
PROSECUTIONS, OPERATING AFTER REVOCATION 751.080

When all other remedies have been exhausted, aid of the court may be required to bring about compliance. For additional information on prosecutions, see the Compliance Policy and Management Guidelines.

CONDITIONS OF REINSTATEMENT 751.090

To reinstate a revoked account, the taxpayer must clear the cause for revocation by:

1. Filing all delinquent returns and paying the taxes/fees, penalty, interest, and Collection Cost Recovery Fees (CRF) due.
2. Paying all delinquent balances due according to the records of the CDTFA, or entering into a payment plan (see CPPM section 751.115).
3. Posting required or additional security. Arrangements to post the security deposit in installments may be accepted in lieu of requiring full payment of the security, at the responsible office’s discretion.
4. Paying the applicable amount of the reinstatement fee and completing all required forms.
5. Clearing any other causes for revocation of the permit or license.

The taxpayer may be requested to comply with any other provisions of the laws or regulations such as keeping adequate records or reporting tax liability according to prescribed rules.

If the revocation is to be cleared on the basis of entering into a payment agreement, supervisory approval and a substantial initial payment should be obtained. The amount of the payment and terms of the agreement should be documented on a CDTFA-407, Payment Plan Agreement. (See CPPM section 770.000.) Unless payment and acceptable arrangements are received, the account should remain revoked.

If the taxpayer files bankruptcy, the account will be reinstated without any of the above conditions being met. A CDTFA-16, Cancellation of Revocation, will be prepared and the bankruptcy information will be added to the account by the responsible office. A bankruptcy indicator on the account does not restrict efforts to clear delinquent periods, as long as the efforts are restricted to passive collection actions only.

After reinstatement, if the taxpayer fails or refuses to respond to any demand for compliance with the law or regulations, revocation proceedings should again be instituted. The show-cause portion of the CDTFA-433, must indicate the particular cause(s) for which the permit or license is proposed to be revoked.

REINSTATEMENTS AFTER REVOCATION—FEES 751.100

To reinstate a revoked permit or license, a reinstatement fee may be required.

Note: For sales and use tax accounts, the responsible collector must determine the number of active business locations, which may be different from the number of active locations shown in the online system, and collect the fee per location. A fee is not collected for any business locations that are not active at the time of reinstatement.
The following table shows the types of accounts that can be revoked and the amount of the reinstatement fee, if any.

REINSTATEMENT OF ACCOUNTS WITH PAYMENT PLANS

Taxpayers have the option to pay in full or request a payment plan to reinstate their revoked accounts. Before approving the CDTFA-407, Payment Plan Agreement, collectors should investigate the financial condition of the taxpayer. Investigation of the financial condition of the taxpayer is not required if the terms of the payment plan meet the auto approval criteria, with the exception of the revoked account status. Other situations where investigation of the financial condition may not be required are subject to supervisory discretion. With the supervisor’s approval, collectors will reinstate the account if the taxpayer meets all conditions listed below:

1. Files all delinquent returns,
2. Completes a CDTFA-407, Payment Plan Agreement,
3. Provides financial documents (bank statement, credit card statement, payroll stub, etc.) if requested (see CPPM section 770.13), and,
4. Pays the reinstatement fee.

The payment plan will terminate and the revocation action will be initiated, if the taxpayer fails to make payments and/or fails to file and pay all future returns. The responsible collector may initiate the “Cause Del Process” to restart the revocation cycle. Instructions to initiate the “Cause Del Process” can be found in the Help Manager under the “Add a Cause Delinquency” topic. This payment plan option for reinstatement will not be available for revoked accounts with a fraud audit or jeopardy determinations.
While the revocation is in force, the responsible collector should attempt to obtain cash, cashier’s check, money order, or other certified funds in payment of liabilities and reinstatement fee(s). However, Government Code section 6157 requires the CDTFA to accept personal checks if the person issuing the check furnishes proof of California residence and the check is drawn on a California banking institution, except where the taxpayer has previously given the CDTFA a check that was dishonored by the banking institution upon deposit.

If the taxpayer insists on paying with a personal or business check and does not have a history of returned checks, the check will be accepted. A compliance supervisor may accept, or refuse, a personal check when both of the following occur:

1. The taxpayer’s account is revoked.
2. Within the preceding 36 months the taxpayer paid the CDTFA using a check that was subsequently dishonored by the bank.

If a personal or business check necessary to clear a revocation has been mailed to headquarters, the taxpayer normally should not be required to stop payment on the check and pay in certified funds. Such a delay could result in the assessment of additional penalty and interest charges (see CPPM section 510.150).

If the taxpayer submits the reinstatement fee but the other requirements to reinstate the account are not met, the reinstatement fee is recorded in the system. This action does not reinstate the permit; it merely shows that the reinstatement fee is paid, but the account retains its revoked status.

INOPERATIVE REVOCATIONS

If a taxpayer’s account is shown as revoked in the system, but it is determined that the taxpayer cleared the cause(s) prior to the effective date, the collector will cancel the action and notify the taxpayer using a CDTFA–16, Cancellation of Revocation.

A revocation for failure to file and pay a return is considered inoperative only if:

1. The tax return(s) are filed on or before the effective date of the revocation.
2. The person has terminated his/her operations before the effective date of revocation. In this case, the online closeout process will clear the revocation from the CDTFA’s records.
3. The business address was changed and the notice of revocation was mailed to the former address, provided the CDTFA received notice of the move prior to the effective date of revocation. If the CDTFA did not receive notice of the move prior to the effective date of revocation, then the revocation is operative and the conditions of reinstatement must be met. A letter informing the CDTFA of the address change, a notice from the Post Office,, and tax or fee returns with the address crossed out and the forwarding address inserted are all valid forms of notification that a change of address has occurred.
4. The CDTFA is notified, or discovers, that the taxpayer filed for bankruptcy protection.
REVOCATION AFTER A SELLER’S PERMIT HAS BEEN ISSUED WHEN TAXPAYER HAS LIABILITY UNDER ANOTHER SELLER’S PERMIT 751.135

Pursuant to RTC section 6070.5, Authorization to refuse issuance of permit, the CDTFA may refuse to issue a seller’s permit to any person submitting an application if the person has an outstanding final (i.e., “due and payable”) sales and use tax liability. Also, the CDTFA may refuse to issue a seller’s permit when the person applying for the permit is not a natural person (i.e., a corporation or Limited Liability Company (LLC)) and is controlled by a person with an outstanding final liability (see Regulation 1699(g)(3)). However, a seller’s permit will be issued when the person with the outstanding final liability enters into a payment plan and is in full compliance with the terms of the plan, or has an accepted Offer in Compromise (OIC) and is in full compliance with the terms of the OIC agreement.

The online registration system automatically validates the applicant and if they have an outstanding final liability and are not in a payment plan, the application will be put on hold for the collector to review. There are no provisions in RTC section 6070.5 that allow the CDTFA to close or cancel a seller’s permit after it has been issued. However, a permit may be revoked under RTC section 6070, Revocation of permit, when they are able to show that a person with an active seller’s permit has failed to comply with provisions of the Sales and Use Tax Law, rule, or regulation.

Effective January 1, 2014, the Declaration of Intent (DI) screen, which appears at the onset of the registration process, includes the following declarations of true statements that the applicant must accept before they are issued a seller’s permit:

As I am registering for a sales and use tax permit;

- I declare that either I currently do not have an outstanding final liability for sales and use tax with the CDTFA under a different account, either open or closed; or, if I do have an outstanding liability, I am currently in a payment plan and in full compliance with the terms of the plan.

- I further declare that, if the person applying for the permit is a partnership, corporation, LLP, or LLC, that none of the listed partners, officers, or members has an outstanding final liability for sales and use tax with the CDTFA under a different account, either open or closed; or, if they do have an outstanding liability, they are currently in a payment plan and in full compliance with the terms of the plan.

An applicant who accepts the DI will continue through the registration process to obtain their seller’s permit. However, an applicant who declines the DI will receive an error message.

If a seller’s permit is issued to a person or entity and the CDTFA later determines that at the time of application, the person falsely accepted the DI as a true statement when the person falls within the provisions of section 6070.5, they are in violation of RTC section 6066. In this situation, the collector must review the existing permit(s) to verify that the person does not have an active payment plan or OIC or otherwise does not come within the provisions of section 6070.5. If the person does not have a payment plan or OIC, then the collector should contact the person with the outstanding final sales and use tax liability and attempt to gain payment in full or negotiate a payment plan. When a person has multiple accounts with outstanding final liabilities, it will be at the discretion of the Compliance Principal or their designee to determine if a payment plan is required for each sales and use tax account.
Revocation After a Seller’s Permit Has Been Issued When Taxpayer Has Liability Under Another Seller’s Permit (Cont.1) 751.135

When the person does not enter into a payment plan or is not accepted into an OIC, or fails to comply with the terms of the plan or OIC agreement, the revocation process will be initiated as follows:

1. Initiate a “Cause” delinquency for Failure to Comply,
2. Add Account Characteristic Code (ACC) 42 to the account, and
3. Add a comment in the system.

When the taxpayer fails to contact the CDTFA during the “Cause” delinquency cycle, the system will automatically generate a CDTFA-433-S, Notice of Permit Cancellation (Revocation), and subsequently revoke the permit.

To help differentiate accounts that have a “Cause” delinquency resulting from a violation of RTC section 6066 because the person falsely accepted the DI as a true statement when the person was, in fact, a person coming within the provisions of section 6070.5, Authorization to refuse issuance of permit, from other accounts with a different “Cause” delinquency, the collector must also add the ACC 42, Permit Refusal per AB 1307. In addition, a comment must be added on the account(s) with the outstanding final liability for tracking purposes in the system. The comment must specify the seller’s permit(s) with the outstanding final liability, the seller’s permit with the “Cause” delinquency, and the reason for the delinquency. If the account goes into an active revocation status, all conditions for reinstatement must be met prior to reinstating the seller’s permit.

Payment Plans and Offers in Compromise

If the person enters into a payment plan for the outstanding final liability, or is accepted into the Offer in Compromise (OIC) program, the seller’s permit will be issued. If the person enters into a payment plan, the collector must send the taxpayer a CDTFA-407-A, Payment Plan – Agreement Proposal Letter. The form has language to inform the person entering into a payment plan that if the plan is terminated, the CDTFA may revoke their active seller’s permit. Requests for OIC will be processed in accordance with existing policy. However, if the OIC is not accepted, the CDTFA may revoke the person’s active seller’s permit.
FORM LETTERS TO SUPPLIERS OF PERSONS WITH REVOKED SELLER’S PERMITS AND SWAP MEET OPERATORS

The CDTFA–570–A, Notice of Revocation to Principal’s Suppliers, advises the supplier that a taxpayer’s seller’s permit has been revoked and a resale certificate may no longer be accepted from the specified taxpayer. The letter is particularly useful when dealing with revoked service stations, bars, restaurants, hotels, franchised businesses (fast foods, convenience stores, etc.) and other sellers having only one or a limited number of principal suppliers. This letter should only be sent to principal suppliers of the specified taxpayer. This letter should not be sent to a taxpayer’s competitor unless there is evidence that the competitor is a principal supplier. Upon receipt of this letter, a supplier must begin collecting tax reimbursement from the indicated taxpayer. Some suppliers will cease making sales to the taxpayer altogether, thus persuading the taxpayer to reinstate.

The CDTFA–570–B, Notice of Reinstatement to Principal’s Suppliers, is mailed when the reinstatement is completed. The CDTFA–570–B references the CDTFA–570–A and advises the supplier they may again accept a resale certificate from the specified taxpayer. It is extremely important that the CDTFA–570–B is mailed to the suppliers promptly when the revocation is cleared.

To notify swap meet and special event operators that a taxpayer does not hold a valid seller’s permit, a CDTFA-1584, Notification to Operator of Invalid Permit, should be sent.

These form letters should be used in lieu of any forms created by field offices of the same nature.

GENERAL

Despite the title, the CDTFA–465, Notice of Withhold, is not an earnings withholding order for taxes (see CPPM 755.010). The Notice to Withhold is used to prevent the transfer of a taxpayer’s assets when those assets are under the control, or in the possession, of another person and the use of a Notice of Levy is not warranted. The Notice to Withhold attaches only the taxpayer’s assets that are in another person’s possession at the time of service and has no effect on assets that later come into the other person’s control.

Any person who receives a Notice to Withhold and subsequently transfers or disposes of the taxpayer’s assets during the effective period of the notice, without first receiving consent from the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA), may be held personally liable up to the value of the assets transferred. However, the CDTFA can impose personal liability on the transferor only if the liability is not collectable solely because of the transfer or disposal of the assets.

The Notice of Withhold is not to be used routinely as the first step in the collection process. Collection staff should use the notice only after the taxpayer is given an opportunity to pay voluntarily but does not do so, or to stop the transfer of assets when the transfer would jeopardize the CDTFA’s collection efforts.

SERVICE OF NOTICE — CDTFA–465

A Notice to Withhold may be served upon a person within three years from the date the liability became final or within ten years from the last recording of an abstract or a lien. The service may be made by first class mail, however, if staff determines that it is in the state’s best interest, service may be made in person or by certified or registered mail. When service is accomplished in person, a signed copy of the notice should be obtained from the recipient at the time of the service. At the same time, an effort should be made to obtain a report of the assets of the taxpayer being held pursuant to the notice. Depending upon the type of organization served or the type of assets being held, it is not always possible to obtain an immediate report of the assets. Therefore, appropriate follow-up is necessary to ensure that the recipient provides a report, regardless of the method chosen for serving the Notice of Withhold.

RELEASE OF NOTICES TO WITHHOLD AND LEVY

A CDTFA–465–F, Authorization to Release Notice of Withhold, is used to release both a Notice of Withhold and a Notice of Levy, except in cases where it is necessary to release the asset(s) of a partnership account. In this situation, print a copy of the original document, stamp the upper-right corner of the notice with the release stamp, complete the blanks (including “authorized signature”) and prepare a photocopy for each of the partner’s being served. Since this form is used to release both the Notice of Withhold and the Notice of Levy, be sure to select the appropriate form when preparing to print a CDTFA–465–F.
Collections

REFUSAL OF PERSONAL SERVICE OF THE CDTFA–465  752.030

If the person served with a Notice to Withhold refuses to acknowledge service, a notation indicating the refusal should be made on the CDTFA–465. The date and time of service should be shown along with the name of the person with whom the notice was left. If a person refuses to accept personal service of a Notice to Withhold, an attempt should be made to have the notice served, either by certified or registered mail.

If this service is also refused, a Notice of Levy should be issued if the assets are in the form of money. If the assets are not money, a warrant should be obtained from the Collections Support Bureau so that the sheriff, marshal, constable or California Highway Patrol can confiscate the identified assets from the person in control or possession of the assets.

REPORT OF ASSETS HELD  752.040

After effective service is made, or when a report is received that assets are being held, the taxpayer should be contacted immediately and arrangements made for payment of the liability or to have the withheld assets released to the CDTFA.

Collection staff should use the levy or warrant process if the taxpayer is unwilling to make payment or to have the assets released to the CDTFA.

ASSETS TO BE HELD BY A PERSON SERVED A CDTFA–465  752.070

A person served with a Notice to Withhold, other than a bank, is required to hold all of the assets belonging to the taxpayer over which control is exercised, regardless of their value or form and regardless of the amount set forth on the notice. Banks, federal and state savings and loan associations, and federal and state credit unions are required to hold up to two times the amount, including penalty and interest, shown on the CDTFA–465 with respect to deposits, credits or personal property in their possession or under their control.

To avoid placing an undue hardship on the taxpayer, collection staff may consider issuing an order authorizing the release of excess assets when the value of assets held exceeds the amount of the liability. Before authorizing the release of excess assets, it is first necessary to determine the amount of retained assets that will pay the total liability plus any costs that might develop if it becomes necessary to use warrant procedures. Releasing excess assets as described is normally applicable only when the person is withholding money, rather than non-money assets.

SERVICE OF THE CDTFA–465 ON JOINT BANK ACCOUNTS  752.080

Under RTC section 6702, the CDTFA–465 may be served on a bank, state or federal savings and loan association, or a state or federal credit union, where a delinquent taxpayer holds an account jointly with another person. When the CDTFA has served a financial institution with a Notice to Withhold on a jointly held account, the financial institution is required to mail a notice to each person named on the account that indicates the amount and reason for the withhold. If, after receiving a response to the CDTFA–465 from the financial institution, there is uncertainty as to the extent of the taxpayer’s interest in the account, a Notice of Levy should be served (See CPPM 753.010).

EFFECTIVE PERIOD OF THE CDTFA–465  752.090

The effective period of a Notice of Withhold is 60 days from the date of service unless released sooner by the CDTFA. When it is necessary to require the person to withhold in excess of the 60-day period, a new Notice to Withhold must be served prior to the expiration of the original notice. Service more than one time should occur infrequently since the Notice of Withhold is used for collection purposes.

July 2009
SERVICE OF THE CDTFA–465 ON EMPLOYERS  752.095

A Notice of Withhold may not be served on employers to reach salaries, wages or commissions owed to the taxpayer. Salaries, wages or commissions must be garnished using a CDTFA–425–E, Earnings Withholding Order for Taxes.

SERVICE OF THE CDTFA–465 CREATES NO LIEN  752.100

Service of the Notice to Withhold does not create a lien upon the withheld assets. To create a lien, a Notice of Levy or a levy under a warrant is necessary. As long as the assets are held pursuant to the Notice of Withhold, they are subject to the liens of other creditors who might levy under a Writ of Execution and thereby assert priority over the CDTFA’s withhold. Therefore, a Notice of Levy should be promptly served to seize the assets and/or perfect the CDTFA’s lien.

SERVICE OF THE CDTFA–465 TO REACH RESERVE ACCOUNTS  752.110

If service of a Notice to Withhold upon a bank or other depository institution reveals a reserve account against which there is a contingent liability, issue a Notice of Levy. A contingent liability is one which is difficult to quantify, or which may or may not come to pass, e.g., payments that may be awarded pending the outcome of a lawsuit. Usually, considerable time is required for the elimination of the contingent liability and other creditors can levy under a Writ of Execution during this period. Therefore, the Notice of Levy procedure should be used to establish a lien rather than repeatedly renewing the withhold period using the CDTFA–465.

OFFICE CONTROLS — CDTFA–465  752.130

Each office should establish proper controls over the use of the Notice to Withhold. All employees must clearly understand who is authorized to sign and approve the use of the CDTFA–465 and those persons so authorized should have a thorough understanding of the situations and circumstances when utilization is proper. After service has been made, the person sending the notice has the responsibility for maintaining a follow up and taking appropriate follow up action to bring the matter to a successful conclusion.

WARRANTS AND LEVIES 753.000

GENERAL 753.010

Use of a warrant is one of the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA)'s most effective collection remedies. Warrants should be used with proper discretion and without unreasonable restrictions that might tend to discourage their use. There are many times when the use of a warrant or a notice of levy is necessary. When the use of these tools is indicated, there should be no hesitancy because of possible unpleasant reactions from the taxpayer. In practically all cases where the warrant or notice of levy is used, the taxpayer will have had an opportunity to clear the liability but failed to do so.

A warrant is a judicial writ authorizing an officer to make a seizure or to execute a judgment and is used to confiscate property in accordance with a legal judgment. The CDTFA may issue warrants to enforce liens and to collect amounts due. Warrants may be issued at any time within three years from the date on which the liability became final, or within ten years after the last recording of an abstract or lien (see RTC section 6776 and chart in CPPM 757.020). Before requesting a warrant, the case must be evaluated to ensure that such action will produce sufficient money to cover all costs and leave enough to pay the liability. Rather than using a warrant, a CDTFA–425–LA, Notice of Levy, is used to seize money, or right to money, held or controlled by the tax debtor or by a third party.

With the exception of wage levies (also known as Earnings Withholding Orders), a warrant to levy on tangible personal property is made by a sheriff, marshal, constable or officer of the California Highway Patrol (CHP). Upon receipt of the warrant, an officer is required to promptly serve it upon the taxpayer and take possession of the available assets according to the instructions that accompany the warrant. The officer will take possession and arrange for sale to the highest bidder at public auction. After deducting his fees, expenses and commissions from the proceeds of the sale, he will remit the remainder to the CDTFA to credit the taxpayer's account.

Before requesting a warrant to levy on personal property, the CDTFA must determine if the taxpayer is the legal owner of the property. Legal ownership can often be determined by examination of financing statements (Forms UCC–1 and UCC–3) filed with the Secretary of State. If financing statements are on file, the secured party should be contacted to see what amount, if any, remains due.

Sometimes a warrant is issued upon property in which a third party has an interest and the third party files a claim objecting to the seizure. Unless the amount of the claim is posted with the levying officer, or the levying officer is notified that the CDTFA opposes the validity of the third party claim, the levying officer must release the property to the claimant within five days after the claim is filed. (See CPPM 753.210.)

If it is in the best interest of the CDTFA to pay off a third party claim and seize the property, a request for funds to pay off the amount due will be sent to the Collections Support Bureau (CSB) when the warrant is requested. These requests should be made only when the third party claim is relatively small in relation to the taxpayer’s equity in the personal property.
WARRANTS 753.015

Team members may request the issuance of a Warrant – Keeper, Warrant – Seizure, or Warrant - Till-Tap by creating a case in the system. By virtue of a warrant:

1. A law enforcement representative (keeper) may be placed on the premises of a delinquent taxpayer for the purpose of taking possession of personal property. This procedure is most frequently used for, but is not restricted to, situations where the taxpayer is still operating a business. The officer may be instructed to levy upon the furniture, fixtures, and equipment owned by the taxpayer, the stock in trade, and cash in the register or on business premises. A keeper will remain on the business premises during the hours specified on the warrant. Requesting a “keeper” warrant requires CDTFA to pay advance fees to the law enforcement agency to which the warrant request is directed. (See section 753.050)

2. A law enforcement officer of the local county sheriff or California Highway Patrol (CHP) can be instructed to enter a business for the purpose of taking possession of the cash in the cash register(s) on the business premises. This procedure is commonly referred to as a “till-tap.” No payment of advance fees is necessary when requesting a till-tap.

3. A warrant may be issued to levy upon motor vehicles. There is no requirement that the legal owner’s interest in the automobiles be recorded. The ownership of motor vehicles must be registered with the Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) and any changes in the registered or legal ownership must be promptly reported to DMV. When consideration is given to levying upon a motor vehicle, DMV’s records must be checked to determine the ownership. If DMV records show a legal owner other than the taxpayer, a warrant will not be issued. On rare occasions, however, as in the case of a “nearly clear” motor vehicle, arrangements can be made to provide the levying officer with sufficient advance fees to allow him to pay off the small interest of a legal owner. If such a course is anticipated, Collections Support Bureau (CSB) must be advised of the exact amount required to determine whether this course of action is advisable.

4. A levy pursuant to a warrant may be placed upon real property when the liability is $5,000 or more. Before any levy is made on real property, the extent of the interest of the taxpayer must first be established. The real property records should be searched to determine:
   a. The manner in which title is shown.
   b. Trust deeds or mortgages against the property.
   c. If there are any other encumbrances such as liens, judgments, and attachments against the property.
5. These encumbrances must be recorded prior to the date on which CDTFA’s lien certificate was recorded to have priority over CDTFA’s lien. This search should also disclose whether the property is subject to a declaration of homestead. As a matter of policy, CDTFA will not levy and sell a taxpayer’s principal residence. In considering a warrant to levy on real property, the following steps must be taken:
   a. The fair market value of the property must be determined by a personal appraisal or by a qualified realtor familiar with the subject property.
   b. All title encumbrances, including the homestead exemption, must be deducted from the fair market value and the taxpayer’s interest in the remainder must be established pursuant to the manner in which title to the real property is vested, i.e., sole owner, joint tenancy, etc.
   c. The anticipated amount received from the forced sale of the real property is calculated to ensure that taking such action is practical. A comprehensive report and recommendation should be submitted to CSB for a decision.

Additional information regarding the seizure and sale of real property can be found in section CPPM section 757.150.

Keeper Warrants

If directed in the warrant instructions, levying officers may place a “keeper” on the premises of an operating business for the purpose of taking possession of personal property or collecting incoming receipts while allowing the business to operate. When deciding to request a keeper warrant, the responsible collector should keep in mind that it may become necessary to eventually sell the taxpayer’s property. The keeper’s function is to preserve the property and prevent its disposal pending clearance of the liability or public sale of the property. The anticipated daily receipts from the business or potential realized gain from the sale of taxpayer’s property should exceed the daily costs paid for the keeper.

Interest Accruals on Collections by Warrant

Since the officer serving the warrant and making collection is acting in the capacity of an agent of CDTFA, the date payment is received by the officer is considered to be the effective date of payment. Interest accruals, therefore, will depend upon the date the officer receives the funds and not on the date they are remitted to CDTFA.

Warrant Request Authority — Till-Taps and Keepers

A supervisor must approve all requests to issue till-tap or keeper warrants and will ensure that both of the following items have been addressed:

1. The business is actively operating and is of a type (generally cash-based) that will support the keeper or till-tap. Note: a keeper warrant may be ordered on a closed out permit as long as it is to be installed at the same owner’s active business location, which may have a different account number.

2. The average daily sales are enough to realistically expect payment above and beyond the fees associated with service of the warrant.

3. If the business is a cannabis business, the supervisor must coordinate with the Cannabis and Sales Suppression Section (CSSS) to have a warrant issued. CSSS will coordinate with the CHP and will request the warrant through CSB.
When the responsible collector determines that a keeper or till-tap warrant is appropriate, a warrant case must be created in the system and staged to the collector’s supervisor for approval. If approved, the supervisor will stage the case to CSB Review for further processing.

Till-Taps - Use of the California Highway Patrol

Requesting the California Highway Patrol (CHP) to serve a till-tap warrant can be costly. Therefore, team members are encouraged to utilize the local county sheriff instead of CHP whenever possible. However, using the sheriff instead of CHP is dependent upon the area for service and whether CHP can more quickly or efficiently serve the till-tap warrant in comparison to the sheriff.

There are eight CHP divisions that process and serve CDTFA till-tap warrants. The division area and contact information can be found on the CHP website on the Find an Office tab. When requesting a till-tap to be served by CHP, the correct CHP division address must be entered on the warrant to ensure that it is mailed to the proper CHP division for service. If the taxpayer is located in a city not shown in a division, CSB will contact CHP to determine which CHP division will serve the warrant.

The request for a warrant must include:

1. The address for service of the till-tap.
2. The type of business.
3. The normal business hours and preferred hours of service.
4. The specific number of days CHP must go to the business location.

Since a till-tap may not be successful in obtaining payment in full, limiting the number of days CHP must go to the business location will allow compliance team members to:

1. Assess the effectiveness of the till-tap warrant and determine if more days should be requested, or
2. Consider other collection remedies.

Prior to preparing the warrant, CSB will contact the appropriate CHP division and request an estimated cost to process the till-tap. This cost will then be entered as the Cost of Collection (COC) difference in the system. In some cases where CHP cannot provide an estimated cost, CSB will enter $999 for the COC. Once the actual cost of collection has been determined, the COC difference will be adjusted accordingly. For that reason, compliance team members should take notice that the COC difference in the system may not be exact, and the cost will be adjusted upon receipt of the billing from CHP. Compliance team members should contact CSB to determine if the COC is correct and resolve any issues concerning an outstanding COC.
All warrants, except those on wages, are issued by CSB upon request from team members. Requests will be reviewed by CSB to determine whether the use of a warrant is appropriate. Factors that will be considered are legality of action, anticipated results, and costs compared to amount expected to be collected.

The CSB will prepare the warrant, and the instructions to the levying officer. If additional assets are located, or the instructions are inadequate, administrators or persons who have been delegated authority will amend or supplement the instructions as necessary. In no case, however, will the period or amounts shown on the warrant be altered; in these instances, new warrants will be requested from CSB.

CDTFA is authorized to make advance payments of fees and expenses, other than fees and expenses incurred under the Cigarette and Tobacco Products Tax Law. That law provides for payment of fees and expenses upon completion of the services by the levying officer.

When an advance payment is necessary and a warrant request is transmitted to CSB, the entity to which it should be paid must be indicated. The collector will determine the amount of advance fees required and, in most cases, CSB will send the warrant and warrant instructions to the requesting office along with a check covering the advance fees. At times however, the warrant and instructions are sent directly to the law enforcement agency, with copies provided to the collector that made the request.

When CDTFA issues a warrant for collection to law enforcement entities, the Accounting Section prepares a check for advance fees, made payable to the law enforcement entity. The advance fees are drawn from CDTFA’s Revolving Fund.

Upon receipt of payment, compliance team members will first apply the money to the cost of collection (COC) bill items in the system. Any amount remaining after these costs have been paid in full will be applied to the liability indicated on the warrant.

Warrant Logs

Field offices are required to maintain a log for all outstanding warrants and costs of collection requested from CSB. The CDTFA-418, Warrant Log, may be used unless a COC tracking log tailored for the field office is used.

Team members must ensure that all unused advance fees, and any funds collected as a result of the warrant, are returned to CDTFA along with the original warrant. The compliance supervisor responsible for approving requests for fees and warrants should review the Warrant Log on a monthly basis. This ensures that team members are following up for the return of the advance fees and the original warrant and reconciling the COC bill items in the system.

Unused Cost of Collection Fees

There may be instances where the warrant is canceled. In this situation, the sheriff returns the unused advance fees. Team members will return the warrant and the unused fees back to CSB. CSB will forward the unused advance fees check back to the Accounting Section for further handling. The unused COC fees are not the taxpayer’s money and team members should not apply the funds to the taxpayer’s liability.
STATEMENT OF COSTS REQUIRED 753.052
Whenever CDTFA is required to pay the costs of a levy for which no reimbursement was received as a result of the levy, a statement of charges is required. The statement must be submitted by the levying officer in triplicate and should be forwarded through the originating office to CSB for approval and referral to the Accounting Office for payment, if not already paid in advance. No payment will be made until the statement detailing the items in triplicate has been received. A statement is not necessary if an advance payment was , and full reimbursement is received as a result of the levy.

COSTS AS AN OBLIGATION OF THE TAXPAYER 753.054
The advance payment, and any costs incurred for a warrant, becomes the obligation of the taxpayer and should be collected by the officer making the levy. Whenever costs are incurred through a levy from which no satisfaction is obtained, whether an advance was made or costs were later billed to CDTFA, the amount of the costs should be added to the tax liability and collected along with the tax when collection becomes possible.

LEVYING OFFICER’S RETURN OF WARRANT 753.056
Within 60 days after making a levy pursuant to a warrant, the levying officer must make a report of any action taken and/or the results of the warrant. The warrant should be returned to CDTFA with a report on the response from the person upon whom the levy was made, along with a statement on the amount collected, less costs and fees, and the net amount paid. If the warrant resulted in no collection, the officer must include that in their report and, if costs were incurred by CDTFA, a statement in triplicate must be submitted to CSB for transmittal to the Cashier Unit in Headquarters. (The Cashiering Manual contains the procedures for reimbursement of advanced warrant fees by levying officers.)

CANCELLATION OF WARRANT SERVICE BY LEVYING OFFICER 753.058
In rare instances, CDTFA may cancel or withdraw the warrant for collection before the law enforcement agency has served the document to the taxpayer. Withdrawals or cancellation of warrants must be made only when careful examination of the circumstances dictates that the cancellation is proper such as when the taxpayer files bankruptcy before service is made, a payment to clear the liability is made prior to service, death of a taxpayer, etc. In these situations, a telephone cancellation followed immediately by written confirmation to the law enforcement agency, with a copy to CSB, is proper. Cancellation of a warrant may only be made by authorized persons.
CIGARETTE AND TOBACCO PRODUCTS TAX LAW WARRANTS — NO ADVANCE FEES 753.060

Since the Cigarette and Tobacco Products Tax Law does not provide for advance payment of fees and expenses, the officer who will serve the levy should be contacted to determine if the levy can be made without an advance payment. If arrangements cannot be made, CSB should be notified. CSB will then determine whether the matter should be referred to the Attorney General for action against the taxpayer.

MOTOR VEHICLE WARRANT PROCEDURE — PROTECTIVE BIDS 753.070

The Department of General Services (DGS) has authorized the Attorney General (AG) to bid upon and purchase motor vehicles at a public sale conducted pursuant to CDTFA warrant. In order to avoid the possibility of a motor vehicle being sold for an unreasonably low price, CDTFA may enter a “protective” bid. The AG will designate a CDTFA employee as the AG’s special representative to make the bid and CSB will coordinate this procedure. The maximum protective bid shall not exceed two-thirds of the low “as is” Kelly Blue Book value of the vehicle, or the amount of the tax, including all costs of levy, whichever is the lesser.

The responsible office will furnish CSB with all pertinent information regarding an anticipated public sale. The information should include, but is not limited to:

1. Estimated value of the vehicle and amount of proposed bid.
2. All facts regarding third party claims.
3. Name of CDTFA employee who will represent the AG in making the bid.
4. Date of expected sale.

Upon reasonable prior notice, vehicles may be delivered to state garages maintained in Sacramento, San Francisco, Fresno, Los Angeles, and San Diego. As a successful bidder, the special representative will take possession of and deliver the vehicle to the nearest installation of DGS. CSB will notify DGS of all facts concerning the purchase and proposed resale of the vehicle and DGS will handle the storage and resale of the vehicle.

The responsible office must furnish the Accounting Section, with an itemized statement of expenditures in triplicate (letter form), including the amount bid for the motor vehicle. Upon proper notice, the Accounting Section will:

1. Issue a check for the law enforcement agency’s fees.
2. Obtain an advance from the State Controller in the amount needed for the revolving fund to credit the taxpayer’s account with the amount of the bid, less expenses.
3. Prepare a revolving fund check for the credit of the taxpayer’s account and transmit the check to the Cashier Unit at Headquarters through CSB.

When a motor vehicle purchased by CDTFA through bid-in procedures is subsequently resold by DGS, the proceeds from the sale that are transmitted to CDTFA will be distributed as follows:

1. The revolving fund will be reimbursed for all funds advanced.
2. The remaining funds will be transferred to the general fund.
FRAUDULENT CONVEYANCES

Generally, a fraudulent conveyance is a transfer of a property interest that is made for the purpose of preventing creditors from obtaining the asset(s) in satisfaction of claim(s).

To establish a fraudulent conveyance, one or more of the following elements must be substantiated:

1. Fraudulent intent. This is actual intent, as distinguished from the intent presumed in law, to hinder, delay or defraud creditors. An example of fraudulent intent is when corporate assets are transferred to the officers of the corporation, or their relatives or other persons associated with the corporation, to prevent creditors from obtaining the assets in satisfaction of claims. (Civil Code section 3439.04).

2. Insolvency. Every conveyance made and every obligation incurred by a person which is or will be thereby rendered insolvent is fraudulent as to creditors without regard to the actual intent if the conveyance is made or the obligation is incurred without fair consideration (Civil Code section 3439.05). Fair consideration is given for property conveyed when a fair equivalent value is received in good faith in exchange for such property (also see below).

3. Lack of Fair Consideration. Every conveyance made without fair consideration is fraudulent when the person making the conveyance of property either:
   a. “Intended to incur, or believed or reasonably should have believed he or she would incur, debts beyond his or her ability to pay as they became due” (Civil Code section 3439.04.)
   b. Is engaged in a transaction or business for which the remaining capital is unreasonably small (Civil Code section 3439.04).

4. Bulk Transfers. Any bulk transfer, such as a sale of a business, is fraudulent and void against any creditor of the transferor unless the transferee gives notice of the transfer in any recognized legal publication in the manner provided by Uniform Commercial Code section 6105 (see also UCC section 6105).

The supporting documentation for establishing a fraudulent conveyance should include a description of the property transferred and the name and address of the transferee. The transferee may be served with a notice of levy and/or a summons in a creditor’s suit under Code of Civil Procedures section 708.210, et seq.
There are three situations when either real or personal property not in the name of the taxpayer are subject to levy, lien, or some other enforcement procedure. These situations are:

1. Liability of the community property for debts of either spouse.
2. Property that was subjected to a lien when owned by the taxpayer.
3. Property that the taxpayer has fraudulently conveyed.

The last situation is where a nominee lien could be used.

A nominee is a person in whose name property is titled but who is not the actual owner. A nominee lien is an instrument recorded against certain property to allege the property is being held by another, the “nominee,” for the benefit and use of the taxpayer. The nominee, as recorded owner, has mere color of title while the taxpayer holds the equitable title. Filing a nominee lien gives notice that property is held by a nominee but really belongs to the taxpayer.

The filing of a nominee lien is proper procedure when a nominee third party holds title to the property as the result of a fraudulent conveyance by a delinquent taxpayer, or in cases where the circumstances of the transfer are similar to those of a fraudulent conveyance. The nominee lien is also used when the transferee is merely the alter ego of the taxpayer.

The filing of a nominee Notice of Tax Lien gives the transferee and potential purchasers of a specific property notice that the CDTFA asserts a lien on that property on the basis of the fraudulent transfer, and establishes the priority of the state’s lien under Government Code section 7171. Without the filing of a nominee Notice of Tax Lien, the state could lose priority if other lienors described in Government Code section 7170 (mechanics, judgment lien creditors, etc.) perfect their interests before the nominee lien is recorded.

The nominee lien procedure is easier to accomplish than a suit to set aside a fraudulent transfer or suit to establish transferee liability. The nominee lien enables the state to more securely encumber property of the taxpayer standing in the name of a third party.

The lien compels the taxpayer to take the action to remove the resulting cloud on the title of its property rather than the CDTFA having to initiate action to set aside a fraudulent conveyance. A cause of action with respect to a fraudulent transfer is subject to the provisions of Civil Code section 3439.09.
EVIDENCE TO SUPPORT NOMINEE LIENS 753.110

To determine whether a conveyance is fraudulent involves the consideration of various elements and factors, such as the:

1. Intent of the parties.
2. Financial conditions of the transfer.
3. Consideration, or lack of consideration, for the transfer.
4. Relationship of the parties.

Regarding intent of the parties, and the financial conditions and considerations of the transfer, see Civil Code sections 3439.04 and 3439.05 respectively.

Indications of intent (to be considered in combination with 2 and 4 above as strong evidence of fraudulent intent) include:

1. Concealment or disappearance of the taxpayer.
2. Efforts to hide the facts of the transfer from creditors.
3. Secrecy surrounding the transfer.
4. Transfer of all the taxpayer’s property.
5. Reservation of some benefit to the taxpayer.
6. Reliance by the taxpayer upon the transferred property for future support.

Actual intent to defraud must be proved by clear and convincing evidence, but circumstantial evidence often suffices to constitute such proof.

Regarding the financial conditions of the transfer, Civil Code section 3439.04 provides that every conveyance made and every obligation incurred by a person who is, or will be, thereby rendered insolvent is fraudulent as to creditors without regard to the actual intent if the conveyance is made or the obligation is incurred without fair consideration. Therefore, close scrutiny of the relationship of the parties is required where the transferee is closely related to, or controlled by, the transferor or debtor.

NOMINEE LIEN APPROVAL 753.120

In each case, a memorandum must be sent by the Administrator, through the CSB, to the legal staff for review and approval prior to the CSB forwarding the nominee Notice of Tax Lien for recordation. Do not send the memorandum directly to the Legal Division.

The memorandum should:

1. Outline the facts of the case.
2. List all criteria upon which the staff is relying to assert that the person who holds title is merely a nominee of the taxpayer.
3. Include copies of relevant documents.
4. Include a property address and parcel number or property legal description.
CHECKLIST FOR MAKING A NOMINEE LIEN REQUEST 753.130

1. Determine that the real property on which a nominee lien is desired is not currently deeded to the taxpayer.

2. Document the date of the transfer (copy of current deed).

3. Document the date the taxpayer first became aware of the pending tax liability.

4. Obtain copies of grant deeds, quit claim deeds, and deeds of trust in the chain of title from taxpayer forward (attach to request).

5. Obtain current county assessor’s property tax assessment and parcel number.

6. If property was never titled in taxpayer, obtain the documentation to validate the request (attach to request).

7. Document all facts that support the case, for example, relationship, consideration or lack of consideration.

LEVY POLICY 753.200

A CDTFA-425-LA, Notice of Levy, is a collection tool used when a taxpayer has not voluntarily resolved a liability after it becomes due and payable. The levy is used to collect the taxpayer’s interest in or right to money controlled by the taxpayer or a third party. Funds held in a joint bank account by parties who are married to each other or are registered domestic partners are presumed to be community property under Probate Code section 5305(a), and subject to levy.

Levies are most commonly served on financial institutions (banks), but can also be served on merchant credit card processors, stock trading companies, third parties (e.g., to attach the taxpayer’s commissions), tenants (to attach rents payable), or third-party customers (for accounts payable). The money remitted to the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) pursuant to a levy represents money the entity owes and would have otherwise paid to the taxpayer.

Levies may be automatically generated prior to the account being assigned to a specific collector. The voucher for payment on automated levies will have the return address for the office of control, whereas payment vouchers for levies sent on accounts assigned to a collector will have the name and office address of the collector.

The levy should be approved by the Administrator or a designee. The designee may be at the level of Business Taxes Representative (BTR) after 6 months of work experience as a BTR, or Tax Technician III (TT III) after completing probation as a TT III. Generally, TT IIIs work routine accounts with thresholds below $5,000. If, after successfully completing probation, a TT III promotes to a BTR, the 6-month work experience requirement may be waived.

Supervisors are responsible for confirming that probation and work experience requirements are satisfied before granting levy authority to BTRs and TT IIIs. Collectors who have not met the requirement must get approval to send levies from a supervisor or lead (Business Taxes Compliance Specialist or Business Taxes Specialist I/II). The supervisor or lead must add notes in the system that the levy is approved.

Levies, whether generated automatically or manually, will be printed and mailed from Headquarters and do not require a wet signature. However, manually created levies can be printed locally.
With the exception of a taxpayer’s interest in a decedent’s estate, a levy notice will only be used to levy money or right to money held or controlled by the taxpayer or by a third party. Warrants will continue to be requested for keepers or to reach any assets other than money or right to money (excepting wages). An addressed envelope should be included with the levy notice to ensure the reply is directed to the correct CDTFA office.

Notice to Withhold form CDTFA–465 may be used for any reason where use of the levy notice is not desired (see CPPM 752.000).

Levies should not be sent to multiple financial institutions at one time if there is no evidence indicating they have assets of the taxpayer. This style of collection is not permissible. Through investigation and skip tracing, collectors must work to identify financial institutions and/or third-party sources that may be holding assets belonging to the taxpayer before sending a levy. In addition, the financial institution will be allowed time to respond to an outstanding levy prior to issuing another levy to the same financial institution, unless there is a valid business reason to levy again.

The taxpayer’s social security number must be deleted from all copies of the Notice of Levy when the levy is being sent to entities other than financial institutions if the social security number has not been automatically masked by the system. The exception to this rule is when a levy is sent to a credit card (merchant card) processor. Social security numbers may be included on levies sent to credit card processors even though they are not included in the legal definition of financial institutions.

Revenue and Taxation Code (RTC) section 6703, equivalent special taxes and fees statutes, and related sections of the Code of Civil Procedures (CCP) authorize the CDTFA to use levies to take possession of tangible personal property in possession or under the control of a taxpayer, when served personally or by first class mail. This includes seizing money held or controlled by the taxpayer or by a third party (e.g., an employee), sometimes referred to as a till tap levy. The collector will take the CDTFA-425-LA generated from the system when making a field call to the business to personally serve the till tap levy. However, in the event of non-compliance with the till tap levy, a warrant may still be necessary (see CPPM section 753.025).

When a collector is uncertain whether the taxpayer or their employee is operating the business, two CDTFA-425-LA forms should be generated from the system. One should be addressed to the taxpayer and the other to the employee of the taxpayer. The taxpayer’s name and business address will be entered on both copies of the levy, but “Employee of” should be entered in the attention line for a till tap levy being addressed to the taxpayer’s employee.

The CDTFA-425-LA addressed to the employee must contain the following modifications before finalization:

- The till tap blurb is added on the levy.
- The following blurb is added: “You are notified in the capacity of a person in possession of monies owed to tax debtor.”
- The taxpayer’s social security number is deleted.

All monies collected from a till tap levy must be converted to a money order or cashier’s check payable to the CDTFA before collectors return to the office. See CPPM section 705.000 for additional information regarding processing funds received during a field call.
The Notice of Levy contains two copies of the levy. The first copy is sent to the entity being levied upon (e.g., bank, credit card processor), also known as the “garnishee.” The second copy is sent directly to the taxpayer within 10 business days after the first copy is sent. Generally, levies to garnishees and taxpayer copies are automatically printed and mailed from Headquarters unless the collector chooses to print and mail them directly from their office. The taxpayer’s copies include relevant information concerning the levy. Levies may be served either by mail or in person, but not electronically.

Taxpayers are entitled to various exemptions provided in the United States Code and in the California codes, primarily the Code of Civil Procedure (CCP). Per CCP section 700.010, the CDTFA-425, Exemptions from the Enforcement of Judgments, must accompany the copy of the levy notice sent to the taxpayer. The CDTFA-425 must also be sent to the spouse when sending a levy to attach community property belonging to the spouse.

CCP section 700.010 also requires that the CDTFA-425-L3, Notice of Levy - Information Sheet, be included with the copy of the levy sent to both the taxpayer and the garnishee. The CDTFA-425-L3 must also be sent to the spouse when sending a levy to attach community property belonging to the spouse.

The CDTFA-425-L3 includes an Information Sheet, an Exemption Claim Form, and an Individual Financial Statement (CDTFA-403-E). For additional information on claims of exemption, see CPPM section 753.260. For information regarding third-party claims, see CPPM section 753.210.

Generally, a financial institution served with a levy will hold levied funds for ten days from the date it receives the levy before remitting the funds to CDTFA. The taxpayer’s copy of the levy, including the CDTFA-425, Exemptions from the Enforcement of Judgments, the CDTFA-425-L3, Notice of Levy – Information Sheet, and the CDTFA-403-E, Individual Financial Statement, is mailed to the taxpayer within ten business days after the levy has been mailed to the garnishee. This period will allow time for the financial institution, including banks with a centralized levy processing system, to receive and process the CDTFA levy.

Per CCP section 703.520, the taxpayer has ten days from the date of receipt of the Notice of Levy to file a claim of exemption with the office that issued the levy. If the taxpayer contacts the responsible office and asserts that they qualify for an exemption from enforcement of the levy, the collector will provide the taxpayer with an additional three days to file the claim of exemption. The collector should request the financial institution place a hold on any funds captured for an additional three days.

CCP section 684.115 requires financial institutions with more than nine California branches to designate one or more in-state central levy processing centers and authorizes those with nine or fewer California branches to do the same. Financial institutions must submit their central levy processing center address to the Department of Financial Protection and Innovation (DFPI) where these addresses will be available to the public.

Levies must be sent to the designated central processing center for them considered valid. If a financial institution fails to designate a central levy processing center, each branch of that institution located in California is deemed to be a central location. Also, CDTFA remains authorized, pursuant to RTC section 6703 and equivalent special taxes and fees statutes, to direct the levy to a financial institution’s out-of-state processing branch. If the collector fails to send the levy to the properly designated central levy processing center when one is established, the financial institution will have the discretion to either accept or reject the levy.
Notice of Levy

A directory of the central processing locations for financial institutions is regularly updated in the system. When preparing a levy to be mailed to a financial institution that does not have a central processing center listed in the system, refer to DFPI’s website, www.dfpi.ca.gov, under Locations for Service of Legal Process, which is located under the Laws and Regulations link, to determine if a central levy processing center has been designated to ensure proper service.

Generally, the notice of levy may not be used to levy wages or the taxpayer's assets located outside of California, held by out-of-state entities. However, if the taxpayer resides or otherwise has nexus in California, or the entity holding the taxpayer's asset has nexus in California, a levy may be enforceable to attach the asset (see Compliance Policy and Management Guidelines for additional information on out-of-state levies).

The levy creates a lien for a period of two years on all property described in the notice that is held at the time of service, and the person in possession or control of the property is required to deliver it to the levying officer. (See CPPM section 753.250).

In addition, RTC section 6703 and equivalent special taxes and fees statutes provide for a continuous levy. The Notice of Levy is effective until the amount specified in the notice, including accrued interest, has been paid in full, unless the levy is withdrawn, or until one year from the date the notice is received, whichever occurs first. There are two limitations to the continuous levy:

1. The continuous levy is applicable to sales or use tax liabilities and some special taxes and fees programs; check each specific law.

2. Funds in a deposit account, as defined by Uniform Commercial Code section 9102, are not subject to a continuous levy. This section defines “deposit account” as a demand, time savings, passbook or like account maintained with a bank, savings and loan association, credit union, or like organization other than accounts evidenced by a negotiable certificate of deposit. Therefore, only the funds available in the deposit account when the levy notice is served on a financial institution are subject to withhold and subsequent payment to CDTFA.
A third party may claim ownership or the right to possession of levied property pursuant to CCP section 688.030. Third parties claiming ownership or security interests may file a third-party claim on the property seized by the CDTFA following the service of a warrant or a notice of levy. A third-party claimant should file its third-party claim with the CDTFA office that issued the Notice of Levy.

Third parties affected by a CDTFA levy may not have received a copy of the Notice of Levy and the accompanying information. When collection staff receives inquiries from third parties, staff should immediately provide a copy of the CDTFA-425-L3, instruct the third party on how to file the claim, and stress that the claim must be received by CDTFA prior to any levied funds being deposited by the CDTFA. If a third-party claim is received after the CDTFA has deposited the funds, CDTFA staff should advise the claimant that the only recourse available is to follow the claim for refund process.

The levying office is responsible for advising the third-party claimant of all the requirements for a valid claim and determining whether a third-party claim conforms to the requirements of CCP section 720.130. The levying office is also responsible for analyzing the claim and, when appropriate, releasing the third-party property that was levied in error.

The third-party claim must be signed under penalty of perjury and contain all of the following:

1. The name of the third-party and an address in this state where service by mail may be made upon the third-party.
2. A description of the property in which an interest is claimed.
3. A description of the ownership interest claimed, including a statement of the facts upon which the claim is based.
4. An estimate of the market value of the interest claimed.

The Exemption Claim Form on the back of the CDTFA-425-L3 may be used to file a third-party claim (see CPPM section 753.265). Copies of supporting documentation should be attached to the third-party claim. However, documentation need not be provided in order for a third-party claim to be valid.

All third-party claims conforming to CCP section 720.130 which cannot be resolved by the office or unit that initiated the levy should immediately be referred to the Litigation Bureau in the CDTFA's Legal Division, using the following procedures:

1. Notification of receipt of a third-party claim is to be sent via email to the Assistant Chief Counsel of the Litigation Bureau with copies to the appropriate program area division Deputy Director, Administrator, Compliance Principal, and the Collections Support Bureau (CSB).
2. The third-party claim along with documentation, if any, is to be immediately scanned and sent by email or faxed to the Assistant Chief Counsel of the Litigation Bureau and the hard copy will be sent by inter-office mail to the Litigation Bureau. The hard copy must include:
   a. A copy of the warrant or notice of levy, including all spousal blurbs or affidavits.
   b. A brief summary of action taken to levy on the property. The summary should include any known information regarding the relationship between the tax debtor and the third-party, any information substantiating the tax debtor’s ownership of the property, and any other information that may assist the Litigation Bureau in evaluating the third-party claim.
The attorney in the Litigation Bureau that is assigned to the case will promptly determine if a third-party claim legal proceeding should be initiated, or if the third-party claim is justified. If the litigation attorney determines the claim is justified, or other circumstances warrant the levy’s release, the litigation attorney will advise the collector to release the levy. Otherwise, the litigation attorney will request CSB to prepare the referral for the office of the Attorney General for commencement of a third-party claim legal proceeding.

SERVICE OF CDTFA–425–L4 TO REACH COMMUNITY INTEREST OF TAXPAYER IN SPOUSE’S ACCOUNT

RTC section 6703 and equivalent special taxes and fees statutes authorize the CDTFA to serve a Notice of Levy on a third-party holding property belonging to a taxpayer. Funds held in a joint bank account are presumed to be community property (Probate Code § 5305(a)) and funds in some bank accounts in the name of the taxpayer’s spouse may be subject to levy as community property. To reach community property interests, collectors must attach a spousal affidavit (CDTFA-425-L4) to the Notice of Levy.

Family Code section 910 provides:

“(a) Except as otherwise expressly provided by statute, the community estate is liable for a debt incurred by either spouse before or during marriage, regardless of which spouse has the management and control of the property and regardless of whether one or both spouses are parties to the debt or to a judgment for the debt.

(b) “During marriage” for purposes of this section does not include the period after the date of separation, as defined in Section 70, and before a judgment of dissolution of marriage or legal separation of the parties.”

Family Code section 911 provides:

“(a) The earnings of a married person during marriage are not liable for a debt incurred by the person’s spouse before marriage. After the earnings of the married person are paid, they remain not liable so long as they are held in a deposit account in which the person’s spouse has no right of withdrawal and are uncommingled with other property in the community estate, except property insignificant in amount.

(b) As used in this section:

(1) “Deposit account” has the meaning prescribed in paragraph (29) of subdivision (a) of Section 9102 of the Commercial Code.

(2) “Earnings” means compensation for personal services performed, whether as an employee or otherwise.”
Before a levy for community property is sent, a thorough investigation must be done to determine whether the funds of the non-debtor spouse or registered domestic partner are community property. The findings of this investigation should be documented in the system. Various resources are available to assist in establishing community property interests, including:

- Income tax returns filed jointly within the last two years
- County marriage license information/marriage certificate
- County family court index cases involving dissolution of marriage or legal separation
- Dissolution of the marriage/divorce decree
- Legal separation agreement
- Prenuptial agreement establishing sole and separate property
- Loan application showing marital status
- Evidence of living apart (lease agreement)
- Insurance policy (auto, property, and life insurance)
- Copies of checks to verify names on an account
- Information obtained and documented in the system from the taxpayer or a third party regarding marital status

While all of these sources are not required or may not be available prior to sending the levy for community property, it is the responsibility of the assigned collector to determine that sufficient evidence has been obtained. In addition to verifying the spouse/domestic partner information, a current address should be documented to ensure the spouse/domestic partner receives a copy of the levy, copy of the CDTFA-425, and a copy of the CDTFA-425-L3.

The following community property blurb should be included on the CDTFA-425-LA when levying a joint account held in the names of the taxpayer and the taxpayer’s spouse/registered domestic partner, or when the intent is to reach the community property interest that the taxpayer may hold in an account in the name of the spouse/registered domestic partner:

“Service of this Notice also intended to reach any and all community property interest of defendant in any account held in the name of the spouse/registered domestic partner, (Spouse Name), SSN (Spouse SSN). (Cal. Family Code section 910[a]).”

For privacy protection purposes, the social security numbers included in the “Identification of Tax Debtor” area of the levy are automatically censored in the system on the taxpayer’s copy of the Notice of Levy.

Because the community property blurb contains the social security number of the spouse/registered domestic partner, it should be entered in the “Identification of Tax Debtor” area of the levy. Do not enter the blurb within the “Property to be levied upon is described as:” area of the levy because the social security number will not be censored.

If the entity is a partnership, ensure only the name of the partner for whom community property interest applies is listed in the “Identification of Tax Debtor” area of the levy.

If a warrant is required to levy on a community property asset, send the Collections Support Bureau (CSB) a request through the system and include the name and social security number of the spouse or registered domestic partner. Additional information on how to request this can be found in the Help Manager by searching “Request for a Warrant on a Collection Case.”
Family Code section 760 provides that all property, real or personal, wherever situated, acquired by a married person during the marriage while domiciled in this state is community property. In addition, under Family Code section 761, community property transferred into a revocable trust during the marriage remains community property as long as the rights and interest of the property held in trust require the consent of both spouses.

The most common types of community property are:

1. Earnings of either spouse.
2. Personal injury damages for:
   a. The wrongful death of, or injuries to, a child. NOTE: The recovery of the wrongful death of a spouse belongs to heirs, and is not community property [Fiske v. Wilke, 67 C.A.2d 440, 444 (1945)].
   b. A Workman’s Compensation award.
3. The proceeds of community property and proceeds of earnings, including pension and retirement benefits.
4. A proportionate share of the profits of a separate property business to which a spouse contributes labor or skills.
5. A loan on personal credit. NOTE: Money borrowed on the credit of separate property is separate property. An example of this is when separate property is used as security (mortgaged) so that money can be borrowed.

Separate property includes the following:

1. Property owned by either spouse before marriage.
2. Property acquired during marriage by gift, devise, bequest, or descent.
3. The rents, issues and profits of separate property.
4. Property acquired during marriage with the proceeds of separate property.
5. Personal injury damages acquired from an inter-spousal action.
6. Earnings of a spouse and the minor children living with, or in the custody of, the spouse, after the date of separation of the spouses. (Family Code section 771)
In general, community property is liable for a debt incurred by either spouse before or during marriage. The following approach should be applied to any community property question:

1. Determine whether the property to be secured is community property, the separate property of the taxpayer, or the separate property of the taxpayer’s spouse.
2. Determine whether the taxpayer or spouse incurred the debt.
3. Determine if the debt was incurred before, during, or after the marriage.

The earnings of a married person during marriage are community property and a married person is liable for the debts incurred by the person’s spouse during marriage. However, for debts incurred by the person’s spouse prior to marriage, the earnings can be reached after they are deposited in an account in which the person’s spouse has a right of withdrawal or are commingled with other community property.

Debt incurred by a person after the dissolution of marriage is his or her own. Separate property of the taxpayer, and property received in the division of property at dissolution of marriage that was community property during the marriage, is liable for a debt or debts incurred by the person before or during marriage, even if the debt was assigned to the person’s spouse for payment. Such property is not liable for a debt or debts incurred by the person’s spouse before or during marriage unless the debt was assigned for payment by the person in the division of the property. (This does not affect the liability of property for the satisfaction of a lien on the property.)

FAILURE OF GARNISHEE TO DELIVER

Although an officer who makes a levy to reach personal property belonging to the taxpayer will demand that the property be delivered to the levying officer, the levying officer is under no obligation to take any further action to press the garnishee for delivery.

If the garnishee fails to deliver, the responsibility for taking further action rests with the CDTFA. In these cases, staff should contact the person and attempt to have delivery made to the officer or, where appropriate, directly to the CDTFA. If the garnishee refuses to make the delivery voluntarily, the only recourse available is to file an action (creditor’s suit) for delivery or for damages if the property has been disposed of. A prompt report should be made to the CSB when a situation of this type develops.

NOTICE OF LEVY TO CREATE A LIEN

Situations exist in which the taxpayer has an interest in personal property held by another person but against which there is a contingent liability, or for some other reason the property cannot be turned over to the levying officer. For example, a reserve account with a bank or finance company, against which there remains unpaid installment contracts on merchandise sold while the person was in business and where a number of months or even years are required before the contracts will pay off.

In such a situation, a Notice of Levy should be sent to the bank or finance company in order to perfect a lien upon the reserve account as protection against other executing creditors. Code of Civil Procedures (CCP) section 697.710 provides that liens created by levies of this type are valid for two years from the date appearing on the levy document. The lien may be extended by making a renewal levy before the expiration of the two-year period. The holder of the reserve account or property should be contacted from time to time regarding the status of the matter. (Liens created by levy on a judgment debtor’s interest in personal property of a decedent’s estate are valid for one year after the decree distributing the interest has become final. (CCP section 700.200.)
LEVY ON PROPERTY SUBJECT TO FEDERAL LIENS 753.253

When the Federal Government issues an assessment, a lien is created on all property, real and personal, belonging to the person against whom the assessment is made. The CDTFA’s assessment lien has equal priority, based on time of assessment. As far as the effect of the federal lien against money is concerned, CDTFA levies can be made upon the holder of funds and collection made, if the holder is unaware of the existence of the federal lien at the time the funds are paid over. The federal authorities can intervene and assert their priority at any time before the funds come into the possession of the CDTFA.

LEVY ON PERSONAL PROPERTY LOCATED IN A PRIVATE PLACE 753.255

CCP section 699.030 provides a mechanism whereby the CDTFA may apply to the court for an order directing the levying officer to seize property in a private place such as a garage, store and lock facility (mini storage), etc. An important feature of this code section is that the CDTFA is allowed to apply for a court order to seize the property in a private place “ex parte.” Ex Parte is defined as:

On one side only; by or for one party; done for, in behalf of, or on the application of, one party only. A judicial proceeding, order, injunction, etc., is said to be “ex parte” when it is taken or granted at the instance and for the benefit of one party only, and without notice to, or contestation by, any person adversely interested.

If it appears that the taxpayer will remove the property in question if given advance notification, and the judge concurs, the order to seize the property will be granted without notification to the taxpayer.

This procedure requires an Attorney General referral and a declaration by the person investigating the case. Documentation for requesting a levy ex parte is sent to the CSB for referral to the Attorney General. A sample declaration follows.
Introduction

The California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) applies ex parte pursuant to Code of Civil Procedure section 699.030 for an order directing the California State Police or any other California law enforcement agency to seize certain vehicles owned by respondents [Name 1] and [Name 2] in satisfaction of their outstanding tax liability.

The application is made ex parte because, if given notice, respondents may remove the vehicles. An ex parte application is specifically authorized by section 699.030.

Argument

The following are the facts and legal principles on which the application is based:

1. Respondents, [Name 1] and [Name 2] owe, but refuse to pay, their sales tax liability of $325,873.90 for the period July 1, 19XX to June 30, 19XX;

2. The CDTFA’s numerous attempts to obtain voluntary payment from respondents have been unsuccessful;
3. According to DMV records respondents are the individual or joint owners of the following vehicles:

These vehicles have been observed parked at respondents’ residence XXXX -- Court, Beantown or according to information received by the CDTFA may be parked either in a garage adjacent to the above address or stored at -- -- Mini Storage, XXXXX -- --, --, --, in room numbers 52, 90, 126, 164, 174, 175, 176, 177, 231 and 300.

4. The CDTFA has issued respondents a warrant for the collection of the tax. The CDTFA is authorized to issue such a warrant, which has the same force and effect as a writ of execution. (Rev. & Tax Code section 6703);

5. A state agency which may lawfully issue a warrant may use any of the remedies available to a judgment creditor, including those set forth in Code of Civil Procedure section 699.030. (Code of Civ. Proc. section 688.020);

6. A judgment creditor may apply ex parte for an order directing the seizure of property in a private place. (Code of Civ. Proc. section 699.030.)

Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, this Court should issue an order directing the California Highway Patrol or any other California law enforcement official to seize respondent’s automobiles from their residence or storage areas.

California Department of Tax and Fee Administration
In some instances, a levy may need to be modified or released. Other than the authority of the Taxpayers’ Rights Advocate to release a levy as set forth in RTC section 7094 and equivalent special taxes and fees statutes (see CPPM section 155.022), the office serving the levy retains the responsibility for determining if it should be released or modified. If the taxpayer who has been served a levy contacts an office that did not issue the levy, the contacted office will assist the taxpayer in contacting the responsible office. If the taxpayer physically goes into a CDTFA office other than the office that served the levy, the contacted office will immediately notify the office responsible for the levy and both offices will attempt to resolve the account while the taxpayer is present in the office. The collector who issued the levy, or a collection supervisor will determine if it is appropriate to release or modify the levy.

The levy(s) must be released if the taxpayer pays the liability in full with certified funds (cashier’s check or money order). The taxpayer may make this payment in cash if they have received an exemption from the “no cash” policy.

The following examples illustrate other situations where CDTFA will release or modify a levy. This list is not all-inclusive and requests to release or modify the levy should be reviewed on a case-by-case basis.

- The levy is served during a bankruptcy while the automatic stay is in effect or after a bankruptcy where the liability is subject to discharge.
- Levied funds are exempt pursuant to the United States Code or the California Code of Civil Procedures as notated on the CDTFA-425, Exemption from the Enforcement of Judgements.
- Delinquent or amended returns have been accepted and processed that will reduce or eliminate the liability.
- The liability that remains due is less than the amount of the levy.
- CDTFA determines that the funds attached by the levy are not the taxpayer’s funds and are not community property.
- CDTFA erroneously served a levy upon a corporate officer’s personal bank account for a corporate liability and a dual determination has not yet been billed.
- CDTFA determines that the levy is creating a significant financial hardship for the taxpayer.
- It is determined that the levy was issued after the date of a taxpayer’s death. However, if the levy was issued prior to, but remained pending as of the date of the taxpayer’s death, it continues to be enforceable.

When CDTFA determines a levy should be released or modified, the CDTFA-465-F, Release/Modify Notice of Levy, is generated in the system and sent to the garnishee.

Although a levy is generally released by sending the CDTFA-465-F, there may be situations requiring the use of a photocopy of the original Notice of Levy. In this case, the levy release information is stamped on the front of the document. The original stamped document is then sent to the garnishee and a copy is sent to the taxpayer.

In all cases, the reason for the levy release shall be documented in the system.
CLAIMS OF FINANCIAL HARDSHIP

The collector is responsible for reviewing any claims of financial hardship. The collector must take into consideration the taxpayer’s health and welfare if the taxpayer claims that the levy will create irreparable harm. The outcome of the collector’s analysis of the taxpayer’s financial condition may require the levy to be modified. Early resolution affords the taxpayer an opportunity to make other arrangements to resolve their liability, such as entering into a payment plan with the CDTFA.

A completed CDTFA-403-E, Individual Financial Statement, along with supporting documentation must be submitted by the taxpayer to determine whether a modification of the levy is appropriate. The collector must promptly evaluate the financial statement and documentation submitted by the taxpayer before modifying the levy. Analysis of the financial information will disclose the taxpayer’s complete financial condition and provide a basis to make a decision whether the levy should be modified to a lesser amount or released.

If the collector recommends that the levy be modified, the collector will obtain the approval from the supervisor who is delegated the responsibility to review the financial documentation. If possible, the reviewing supervisor should not be the assigned collector’s direct supervisor. The decision should be clearly documented in the system. In addition, the collector will also enter notes in the system concerning the asset information based on the collector’s findings.

However, if the review of the taxpayer’s financial condition reveals there are sufficient assets such that the amount held pursuant to the levy does not create a significant hardship, the collector will inform the taxpayer that the levy will not be modified or released, and will enter notes in the system.

Pursuant to RTC section 7094 and equivalent special taxes and fees statutes, the Taxpayers’ Rights Advocate (TRA) has the authority to release any levy, or order the return of levied funds up to $2,300 received within the last 90 days upon the TRA’s finding that the action threatens the health or welfare of the taxpayer or the taxpayer’s spouse or family (see CPPM section 155.022).
EXEMPTIONS AVAILABLE TO TAXPAYERS

Code of Civil Procedure (CCP) sections 703.010 through 704.210 allow taxpayers to claim their property is exempt from levy. The taxpayer’s copy of the Notice of Levy includes a CDTFA-425, Exemptions from the Enforcement of Judgments, a CDTFA-425-L3, Notice of Levy – Information Sheet, and a CDTFA-403-E, Individual Financial Statement. Exemption claims must be made within ten days after the date the taxpayer was served a copy of the levy.

The following table summarizes amounts exempt from levy under CCP sections 704.010 to 704.100, effective April 1, 2019. These amounts are adjusted every three years as provided by CCP section 703.150. (A table of current dollar amounts of exemptions from the enforcement of judgments, form EJ-156, is available at www.courts.ca.gov.)

</table>

As explained in CCP section 704.080, certain types of property are not subject to levy and a Claim of Exemption does not need to be filed for them. Included in this category are “social security benefits” and “public benefits.” The amounts listed in the above table for social security and public benefits are automatically exempted from the enforcement of judgments (levies), provided the benefits are directly deposited by the government or its agent.
Social Security and Public Benefits Directly Deposited

Within ten days, the financial institution shall provide the levying officer with a written notice stating that the deposit amount is one in which payments of social security benefits or public benefits are directly deposited by the government or its agent, and whether there are funds in the deposit account that exceed the automatic exemption. If so, it is the responsibility of the collector to determine whether the excess funds are social security or public benefits. The collector should contact the taxpayer immediately and request the last three bank statements for the account and information regarding the deposit amounts of the benefits. The collector may also request income tax information through the data warehouse in the system or the External Access Tracking (EAT) resource person (see CPPM section 720.030) to determine if all or most of the taxpayer’s income is from social security or public benefits. The collector should examine all information available for an indication there is another source of deposits into the account (e.g., wages from a spouse, rental property income not yet levied).

If the collector determines that the excess funds are not social security or public benefits or otherwise exempt from levy, a court hearing is required to reach the excess funds. Because CCP section 704.080 states that an affidavit must be filed with the court within five days of the date that the notice was received from the financial institution, the collector should immediately refer the matter to his or her immediate supervisor, who will refer the claim to the Litigation Bureau of the CDTFA’s Legal Division as follows:

1. Notification of receipt of the social security or public benefits information from the financial institution should be sent via email to the Assistant Chief Counsel of the Litigation Bureau with a copy to the Deputy Director, Administrator, and Compliance Principal.
2. The information from the financial institution must be immediately faxed or scanned and emailed to the Assistant Chief Counsel of the Litigation Bureau.
3. A copy of the warrant or notice of levy, including affidavits, and a brief summary of action taken to levy on the property should be forwarded to the Litigation Bureau. The summary should include any known information that may assist the Litigation Bureau in evaluating the claim.
4. Hard copies of the documents must follow via inter-office mail to the Litigation Bureau.
5. If the excess funds are determined to be social security or public benefits or otherwise exempt, a CDTFA-465-F, Release/Modify Notice of Levy must be promptly sent to the financial institution to release the funds.
CLAIMS OF EXEMPTION

If the taxpayer claims that he or she is entitled to an exemption under sections of the Civil Code of Procedure (CCP) or United States Code (including as a third party), the collector will instruct the taxpayer to file a claim of exemption by completing the Exemption Claim Form provided with their copy of the Notice of Levy and, if the applicable statute requires it, submitting a completed CDTFA-403-E, Individual Financial Statement. Pursuant to CCP section 703.520, the claim must be made within ten days after the notice of levy was served on the taxpayer. The “date of service” is considered to be the date the notice of levy is placed into the mail.

The taxpayer, or a person acting on behalf of the taxpayer, may file a claim of exemption. In cases of community property, a taxpayer's spouse may also file a claim of exemption. While these forms are included with the taxpayer’s copy of the levy, the taxpayer may also obtain an Exemption Claim Form and current dollar amounts of exemptions from enforcement of judgments online at www.courts.ca.gov/forms (see CPPM section 753.260).

A claim of exemption must conform to the provisions of CCP section 703.520. For a claim to be valid it must be filed timely, be executed under oath (signed under penalty of perjury) and include all of the following:

- The name of the claimant and the mailing address where the notice of our opposition to the claim can be mailed;
- The name and last known address of the taxpayer (judgment debtor) if the claimant is not the taxpayer (judgment debtor);
- A description of the property claimed to be exempt. If an exemption is claimed pursuant to CCP section 704.010 (motor vehicles) or 704.060 (tools), the claimant shall describe all other property of the same type (including exempt proceeds of property of the same type) owned by the taxpayer alone or in combination with others on the date of levy and identify the property, whether or not levied upon, to which the exemption is to be applied. If the claimed exemption is under CCP section 704.100 (insurance policies), the claimant shall state the nature and amount of all other property of the same type owned by the taxpayer or the taxpayer’s spouse alone, or in combination with others, on the date of levy;
- A financial statement if required by CCP section 703.530. The financial statement must show that the levied property is necessary for the support of the taxpayer, their spouse, and their dependents. The financial statement must include all sources and amount of earnings and assets of the taxpayer, their spouse, and their dependents. It must also show their outstanding obligations. The financial statement must be signed under penalty of perjury.
- A citation of the statute upon which the claim is based; and
- A statement of facts necessary to support the claim.

If the taxpayer contacts the CDTFA and claims an exemption within the ten days but has not filed an exemption request, collectors will provide the taxpayer an additional three days for the taxpayer to file the exemption. Collectors will contact the bank to hold the funds an additional three days pending a review of any potential filed claim of exemption.
If a claimant files a timely (within the ten days) claim of exemption, but the funds have already been received, collectors will commence an expedited review of the claim of exemption. Collectors will inform the taxpayer that if the claim of exemption is found to be valid, the taxpayer will need to login to their Online Services account and submit a claim for refund or complete a CDTFA-101, Claim for Refund or Credit to allow the CDTFA to return the funds. In this case, if the claim of exemption is accepted, a request for expedited processing of the claim for refund will accompany the request. If the claim of exemption is not timely and filed after the CDTFA received the levied funds, collectors are not obligated to review the claim of exemption and the claimant’s only recourse is to file a claim for refund with the CDTFA.

If there is not enough evidence to support the claim, the collector must decide whether filing a notice of opposition to the claim is in the best interest of the CDTFA. Pursuant to CCP section 703.550, a notice of opposition must be filed with the court within ten days after service of the claim of exemption. Therefore, if the claim is to be opposed, the collector must immediately refer the claim to his or her supervisor, who will refer it to the Litigation Bureau as follows:

1. Notification of receipt of a claim of exemption should be sent via email to the Assistant Chief Counsel of the Litigation Bureau with a copy to the program area Deputy Director, Administrator, and Compliance Principal.
2. The exemption claim along with documentation, if any, must be immediately faxed or scanned and emailed to the Assistant Chief Counsel of the Litigation Bureau.
3. Hard copies of the document(s) must follow via inter-office mail to the Litigation Bureau.

If the notice of opposition is not filed within the ten-day period, the funds claimed as exempt must be released by the responsible collector. If a valid claim is received after the financial institution has sent the money to the CDTFA, the taxpayer should be advised to file a claim for refund. As with any other collection activity, these actions should be documented in the system.

As with any other collection activity, these actions should be documented in ACMS.

GENERAL PROBLEMS IN CONNECTION WITH LEVIES

As stated previously, RTC section 6703 and similar statutes for special taxes and fees programs authorize the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) to serve a Notice of Levy on persons having in their possession any credits or other personal property belonging to a taxpayer that is indebted to the CDTFA. In the case of a financial institution, the notice shall state the amount due from the taxpayer and shall be delivered or mailed to the branch or office of the financial institution where the credits or other property is held, unless another branch or office is designated by the financial institution to receive the notice.

By only sending levies to financial institutions where there is an indication the taxpayer has assets, and by allowing a financial institution time to respond to an outstanding levy prior to issuing another levy (unless there is a valid business reason to levy again which should be documented in the case notes), the occurrence of over collecting by the CDTFA will be reduced. In the event the CDTFA over collects by issuing multiple levies, staff must take appropriate action to remedy the situation by:

1. Returning the check to the financial institution along with a modified levy, if the remaining balance due is less than the amount of the check received.
2. Returning the check to the financial institution with an explanation that the levied amount has been satisfied, if that is the case.
3. Contacting the financial institution to request that a stop payment be placed on the levy check, if the CDTFA has recently deposited the levy check.
4. Contacting the financial institution to request that they waive any levy processing fee charged to the taxpayer in connection with the levy that caused the over collection. If the financial institution declines to waive the charge, staff must advise the taxpayer they may file a claim for reimbursement of the bank charge (see CPPM section 155.025).

If none of the above actions is possible, the taxpayer should file a claim for refund. Staff should follow the guidelines in CPPM 707.040, Refunds of Excess or Erroneous Amounts Received, when the taxpayer is instructed to file a claim for refund.
The manner in which assets are levied may vary. Therefore, the problems that can arise in connection with serving levies may also vary. For this reason, to describe all of these situations and attempt to set forth instructions covering all possible contingencies is not practical. When unusual situations arise, staff is expected to use sound judgment in handling the matter and, when necessary, obtain supervisory approval to contact CSB for assistance with resolution.

Generally, a levy is in order when an entity that is indebted to the taxpayer has possession of, or control over, assets belonging to the taxpayer, or when personal property, owned free and clear by the taxpayer, has been located. Whenever a levy is made, the person requesting the levy should always be prepared to carry the action through to a sale of the property levied upon or, in the case of money, to seize all of the funds available or a sufficient amount to clear the liability plus costs.

Although proper discretion must be used in deciding whether to levy, there should be no hesitancy about using this collection tool when necessary. The levy procedure is extremely effective and will frequently result in immediate payment. Even when payment is not immediate, the levy process provides the state with protection against the taxpayer’s other creditors. Failure to make use of levies at the proper time often results in loss of revenue to the state.

Claim for Reimbursement of Bank or Third-Party Charges

Under Revenue and Taxation Code (RTC) section 7096 and equivalent special taxes and fees statutes, a taxpayer may file a claim for reimbursement of bank charges and any other reasonable third-party charges or fees incurred by the taxpayer as a direct result of an erroneous levy or notice to withhold, erroneous processing action, or erroneous collection action by the CDTFA. Bank charges include a financial institution’s customary processing fees and charges for overdrafts and non-sufficient funds that are a direct consequence of the erroneous levy, erroneous processing action, or erroneous collection action. Third-party charges are fees charged by payees, such as retailers, utility companies or service providers, for returned checks or dishonored electronic payments. The charges subject to reimbursement are those paid by the taxpayer and not waived or reimbursed by the financial institution or third party. These claims must be filed in writing within 90 days from the date the bank or third-party charges were incurred by the taxpayer.

Please see CPPM section 155.025 for procedures for claims for reimbursement of bank or third-party charges.

CALIFORNIA RIGHT TO PRIVACY ACT

The California Right to Privacy Act restricts state agencies from obtaining certain information from banks and other financial institutions in regard to taxpayer’s affairs, unless the agency has prior written permission from the taxpayer. (See CPPM 135.070). The Collections Support Bureau should be consulted whenever questions arise on this topic.
WAGE GARNISHMENTS 755.000

GENERAL 755.010

The state is the levying officer for wage garnishments (Code of Civil Procedure (CCP) section 706.074). Earnings owed to a taxpayer by his or her employer are only reachable by:

EWOTs may only be served on out-of-state employers in certain circumstances (see CPPM section 731.025). Following is a description of each of these instruments, as well as instructions for their use.

EARNINGS WITHHOLDING ORDER FOR TAXES (EWOT) 755.020

Receipt of an EWOT generally requires the employer to begin withholding earnings on the first workday occurring ten or more days after service of the EWOT. Under CCP section 706.074 and USC Title 15, section 1673(a), the maximum amount that may be withheld from the aggregate disposable earnings of an individual for any workweek is the lesser of:

1. Twenty-five percent (25%) of weekly disposable earnings, or
2. The amount of weekly disposable earnings that exceed 30 times the federal minimum hourly wage in effect at the time the earnings are payable. The EWOT contains instructions for the employer which includes a table to determine the amount to withhold.

The EWOT remains in effect until the total amount indicated in the EWOT is paid or the EWOT is withdrawn. If the taxpayer terminates his or her employment, the EWOT continues in effect for one year after such termination. If employment resumes (with the same employer) within the year following termination, the EWOT remains in effect.

Priority

Priority for Earnings Withholding Orders is as follows:

1. Court Order Assigning Salary/Wages (for support), and Earnings Withholding Order (EWO) for Support
2. Earnings Withholding Order for Taxes
3. Earnings Withholding Order

An EWO served by court order takes precedence over other wage garnishments. However, if a residual amount of the maximum available amount of disposable earnings remains after the employer withholds the amounts required by the court-ordered EWO, the CDTFA's EWOT may capture the remaining residual amount.

Regarding EWOTs for taxes or fees, the rule is “first in time is first in right.” Only one EWOT for taxes or fees may be in effect at any given time. If an employer is withholding under a prior EWOT for taxes or fees, any subsequent EWOT for taxes or fees is ineffective and must be withdrawn immediately until the prior EWOT has been satisfied or withdrawn. This is true even if the prior EWOT for taxes or fees was modified to require less than the amount allowed under the law.
Service

Service of an EWOT may be made by first class mail or in person by any CDTFA employee. The follow-up will be set in such a way as to ensure:

1. The employer responds within 15 days of service, as required by law.
2. The employer remits amounts withheld from the employee’s earnings. At any time after service of the EWOT, the employee/taxpayer/feepayer may request an administrative hearing for reconsideration or modification of the amount to be withheld by the employer.

Administrative Hearing

If the taxpayer requests an administrative hearing, the taxpayer should complete a financial statement prior to the hearing. Along with providing the taxpayer with a CDTFA–403–E, Individual Financial Statement, the CDTFA, no less than seven days before the hearing, must advise the taxpayer of the time, place and date of the hearing. The taxpayer should present his or her completed financial statement to the hearing officer for review on or before the date set for the hearing.

If the person requesting a hearing refuses to furnish a financial statement, the person is required to disclose the information at the hearing. The EWOT should not be modified or released, if the person does not disclose the requested financial information.

Hearings shall be informal and the hearing officer should be the lowest supervisory level. The hearing officer should not be the immediate supervisor of the employee who served the EWOT.

The hearing officer must issue his or her written decision within 15 days after the request for reconsideration is received by the CDTFA. If the hearing officer determines that all or a part of the amount withheld is necessary for the support of the taxpayer’s family, the EWOT may be modified. The employer should be sent a CDTFA-425-M, Modification of Order to Withhold Taxes, containing either:

1. A new withhold amount, or
2. Notification that the EWOT is withdrawn.

Attempt to Evade by Employer

Code of Civil Procedure (CCP) section 706.153 states that if an employer is deferring or accelerating an employee’s earnings in an attempt to defeat or diminish the CDTFA’s rights under the EWOT, the CDTFA may bring civil action against the employer. In these cases, notify the Collections Support Bureau (CSB) so action to recover from the employer may be initiated.

The CDTFA is authorized to hold a taxpayer’s employer liable for earnings the employer withheld pursuant to an EWOT, but failed to remit to the CDTFA.

The taxpayer must provide substantiating evidence (e.g., payroll documentation) to the CDTFA identifying amounts withheld as the result of a wage garnishment that were not remitted to the CDTFA. Prior to holding an employer personally liable, the CDTFA must provide written notification to the employer regarding the missing payments and allow 15 days for the employer to remit payment. Should the employer fail to remit payment for the withheld amounts, the CDTFA will issue a tax or fee determination against the employer.
The tax or fee determination issued against the employer will include the amount of the withheld payments the employer failed to remit and will be billed as a tax or fee liability, regardless of the composition of the taxpayer’s liability. For example, the missing wage garnishment payments will be billed to the employer as a tax or fee liability even if the taxpayer’s account balance is only comprised of penalty and/or interest amounts. If several wage garnishment payments were not remitted by the employer, they can be billed as one tax or fee liability with interest accruing on the entire amount billed from the date the first unremitted payment was withheld from the taxpayer’s earnings. A determination can be issued against an employer up to seven years from the date the first unremitted wage garnishment payment was withheld from a taxpayer. As with other tax or fee determinations, a 10% finality penalty will accrue if the liability is not paid prior to the finality date. The same appeal rights available for other determinations issued by the CDTFA apply to determinations issued to employers under Revenue Taxation Code (RTC) section 6704 and applicable RTC sections for the various special taxes and fees programs.

Immediately upon an employer’s liability becoming due and payable (i.e., a “final liability”), an adjustment will be made to the taxpayer’s account, whether or not payment from the employer has been received. In essence, RTC section 6704 and applicable special taxes and fees statutes allow the CDTFA to shift the liability (for the amount of the unremitted wage garnishment payments) from the taxpayer to the employer.

The employer will be held liable for the amounts as if it were a tax or fee liability, and all remedies available to the CDTFA in collecting tax or fee liabilities are also available in collecting liabilities created under RTC section 6704 and applicable RTC sections for the various special taxes and fees programs.

Instances involving these RTC sections are rare; however, when they do arise, staff should investigate them thoroughly. The starting point of the investigation should involve obtaining documentation identifying the amounts the employer withheld but failed to remit to the CDTFA. In most cases, taxpayers can provide this information by submitting copies of their paycheck stubs. Should these documents be unavailable, or if they do not provide the necessary information, other substantiating evidence provided by the taxpayer such as documentation identifying amounts withheld from the taxpayer’s earnings may also be considered. If the taxpayer is unable to provide sufficient documentation, staff will inform the taxpayer the request cannot be processed. In these instances, no further action by staff is required.

Payment Verification

Upon receipt of the documentation, staff should review the taxpayer’s account information in the online system to verify the payments have not been previously applied to the taxpayer’s account. If the payments cannot be located, staff should contact the taxpayer’s employer by telephone to rule out the possibility of errors being made by the employer or the CDTFA. For example, the employer may have referenced an incorrect account number on the payments or may have directed the payments to another agency (e.g., Franchise Tax Board, Internal Revenue Service) in error. Likewise, the CDTFA may have made errors in processing the payments, causing them to be applied to an incorrect account.
In situations where the payments are found to have been applied to an incorrect account (either through the CDTFA’s or the employer’s error), staff should move the payments to the taxpayer’s account. If staff is unable to move the payments, Return Analysis Unit (RAU), Return Processing Branch (RPB), or Motor Carrier Office (MCO) staff should be contacted for assistance. After the misapplied payments have been moved to the taxpayer’s account, collection staff should generate a Statement of Account in the online system and provide it to the taxpayer.

If the employer remitted the payments to another agency in error, the taxpayer should be instructed to contact the other agency to resolve the situation. The CDTFA will not request payment from the employer or hold the employer liable in these situations. If the EWOT is still in effect, staff should ensure the employer is aware of the correct CDTFA address where future wage garnishment payments should be directed.

Request Payment from Employer

When staff has confirmed the CDTFA has not received the withheld amounts, the employer will be requested to immediately remit payment for the missing amounts. The CDTFA is required to provide the employer with a written request for payment for the unremitted amounts prior to holding the employer personally liable. Staff should mail a CDTFA-425-EM to the employer. When generating this letter, a taxpayer copy is also created and should be mailed to the taxpayer.

The CDTFA-425-EM identifies the amount withheld from the taxpayer’s earnings as a result of the wage garnishment along with the total amount actually received by the CDTFA. Further, this letter requires the employer to provide payment of the unremitted amounts within 15 days to avoid being held personally liable. While the CDTFA is required to provide the employer 15 days to respond, in some instances it may be appropriate to allow the employer additional time.

If the employer sends the payment, it should be applied to the taxpayer’s account. Once the payment has been processed, staff should generate a Statement of Account and provide it to the taxpayer. No further action against the employer should be necessary. However, if the wage garnishment is still in effect, staff may need to review the taxpayer’s account periodically to ensure all future wage garnishment payments are received from the employer.

If the response received from the employer indicates that payment for the identified amounts was previously remitted to the CDTFA, staff may need to contact the employer by telephone to rule out the possibility that the employer actually remitted payment to the CDTFA (and the payment was applied to an incorrect account) or remitted payment to another agency in error.

Earnings Withholding Order for Taxes (EWOT) (Cont. 4) 755.020

Holding Employer Liable

If the employer does not respond to letter CDTFA-425-EM, or if the response does not provide information necessary to confirm payments were remitted, staff will request that the employer be held liable. To accomplish this, staff will prepare a memorandum to CSB detailing the situation and requesting a determination be established and billed against the employer. The memorandum must include the following information:

1. Taxpayer's name and CDTFA account number.
2. Employer's name, mailing and business addresses, and CDTFA account number (if applicable).
3. Date the EWOT was issued and the employer's response to the order.
4. Amounts withheld from the taxpayer's earnings which were not received by the CDTFA, including the dates each amount was withheld (if available).
5. Summary of staff's investigation, including the results of reviewing the taxpayer's account information in the online system and contacting the employer.
6. Statement indicating the date letter CDTFA-425-EM was mailed to the employer and the employer's response.
7. Copies of all pertinent documents (e.g., employer's response to earnings withholding order and payment documentation provided by taxpayer).

The Administrator or Compliance Principal must approve the request prior to sending it to CSB. A copy of the approved request should be retained in the taxpayer's collection notes.

Taxpayer's/Feepayer's Liability

Staff must not require payment from a taxpayer for any amounts withheld but not remitted by the employer (i.e., amounts included in the request sent to CSB). Once the employer's determination is final, Petitions Section, RPB or MCO staff will perform the necessary adjustment to reduce the liability on the taxpayer's account.

Responsible Office

The responsible collector of the taxpayer's liability is also responsible for collection of the employer's liability, regardless of where the employer is located. However, if liabilities existed on the employer's account prior to the billing of the determination, the office of control for that account is responsible for collection of all the employer’s liabilities.

The office initiating the determination against the employer will be responsible for assisting the Petitions Section or ADAB in the event the employer files a petition for redetermination.
Collections Support Bureau Responsibilities

Staff in CSB is responsible for reviewing the collector’s request to ensure all necessary information is provided. If there are any questions regarding the request, CSB staff should contact the person who prepared the request. In the event the request is incomplete and cannot be processed, it should be returned to the requestor along with a clear explanation of why the request has been denied.

CSB staff will handle complete requests by verifying the employer has an active sales tax or special tax and fee account. If the employer does not have an active account, CSB staff will establish an arbitrary account using the information provided in the request.

CSB staff will add comments to the taxpayer’s and employer’s accounts in the online system. The comments will include a cross-reference of the related account number and will include a brief description of how the accounts are related to each other. CSB staff will then contact a supervisor and provide him or her with all documentation pertaining to the request.

Return Analysis Unit (RAU), Return Processing Branch (RPB), or Motor Carrier Office (MCO) Responsibilities

Staff in RAU, RPB, or MCO will create and bill determinations issued under RTC section 6704 and applicable RTC sections for various special tax and fee programs. However, RAU, RPB, and MCO will not be responsible for assisting with petitions for redetermination.

The primary/secondary liability functionality available in the online system (used to link liabilities on two or more accounts) cannot be used for cases involving section 6704 and applicable RTC sections for various special tax and fee programs. The inability to use this existing functionality stems from the fact that section 6704 and applicable RTC sections for the various special taxes and fee programs require the taxpayer’s account to be adjusted when the determination issued to the employer is final. Adjustment of the taxpayer’s account is not dependent upon receiving payment from the employer. Therefore, for sales and use tax liabilities RAU staff must manually input local and district tax allocation information on the employer’s account (based upon the local and district tax allocation on the taxpayer’s account).
RAU, RPB and MCO staff will:

1. Create a One-Time (OTM) Financial Obligation (FO) on the employer’s account provided by CSB, using the REV FM screen. The revenue and payment due dates for the FO are the same date, the earliest date on which the employer first withheld amounts from the taxpayer’s earnings.

2. Input revenue information on the REV RE screen for the one-time FO. For sales and use tax, the district and local tax allocation found on the taxpayer’s account must be duplicated on the employer’s revenue information to ensure payments received from the employer are correctly allocated according to the taxpayer’s business location(s). RAU staff may need the assistance of Local Revenue Branch staff to duplicate local tax allocation information.

3. Accept the revenue as “primary revenue” using the “EWOT” difference adjustment reason code.

4. Create the employer’s notice of determination using the DIF NN screen. Sales and use tax accounts will include Bill Note #138 which references the taxpayer’s name, CDTFA account number, and mentions RTC section 6704. This bill note also references the date on which the CDTFA notified the employer in writing of the missing payments (CDTFA-425-EM) and identifies the telephone number of the CDTFA office the employer should contact for assistance. Staff will also include Bill Note #999 (free form text) to identify the wage garnishment payments (dates and amounts) the billing represents. Special tax and fee accounts will include Bill Note #999 to identify taxpayer’s name, CDTFA account number, relevant RTC section, date on which the CDTFA notified the employer in writing of the missing payments (CDTFA-425-EM), the telephone number of the CDTFA office the employer should contact for assistance and identify the wage garnishment payments (dates and amounts) the billing represents.

RAU staff will create a manual assignment in the online system on the employer’s account for the Petitions Section. The assignment is created on the employer’s account since Petitions staff will need to ensure the employer’s determination is final prior to adjusting the liability on the taxpayer’s account. Staff in the Petitions Section, RPB or MCO will be responsible for adjusting the taxpayer’s account once the determination issued against the employer is final.

After displaying the difference detail (DIF DD) of the employer’s determination, RAU staff will press the F24-ASC key and navigate to the Maintain Task (ASC MT) screen to input the necessary assignment information:

2. Due Date = 60 days after the date of the employer’s determination
3. Office = “PETITION”
4. Workgroup = “ADJ/SPEC”
5. Role = “RED&ADJ”
6. Task Notes identifying the taxpayer’s name and account number

RAU staff should forward all documentation pertaining to the determination to the employer’s file in the Taxpayer Records Unit for sales and use tax accounts. RPB or MCO staff will maintain all documentation for special tax and fee accounts in their respective taxpayer files.
Petitions Section and Appeals and Data Analysis Branch (ADAB) Responsibilities

An employer who disagrees with a determination resulting from RTC section 6704 and applicable RTC sections for the various special tax and fee programs will have 30 days from the date of the Notice of Determination to file a petition for redetermination. Petitions Section/ADAB staff is responsible for handling the employer’s petition by following existing appeals procedures. If necessary, the office that initiated the determination will provide assistance to Petitions Section/ADAB staff.

Petitions Section/ADAB staff will perform the adjustment to the taxpayer’s account once the employer’s determination is final. Staff should access their Assignment Control assignments (Business Action Code, “EWOADJ”) on (or shortly after) their due dates, which is initially set at 60 days after the employer’s Notice of Determination is generated. The assignment is linked to the employer’s account since a review of the determination is necessary to confirm it is final prior to performing the adjustment on the taxpayer’s account.

In the event the determination has been petitioned, Petition Section staff will modify the due date of the assignment (allowing 30, 60, or 90 days depending upon the situation) for follow-up at a later date. Petition Section staff should also modify the assignment due date (60 days) once a Notice of Redetermination has been issued.

Upon confirming the employer’s determination is final, Petition Section and ADAB staff will perform the adjustment of the taxpayer’s account using the Adjustment Type code “EWOT” on the DIF LA screen (legal adjustment). When performing these adjustments, staff must be aware:

1. The adjustment is only for the total amount of the unremitted wage garnishment payments billed to the employer. The adjustment amount excludes any interest and penalty amounts the employer’s determination may include.
2. The effective date of the adjustment is the same as the effective date of the employer’s liability (see the period date for the employer’s liability on the DIF DA screen).
3. The adjustment should first be made to the portion of the taxpayer’s liability before adjusting any collection cost recovery fees, interest or penalty amounts.

Once the adjustment has been completed, Petitions Section or ADAB staff will generate a statement of account for the taxpayer. Staff will include Bill Note #999 (free form text) to provide an explanation of the adjustment performed.
Spouse’s Wages

CCP section 706.109 prohibits the CDTFA from attempting to reach the wages of a tax/fee debtor’s spouse without first obtaining a court order. This CCP section states:

“An earnings withholding order may not be issued against the earnings of the spouse of the judgment debtor except by court order upon noticed motion.”

If staff decides to pursue collection of amounts due by serving an EWOT on wages of a judgment debtor’s spouse, the case must be referred to CSB. This will be done only when there is no possibility of a dual and there is a substantial liability (over $2,000). CSB will prepare a referral and coordinate the case with the Attorney General. These cases, once referred, are entered in LGL AG in IRIS using Legal Type Code “EWOT.”

Because of the time, cost and lengthy delays which may occur in the process, it is vital that as much information as possible, for the period when the liability was incurred and also for the current period, be obtained and listed substantially in the format shown in the following sample memorandum. This will assist CSB in preparing the referral.

JEOPARDY EARNINGS WITHHOLDING ORDER FOR TAXES 755.030

A jeopardy EWOT will only be used when, in the opinion of the levying office, the CDTFA’s interest will be jeopardized because of the ten day delay between service and actual withholding. As an example: On January 5, 1990, the responsible collector discovers that a taxpayer has terminated his or her employment and will receive his final paycheck on January 10, 1990. The only way to reach that paycheck is to serve a jeopardy EWOT because a non-jeopardy EWOT will not reach any earnings due to the taxpayer within ten days of service.

For all jeopardy EWOTs, the word “Jeopardy” will be prominently entered on the face of all copies of the CDTFA–425–E, Earnings Withholding Order for Taxes. Other provisions applying to non-jeopardy EWOTs apply equally to a Jeopardy EWOT.

TEMPORARY EARNINGS WITHHOLDING ORDER FOR TAXES (TEO) 755.040

In certain rare circumstances, the levying officer may wish to attach more than 25% of the taxpayer’s disposable income. The TEO requires that the employer hold all earnings owing to the employee, unless a lesser amount is specified on the form. Since the Collections Support Bureau (CSB) and the Attorney General’s Office must become involved, this can be a costly, time consuming process. Therefore, before staff proceeds, the matter should be discussed with the CSB.

When notified that this action is proper, the levying office will serve a TEO on the employer. The TEO expires 15 days after service, unless extended by a court of record in the county where the taxpayer was last known to reside. The levying office will immediately send a copy of the TEO and a report to the CSB requesting the filing of an Application for Issuance of Earnings Withholding Order for Taxes with a court in the taxpayer’s last known county of residence. Copies of the TEO and report will also be sent to the office of the Attorney General nearest the court where the application is to be filed.

The CSB will coordinate the case with the Attorney General’s Office and prepare a referral. The Attorney General’s Office will prepare the Application for the Order and a declaration that the taxpayer was served with:

1. A copy of the application.
2. Notice informing the taxpayer of the purpose of the application.
3. Informing the taxpayer of his or her right to appear at the court hearing on the application.

The court will set the matter for hearing. At least ten days before the date set for hearing, the clerk of the court will send the tax debtor a notice indicating the time and place for the hearing. If, after the hearing, the Attorney General is successful on the CDTFA’s behalf, the court will issue the Earnings Withholding Order for Taxes, requiring the employer to withhold and pay overall earnings other than that amount proved exempt, but in no event less than 25%. Follow-up on payments remitted by the employer, under court service of the EWOT, will be set in the same manner as follow-up would be set if service were made by the CDTFA.
EARNINGS WITHHOLD ORDERS AGAINST U.S. POSTAL EMPLOYEES  755.050

The Postal Service has one designated Authorized Agent to receive postal employee wage garnishment orders under 5 U.S. Code §5520a. This federal law supersedes state law with regard to service of garnishment process. Accordingly, regardless of state law, legal process must be sent directly to, or served in person upon, the Authorized Agent named in these regulations. There will be only one agent for receipt of process for all garnishments of an employee’s pay arising under state law. Other Postal Service employees are not authorized to receive process, nor are they permitted to transmit process to the Authorized Agent.

The Authorized Agent for service of EWOT’s directed to the wages of Postal Service employees and employees of the Postal Rate Commission (employees) is:

PAYROLL BENEFITS BRANCH
INVolUNTARY DEDUCTIONS UNIT
2825 LONE OAK PARKWAY
EAGAN, MN  55121–9650

Service of the EWOT on the Authorized Agent shall be made by certified or registered mail with return receipt requested at the above address.

EARNINGS WITHHOLD ORDERS AGAINST FEDERAL EMPLOYEES  755.060

The Hatch Act provides for the garnishment of most federal employee wages in the same manner and to the same extent as if the federal agency were a private person.

However, federal regulations regarding the involuntary allotment of active duty military pay restricts the use of an EWOT to civilian federal employees. The involuntary allotment of active duty military pay involves an entirely separate application process outlined at section 755.070.

The following are pertinent points of the federal law allowing such garnishments. For the full text of federal wage garnishment provisions, see Exhibit A.

“Agency” means every agency of the federal government. “Legal process” means any writ, order, summons, or other similar process in the nature of garnishment that is issued by a court of competent jurisdiction within any state, territory, or possession of the United States, or an authorized official pursuant to state or local law.

Service of the EWOT

Service of the garnishment may be accomplished by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested, or by personal service on the appropriate agent designated for service of process or the head of such agency, if no agent has been designated. The person served with the garnishment shall respond within 30 days after the date effective service is made.
For example, the Department of Defense has given notice that all wage garnishments for Department of Defense civilian employees, with certain exceptions, should be submitted to the Defense Finance and Accounting Service — Cleveland Center, Office of General Counsel, Code L, 1240 East 9th Street, P.O. Box 998002, Cleveland OH, 44199–8002. For the exceptions (see Exhibit B.)

In addition, the law requires that we adequately identify the tax/fee debtor. The OPM regulations state that we should provide name, address, social security number, date of birth, official duty station or worksite, and component of the agency for which the tax/fee debtor works. However, some of the larger federal agencies have stated that our normal practice of providing name, address, and social security number is sufficient to identify the tax debtor.
Earnings Withhold Orders Against Federal Employees (Cont. 2)  755.060

EXHIBIT A

5 USCS §5520a. Garnishment of pay

“(a) For purposes of this section--

“(1) ‘agency’ means each agency of the Federal Government, including--

“(A) an executive agency, except for the General Accounting Office [Government Accountability Office];

“(B) the United States Postal Service and the Postal Rate Commission [Postal Regulatory Commission];

“(C) any agency of the judicial branch of the Government; and “(D) any agency of the legislative branch of the Government, including the General Accounting Office [Government Accountability Office], each office of a Member of Congress, a committee of the Congress, or other office of the Congress;

“(2) ‘employee’ means an employee of an agency (including a Member of Congress as defined under section 2106) [5 USCS § 2106]);

“(3) ‘legal process’ means any writ, order, summons, or other similar process in the nature of garnishment, that--

“(A) is issued by a court of competent jurisdiction within any State, territory, or possession of the United States, or an authorized official pursuant to an order of such a court or pursuant to State or local law; and

“(B) orders the employing agency of such employee to withhold an amount from the pay of such employee, and make a payment of such withholding to another person, for a specifically described satisfaction of a legal debt of the employee, or recovery of attorney’s fees, interest, or court costs; and

“(4) ‘pay’ means--

“(A) basic pay, premium pay paid under subchapter V [5 USCS §§ 5541 et seq.], any payment received under subchapter VI, VII, VIII [5 USCS §§ 5591 et seq.], severance and back pay paid under subchapter IX [5 USCS §§ 5591 et seq.], sick pay, incentive pay, and any other compensation paid or payable for personal services, whether such compensation is denominated as wages, salary, commission, bonus pay or otherwise; and “(B) does not include awards for making suggestions.

“(b) Subject to the provisions of this section and the provisions of section 303 of the Consumer Credit Protection Act (15 U.S.C. 1673) pay from an agency to an employee is subject to legal process in the same manner and to the same extent as if the agency were a private person.

“(c)(1) Service of legal process to which an agency is subject under this section may be accomplished by certified or registered mail; return receipt requested, or by personal service, upon--

“(A) the appropriate agent designated for receipt of such service or process pursuant to the regulations issued under this section; or “(B) the head of such agency, if no agent has been so designated.

“(2) Such legal process shall be accompanied by sufficient information to permit prompt identification of the employee and the payments involved.

July 2009
“(d) Whenever any person, who is designated by law or regulation to accept service of process to which an agency is subject under this section, is effectively served with any such process or with interrogatories, such person shall respond thereto within thirty days (or within such longer period as may be prescribed by applicable State law) after the date effective service thereof is made, and shall, as soon as possible but not later than fifteen days after the date effective service is made, send written notice that such process has been so served (together with a copy thereof) to the affected employee at his or her duty station or last-known home address.

“(e) No employee whose duties include responding to interrogatories pursuant to requirements imposed by this section shall be subject to any disciplinary action or civil or criminal liability or penalty for, or on account of, any disclosure of information made by such employee in connection with the carrying out of any such employee’s duties which pertain directly or indirectly to the answering of any such interrogatory.

“(f) Agencies affected by legal process under this section shall not be required to vary their normal pay and disbursement cycles in order to comply with any such legal process.

“(g) Neither the United States, an agency, nor any disbursing officer shall be liable with respect to any payment made from payments due or payable to an employee pursuant to legal process regular on its face, provided such payment is made in accordance with this section and the regulations issued to carry out this section. In determining the amount of any payment due from, or payable by, an agency to an employee, there shall be excluded those amounts which would be excluded under section 462(g) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 662(g)).

“(h)

(1) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (2), if any agency is served under this section with more than one legal process with respect to the same payments due or payable to an employee, then such payments shall be available, subject to section 303 of the Consumer Credit Protection Act (15 U.S.C. 1673), to satisfy such processes in priority based on the time of service, with any such process being satisfied out of such amounts as remain after satisfaction of all such processes which have been previously served.

“(2) A legal process to which an agency is subject under sections 459 of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 659) for the enforcement of the employee’s legal obligation to provide child support or make alimony payments, shall have priority over any legal process to which an agency is subject under this section.

“(i) The provisions of this section shall not modify or supersede the provisions of sections 459 of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 659) concerning legal process brought for the enforcement of an individual’s legal obligations to provide child support or make alimony payments.
“(j) Regulations implementing the provisions of this section shall be promulgated--

“(A) by the President or his designee for each executive agency, except with regard to employees of the United States Postal Service, the President or, at his discretion, the Postmaster General shall promulgate such regulations;

“(B) jointly by the President pro tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives; or their designee, for the legislative branch of the Government; and “(C) by the Chief Justice of the United States or his designee for the judicial branch of the Government.

“(2) Such regulations shall provide that an agency’s administrative costs in executing a garnishment action may be added to the garnishment, and that the agency may retain costs recovered as offsetting collections.

“(k) No later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act [enacted Oct. 6, 1993], the Secretaries of the Executive departments concerned shall promulgate regulations to carry out the purposes of this section with regard to members of the uniformed services.

“(2) Such regulations shall include provisions for--

“(A) the involuntary allotment of the pay of a member of the uniformed services for indebtedness owed a third party as determined by the final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction, and as further determined by competent military or executive authority, as appropriate, to be in compliance with procedural requirements of the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act (50 App. U.S.C. 501 et seq.); and

“(B) consideration for the absence of a member of the uniformed service from an appearance in a judicial proceeding resulting from the exigencies of military duty.

“(3) The Secretaries of the Executive departments concerned shall promulgate regulations under this subsection that are, as far as practicable, uniform for all of the uniformed services. The Secretary of Defense shall consult with the Secretary of Homeland Security with regard to the promulgation of such regulation that might affect members of the Coast Guard when the Coast Guard is operating as a service in the Navy.”

INVOLUNTARY ALLOTMENT OF ACTIVE DUTY MILITARY PAY 755.070

The process for implementing an involuntary allotment of pay for active duty military personnel is somewhat encumbered by the Servicemember's Civil Relief Act, 50 USCS App § 501 et seq., which requires that certain affidavits must accompany the application form supplied by Department of Defense (DOD). Therefore, the following guidelines and procedures have been established:

1. Involuntary allotment may only be pursued if the delinquent balance is equal to or greater than $5,000.00 and the member is on active duty in California. If the member is on active duty and currently stationed outside California, the delinquent balance must be equal to or greater than $10,000.00.

2. Complete the latest version of DD Form 2653, Involuntary Allotment Application, and send to the CSB. The DD Form 2653 is available on the Executive Services Directorate website (www.esd.whs.mil/) by entering the form number into the search field. (Complete only front Section I — Identification, Parts 1., 2., and 3.c.)

3. The CSB will review the application and, if approved, prepare a Certificate of Delinquency to be filed by the Legal Division with a Request for Judgment in the office of the County Clerk of Sacramento County. In addition to the Certificate of Delinquency, the Request for Judgment must be accompanied by an affidavit stating whether or not the defendant is in military service and containing supporting information. If the defendant’s military status is unknown, the affidavit must state that the defendant’s military status is not known.

4. The affidavit must also state that the court should appoint an attorney to represent the member/defendant prior to issuing a default judgment. If the judge decides that appointing an attorney for the member/defendant is not necessary or would serve no purpose and a default judgment is issued, there is compliance with the Servicemembers’ Civil Relief Act and the judgment should so state. A certified copy of the judgment should then be attached to the completed Involuntary Allotment Application.

5. The CSB will submit the original and three copies of the Involuntary Allotment Application and all supporting documents to the Legal Division. After review and approval of the Involuntary Allotment Application, the Legal Division will prepare and submit the Request for Judgment. Once the judgment has been issued, The Legal Division will send the entire package via certified mail to the appropriate federal agency according to the instructions on DD Form 2653, (see Exhibit D.)
SECTION II - APPLICANT CERTIFICATION

4. I HEREBY CERTIFY THAT:

   a. (X as applicable)

   (1) The judgment has not been amended, superseded, set aside, or satisfied;

   (2) If the judgment has been paid in part, the total amount remaining to be paid is $ __________

   b. (X as applicable)

   (1) The judgment was issued while the member was not on active duty; or

   (2) If the judgment was issued while the member was on active duty, that the member was present or represented by an attorney of the member's choosing in the proceedings; or

   (3) If the member was not present or represented by an attorney at the judicial proceedings, that the judgment complies with the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act, 50 U.S.C. App. Sections 501-596 (2003). (If you obtained a default judgment and it does not contain language that indicates that the plaintiff complied with 50 U.S.C. App. 501-593, then you must submit proof that an affidavit stating the member's military service status, as required by 50 U.S.C. App. 520, was filed with the court prior to entry of the judgment.)

   c. The member's pay could be garnished under applicable State law and 5 USC 5520a if the member were a civilian employee;

   d. To the best of my knowledge, the debt has not been discharged in bankruptcy nor has the member filed for protection from creditors under the bankruptcy laws of the United States;

   e. I will promptly notify you to discontinue the involuntary allotment at any time the judgment is satisfied prior to the collection of the total amount of the judgment through the involuntary allotment process;

   f. If the member overpays the amount owed on the judgment, I will refund the amount of overpayment to the member within 30 days of discovery or notice of the overpayment, whichever is earlier, and that if I fail to repay the member, I understand that I may be denied the right to collect by involuntary allotment on other debts reduced to judgments.

5. I HEREBY ACKNOWLEDGE THAT:

   As a condition of application, I agree that neither the United States, nor any disbursing official or Federal employee whose duties include processing involuntary allotment applications and payments, shall be liable with respect to any payment or failure to make payment from moneys due or payable by the United States to any person pursuant to this application.

6. CERTIFICATION

   I make the foregoing statement as part of my application with full knowledge of the penalties involved for willfully making a false statement (U.S. Code, Title 18, Section 1001, provides a penalty as follows: Shall be fined under this title or imprisoned not more than 5 years, or both.)

DD FORM 2653, NOV 2007
PREVIOUS EDITION IS OBSOLETE

July 2009
Under Government Code section 7150, et seq., on the day a tax becomes due and payable but remains unpaid, a perfected and enforceable state tax lien is created for the amount due plus penalties, interest and costs, under the following laws:

- Sales and Use Tax, section 6757
- Motor Vehicle Fuel Tax, section 7872
- Use Fuel Tax, section 8996
- Cigarette and Tobacco Products Tax, section 30322
- Alcoholic Beverage Tax, section 32363
- Emergency Telephone Users Surcharge, section 41124.1
- Energy Resources Surcharge, section 40158
- Hazardous Substance Tax, section 43413
- Integrated Waste Management Fee, section 45451
- Oil Spill Response, Prevention, and Administration Fee, section 46421
- Underground Storage Tank Maintenance Fee, section 50123
- Fee Collection Procedures, section 55141
- Diesel Fuel Tax Law, section 60445

Government Code section 7170 states, “a state tax lien attaches to all property and rights to property whether real or personal, tangible or intangible, including all after-acquired property and rights to property belonging to the taxpayer and located in this state.”

The lien is in force for ten years and may be extended by re-recording the lien with any county recorder’s office or re-recording a Notice of State Tax Lien with the office of the Secretary of State within the ten-year period.

The lien attaches to all property of a tax debtor by operation of law; nothing needs to be done to perfect the lien. However, Government Code section 7171 requires the following action in order for a lien to be valid against specific interests in the same property:

- As to real property, a Notice of State Tax Lien must be recorded in each county where the taxpayer’s real property is located prior to the time that the four classes of persons listed in Section 7170(b) perfect their right, title, or interest in the property, in order for the lien to be valid against the property.

- As to personal property, a Notice of State Tax Lien must be filed with the Secretary of State. The prior filing of a Notice of State Tax Lien with the Secretary of State defeats the claims of three classes of persons listed in Section 7170(c), but cannot defeat the claims of numerous other classes of persons listed in the section.

1 The fees and taxes collected pursuant to the Fee Collection Procedures Law include the following programs: California Tire Fee, Cannabis Tax, Covered Electronic Waste Recycling Fee, Lead-Acid Battery Fees, Marine Invasive Species Fee, Natural Gas Surcharge, Prepaid Mobile Telephony Services Surcharge, Water Rights Fee, and Lumber Products Assessment.
General (Cont.) 757.010

An additional method of recording a lien against real property under the Sales and Use Tax Law, the Alcoholic Beverage Tax Law, and the Timber Yield Tax Law, is to follow the summary judgment procedure of RTC sections 6736, 32361, and 38521 respectively, and record an abstract of judgment in any county where the person owns or may be expected to own real property.

The abstract of judgment has the force, effect, and priority of a judgment lien and is effective for ten years from the time of filing with the county clerk for recordation unless sooner released by the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA). The time limit for requesting summary judgment is within three years after an amount becomes delinquent.

RTC section 6702 requires that a CDTFA–465, Notice of Withhold, must be issued not later than:

1. Three years from the date a payment becomes delinquent.
2. Within ten years after the last recording of an abstract of judgment or the recording or filing of a Notice of State Tax Lien.

RTC section 6776 and equivalent special taxes and fees statutes stipulate that all warrants be handled in the same manner, i.e., issued within three years from the date of delinquency or within ten years from the last lien recordation date. A certificate of lien (Notice of State Tax Lien) may be filed or recorded in any county or with the Secretary of State at any time during the ten-year automatic or statutory lien period established by RTC section 6757 and equivalent special taxes and fees statutes, following the date of delinquency.

In order for the CDTFA to take court action against a debtor, such as an Attorney General referral for an out-of-state judgment, the lien must have been filed or recorded within three years from the delinquency date (see RTC Sec. 6711 and equivalent special taxes and fees statutes). For this reason, current policy requires that liens are filed or recorded within this three-year period. Liens may be renewed twice, each for ten-year terms, after the initial ten-year lien period has expired (see Government Code section 7172). The chart in CPPM 757.020 provides a quick reference for the time periods within which all of these summary procedures may be used.

According to the CDTFA’s Legal Division, the three-year restriction does not apply to the issuance of levies pursuant to RTC 6703 and equivalent special taxes and fees statutes, as long as the statutory lien from the operation of law (RTC section 6757 and equivalent special taxes and fees statutes) is in place.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR RECORDING AND FILING LIENS 757.040

Generally, the Collections Support Bureau (CSB) is responsible for preparing the Notice of State Tax Lien or the abstract of judgment, forwarding these documents to the appropriate county recorder or to the office of the Secretary of State, and mailing a copy to the taxpayer. However, under certain circumstances, liens may be automatically filed (see CPPM section 757.062).

EXTENSIONS OF LIENS 757.050

The original lien may be extended by recording a new notice or abstract of judgment in any county or, if a statewide personal property lien was previously acquired and is to be extended, by filing an extension notice with the office of the Secretary of State. The new recording or filing must be made prior to expiration of the original lien. The responsibility for filing a lien extension, as well as the original filing of a lien, lies with the CSB.

POLICY AND MINIMUM AMOUNTS — NOTICE OF STATE TAX LIEN 757.060

Filing a lien protects the state’s interest in a taxpayer’s assets. The use of the Notice of State Tax Lien is an effective collection tool that often results in payment of accounts that would have been difficult, if not impossible, to collect.

Taxpayers should be advised that a lien may be filed and its effects (decreases credit rating and attaches to property currently owned and later acquired). With the exception of a jeopardy lien, a tax lien should not be filed unless there have been documented efforts made to contact the taxpayer by phone and in writing.

November 2019
Per statute, a lien can be filed 30 days after the taxpayer is advised in writing that a lien may be filed. Generally, CDTFA policy is to wait 180 days after the demand date to file a lien. However, a lien may be filed 30 days after the demand date if there is a valid reason for such action. Supervisory approval of all lien requests initiated prior to the expiration of the 180 days is required and must be documented in the system.

In most cases, a Notice of State Tax Lien is filed for accounts with delinquent amounts of $2,000 or more in the appropriate county or counties. Generally, a lien is not filed for liabilities that do not include a tax or fee because an adjustment or request for relief may be pending, but it can be done if the total amount due is greater than $2,000 and verification is made that there are no adjustments or requests for relief pending.

A lien will be filed:

1. 180 days after an amount, if sufficient, becomes delinquent on a determination or redetermination,
2. 180 days after issuance of a billing for an amount due on a return filed without payment, with a partial payment, or for penalty and interest because of late payment, or
3. 180 days after a successor’s billing is issued.

A lien should not be filed after 180 days if any of the following conditions exist:

1. There are outstanding levies. Exceptions to this can occur. For example, the taxpayer has a large balance due and outstanding levies are generating minimal payments. If payment in full is not anticipated and additional collection action is warranted, it is appropriate to file a lien. In addition, if a levy is sent to secure some assets that may not be liquidated until sometime in the future or that may have a secured interest against them, filing a lien is appropriate.
2. Payments are being received per a payment plan and financial documentation indicates a lien is not necessary to secure the state’s interest.
3. The payment plan will satisfy the liability within one year and the taxpayer has not been a previous collection problem.
4. If the taxpayer has been extended additional time to pay.

If it is determined that a lien is necessary, a thorough search for real property should be completed to ensure that liens are filed in the appropriate county or counties specific to each taxpayer.

To prevent erroneous filings, liens should be filed in counties where the taxpayer resides, where the business or taxpayer is/was located, and where property is owned or may have previously been owned. If it is determined that a state tax lien should be filed, the collector must:

1. Investigate sources such as income tax returns, CoreLogic, and other information documented in case notes to obtain county-specific information.
2. Document in the system, a real property summary to include all actions regarding property searches or other methods used to determine whether the taxpayer owns, has owned, or may own real property, specifically noting each county.
3. Document in the system the county or counties to be included in the lien filing and specifically state why each county is included in the request.
NOTE: Accounts on a payment plan are not subject to the 180-day policy, and liens should not be requested 180 days after the liability is established for accounts in payment plans. Rather, the process to initiate a lien request on an account in a payment plan begins when the liability becomes 30 months old. The 30 months are counted from the date the liability becomes due and payable as long as 30 days have lapsed from the issue date of a demand notice. When this occurs, the collector will send the taxpayer CDTFA–407–L, Notice of Intent to Lien, and then must wait 45 days after sending the CDTFA–407–L before initiating the lien request. A lien will be filed after the collection item becomes aged 30 months unless payment in full is expected within 30 days.

Liens should not be filed, and the account should be placed into sundry withhold status or a Stop Lien indicator should be added (see CPPM section 757.062), in any of the following situations:

1. The action violates the automatic stay afforded by the Bankruptcy Code.
2. The liability has been discharged in bankruptcy.
3. A bankruptcy case was recently filed, and the system has not yet been updated.
4. An Offer-in-Compromise is pending and the Offer-in-Compromise Section was not previously advised.
5. The action violates an Indian tribe’s sovereign immunity (see Business Taxes Law Guide Annotation 170.002.750, (8/22/96)).
6. The taxpayer is in escrow and the information indicates the escrow will pay in full the entire outstanding liability.
7. The taxpayer has paid the liability in the office and the lien is about to be issued.

For delinquent amounts exceeding $2,000, a lien will also be filed with the office of the California Secretary of State. Collections Support Bureau (CSB) will file the lien:

1. Upon receipt of a request for such action by the collector.
2. If CSB’s review of the file indicates such action is appropriate.

A lien must be filed with the office of the Secretary of State for all referrals to the Attorney General for Intervenor Actions (see CPPM 757.130, Lien on Cause of Action).

RTC section 7097 and similar statutes for the special taxes and fees programs require that CDTFA give notice to the taxpayer that a lien may be filed at least 30 days prior to filing or recording a lien. This notification is routinely included on the demand billing, which is sent to the taxpayer approximately 15 days after the liability becomes final.

If it becomes necessary to record or file a lien before the 180-day period expires, or if the lien covering real property should be extended to other counties, a request should be forwarded to CSB by the referring office. The collector sends a Request an Early Lien work item to their supervisor for approval. The supervisor must add an approval note to the work item and then unassign it so the work item will be routed to the appropriate CSB work queue. The request for issuing an early lien should contain a reason for the action. The reason, as well as the request, must be documented in the system and have received supervisory approval.
If a taxpayer has a multiple-location business, the referring office should request CSB to record liens in any county in which real property is found. If no real property is found, a lien will be recorded only in the county where the “master” business location is located. If an out-of-state taxpayer qualifies for a lien but owns no California property, a real property lien should be requested to be filed in Sacramento County.

For taxpayers who file bankruptcy, liens cannot be filed until after the automatic stay has been lifted. Post-petition liens on pre-petition liabilities will only be filed where:

1. The debtor filed for bankruptcy relief and the liability was not discharged.
2. The bankruptcy case was dismissed.

In limited circumstances, CDTFA may be required to file an abstract of judgment rather than filing a lien. Current policy dictates that the filing of an abstract of judgment is limited to renewing a previously recorded abstract prior to its expiration date. This procedure is mainly used for extending the period of the lien acquired by recording of the original abstract. CSB is responsible for the timely renewal of abstracts.

AUTOMATED LIENS

The system features an auto-lien function. Automated liens are filed 180 days after the Notice of Demand for Payment is mailed on the initial finalized debt that exceeds $2,000. Liens will be filed in the counties associated with the taxpayer’s California address or property assets identified in a collection case, or if there is no identifiable address in California, the lien is filed in Sacramento County. A lien will also be filed with the California Secretary of State for delinquent amounts exceeding $2,000. The automated lien amount will include any additional debts finalized during those 180 days for which 30 days have lapsed from the issue date of a Demand Notice (RTC section 7097).

Liens will not automatically be filed on accounts on a payment plan if the payment plan is less than 30 months old and will satisfy the liability within 36 months of the liability being final.

If the auto-lien function is turned on and it is determined that a lien should not be filed, the collector should initiate a Stop Lien indicator to prevent the lien from being filed. See CPPM section 757.060 for details on when liens should not be filed.

Stop Lien indicators are alerts placed on an account or a period of liability by a user or the system. Indicators, in general, can perform or prevent an action, or can be informational only. The following are the Stop Lien indicators:

- Stop Lien Automatic Add – stops new automatic liens being added to a collection case.
- Stop Lien Extension – prevents filing a lien extension.
- Stop Lien Release – stops the lien from being released.
- Stop Lien Activities – stops all lien activity whether it is automatic or manual.

Once an indicator has been added, the collector cannot delete it. The indicator must be “ceased” so that it no longer affects the collection case to which it is applied. It is important to remember to “cease” indicators when appropriate since they can impact system processes. Collectors and supervisors with edit access have the ability to add/cease the indicators listed above. Indicators can be ceased immediately by leaving the current date in the Thru field or can be ceased on a date in the future. However, it is not possible to cease an indicator retroactively.
UNITED STATES COAST GUARDS LIENS 757.065

Liens filed with the United States Coast Guard (USCG) must be timely and meet the provisions contained in U.S. Code Title 46, section 31343. Based upon this section, the Notice of Claim of Lien expires three years after the date the state tax lien was established, which is reflected on the Notice of State Tax Lien in the column identified as the “Assessment” date. USCG Documentation Center will return CDTFA requests unrecorded if the assessment date is over three years old.

The collector must determine the names and mailing addresses of all lien holders and mortgagees of a vessel before requesting a USCG lien. These names and addresses should be entered in the system. Lien holder and mortgagee information is obtained by reviewing the USCG vessel abstract on file for all vessel use tax accounts. For sales tax accounts, the collector should contact the Use Tax Collections Bureau (UTCB) for instructions on how to order the abstracts, or related documents, from the USCG. If mailing address information on the abstract is incomplete or missing, a copy of the lien/mortgage document should be ordered from the USCG. If no lien holder or mortgagee exists, the collector should make a note in the system.

When requesting a USCG lien, the collector will add a work item for CSB and assign it to their supervisor for approval. The supervisor must add an approval note to the work item and then unassign it so the work item will be routed to the appropriate CSB work queue. Under U.S. Code Title 46, CDTFA is required to include a signed declaration with the taxpayer’s name and account number, vessel name and documentation number, and the lien holder or mortgagee’s name(s) and address(es) with the USCG lien request. The declaration and lien must be signed by the same person. Section 31343 also requires CDTFA to mail copies of the signed declaration and the lien document to each lien holder and mortgagee that has been identified. The collector must enter notes in the system when the copies have been sent.

REVOCABLE TRUST LIENS 757.066

A settlor (also known as a “donor” or “trustor”) is one who creates a trust by giving real or personal property “in trust” to another (the trustee) for the benefit of a third person (the beneficiary).

Assets of a revocable trust are subject to the claims of creditors of the settlor(s) of the trust, during the settlor(s) lifetime. Conversely, the settlor of a revocable trust is liable for the debts of his or her revocable trust.

A Notice of State Tax Lien against a revocable trust should contain the name of the living settlor(s). A Notice of State Tax Lien against a settlor should contain the name of the trust. To request a lien against the revocable trust or a settlor, the collector will add a work item for CSB and assign it to their supervisor for approval. The work item must include the settlor(s) name and current address, and documentation that the trust is revocable. The supervisor must add an approval note to the work item and then unassign it so the work item will be routed to the appropriate CSB work queue. The collector must enter notes in the system after supervisory approval.
PRIORITY OF LIENS 757.080

A lien on real and personal property is created as a result of a delinquent tax liability. A tax lien on real property may be perfected by:

1. Recording a notice of state tax lien with an office of the county recorder.
2. Filing an abstract in a county recorder’s office.

A lien on personal property is perfected by filing a notice of state tax lien with the office of the Secretary of State.

HOMESTEAD EXEMPTIONS 757.100

A person or married couple is limited to claiming a single homestead exemption at a time. Homestead exemptions protect a portion of the homestead from forced sale. The amount of the homestead exemption is one of the following:

One hundred seventy-five thousand dollars ($175,000) if the tax debtor or spouse is 65 years of age or older or; 55 years of age or older with a gross annual income of not more than $25,000 (single) or $35,000 (married); or is unable to be employed due to a physical or mental disability

1. One hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) for the head of a family
2. Seventy-five thousand ($75,000) for any other person.

(See Code of Civil Procedure (CCP) sections 704.720, 704.730, 704.950, 704.960 and 704.965.)

DECLARED HOMESTEAD 757.110

A dwelling in which an owner or owner’s spouse resides may be selected as a declared homestead by recording a homestead declaration. (CCP section 704.910 et seq.)

If a declared homestead is voluntarily sold, the proceeds are exempt in the amount of the exemption for 6 months after the date of the sale; (CCP section 704.960), if the owner invests the proceeds in a new homestead declaration. In such case, the homestead declaration has the same effect as if it had been recorded at the time the prior homestead declaration was recorded.

On and after July 1, 1983, a state tax lien attaches to a dwelling regardless of the prior recording of a homestead declaration. (Government Code section 7170.) Therefore, if a delinquent taxpayer’s file indicated the CDTFA’s lien was filed prior to July 1, 1983, on previously homesteaded property, a new lien should be requested.

Additionally, the responsible collector should be alert to any oversight by title companies in not recognizing the CDTFA’s lien. If an escrow company does not notify the CDTFA of the sale in escrow and the escrow company releases all funds, the escrow and title companies may be held liable for payment of the liability.
HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION (AUTOMATIC) 757.120

Whether or not a homestead declaration is recorded, Code of Civil Procedure sections 704.710, et seq., provide for a homestead exemption for dwellings in the same amounts as outlined in CPPM 757.100. Unlike the declared homestead, this exemption also applies to mobilehomes and boats in which the debtor resides. Proceeds from involuntary transfers of a dwelling (execution sale, or condemnation for public use, insurance proceeds from damage or destruction of the homestead) are exempt in the amount of the homestead exemption for six months after the debtor receives the proceeds. The proceeds are not exempt if the debtor or debtor's spouse applies the homestead exemption to another property within the six-month period. Proceeds from the voluntary sale of the dwelling are not exempt.

LIEN ON CAUSE OF ACTION 757.130

In cases where a delinquent taxpayer either files a civil action against another person to recover a sum of money or is the defendant in the action and files a cross-complaint, there is a possibility for the CDTFA to place a lien on the cause of action and any judgment subsequently recovered by the taxpayer. To accomplish this, the matter must be referred to the CSB with all of the details, so appropriate action can be taken before judgment is entered. No case should be considered for a lien on cause of action if the liability is less than $500.

If the lien on cause of action is successful, a lien will be granted, which will attach to the judgment rendered in favor of the plaintiff if the plaintiff prevails in the suit. The lien on the cause of action has priority as of the date that it is filed in the civil action. If the attorney representing the taxpayer has a written fee agreement that provides that the taxpayer grants the attorney a lien on any proceeds of the lawsuit to pay the attorney fees and costs incurred in the lawsuit, the attorney has a lien as of the date that agreement is executed. In most cases, the written fee agreement will create a lien senior to the CDTFA's, entitling the attorney to offset all attorney fees and costs (Cetenko v. United California Bank (1982) 30 Cal.3d 528).
LIEN ON CAUSE OF ACTION — INFORMATION NECESSARY FOR

If a civil action is filed by a delinquent taxpayer to recover money, and the taxpayer owes the CDTFA $500 or more, the CDTFA–708, Request for Notice of Lien on Cause of Action, should be completed and forwarded to the CSB. When the tax debtor is the defendant in the case, only forward a CDTFA–708 if a cross complaint is filed.

When preparing the CDTFA–708, Item 1 {DAG}(Deputy Attorney General), should be left blank. Items 2 through 10, listed below, must be accurately completed.

Item 2  Court.
Item 3  Case name (always give complete title of case per court records).
Item 4  Case number.
Item 5  Taxpayer (complete name or names).
Item 6, 7, & 8  Total unpaid amount and interest information.
Item 9  Parties to serve (include the name and address of the attorneys for all parties. If no attorneys are known, give the name and address of the party to which notice may be given. If substitute attorneys are listed in court records, show their names and addresses).
Item 10  Nature of suit and cross complaint.

Since the Attorney General must give notice of the state’s lien to all parties in the action, these matters must be promptly reported to the CSB.

COLLECTION ACTION TO CONTINUE

Requesting a lien on cause of action should be considered as one of the cumulative remedies to be used while other collection actions continue. The fact that a taxpayer who has filed a civil action is also making installment payments to the CDTFA, or has promised to make full payment at some future date, should not be reason to refrain from attempting to create a lien on cause of action.

REPORTS TO THE RESPONSIBLE OFFICE

After the Attorney General has completed his/her action and notification has been received by the CSB on the results of the Attorney General’s efforts, the information will be passed on to the office responsible for the account. Regardless of whether the Attorney General was successful or not, other efforts to collect should continue.

ACTION WHEN FULL PAYMENT RECEIVED

If full payment is received on an account that has been referred to the Attorney General, whether before or after a lien has been granted, a report of the collection will be forwarded promptly to the CSB so the information can be conveyed to the Attorney General.

RESPONSIBLE COLLECTOR FOLLOW-UP

As frequently as deemed necessary, the responsible collector should follow-up on these cases. Court records should be checked or the attorneys should be contacted. Any significant changes in the case should be promptly reported to the CSB. Keeping abreast of the current status of a case is important since the action of the Attorney General consists only of obtaining the lien and not of maintaining a follow up or taking further collection action.
At any time and under any of the laws it administers, the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) may release all or part of a taxpayer’s real property from the effect of a lien or liens it filed on the taxpayer’s property. The CDTFA may also subordinate its lien or liens to other liens or encumbrances if:

1. It is determined the amount due is sufficiently secured by a lien or other property.
2. Collection of the amount due will not be jeopardized by subordinating the lien.

Full lien releases are furnished to taxpayers only after full payment has been made or, if amounts are still due, they may be furnished to escrow agents or title companies along with a statement of payment and conditional release requirements, which must be met prior to the use of the release. All full releases are prepared and mailed by the Collections Support Bureau (CSB). Lien releases may also be issued if it is in the best interest of the state or to facilitate payment.

Government Code section 7174(c)(2) requires the CDTFA, not later than 40 days after the liability has been satisfied, to do one of the following:

1. Record a certificate of release in the office of the county recorder where the notice of state tax lien is recorded, or
2. Deposit in the mail or otherwise deliver to the taxpayer a certificate of release.

Therefore, in compliance with section 7174(c)(2), liens automatically enter the “Lien Release” state in the system after 40 days from the date of payment.

Lien releases should be requested when it is determined that the liability secured by a lien has been paid in full. In all cases where it is determined that the liability was paid in full or abated prior to the lien recording, a “free” release of lien will be requested. A free release of lien allows the taxpayer to have the lien removed from official records without paying a fee.

When a taxpayer requests a release of lien, proof of payment such as copies of canceled checks (both sides) must be provided for payments made by personal check within the last 30 days. If the lien recording information is not available in the system, the taxpayer should be advised that a release cannot be issued until the recording date becomes available. If a release is required sooner, CLEAR can be used to obtain the recording information. If the recording information is not available through CLEAR, the taxpayer should be advised that they can obtain a copy of the recorded lien from their respective county recorder (this is more applicable in larger counties where it takes longer for the CDTFA to receive the recorded lien).
Requests for releases to be mailed to escrow agents, title companies, or the taxpayer to enable the conveyance of property, will be handled as expeditiously as possible. If the request is received by a field office, it will be forwarded to the CSB within one day. When requests are received in the CSB, whether from a field office or directly from the taxpayer or its agent, the release should be mailed within one day.

If the release mailed to an escrow agent or title company requires payment be made prior to its use, the CSB will maintain a proper follow-up to ensure payment is received and any overpayment is returned. When the liability is paid, a lien release is sent directly to the county recorder. Title companies and escrow agents who record releases without making payment in violation of the CDTFA’s written instructions become liable for the amount they failed to pay.

PAYMENTS BY PERSONAL CHECK — RELEASE OF LIEN 761.040

Upon payment of a liability by personal check, the 40-day period required by Government Code section 7174(c)(2) in which to issue a lien release will be observed. This period allows time for the personal check to be processed through the banking system and prevents a lien release from being issued if the taxpayer’s account does not have sufficient funds. In instances where the taxpayer is requesting a release prior to the 40-day period expiring, he or she should be advised that a lien release will not be furnished unless the taxpayer can present for examination the cancelled check used in making the payment. If the release is to be delivered to the taxpayer at the time payment is made, such payment must be in cash, money order, certified check or cashier’s check. Company checks of escrow agents or title companies are also acceptable.

PAYMENTS BY CREDIT CARD – RELEASE OF LIEN 761.045

Credit card payments will be treated as cash payments for the purpose of lien releases. Prior to releasing a lien for a liability paid by credit card, the payment must be verified in the system.

RELEASE OF LIENS ERRONEOUSLY RECORDED 761.050

CDTFA is responsible for releasing liens acquired through erroneous recording of certificates or abstracts. A lien is considered to be filed in error when any of the following occur:

- The recording took place after payment in full was received for all affected periods, with all payments effective prior to the recording date.
- All periods or bill items on the recorded lien were subsequently adjusted to zero due to the determination that there was no filing requirement or there was no tax due during the originally assessed period.
- The recording was filed using an incorrect name, entity name, FEIN, SSN, corporation number, or LLC number.
- The underlying liability secured by the lien was determined to have been billed in error.
- The recording was filed contrary to the restrictions described in CPPM section 757.060.
Release of Liens Erroneously Recorded

If a lien was erroneously recorded, the collector must immediately notify CSB by adding a CSB – Miscellaneous Lien Request work item from the Customer springboard. The notes should clearly request a free release of lien, explain why the lien was recorded in error, and include all related details. All relevant documentation should be added as an attachment in the system. If the request is urgent, the collector must immediately inform CSB of the new work item by sending an email to the CSB inbox at LegalCSB@cdtfa.ca.gov.

The CSB will send a free release to the customer and the entity recording the lien as soon as possible, but no later than seven days, after the determination and the receipt of erroneous lien recording information. The release must contain a statement that the lien was filed in error. In the event the erroneous lien is obstructing a lawful transaction, the CSB must immediately issue a free release of lien to the customer and the entity recording the lien.

When CDTFA releases an erroneously filed lien, notice of the release should be mailed to the customer and, upon the customer’s request, a copy must be mailed to the major credit reporting companies in the county where the lien was filed.

Subordination of Liens

Subordination of real property liens are usually requested for the purpose of:

1. Acquiring property on which a trust deed is to be executed, which is to become a first lien.
2. For the purpose of placing a new encumbrance on property that already stands in the taxpayer’s name.

Subordination of a lien should not be issued merely as a convenience to the taxpayer or without proper investigation to determine the merits of the request. In most cases, the position of the state will not be worsened by issuing a subordination since property is to be acquired or presently owned property will be retained.

In cases of refinancing currently owned property, the taxpayer will have money coming to them at the close of escrow. In these cases, a subordination of lien will not be given unless there are extenuating circumstances or unless the taxpayer has agreed to have the surplus funds from the escrow remitted directly to the CDTFA.

In all cases where a subordination of a lien is requested, the collector will send a written recommendation, including supporting reasons, to the CSB, accompanied by the taxpayer’s written request stating the reason the subordination is desired. The following will also be forwarded:
Subordination of Liens (Cont.) 761.060

1. The date and amount of the deed of trust to be executed.
2. The names of the parties executing the deed of trust as those names will appear on the instrument.
3. The name of the trustee.
4. The name of the party in whose favor (beneficiary) the deed of trust will be executed.
5. Copy of the preliminary title report.
6. The legal description of the property as it will appear on the deed of trust (required only if this description is different than the description contained in the preliminary title report).
7. Schedule of proposed disbursement of funds by the escrow holder.
8. Printout of a real property search report (CoreLogic, CLEAR, Westlaw, etc.).
9. Lender’s appraisal report or statement of property value.

Each request will require a thorough investigation to assemble all of the required facts in order to make a decision. In every case where the taxpayer has the ability to pay, no subordination will be issued.

Partial Releases of Liens 761.070

A partial release of lien, when recorded, has the effect of removing a lien from the particular real property described in the partial release, while allowing the lien’s effect on other real property in which the taxpayer has an interest to remain undisturbed. Partial releases are given at the discretion of the CDTFA and their issuance is not mandatory. Releases of this type are usually requested in those cases where the taxpayer does not have available funds to pay the amount due, but does own more than one parcel of real estate, and is selling at least one, but not all parcels of property owned.

Also, a partial release of lien might be requested when the taxpayer is selling his/her only parcel of real property and the surplus funds are insufficient to pay the entire tax liability. In this case, the taxpayer must agree to have the surplus money from the sale remitted directly to the CDTFA in exchange for issuing a partial release of lien.

Partial releases are given only when such action will not jeopardize collection of the remainder of the account or where the lien on other property provides adequate security. When a partial release of lien is issued, all amounts that would normally be paid to the taxpayer in excess of the amounts due prior lien holders plus the costs of the sale will be paid directly to the CDTFA.

All requests for partial releases shall be transmitted to the CSB. In order for the CSB to consider the request properly, the following is required:

1. Cover memo including recommendation and reasons in support of recommendation.
2. Taxpayer’s or escrow’s written request stating the reason the partial release is desired.
3. Lender’s appraisal report or statement of market value.
5. Schedule of proposed disbursement of funds by the escrow agent.
6. Printout of a real property search report (CoreLogic, CLEAR, Westlaw, etc.).

Every request for a partial release of lien requires thorough investigation. In every case where the taxpayer has the ability to pay in full, no partial release of lien will be issued.
RELEASE OF LIENS WHEN CDTFA RECORDS ARE DESTROYED 761.080

It is not unusual for the CDTFA to receive requests for a release of lien in cases where records have been destroyed. When a request is received, the Taxpayer Records Unit should be contacted to determine if they have the necessary records. If the Taxpayer Records Unit’s records have been destroyed, responsible offices should secure, either from the escrow agent, title company, or from the office of the county recorder, all of the data necessary for the preparation of the release. This information should then be promptly forwarded to the CSB along with the request for the release. The required information is as follows:

2. Name of person or persons against whom recorded, including dba, if any.
3. Amount of certificate.
4. County in which recorded.
5. Date, book, and page of recording.

In every case where a request for a release is received and records are destroyed, it must definitely be ascertained that the certificate for which a release is requested was recorded by the CDTFA. Failure to do so will result in unnecessary work, as well as delay for the taxpayer, if it is later discovered the certificate was recorded by another agency.

LIENS AFFECTING PERSONS OTHER THAN TAXPAYERS 761.090

On occasion, a person with the same or very similar name as a CDTFA taxpayer may be affected by a CDTFA lien. The person generally becomes aware of the lien when it appears on a credit report or title report. Such persons will likely contact the CDTFA to request assistance in resolving the problem.

When this situation arises, the first step is to verify the person is not the taxpayer being sought. To verify that the person contacting the CDTFA is not the taxpayer in question, require the person to appear in one of the CDTFA’s field offices. The following information is required for proper identification:

1. His or her driver license or verifiable picture ID, such as from a place of employment.
2. Social security card.
3. Copies of other documents that show the social security number (e.g., payroll documents, income tax returns).

If the above documents do not conclusively demonstrate that the person is not the taxpayer in question, other evidence must be submitted. The collector responsible for the account has the latitude and responsibility to work with the person to determine the acceptable documentation verifying that he or she is not the taxpayer in question.
Once the above documentation is obtained, the collector should photocopy the documents and prepare a cover memo and recommendation that includes:

1. The person’s name.
2. The person’s mailing address.
3. The person’s telephone number.
4. A brief description of how the person discovered the error (e.g., credit report, title report).
5. Any other supporting documents.

The memo and the photocopies of the documents should then be sent to the CSB where a notarized letter (“wrong person” letter) will be prepared stating that the indicated person is not the correct taxpayer. A cover letter is sent to the person with this notarized letter suggesting that the person provide the notarized letter to credit reporting companies and others who may question the lien. The letter should mitigate any future concerns or issues regarding the lien.
DETERMINATIONS AND ALTER EGO 764.000

DEFICIENCY DETERMINATIONS 764.010

RTC sections 6511 and 6481 for sales and use tax, and similar statutes for special taxes and fees programs, provide that if a person fails to file a return the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) shall make an estimate of the amount of tax due, or if the CDTFA is not satisfied with the return(s) filed, it may compute and determine the amount that is required to be paid. The CDTFA may compute this amount based on the facts contained in the return(s), or any information in its possession or that may come into its possession. One or more deficiency determinations may be made for the amount due for one or for more than one period.

Deficiency determinations are subject to interest and penalties. Penalties are described in the Revenue and Taxation Code as follows:

- Section 6484 10 percent penalty for negligence or intentional disregard of this part or authorized rules or regulations.
- Section 6485 25 percent penalty for fraud or intent to evade this part or authorized rules and regulations.
- Section 6485.1 50 percent penalty for purchasing and registering a vehicle, vessel or aircraft outside the State of California for the purpose of evading the payment of taxes due under this part.
- Section 6511 10 percent penalty for failure to file a return.
- Section 6597 40 percent penalty for collecting but not timely remitting sales tax reimbursement or use tax.
- Section 6565 10 percent penalty if the determination is not paid when due and payable.

*Similar Sections for special taxes and fees programs

The CDTFA must provide written notice of a determination to the tax or fee payer (taxpayer) or other responsible person. “Written notice” means that the Notice of Determination must fairly apprise the taxpayer of the nature of the liability covered. The Notice of Determination is sent via U.S. mail to the person’s address as it appears in the records of the CDTFA. Service of the notice is complete at the time of the deposit of the notice in the United States Post Office, or a mailbox, sub-post office, substation or mail chute or other facility regularly maintained or provided by the United States Postal Service, without extension of time for any reason.

In lieu of mailing, a Notice of Determination may be served personally by delivering it to the person to be served. Notice is complete at the time of delivery. Personal service to a corporation may be made by delivery of a Notice of Determination to any person designated in the Code of Civil Procedure to be served for the corporation with summons and complaint in a civil action.

Any person against whom a determination is made, or any person directly interested, may file a written petition for redetermination within 30 days from the service of the notice. If a petition for redetermination is not filed within the 30-day period, the determination becomes final. All determinations made under the above sections are due and payable at the time when they become final. If any amount of the determination is not paid when due and payable (final), a “finality” penalty of 10 percent shall be applied to the remaining unpaid tax or fee portion of the determination.
Deficiency Determinations

Notices of Determination issued to corporations, LLCs, and LLPs will also include a note to educate and remind principals they may be personally liable and responsible for tax, interest, and penalties owed by the business under RTC section 6829 if the business terminates, dissolves or is abandoned.

Jeopardy Determinations

JEOPARDY DETERMINATIONS

A jeopardy determination is issued when collection of the amount due is jeopardized by delay. The request for a jeopardy determination must receive approval and signature by an administrator or any person delegated this authority. A notice of jeopardy determination looks identical to a deficiency determination notice with the following exceptions: “Jeopardy Notice of Determination” is printed on the face of the document, contains a bill note with amount determined to be immediately due and payable, and states the amount of security the taxpayer must deposit with CDTFA for the petition for redetermination of the jeopardy determination to be considered.

A jeopardy determination may be issued:

1. For self-assessed, self-declared, or CDTFA-assessed liabilities.
2. For the same liability included in a non-final determination, even if the non-final determination is in petition status.
3. For determinations issued to “Unlicensed Persons” under the Cigarette and Tobacco Products Tax Law, the Diesel Fuel Tax Law, or the Motor Vehicle Fuel Tax Law.

The recommendation for a jeopardy determination must set forth the reason(s) why delay will result in jeopardizing collection. To request a jeopardy determination, team members must prepare a memo that includes the following:

1. The taxpayer’s name and address,
2. The source and status of the underlying liability,
3. The taxpayer’s overall financial condition, including a list of all known assets and liabilities,
4. The amount of equity available for a lien or levy,
5. The taxpayer’s present and future income potential, including the taxpayer’s ability to earn wages or pay the liability if there is no jeopardy determination,
6. Which county or counties in which a Notice of State Tax Lien is to be filed,
7. Whether or not a lien is to be recorded with Secretary of State,
8. Whether or not a warrant is being requested, which must include the name of the person to whom the warrant is to be sent, the asset(s) to be levied upon, and the amount of advance fees that may be required, and

Note: Under the Cigarette and Tobacco Products Tax Law, Diesel Fuel Tax Law, and Motor Vehicle Fuel Tax Law, billings to “Unlicensed Persons” are required to be issued as a jeopardy determination; therefore, the memo requesting approval does not need to include information on the taxpayer’s overall financial condition and their present and future income potential.
JEOPARDY DETERMINATIONS

For sales and use tax, the original request for a jeopardy determination is routed to the Field Operations Division (FOD) Deputy Director (or designee) for approval. Jeopardy determination requests for special taxes and fees accounts are routed to the Audit and Carrier Bureau (ACB) Chief (or designee) for approval. If the request for a jeopardy determination is approved, the FOD Deputy Director (or designee) or the ACB Chief (or designee) will notify Collections Support Bureau (CSB) to proceed with any actions requested in the memo (for example, filing liens, issuing till tap or keeper warrants).

As a guide to determine whether to request a jeopardy determination, the following are some examples of when a jeopardy determination may be warranted:

1. Taxpayer is obviously dissipating their assets.
2. Taxpayer is placing assets in the names of other persons for purposes of concealment.
3. Taxpayer’s assets are being attached by creditors, or are in imminent danger of attachment.
4. There is a pending sale of property which represents the last remaining assets and, without the funds from such sale, collection is doubtful.
5. There is evidence the taxpayer intends to file a petition in bankruptcy or make an assignment for benefit of creditors.
6. There is evidence creditors intend to file an involuntary petition in bankruptcy against the taxpayer.
7. Investigation reveals the business is easily shut down or relocated because the only assets are limited inventory and cash.
8. The business is operating in violation of local and/or state laws and is imminent danger of being shut down and all assets seized by law enforcement or regulatory agencies.

Determinations of this type are:

1. Due and payable immediately.
2. Exempt from the following provisions of the Taxpayers’ Bill of Rights:
   a. RTC section 7094 (or similar section for special taxes and fees), except that the Taxpayers’ Rights Advocate may exercise their authority under these statutes if the ultimate collection of the amount due is no longer in jeopardy.
   b. RTC section 7097(a) (or similar section for special taxes and fees).
3. Subject to the use of all collection remedies as of the date they are served, either personally or by mail.

Similar to deficiency determinations, any person against whom a jeopardy determination is issued has the right to petition for redetermination. However, in the case of a jeopardy determination the petition for redetermination must be filed within 10 days following the issuance of the Notice of Jeopardy Determination. Within the same 10-day period, the person must post such security as may be deemed necessary by CDTFA (see CPPM 445.000 et seq.). If the jeopardy determination remains unpaid 10 days from the date of issuance and a petition for redetermination has not been filed, an additional 10 percent penalty will be added, except when a jeopardy determination is made against an existing self-assessed or CDTFA-assessed final liability that has already been assessed the 10 percent penalty.
A jeopardy determination is, in itself, an indication that collection will be jeopardized by delay. Therefore, the office responsible for the account must give priority to their collection efforts, making full and prompt use of appropriate collection remedies, which may include the seizure of a taxpayer’s personal property. If personal property is seized, the sale of the property must be delayed until an administrative hearing is either granted or denied. If the taxpayer does not request an administrative hearing, a 30-day period must elapse between the date of service of the jeopardy determination and the date of sale of seized assets.

DUAL DETERMINATIONS — GENERAL 764.030

A “dual determination” is a determination made against a person for a tax liability that is also the obligation of another person. Dual determinations may be based upon the full amount of tax owed by the other person or for a portion thereof, depending on the specific circumstances. The liability may be based upon either self-assessed or CDTFA–assessed tax.

Some examples of circumstances where a dual determination may be issued include the following:

- More than one determination may be issued when there is doubt as to the true ownership of a business or when the true ownership cannot be established. Determinations for the same liability are made against each of the entities that investigation discloses could have operated the business and incurred the liability.
- Dual determinations are also issued whenever a person holding a permit or license sells the business or otherwise changes the ownership without notification to the CDTFA, allowing the succeeding entity to continue the business using the permit or license issued to the original operator (see CPPM section 734.000).
- Dual determinations may be issued when a purchaser of a business or stock of goods fails to withhold a sufficient amount of the purchase price to cover the tax liability of the seller (see CPPM section 732.000).
- Dual determinations may be issued against corporate officers for an unpaid tax liability incurred while the corporation is suspended (Sales and Use Tax accounts only, see CPPM section 764.060).
- In certain circumstances, a dual determination for personal liability may be issued against a corporate officer, or shareholder, or any responsible person under RTC section 6829 (Sales and Use Tax accounts only, see CPPM section 764.080).

Regardless of how many additional entities or persons have been issued a dual determination for the original liability, the liability is posted to the accounts receivable only one time.

The collector in the office responsible for collection of the account has the responsibility of fully substantiating a dual determination case and bringing it to the attention of the appropriate section so a dual determination may be issued. For Sales and Use Tax accounts, the Collections Support Bureau (CSB) or Audit Determination and Refund Section (ADRS) will review the information provided by staff and determine whether sufficient documentation has been provided to support the issuance of a dual determination.

DUAL DETERMINATIONS — STATUTORY PROVISIONS 764.040

Dual determinations may be issued against a dualee for some or all of the unpaid liabilities of the primary taxpayer for any periods for which the statute of limitations have not expired.
DUAL DETERMINATIONS — PENALTY 764.050

When a dual determination is issued against a dualee (secondary account), all penalties assessed to the primary account included in the periods of liability subject to the dual determination will be included in the determination assessed against the dualee, including any finality penalty assessed to the primary account. However, if the dualed liability is not paid before its finality date, it does not accrue an additional finality penalty. Additionally, if relief of penalty is granted under the primary account for periods that have been assessed to a dualee, the liability assessed to the dualee will be reduced by the same amount.

DUAL DETERMINATION AGAINST CORPORATE OFFICERS SUSPENDED CORPORATION 764.060

Sales and Use Tax Regulation 1702.6 provides for the personal liability of:

1. A corporate officer or shareholder with control over operations or management of a closely held corporation during a time in which the corporation’s powers, rights, and privileges are suspended.
2. Any responsible person who fails to pay or to cause to be paid any taxes due from a closely held corporation during a time in which the corporation’s powers, rights, and privileges are suspended.

Personal liability shall extend to the unpaid tax, interest and penalties regardless of the basis for the suspension of the corporation’s powers, rights, and privileges. However, personal liability under this regulation applies only when the CDTFA establishes that, during the period of suspension, the corporation:

1. Sold tangible personal property in the conduct of its business and collected sales tax reimbursement on the selling price (whether separately itemized or included in the selling price) and failed to remit such tax when due, or
2. Collected use tax and failed to report and pay the tax, or
3. Consumed tangible personal property and failed to pay the applicable tax to the seller or the CDTFA.

When the evidence shows that tax reimbursement was the normal operating procedure of the corporation, a dual determination may be issued against the corporate officers of a suspended corporation. However, any liability determined against the corporate officer(s) must have been incurred by the corporation during the period during which it was suspended. Photocopies of evidence examined (if available) substantiating such procedures must be attached to the request to issue a dual determination.

Certain audit liabilities are subject to corporate suspension duals, depending on the basis for the audit. If the basis is underreported sales, and it is the normal operating procedure of the corporation to collect sales tax, then it can be inferred that the corporation reimbursed itself for the audited taxable measure. If the basis for the audit is disallowed sales for resale or disallowed sales in interstate commerce, it cannot be assumed that the corporation received reimbursement for the audited taxable measure. In this case, the audit measure may need to be separated into liabilities which are subject to dual determination and liabilities which are not.

A suspended corporation remains liable for the unpaid tax, interest, and penalties incurred during the period in which its corporate powers, rights, and privileges were suspended, without regard to any personal liability determined against corporate officers or shareholders.
“Responsible Person” means any officer or shareholder who is charged with the responsibility for filing returns or payment of tax or who has a duty to act for the closely held corporation in complying with any provision of the Sales and Use Tax Law and who derives a direct financial benefit from the failure to pay the tax liability.

“Closely held” corporation means one in which ownership is concentrated in one individual, one family, or a small number of individuals and the majority stockholders manage the business.

“Control over operations and management” means the power to manage or affect day-to-day operations of the business.

PROCEDURES TO ESTABLISH A CORPORATE SUSPENSION DUAL DETERMINATION

A corporate suspension dual may be established even if the seller’s permit is still active. Complete each of the following steps before submitting a request for a dual determination to ADRS:

1. Establish that the corporation has been/was suspended by accessing Secretary of State (SOS) corporate information in the system or the SOS website. Relevant information that can be obtained through the Secretary of State includes FTB filing history, the Federal Employer Identification Number (FEIN), the Corporate Number, the date of incorporation, the date of suspension (if any) and the filing and payment history for the corporation’s income taxes.

2. Establish that the statute of limitations has not expired for the liability in question.

3. Establish that the liability to be assessed against the corporate officers was incurred by the corporation during the suspension period.

4. Establish that the corporation is a closely held corporation by showing that:
   - a. The ownership is concentrated in one person, a family, or a small group of individuals.
   - b. The majority stockholders also managed the business.
   - c. The corporate minutes are inadequate.

5. Establish that the corporation received tax reimbursement. This can be determined in a number of ways:
   - a. Review previous sales tax returns for line 9 entries (sales tax included on line 1). Copies of prior tax returns can be ordered from the Taxpayer Records Unit if necessary, or the information can be printed from the system.
   - b. Review the audit comments on previous audits, including the CDTFA–1296, Account Update Information.
   - c. Send a CDTFA–1508, Dual Determination Information Request (Offer) to each of the former corporate officers. A current statement of corporate officers can be obtained from the Secretary of State.
   - d. Send a CDTFA–1509, Dual Determination Information Request (Employee), to a few ex-employees of the corporation. A list of employees can be obtained from an external access request for payroll tax return data reported to EDD.
e. Send a CDTFA–1510, Dual Determination — Customer Affidavit, to any previous customers of the corporation. Customers can be found from previous audits, bankruptcy mailing matrices or contact with ex-employees. If investigation does not reveal whether or not sales tax reimbursement was collected on the transaction for which the tax was due, a dual determination may be issued against the corporate officers only if there is evidence showing that the corporation’s normal operating procedure was to include or add sales tax reimbursement. If it is known, or there is a strong presumption as in the case of disallowed deductions, that sales tax reimbursement was not collected, we should not include such sales in the dual determination. Transactions included under the “normal operating procedure” rationale that are later discovered not to include tax reimbursement must be deleted from the determination.

6. Ascertain the responsible individual who is charged with the filing and paying of taxes and other liabilities, or supervision of such employees, by:
   a. Reviewing the information in the file and in collection notes.
   b. Contacting ex-employees of the corporation and asking them to complete a CDTFA–1509.
   c. Contacting responsible corporate officers and other corporate officers and asking them to voluntarily complete a CDTFA–1508.
   d. Checking audit comments for any mention of responsible corporate officers, including the CDTFA–1296.
   e. Checking previous sales tax returns and ordering corporate income tax returns.
   f. Checking copies of previous checks used to pay sales tax returns for signatures.
   g. If the corporation filed bankruptcy, checking the bankruptcy court file for a “Statement of Financial Affairs.” This statement can provide a wealth of information including references to payments to corporate officers and major creditors in the period prior to the bankruptcy petition, and it is signed under penalty of perjury by the responsible officer.
   h. Considering a subpoena of bank records to determine who signed checks. This tool is effective, but it is costly and time consuming. Given the added expense of a subpoena, other elements of the dual should be verified first.

7. Prepare an interoffice memorandum requesting a corporate officer dual determination and send it to ADRS along with documentation of the above items.

WHEN A CORPORATE SUSPENSION DUAL DETERMINATION SHOULD BE ISSUED  764.072

Corporate suspension dual determinations under Regulation 1702.6 should only be issued if the corporation’s seller’s permit is still active with no near-term expectation of being closed out (e.g., the corporation remains suspended but is solvent and capable of revival).

Additionally, for reporting periods during which the corporation was suspended, corporate suspension dual determinations should only be pursued within three years of the suspension date or three years from the date of the liability, whichever is later. Approval of all corporate suspension dual determinations should be made by the Assistant Chief of Field Operations or section supervisor prior to the request being forwarded to ADRS for billing.

If the corporation’s seller’s permit is closed, only a dual determination under Revenue and Taxation Code section 6829 should be considered.
PERMIT OF A SUSPENDED CORPORATION

If a corporation is suspended by the Franchise Tax Board (FTB) or Secretary of State (SOS), the corporation’s seller’s permit should remain active until it has been determined that the corporation is no longer doing business. Staff should not close out the corporation’s seller’s permit and issue a new permit to an individual or a partnership solely because the corporation is suspended.

DUAL DETERMINATIONS UNDER RTC SECTION 6829 STATUTORY PROVISIONS

Revenue and Taxation Code (RTC) section 6829 and Regulation 1702.5 set forth the requirements for holding a responsible person personally liable for unpaid tax, interest, and penalties owed by a corporation, partnership, limited partnership, limited liability partnership or limited liability company (entity). In order to issue a Notice of Determination (NOD) for personal liability under RTC section 6829, each of the following four elements must be satisfied:

1. Termination (see CPPM 764.120) - Personal liability can only be imposed if there is a termination, dissolution, or abandonment of the business of an entity (RTC section 6829(a), Regulation 1702.5(a)). Termination of an entity’s business includes discontinuance or cessation of business activities (Regulation 1702.5(b)(3)).

2. Sales Tax Reimbursement and Use Tax (see CPPM 764.130) - Personal liability can only be imposed if the CDTFA establishes that, while the person was a responsible person, the entity:
   a. Sold tangible personal property in the conduct of its business and collected sales tax reimbursement on the selling price (whether separately itemized or included in the selling price) and failed to remit such tax when due; or
   b. Consumed tangible personal property and failed to pay the applicable tax to the seller or the CDTFA, or
   c. Included use tax on the billing and collected the use tax or issued a receipt for use tax and failed to report and pay the tax (RTC section 6829(c), Regulation 1702.5(a)).

3. Responsible Person(s) (see CPPM 764.140) - Personal liability can be imposed only on a responsible person (RTC section 6829(a)). “Responsible person” means any officer, member, manager, employee, director, shareholder, partner, or other person having control or supervision of, or who is charged with the responsibility for, the filing of returns or the payment of tax or who has a duty to act for the entity in complying with any provision of the SUT Law (RTC section 6829(a), Regulation 1702.5(b)(1)). Additionally, the responsible person shall be liable only for transactions where the taxes became due during the periods he or she had the control, supervision, responsibility, or duty to act for the entity, plus the interest and penalties on those taxes (RTC section 6829(b)).

4. Willfulness (see CPPM 764.150) - Personal liability can be imposed on a responsible person only if the person willfully failed to pay or to cause to be paid taxes due from the entity (RTC section 6829(a), Regulation 1702.5(a)). “Willfully fails to pay or to cause to be paid” means that the failure was the result of an intentional, conscious, and voluntary course of action (RTC section 6829(d), Regulation 1702.5(b)(1)), and this failure may be willful even though such failure was not done with a bad purpose or evil motive (Regulation 1702.5(b)(2)).

Accordingly, if each of these four elements is not established, then an NOD for personal liability under RTC section 6829 cannot be issued.
Once an entity’s permit is closed in the system and the closed entity has an outstanding liability, staff in the office responsible for the account works the account to obtain payment for the entity’s outstanding liability.

Upon reviewing the case notes and file material, staff in the responsible office makes contact with officers/members/partners/potential responsible persons of the closed entity to request that the entity pay the outstanding liability in full or enter into a payment agreement. Additionally, staff discusses with the officers/members/partners/potential responsible persons RTC section 6829 and its implications with respect to personal liability should the outstanding liability of the entity remain unpaid. To expedite payment of the closed entity’s liability, staff also determines if there are any outstanding assets of the closed entity that can be used to pay down the liability. Staff also determines whether other avenues of collection are available and whether these avenues have already been investigated (e.g., successor liability). Note that before and after a dual determination is issued pursuant to section 6829, staff should continue to pursue collection efforts against the closed entity.

Accounts that are appropriate for an RTC section 6829 investigation are investigated by staff in the office responsible for the account. Staff reviews the evidence already obtained and also gathers additional evidence to determine whether one or more dual determinations under RTC section 6829 are warranted. If staff believes the evidence supports a finding that it is more likely than not that all four requisite elements of RTC section 6829 have been established (i.e., termination, sales tax reimbursement/use tax liability, responsible person and willfulness), staff prepares a request for a dual determination. The request includes (1) an interoffice memorandum addressed to the Audit Determination and Refunds Section (ADRS) that summarizes the facts and circumstances of the case, (2) a CDTFA-1512, Dual Billing Worksheet, (3) copies of all relevant documentation and information gathered during the investigation, and (4) a copy of the CDTFA-1515, Notice of Proposed Determination (see CPPM section 764.160).

A designated reviewer in the responsible office is then assigned to review the request. If the reviewer concurs that, based on the existing evidence, the four requisite elements have been established, the reviewer approves the dual request(s) and authorizes the issuance of the CDTFA-1515, Notice of Proposed Determination, to each potential responsible person (see CPPM section 764.170).

Except in limited circumstances (e.g., a jeopardy determination) approved by the assigned Chief (CEA) or his/her designee, staff then prepares and mails the CDTFA-1515 to each potential responsible person. The CDTFA-1515 generally must be mailed no later than one year prior to the expiration of the statute of limitations (see CPPM section 764.100). In limited circumstances, upon receiving approval by the assigned CEA or his/her designee, the CDTFA-1515 may be mailed less than one year prior to the expiration of the statute of limitations. The CDTFA-1515 process allows a potential responsible person that receives a CDTFA-1515 an additional 15 days to provide evidence that may warrant further investigation as to whether one or more of the requisite elements could potentially be disproved for any of the reporting periods at issue.

If a potential responsible person responds to a CDTFA-1515, after any additional investigation that is warranted is completed, and if one or more of the requisite elements have been successfully disproved for any of the reporting periods at issue, the request for the dual determination is modified or withdrawn, as appropriate.
If, after any additional investigation is completed, the reviewer believes the totality of the evidence still supports a finding that, for any of the reporting periods still at issue, it is still more likely than not that all four of the requisite elements have been established, the request for the dual determination is revised, as needed, and finalized, taking into account any post-CDTFA-1515 evidence. If the potential responsible person does not respond to the CDTFA-1515 or responds and no information is brought forth for staff to consider or investigate, then staff will document this in the system and the request for the dual determination is finalized.

Staff then sends the request for the dual determination to ADRS. The request for a dual determination generally must be sent to ADRS at least 30 days prior to the expiration of the statute of limitations. In limited circumstances, upon receiving approval by the assigned CEA or his/her designee, the request for a dual determination may be submitted to ADRS less than 30 days prior to the expiration of the statute of limitations. Upon receiving a dual determination request, ADRS reviews the request and either approves the request and issues a Notice of Determination (NOD) to the responsible person(s), or returns the package to staff for further research. In the event the NOD is not issued, staff is required to send a CDTFA-1516, Cancellation of Proposed Determination, to the responsible person(s).

An RTC section 6829 dual determination should still be investigated and billed accordingly in cases where the closed entity’s liability is non-final (i.e., the entity filed a timely petition). However, when the closed entity’s underlying liability is non-final, collection efforts against the responsible person will be suspended until the entity’s liability is final. Additionally, if during the investigative process, staff discovers situations involving bankruptcy, assignment for the benefit of creditors, receivership, or probate, staff should consult with the Collections Support Bureau (CSB) for guidance (see also CPPM section 740.000).

STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS FOR RTC SECTION 6829 DUAL DETERMINATIONS

Effective January 1, 2009, RTC section 6829 was amended to add subdivision (f), which provides that an NOD must be mailed within three years after the last day of the calendar month following the quarterly period in which the CDTFA obtains actual knowledge, through its audit or compliance activities, or by written communication by the entity or its representative, of the termination, dissolution, or abandonment of the entity’s business activities, or, within eight years after the last day of the calendar month following the quarterly period in which the entity’s business activities were terminated, dissolved, or abandoned, whichever period expires earlier.

Staff cannot rely solely on the closeout date or closeout process date as shown in the CDTFA’s electronic records as the date that the CDTFA obtained actual knowledge of the termination, dissolution, or abandonment of the entity’s business activities (closeout). The following sources, although not exhaustive, should be reviewed in order to determine the CDTFA’s date of knowledge (DOK) of the closeout:

1. ACMS notes - review all ACMS notes available.
2. IRIS comments - review all comments.
3. Any relevant audit reports and CDTFA-414-Z, Audit Assignment History.
4. Entity’s central file and desk file for the following:
   a. Hardcopy returns where the entity may have indicated when the business closed (for filers who did not eFile).
   b. Correspondence from the entity or a CDTFA-65, Notice of Closeout for Seller’s Permit.
5. Successor’s application for a seller’s permit to determine whether the successor indicated it had purchased the business.

6. PACER and IRIS for any relevant bankruptcy or legal filings of the entity where the CDTFA was properly noticed as a creditor.

The statute of limitations can be determined once the DOK of the closeout is determined. For example, if the DOK of the closeout is identified as 5/12/12, then the statute of limitations would expire on 7/31/15. If the DOK of the closeout is determined to be 10/5/12, then the statute of limitations would expire on 1/31/16 (three years after the last day of the calendar month following the quarterly period in which the CDTFA obtained actual knowledge of the closeout of the entity’s business activities).

ESTABLISHING AN RTC SECTION 6829 DUAL DETERMINATION – GENERAL

When investigating whether a dual determination under RTC section 6829 is warranted, the investigation of the case should focus on answering the following questions:

1. Were the entity’s business activities terminated, dissolved, or abandoned?
2. For the period(s) of liability, who was responsible for sales and use tax matters while the sales occurred and when the taxes became due?
3. Is there evidence of sales tax reimbursement collected but not remitted? Is there evidence of the collection of use tax and the failure to report and pay the tax? Is there evidence of the consumption of tangible personal property and the failure to pay the applicable tax?
4. Is there evidence of willfulness?

All information and documentation received throughout the investigation should be retained and all relevant documentation must be included in the dual determination request submitted to ADRS. This includes information and documentation that staff obtains from the potential responsible person as well as evidence that appears to be contradictory or exonerating in nature. These investigations are findings of fact for each of the four elements and not all investigations will include/result in the same types of evidence. However, all of the evidence gathered and included in the dual determination request must support a finding that it is more likely than not that all four requisite elements for holding a responsible person personally liable under RTC section 6829 have been met.

The following actions, although not exhaustive, will assist staff in obtaining payment for the entity’s outstanding liability and starting their investigation of whether an RTC section 6829 dual determination is warranted:

1. Contact and interview officers/members/partners/potential responsible persons found throughout ACMS notes and make them aware of the entity’s outstanding liability. When discussing the entity’s outstanding liability with these persons, staff should request that the entity make payment(s) towards the outstanding liability or enter into a payment agreement.
2. Discuss RTC section 6829 and its implications with respect to personal liability for the entity’s outstanding liability with officers/members/partners/potential responsible persons found throughout ACMS.
3. Determine if there are assets of the entity that can be used to reduce or pay the liability in full (liquor license, vehicles, vessels, machinery and equipment, funds in a bank account, deposits with creditors, etc.).
4. Determine whether there is a successor and request a dual billing if appropriate.

5. Determine if the entity has been merged or converted into another entity. If there is a conversion or merger, see CPPM 726.033, Business Conversions, for more information on how to proceed.

6. If the entity does not pay the outstanding liability and does not enter into a payment agreement, collection action should be initiated against the entity (file liens, clear delinquencies, send levies, place withhold on ABC liquor license, etc.).

7. Apply liquid security or make demand on Surety Bond if appropriate (see CPPM 735.035).

8. Send relevant questionnaires to officers/members/partners, former employees, CPA, landlord, suppliers, creditors, and any other person or entity that may have information about the operation of the business (e.g., CDTFA-1508, Dual Determination - Responsible Person Questionnaire, CDTFA-1509, Dual Determination - Business Operations Questionnaire, or CDTFA-1511, Dual Determination - Creditor/Supplier/Landlord). These questionnaires may be used for purposes of determining the four elements of an RTC section 6829 dual determination (see CPPM 764.120, 764.130, 764.140, and 764.150) and are available in ACMS.

9. Request, record, and retain EDD information pertaining to wages reportedly paid to employees, names of the employees, and those listed as contacts for the entity with EDD. Such information may be used for purposes of determining who the corporate officers are and whether the entity made payments to creditors other than the CDTFA during the periods at issue (see CPPM 764.150).

10. Request, record, and retain DMV information for the entity’s account to determine the vehicles currently or previously owned and whether there are collection opportunities available.

11. Request, record, and retain CLEAR public record reports on the entity and on the officers/members/partners listed. The reports provide current and historic public record information on individuals and businesses including addresses, telephone numbers, asset information, Uniform Commercial Code (UCC) filings and court filings. Take any necessary actions based upon information contained in the reports (e.g., collection efforts on the entity’s assets or an RTC section 6829 investigation for officers/members/partners listed).

12. Request, record, and retain information received from the entity’s central file from the Taxpayer Records Unit.

13. Request, record, and retain a photocopy of the Audit Work Papers (if applicable).

14. Request, record, and retain State Income Tax Returns for the entity and officers/members/partners for purposes of revealing titles and ownership interest in the entity. In addition, the tax returns provide information regarding the entity’s purchases and expenditures during the year (e.g., Cost of Goods Sold, wages, rent, repairs and maintenance, advertising, etc.).

15. Review, record, and retain any relevant information from PACER for the entity and officers/members/partners/potential responsible persons for useful information (e.g., bankruptcy filings or civil filings by the entity or potential responsible persons).
ESTABLISHING THE ELEMENTS OF AN RTC SECTION 6829 DUAL DETERMINATION - TERMINATION, DISSOLUTION, OR ABANDONMENT 764.120

The Department must establish that the entity’s business has been terminated, dissolved, or abandoned. Termination of an entity’s business includes discontinuance or cessation of business activities. “Business activities” refers to the activities for which the entity was required to hold a seller’s permit or certificate of registration for the collection of use tax. There is no requirement that the entity itself cease to exist or even cease doing business in some other manner or in some other state.

Various sources should be used to verify that the entity’s business activities have been terminated, dissolved, or abandoned. Generally, more than one piece of evidence will be necessary to establish this element. Therefore, all available evidence should be considered; however, certain sources will generally be given more weight than other sources. Sources include, but are not limited to:

1. ACMS and IRIS comments..
3. Interviews with officers/members/employees/potential responsible persons.
4. Information/documentation provided by suppliers, creditors, or landlord.
5. Information/documentation provided by neighboring businesses.
6. Information/documentation provided by the successor.
7. Bank statements.

ESTABLISHING THE ELEMENTS OF AN RTC SECTION 6829 DUAL DETERMINATION – SALES TAX REIMBURSEMENT AND USE TAX LIABILITY 764.130

The Department must establish that, while the person was a responsible person, the entity sold tangible personal property in the conduct of its business and collected sales tax reimbursement on the selling price (whether separately itemized or included in the selling price) and failed to remit such tax when due; or consumed tangible personal property and failed to pay the applicable tax to the seller or the CDTFA, or included use tax on the billing and collected the use tax or issued a receipt for use tax and failed to report and pay the tax. For purposes of sales tax reimbursement and use tax collection, the Department has the burden to establish that it was the general business practice of the entity to collect sales tax reimbursement or use tax during the time that the person was a responsible person.

Various sources should be used to verify the collection of sales tax reimbursement or use tax or the consumption of tangible personal property without the payment of use tax. Generally, more than one piece of evidence will be necessary to establish this element. Therefore, all available evidence should be considered; however, certain sources will generally be given more weight than other sources.
Sales Tax Reimbursement and Use Tax Collection – Sources include, but are not limited to:

1. ACMS notes for statements made by officers/members/partners/employees/potential responsible persons that sales tax reimbursement or use tax was collected. ACMS notes may provide information regarding other persons to contact that are knowledgeable about the entity’s sales and use tax matters.

2. Sales and Use Tax Returns should be analyzed to determine if a line 9 deduction (Sales Tax (if any) included on line 1) has been taken. Staff should review all sales and use tax returns (or return information) for the periods of liability to see if the returns had a line 9 deduction. If returns are not available for the periods of liability, staff may review returns filed prior to or subsequent to the periods of liability to determine if it was normal operating procedure for the entity to collect sales tax reimbursement.

3. Audit comments for existing or prior audits, comments on re-audits, and petition materials of the entity for information about whether the entity collected sales tax reimbursement or use tax. If the entity’s unpaid liability is the result of an audit, staff must take care to ensure that the audit is thoroughly reviewed and that audit staff is consulted when it is unclear whether an audit item includes sales tax reimbursement or use tax collection. Staff must be able to determine which audit items include sales for which sales tax reimbursement or use tax was collected. However, there is no requirement that the audit was conducted on an actual basis to establish that sales tax reimbursement or use tax was collected. Audits based on samples, mark-ups, or other accepted methodologies are adequate to establish that sales tax reimbursement or use tax was collected if there is sufficient information to establish that it was the entity’s practice to collect the applicable tax on all taxable sales. If, after fully investigating the matter, substantial uncertainty exists with respect to whether an audit item includes evidence of sales tax reimbursement or use tax collection, the benefit of the doubt should be given to the potential responsible person. Audit workpapers may also include receipts or invoices which may show that sales tax reimbursement or use tax was added to the selling price. An auditor may complete a CDTFA-1296, Account Update Information, which may indicate whether sales tax reimbursement was included or added to the selling price.

4. The entity’s Central File for receipts and invoices.

5. CDTFA-1508, Dual Determination – Responsible Person Questionnaire (available in ACMS), completed by the former corporate officers/members/partners.

6. CDTFA-1509, Dual Determination – Business Operations Questionnaire (available in ACMS), completed by employees, bookkeepers and CPA’s or any other person that the investigator believes through a review of the case notes and interviews with officers/members/partners may have had knowledge of the business operation.

7. CDTFA-1510, Dual Determination – Customer Affidavit (available in ACMS), completed by customers of the entity. Customers can be found from previous audits, bankruptcy mailing matrices, contact with ex-employees, or internet sources.

8. Information from the landlord. The landlord may have direct knowledge of whether the entity added sales tax reimbursement to or collected use tax on its sales. The landlord may have documents that support sales tax reimbursement or use tax collection, such as abandoned records, receipts, menus, advertisements, ledgers, etc.

9. An entity’s online menus, website, or online Shopping Cart may provide information that sales tax reimbursement or use tax was collected on taxable sales.

10. Advertisements, menus, brochures, price listings, or sales contracts.
Collections

Establishing the Elements of an RTC Section 6829 Dual Determination - Sales Tax Reimbursement and Use Tax Liability (Cont. 2) 764.130

11. Merchant credit card processor records may reveal charges that appear to include the base charge plus tax.

12. The entity’s books and records and ledgers.

13. City business license applications may ask whether sales tax reimbursement will be collected.

14. Businesses that are a franchise may provide information as to whether the cash registers are programmed to charge sales tax reimbursement on taxable sales, or may have records available to support that sales tax reimbursement or use tax was added to or included in the selling price.

15. If the Investigations Section has conducted an investigation on the entity, team members can request access to the records under their control. Receipts or invoices that support the collection of sales tax reimbursement or use tax may be available.

16. Tax advice letters issued to the entity that explain the application of the SUT Law to the entity’s facts when the request for advice stated that sales tax reimbursement or use tax was collected.

Use Tax Liability for Self-Consumption of Tangible Personal Property – Sources include, but are not limited to:

1. Sales and Use Tax Returns should be analyzed to determine if the entity reported purchases subject to use tax on Line 2 of the returns.

2. Audits, re-audits, and petition materials of the entity that disclose use tax liabilities for consumption of tangible personal property.

Establishing the Elements of an RTC Section 6829 Dual Determination – Responsible Person 764.140

The Department must establish that the person to be dualed is a responsible person. A responsible person is any person having control or supervision of, or who is charged with the responsibility for, the filing of returns or the payment of tax or who has a duty to act for the entity in complying with any provision of the SUT Law. However, it does not include any person who would otherwise qualify but is serving in that capacity as an unpaid volunteer for a non-profit organization.

A responsible person may be personally liable for taxes that became due during the reporting period(s) in which he or she had the control, supervision, responsibility, or duty to act for the entity, plus interest and penalties on those taxes. Such liabilities may arise from unpaid or partially paid sales and use tax returns or prepayments, audits, and compliance assessments. The responsible person is also personally liable for taxes that become due after the entity closes. Therefore, in instances where the entity closes prior to the due date of the final quarter, the responsible person is responsible for the payment of the final return. However, a responsible person is not liable for a liability owed by an entity that is the result of a successor billing issued to that entity.
A responsible person is personally liable only for liabilities arising from taxable sales and uses that occurred while the person was a responsible person. As such, when the sales and use tax liability is determined by an audit of the entity, liability can be imposed on a responsible person only with respect to the taxable sales or uses that occurred while the person was a responsible person. When a person is a responsible person for a partial period (e.g., the person became a responsible person in the middle of a quarter), a proration must be made with respect to the tax, interest and penalties on those taxes. For example, for a sales-tax-related liability for an entity that ceased business operations on 10/15/12, if a person was only a responsible person for the period 5/15/12 through 7/31/12, and provided all the other requisite elements were established, the Department could only issue a dual determination to this person for the period 5/15/12 through 6/30/12.

The fact that a person possesses a title such as corporate officer, partner, or member, in and of itself, is not grounds for holding the person personally liable. RTC section 6829 is meant to cut through the organizational form of the corporation or other type of entity and impose liability upon those persons actually responsible for the entity's compliance with the sales and use tax laws. The mechanical duties of signing checks and preparing sales and use tax returns may not alone be determinative. As a result, investigation into determining whether a person is a responsible person is a fact finding mission whereby staff exhausts resources available to them in order to determine whether the person was more likely than not responsible for the entity's sales and use tax compliance for the reporting period(s) in question. The most compelling evidence is often obtained from corporate officers/members/partners and other individuals having direct involvement in the day-to-day operations of the entity's business. For this reason, contact with such individuals is imperative to gaining a full understanding of the circumstances that led to the taxes not being paid.

Various sources should be used to determine if a person is a responsible person. Generally, more than one piece of evidence will be necessary to establish this element. Therefore, all available evidence should be considered; however, certain sources will generally be given more weight than other sources.

1. ACMS notes documenting conversations regarding repayment of the entity's outstanding liabilities and who staff spoke with. In particular, ACMS notes that indicate the speaker, or some other person, was a person responsible for the entity's sales and use tax compliance.

2. Signed sales and use tax returns and prepayment forms. If the sales and use tax returns and prepayment forms are signed by a Paid Preparer, then attempts should be made to contact the Paid Preparer in an effort to determine who was responsible for the non-payment of tax.

4. Seller’s Permit Application, which lists persons in an officer/member capacity. The signature on the application should also be considered. Note: the list of officers on the seller’s permit application may be outdated, with different officers in place during the periods of liability.

5. Person that signed or appears on the entity’s lease agreement.

6. Person that signs checks issued on behalf of the entity or person listed on the financial institution’s signature card as an authorized signor.
7. Testimony and affidavits provided by a bookkeeper, CPA, landlord, employees, creditors, suppliers, corporate officers/members identifying who is a responsible person. Testimony and affidavits signed under penalty of perjury should be given greater weight than answers to a questionnaire. Care must be taken in relying on testimony and affidavits, keeping in mind the possible conflicting interests of those responding to questionnaires. Questionnaires include:
   a. Dual Determination – Responsible Person Questionnaire (CDTFA-1508)
   b. Dual Determination – Business Operations Questionnaire (CDTFA-1509)
   c. Dual Determination – Creditor/Supplier/Landlord (CDTFA-1511)

8. Audit CDTFA-414-Z, Audit Assignment History, revealing who the audit was discussed with. Even if the audit is for a different period, the audit workpapers can provide valuable information regarding a person’s responsibilities within the entity.

9. Audit CDTFA-836-A, Report of Discussion of Audit Findings, revealing who staff had conversations with regarding the outstanding audit liability.

10. Petition records pertaining to audits that include documents and materials as to who staff had discussions with regarding the audit and/ or audit contentions.

12. Personal bankruptcy filings of potential responsible persons. Potential responsible persons may report an entity’s tax liability in their personal bankruptcy.

13. Signed entity bankruptcy filings.

14. Secretary of State’s (SOS) Articles of Incorporation, Statement of Officers or Statement of Information which list officers/members.

15. Corporate Minutes and By-laws identifying corporate officers’ duties.

16. Internet search for the entity or the entity’s website.

17. Alcoholic Beverage Control (ABC) Liquor License (website and file information).

18. CLEAR public record reports naming the person representing the entity. Lawsuits involving the entity should be reviewed.

20. UCC filings revealing who signed the documents.

21. EDD Officer Data revealing the person authorized to act for the entity.

22. EDD tax returns and checks revealing who signed returns and checks.

23. Corporate and individual income tax returns revealing ownership interest in the entity and any titles.

24. Collection Information regarding who staff had discussions or other communications with regarding the entity’s outstanding liability.
ESTABLISHING THE ELEMENTS OF AN RTC SECTION 6829 DUAL DETERMINATION – WILLFULNESS 764.150

The Department must establish that the responsible person willfully failed to pay or to cause to be paid the taxes due from the entity. The failure must be the result of an intentional, conscious, and voluntary course of action. The failure may be willful even though such failure was not done with a bad purpose or evil motive. To prove willfulness, there must be evidence of all of the following:

1. The responsible person had knowledge that the taxes were not being paid. Staff may obtain evidence that shows the responsible person had actual knowledge of the tax liability. In cases where staff does not have evidence of actual knowledge, staff can use available evidence, including circumstantial evidence, to show that it is more likely than not that the responsible person knew of the liability (e.g., under the circumstances, the responsible person must have known of the tax liability).

2. The responsible person had the authority to pay taxes or cause them to be paid. Whether a responsible person ever signed checks or even had check signing authority is not dispositive on this element. The crucial question is whether the person had the authority to pay the taxes or direct someone else to pay them.

3. Along with such knowledge and authority, the responsible person had the ability to pay the taxes but chose not to. Staff may show the ability to pay by, among other evidence, the collection of sales tax reimbursement or use tax that was not remitted. The ability to pay may also be shown by payments made to other creditors during or after the relevant periods of liability. Staff does not have to establish that the actual amount of taxes owed was available at any given time. Staff must merely show that funds were, in general, available and not paid to the CDTFA.

Additionally, while the assessment of a fraud or negligence penalty may be an indication that the responsible person willfully failed to pay or cause to be paid the entity’s tax liability, it is not required to determine willfulness. The particular facts leading to the assessment of the penalty should be examined to determine if they indicate that the responsible person was willful.

Various sources should be used to determine if a responsible person willfully failed to pay or to cause to be paid the taxes due from the entity. Generally, more than one piece of evidence will be necessary to establish each of the three parts of this element. Therefore, all available evidence should be considered; however, certain sources will generally be given more weight than other sources.
Willfulness – Evidence of Knowledge – Sources include, but are not limited to:

1. All documented conversations with responsible persons or other officers, partners, members, or employees in ACMS.
2. All signed sales and use tax returns and prepayment forms, in particular, those returns signed by the responsible person.
3. Signed checks to the CDTFA during or after liability periods, in particular, those signed by the responsible person.
4. Testimony and affidavits provided by a bookkeeper, CPA, employee, corporate officer/member/partner/responsible person indicating who, within the entity, was aware of the entity’s tax liability or potential liability. This may include information obtained from:
   a. Dual Determination – Responsible Person Questionnaire (CDTFA-1508)
   b. Dual Determination – Business Operations Questionnaire (CDTFA-1509)
5. Audit CDTFA-414-Z, Audit Assignment History, revealing with whom the audit was discussed.
6. Signed CDTFA-122, Waiver of Limitation (used to extend the three-year statute of limitations for periods included in an audit).
7. Audit CDTFA-836, Report of Discussion of Audit Findings, revealing who was in discussions with staff regarding the outstanding liability.
8. Other documents contained in the audit workpapers that indicate who was involved in the day-to-day operation of the entity.
9. Bankruptcy documents which reveal a responsible person filed a personal bankruptcy and reported the entity’s tax liability on the Statement of Financial Affairs.
10. Petition records revealing who petitioned the entity’s audit liability.
11. Records pertaining to investigations of other possible responsible persons within the entity for the same liability. This includes all information gathered in these investigations including, but not limited to affidavits, questionnaires, letters, emails, and other documentation.
12. Central file records including, but not limited to letters, emails, and other communications with the responsible person or other persons associated with the entity.
13. Tax advice letters issued to the entity that explain the application of the SUT Law to the entity’s facts.
14. Signed CDTFA-571-L, Business Property Statement, filed with County Assessor’s Office, which identifies acquisitions of supplies, machinery, equipment, and office furniture. The form provides a notification to the signer that California use tax is imposed on consumers of tangible personal property that is used, consumed, given away or stored in this state and that businesses must report and pay use tax on items purchased from out-of-state vendors not required to collect California tax on their sales.
Willfulness – Evidence of Authority – Sources include, but are not limited to:

1. All documented conversations with officers, partners, members, responsible persons, or other employees in ACMS.
2. Testimony and affidavits provided by a bookkeeper, CPA, employee, corporate officer/member/partner/responsible person. This may include information obtained from:
   a. Dual Determination – Responsible Person Questionnaire (CDTFA-1508)
   b. Dual Determination – Business Operations Questionnaire (CDTFA-1509)
3. Signed sales and use tax returns and prepayment forms.
4. Signed checks to the CDTFA and creditors during or after liability periods.
5. Corporate Minutes and By-laws identifying corporate officers’ duties.
6. Secretary of State’s (SOS) Articles of Incorporation, Statement of Officers or Statement of Information which list officers/members. While a person’s title does not establish his/her actual authority, it is evidence that should be considered.
7. Audit CDTFA-414-Z, Audit Assignment History, revealing with whom the audit was discussed.
8. Other documents contained in the audit workpapers that indicate who was involved in the day-to-day operations of the entity and which persons directed payments of creditors.
9. Signed CDTFA-122, Waiver of Limitation (used to extend the three-year statute of limitations for periods included in an audit).
10. Audit CDTFA-836-A, Report of Discussion of Audit Findings, revealing who was in discussions with staff regarding the outstanding liability.
11. Petition records revealing who petitioned the entity’s audit liability.
12. Records pertaining to investigations of other possible responsible persons within the entity for the same liability. This includes all information gathered in the investigation including, but not limited to affidavits, questionnaires, letters, emails, and other documentation.
13. Central file records including, but not limited to, letters, emails and other communications with the responsible person or other persons associated with the entity.
14. Bankruptcy filings by the entity.

Willfulness – Evidence that the Responsible Person had the Ability to Pay the Taxes but Chose Not To – Sources include, but are not limited to:

1. Evidence that sales tax reimbursement or use tax was collected but not paid to the CDTFA.
2. Payments made to the entity’s landlord during or after the periods of liability.
3. Payments made to the entity’s creditors and suppliers during or after the periods of liability.
4. Wages paid to employees during or after the periods of liability.
5. Bank statements.
6. Payment of the entity’s state income taxes during or after the periods of liability.
7. The entity’s income tax returns filed during or after the periods of liability reflecting debts paid including but not limited to officer compensation, wages, expenses, etc.
8. Bankruptcy filings. Bankruptcy filings may indicate payments made during the liability period and payments made after the filing.

9. In limited circumstances (e.g., when there is minimal evidence of actual payments), staff may obtain evidence to show that the entity’s business continued for a sustained period of time after the entity incurred the tax liability. Evidence of the entity’s sustained business operation after the taxes became due may be indicative of payment of the entity’s necessary operating expenses, including rent, inventory and supply expenses, and utilities, until the entity ceased business operations. However, staff should make every effort to establish that actual payments were made to other creditors.

Pro Rata Defense – Rebuttal of Willfulness

In certain limited circumstances, a responsible person is regarded as not willful in failing to pay or cause to be paid the taxes due from the entity when pro rata payments were made on an entity’s liability after the liability was final. For these purposes, pro rata payments means that all creditors were paid proportionately and that no creditor was given any preference over the other (i.e., the CDTFA received its “fair share”).

First, staff must determine whether a pro rata analysis is applicable. A pro rata analysis is only applicable when the request for a dual determination only includes taxes owed from either of the following two types of liabilities:

1. A final CDTFA-assessed liability that is not established on an actual basis; or
2. A self-assessed use tax liability resulting from the entity’s consumption of tangible personal property without the payment of tax.

Second, if a pro rata analysis is applicable, for purposes of a CDTFA-assessed liability, staff must make the following determinations:

1. No negligence or fraud penalty was imposed as a result of the taxpayer’s recording or reporting of the transactions at issue;
2. The responsible person can credibly represent that the person did not knowingly collect and fail to remit the sales tax reimbursement or use tax on these transactions.

If staff determines that any of the above items are not satisfied, relief due to the entity making pro rata payments is not applicable to the responsible person. In the event that a pro rata defense might be applicable, then this should be communicated to the responsible person no later than the issuance of the CDTFA-1515 so that the responsible person might be afforded the opportunity to present evidence of pro rata payments.

When a responsible person asserts a pro rata defense and provides evidence to support the defense, staff must review the evidence and determine whether the entity made pro rata payments to the CDTFA after the liability was final. In doing so, staff needs to determine the amount of funds available when the liability was final and thereafter. Staff then needs to determine if, from the amount of funds available, the entity paid the CDTFA its pro rata share of the available funds in order to satisfy, in part, the outstanding liability. In other words, the responsible person must demonstrate that, based upon all available funds, no creditor was preferred over another. Bank statements may assist staff in making these determinations.
GUIDELINES FOR PREPARING A DUAL REQUEST

Staff assigned the collection on an account is responsible for investigating and preparing the RTC section 6829 request for a dual determination. The designated reviewer must approve the request for a dual determination. Upon finalizing the request, and in order to maintain a separation of duties and ensure consistency, staff then sends the request for a dual determination to ADRS (see CPPM section 764.090 for details regarding the process).

The request for a dual determination includes:

1. An interoffice memorandum addressed to ADRS,
2. A CDTFA-1512, Dual Liability Billing Worksheet, located on the CDTFA intranet site,
3. Copies of all relevant documentation and information gathered during the investigation, and

Memorandum - Staff must provide the following specific information in the memorandum and addendum to the memorandum, if included in the request:

1. Background or Synopsis – Include a paragraph that explains the source of the underlying liability which includes the name of the entity that incurred the liability, the start and end date of the entity’s business, and the sources and periods of liability due. This paragraph should also include the name(s) of the responsible person(s) and the period(s) of liability that the responsible person(s) is being held personally liable for. All periods of liability that the responsible person is not being held personally liable for must be identified followed by an explanation as to why. An example of a liability that a responsible person is not personally liable for is the Collection Cost Recovery Fee (CRF). When the entity's underlying liability is non-final (e.g., the entity filed a timely petition), the memorandum must include a request that the responsible person’s liability be placed into a Sundry Withhold status (i.e., no collection efforts are pursued) pending the outcome of the appeal for the underlying entity’s liability.

2. Four Elements of RTC Section 6829 Personal Liability – Include a section for each of the four elements of RTC section 6829 personal liability. Each section should describe how the evidence gathered supports a finding that the element is met and list all of the sources (including relevant dates, amounts, etc. from those sources) used to establish the element. If staff is requesting that more than one person be issued a dual determination, staff should include a separate discussion/list of sources for each person in the sections discussing responsible person and willfulness. If the limited circumstances for a potential pro rata defense exist, staff should include a separate discussion as to why this defense is not available to the person in question. Staff should also include a discussion of, and a list of, any relevant evidence or documentation that appears contradictory or exonerating in nature. The request should explain that, notwithstanding this contradictory or exonerating evidence, the totality of the evidence supports a finding that it is more likely than not that each element has been met.

3. Notice of Proposed Determination – Include a paragraph that states whether or not a response was received to the CDTFA-1515, Notice of Proposed Determination (see CPPM section 764.170). The paragraph should include a summary of the potential responsible person’s contentions, if any, and staff’s analysis of the contentions.

3. Statute of Limitations – Include a paragraph explaining the date of knowledge (DOK) of the closeout and when the statute of limitations expires.

4. CDTFA-1512, Dual Billing Worksheet - Each request must include form CDTFA-1512, Dual Liability Billing Worksheet, to identify the primary account, dual account number(s), the responsible person(s), liability period(s), and the names and addresses for the copies (i.e., cc’s).
5. Account Number - In most cases, a dual determination request will require issuing an arbitrary account number to the persons that the dual determination is intended to reach. The office assigned the account will issue the necessary arbitrary account number before the dual determination request is submitted to ADRS. If the responsible person has an existing arbitrary number, then a billing should be issued to the existing arbitrary number in lieu of issuing a new arbitrary number. For additional procedures on issuing an arbitrary account number, see CPPM section 295.091.

6. Signature and Approval - Staff must sign and the designated reviewer must approve the request.

CDTFA-1515 NOTICE OF PROPOSED DETERMINATION

Except in limited circumstances (e.g., a jeopardy determination) approved by the assigned CEA or his/her designee, it is required that staff in the responsible office send a CDTFA-1515, Notice of Proposed Determination (letter), to the responsible person(s) after the request for a dual determination has been prepared and approved by the designated reviewer (see CPPM section 764.090 for details regarding the process). The letter informs the responsible person prior to the issuance of the NOD for the proposed liability of: (1) the proposed basis for holding the potential responsible person personally liable; and (2) the opportunity for the potential responsible person to submit evidence that may disprove any of the requisite elements for liability. The letter also provides notice that, if staff does not hear from the person within 15 calendar days, an NOD will be issued to the person in the amount stated. The letter states that, upon request, staff will provide copies of the documentation referenced in the letter.
DUAL DETERMINATIONS 764.175

A person who is potentially responsible for a tax liability under RTC section 6829 may request from the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) documentation that supports his/her personal liability. Such request can be made at any time, either before or after the CDTFA-1515, Notice of Proposed Determination, is issued to this person. Before providing the requested documentation to this person, the CDTFA must redact any personal information pertaining to a third party. A third party is any individual other than the person requesting the documentation. However, information regarding the requesting person is subject to disclosure and no redaction is required.

Examples of third-party personal information that must be redacted include:

- Social Security numbers
- Home addresses
- Personal phone/fax numbers
- Personal email addresses
- Personal financial institution account numbers
- Education
- Medical information
- Health insurance information
- Driver’s license numbers or California identification card numbers
- Date of birth

Third-party personal information may be found in the following documents:

- Memo to the Audit Determination and Refund Section (third-party information may be in the “Address Where Dual Determinations Should Be Mailed” section)
- TAR AI screen prints for individuals (generally account numbers starting with “53”
- ACMS notes and IRIS comments
- CDTFA-414-Z, Audit Assignment History comments
- CDTFA-1508 (S1B), Dual Determination – Responsible Person Questionnaire
- CDTFA-1509 (S1B), Dual Determination – Business Operations Questionnaire
- Seller’s permit application
- PAY RE screen prints containing personal bank account numbers
- Copies of checks from a personal bank account
- Payment plan agreements
- Individual income tax returns
- DMV documents provided by the Data Analysis Section (DAS) or Consumer Use Tax Section (CUTS)

Please note this list is not all inclusive. Staff must review all documents for third-party information. When staff encounters DMV documents not received from DAS or CUTS, they should contact the Disclosure Office at 916-445-2918 for additional guidance.

In addition, when representing the Department in an appeals conference, staff should follow the redaction guidelines and document in the file any information provided verbally during an appeals conference.
At any time throughout the investigation process and prior to the issuance of an NOD, the evidence that a potential responsible person provides in an effort to disprove that the person is personally liable should be reviewed by staff in the responsible office and its merit weighed against the totality of the evidence gathered. As stated in the CDTFA-1515, the following are examples of material/documentation that may be provided for review:

- Evidence that the potential responsible person resigned or was fired from his/her position of authority before the relevant taxes became due.
- Emails, letters or correspondence that demonstrates that the potential responsible person took direction from someone else and was unable to act on his/her own in making decisions.
- Evidence to support that the funds of the entity were attached by a third party on or before the date the taxes came due, that the entity had no funds or control of funds after that time, and that the entity made good faith efforts to have the taxes paid by the third party.
- Evidence of criminal charges against an employee of the entity who embezzled funds from the entity, preventing the payment of its taxes.
When the shareholders are merely the “alter ego” (other self) of the corporation, the courts can treat the body of shareholders and the corporation as synonymous rather than as separate entities and hold the individual shareholders personally liable for the corporate obligations as a matter of equity. Collection via the alter ego approach is pursued by court action against the “alter ego” of the corporation (rather than by a dual determination process) in those cases involving “closely-held” corporations and statutory “close” corporations having no shareholder’s agreement or acting contrary to such agreement. Since the burden of proof rests with the CDTFA to prove the alter ego theory, thorough investigations are necessary to uncover the required evidence.

If collection from a closely held corporation appears unlikely and the liability is $5,000 or more, the alter ego approach may be used to pursue collection from individuals through court action. Due to the expense of the court system and the difficulty in proving that alter ego exists, this action is employed as a last resort.

The control of the corporation by an individual, group or other person for the purpose of working a fraud on the creditors is an important element necessary to establish the alter ego theory. When attempting to establish alter ego, the following factors are essential before the corporation can be disregarded and others held liable:

1. Inadequate financing of the corporation.
2. Lack of corporate records.
3. Commingling of funds and collection of corporate funds to be used for the purposes of those controlling the corporation.

Examples of information to be secured are:

1. Has the corporation been suspended for nonpayment of franchise taxes?
2. Has a full set of records been set up and followed for the corporation, including records showing the issuance of stock? The corporate records to be considered are its records on issuance of capital stock, correspondence, bank accounts, payrolls, licenses, sales and purchase orders.
3. Has there been a commingling of corporate and personal funds? If the principals have commingled the corporate funds with their own funds, this is an indication the corporate officers are disregarding the corporate entity.
4. What is the capitalization of the corporation? Inadequate capitalization may be considered as a factor determining whether the corporate entity should be disregarded.
5. Have the minute books been maintained and are the corporate meetings being held with reasonable regularity?

In all cases where the possibility of asserting the alter ego theory exists, staff responsible for the account will forward comprehensive reports to the CSB for review and decision as to further action.

ALTER EGO AND DUAL DETERMINATIONS — FIELD PROCEDURES 764.200

If a corporation appears to be having financial problems, alternate methods of collection may be considered as described in the following five steps:

Step One

Ensure that the following conditions are met:

1. Collection from the corporation appears unlikely or is in jeopardy.

2. The liability to be assessed is $5,000 or more for alter ego and $500 or more for other collection alternatives (can be a lesser amount, if a reasonable possibility of collection from persons associated with the corporation exists and approval is obtained from the Administrator).

Step Two

If the conditions in step one are met, information obtained from the Secretary of State’s office must be examined to determine the following:

1. Is the entity actually incorporated or registered as a foreign corporation with the California Secretary of State?

2. Is the corporation now, or was it during the period of liability, suspended by the Franchise Tax Board or Secretary of State?

3. Are the currently listed corporate officer(s) of record the same one(s) as those during the period for which a dual determination is contemplated? If they are the same persons, a dual determination may be issued against the corporate officers, provided the conditions listed in CPPM 764.070 are met. One exception exists for this requirement. If, at the time the audit determination became final the corporation was intact and had more than sufficient funds available but chose to pay other creditors instead of paying the audit liability, the responsible person may be held liable, even though he or she was not a responsible person during the audit period.

4. Who controlled the corporation when the business terminated and when the liabilities were incurred? If the other conditions in CPPM 764.090 are met, and the individuals were associated with the corporation and responsible for tax matters during the period to be dualed, then a dual determination may be issued against the corporation and the responsible individuals.

5. Was the corporation active when an alter ego situation was suspected? In the case of an alter ego situation, both qualifying elements must be documented (unity of interest and fraud or inequity).

If the entity is not incorporated in California or elsewhere, then the liability falls on the person(s) who operated the business.
Compliance Policy and Procedures Manual

ALTER EGO AND DUAL DETERMINATIONS — FIELD PROCEDURES

Step Three

If none of the above collection alternatives mentioned in step two can be pursued, proceed as follows to determine whether any of the remaining noted collection alternatives can be pursued:

1. When a tax liability is determined against the successor, ascertain whether the predecessor failed to notify the CDTFA of a change in ownership. If notification was not made, a dual determination should be issued against the predecessor, as indicated in CPPM 734.000 et seq.

2. Determine from reviewing the records whether any other alternative methods of collection of corporate liability against individuals can be used including fraudulent conveyances (CPPM 753.095), unpaid loans (CPPM 726.045), or unlawful distributions (CPPM 726.050). If any of these collection methods are viable, obtain complete documentation for the appropriate action.

Step Four

If the liability to be included in the dual consists of self-declared tax and/or prior audit determination:

1. For suspended corporations, complete an interoffice memo requesting a dual determination and send it with supporting documentation to the CSB.

2. For duals under RTC section 6829 or court actions for alter ego, complete an interoffice memo requesting a dual determination and send it to ADRS along with any information on the individual’s involvement in the business. ADRS will review for self-declared tax and include any that falls within the allowable billing period. Attach a copy of CDTFA–414, Transcript of Return Filed – Sales and Use Tax, if applicable.

Step Five

If the liability to be included in the dual is a combination of self-declared tax and/or prior audit determination and liability from an audit in process:

1. Follow STEP FOUR (1) and (2) above.

2. ADRS will process the duals for the liability resulting from the current audit and the CSB will process the duals resulting from self-declared and/or prior audit determination.

All requests must be approved by the Compliance Principal or Principal Auditor prior to sending them to Headquarters. The supervisors of the CSB and ADRS will review for approval all requests that will be billed by their respective section. Incomplete requests, or rejected requests, will be returned to the requester, giving the reason for return or rejection.
ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE LICENSE
SUSPENSIONS AND TRANSFERS 765.000

SUSPENSION FOR FAILURE TO FILE OR PAY SALES & USE TAXES 765.005

Business and Professions Code (BPC) section 24205 provides for the automatic suspension of any alcoholic beverage license issued by the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control (ABC) when:

1. The taxpayer fails to pay taxes or penalties due under the Sales and Use Tax law and that liability arises in whole or in part from the exercise of the privilege of an alcoholic beverage license, or
2. The taxpayer fails to pay any taxes or penalties due under the Alcoholic Beverage Tax Law, and
3. The taxpayer is at least 3 months delinquent in the payment of either the sales and use, or alcoholic beverage taxes or penalties listed above.

Staff must verify that the name of the licensee who holds the alcoholic beverage license (ABC license) for a specific business location matches the name and location of the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) permit holder before requesting a suspension of the license. Staff can use the ABC License Query System on the website www.abc.ca.gov to find the name and business location of the licensee.

If the registration information of ABC and CDTFA do not match, staff may not request suspension of the license. Staff must investigate the discrepancy and determine the true ownership or location of the business. If the investigation supports a questionable ownership dual determination, a request for a dual billing against the ABC licensee with supporting documentation and supervisory approval should be sent to the Collections Support Bureau (CSB). If staff’s investigation reveals that CDTFA’s registration is correct, staff should contact the local ABC office to request they investigate a possible “undisclosed ownership” issue or to get the correct entity licensed.

When the individual licensees are married or in a registered domestic partnership, ABC will make an exception and allow the suspension of a license even if the names do not match. ABC will allow a suspension of an ABC license when the seller’s permit and the suspension request only list one tax debtor and the liquor license is held in the name of the tax debtor and his or her spouse or registered domestic partner. Conversely, ABC will also allow a suspension when the seller’s permit and the suspension request is in the name of a husband and wife or registered domestic partnership and the liquor license is held in the name of only one of the spouses or partners. This exception also applies to ABC license transfer withholds (see CPPM section 765.040).

Taxpayers who have entered into an approved payment plan and are current with their payments should not be considered candidates for suspension of their ABC license.

ACMS contains two warning letters for use in cases where the potential to request suspension of an ABC license exists. The first letter, CDTFA–1495, ABC Suspension — Preliminary Notice, Delinquency, is designed to be used once an account is roughly 2 1/2 months delinquent in the filing or payment of a return or prepayment (calculated from the due date of the return/prepayment). This letter warns the taxpayer of the potential consequences for not filing and paying the delinquent return/prepayment or not paying the delinquent balance. The CDTFA-1495 should be mailed to the mailing address of record. In the case of tax return delinquencies, the taxpayer will be mailed a delinquency citation notice which also contains a warning that the taxpayer’s liquor license may be suspended.

February 2016
Suspension of Alcoholic Beverage License for Failure to File or Pay Sales & Use Taxes

The second letter, CDTFA–1497, ABC Suspension — Final Notice, Delinquency, must be mailed to the mailing address of record prior to suspending the ABC license. The taxpayer must be delinquent in the filing or payment of a return or prepayment for three full calendar months (calculated from the due date of the return/prepayment) before the CDTFA–1497 can be mailed. This final letter affords the taxpayer 14 calendar days to comply before suspension occurs.

After the 14-day period has expired, if the taxpayer has not filed and paid the delinquent return/prepayment, paid the delinquent account balance, or commenced a satisfactory payment plan, a CDTFA–200-A, Special Operations Action Request, should be completed and sent to the CSB for processing. The CSB will verify that:

1. Both the CDTFA–1495 and CDTFA–1497 have been sent to the taxpayer.
2. 14 days have elapsed since the CDTFA-1497 was mailed.
3. The taxpayer has not filed and paid the delinquent return/prepayment, paid their delinquent account balance, or commenced with a payment plan.

The CSB will forward a CDTFA–1499, ABC Suspension Request, to ABC requesting the suspension of the ABC license until further notice. (Note: If the taxpayer complies before the CSB issues the CDTFA–1499, staff must notify the CSB immediately.)

Once a month, ABC processes CDTFA suspension requests by issuing a Notice of Suspension to the ABC licensee with the effective date of the suspension. The CSB receives a copy of the notice and will note the suspension date in the appropriate ACMS account. The suspension status can be confirmed on ABC’s website. BPC section 24205 provides that reinstatement of the liquor license should only be allowed when the taxpayer is current in filing and paying all delinquent sales and use taxes.

Once the taxpayer has filed and paid all delinquent sales and use tax returns, the collector assigned to the account will complete a CDTFA–1500, ABC Suspension Release, available in ACMS. Staff will scan the form and email it as a PDF file attachment to ABC’s headquarters in Sacramento using the email address LicensingUnit@abc.ca.gov. Copies do not need to be sent by mail or fax to ABC’s headquarters or to local offices. The CDTFA-1500 notifies ABC that the taxpayer’s liquor license should be reinstated. ABC will process the release requests it receives by email and update its website within two business days.

Suspension of Alcoholic Beverage License for Failure to Renew a Surety Bond

BPC section 24205 provides that the liquor license of a taxpayer shall be automatically suspended upon cancellation of its sales and use tax bond, or if that bond becomes void or unenforceable for any reason.

However, this procedure is not to be used when the CDTFA is making an initial demand for security. ACMS contains two warning letters for use when requesting an ABC license suspension for the above reasons. A CDTFA–1496, ABC Suspension — Preliminary Notice, Security, should be used when the taxpayer has not replaced a bond that was cancelled, became void or unenforceable, or when the taxpayer is delinquent in renewing or replacing the bond for approximately 2 1/2 months. This letter warns of the potential consequences of an automatic suspension of its ABC license for not providing a valid surety bond.
The CDTFA–1498, ABC Suspension — Final Notice, Security, should be mailed to the taxpayer approximately two weeks after the first letter or when a taxpayer is delinquent in renewing or replacing the surety bond for three full calendar months. A CDTFA–1498 letter should always be mailed to the mailing address of record prior to suspension of the ABC license. This letter affords the taxpayer 14 calendar days to comply before suspension.

Once the 14-day period has expired, and the taxpayer has not provided a valid surety bond replacement or commenced with a satisfactory payment plan to replace the bond, a CDTFA–200–A, Special Operations Action Request, should be completed and forwarded to the CSB for processing. The CSB will verify that:

1. Both the CDTFA–1496 and CDTFA–1498 have been sent to the taxpayer.
2. 14 days have elapsed since the CDTFA-1498 was mailed.
3. The taxpayer is currently three full calendar months delinquent in the renewal or replacement of the surety bond.

The CSB will forward a CDTFA–1499, ABC Suspension Request, to ABC requesting that the ABC license be suspended until further notice. (NOTE: If the taxpayer complies prior to issuance of the CDTFA–1499, staff must notify the CSB immediately.)

BPC section 24205 expressly provides the license shall be automatically reinstated if the taxpayer files a valid bond, or pays his or her delinquent taxes or penalties, as the case may be. Once the seller has provided a valid surety bond and has paid all delinquent taxes or penalties, a release letter (CDTFA–1500, ABC Suspension Release) should be scanned and sent as a PDF file attachment to ABC’s headquarters in Sacramento using the email address LicensingUnit@abc.ca.gov. No copies should be mailed or faxed to ABC’s headquarters or to local offices. This letter will notify ABC that the taxpayer’s liquor license should be reinstated. ABC will process the release requests it receives by email and update its website within two business days.

WITHHOLD OF TRANSFER — ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE LICENSE

BPC section 24049 provides that the transfer of any alcoholic beverage license may be refused if the applicant is delinquent in the payment of any taxes due under:

1. The Alcoholic Beverage Tax Law,
2. The Sales and Use Tax Law,
3. The Personal Income Tax Law,
4. The Bank and Corporation Law,
5. Revenue and Taxation Code (RTC) section 134, defining unsecured property, when such tax liability arises in full or in part out of the exercise of the privilege of an alcoholic beverage license, or
6. The Unemployment Insurance Code, when such liability arises out of the conduct of a business licensed by the ABC.
Compliance Policy and Procedures Manual

Withhold of Transfer - Alcoholic Beverage License (Cont.) 765.010

This allows the CDTFA, through an arrangement with ABC, to request placement of a withhold against a liquor license transfer when the applicant is delinquent under any of the laws mentioned above.

For the purpose of these withholds and in cases of transfers, the applicant is deemed to be the transferor of the liquor license. ABC will not accept a withhold on a temporary or pending license of a transferee.

Types of Liquor Licenses Subject to Withhold 765.020

“Limited” liquor licenses are those licenses that are restricted. This type of license is issued based on the population of the county in which the business premises are located. Those that lend themselves to withhold procedures are listed by the following ABC Tax Control Codes:

- 20 Off-sale beer and wine affected by the moratorium (see listing in CPPM 767.110)
- 21 Off-Sale General
- 47 On-Sale General Eating Place
- 48 On-Sale General Public Premises
- 49 On-Sale General Seasonal
- 57 Special On-Sale General
- 75 Brewpub-Restaurant

In transferring a limited liquor license for a purchase price or consideration, an escrow must be established, with the following exceptions:

1. Any transfer of a liquor license made by an executor, administrator, guardian, conservator, trustee, receiver, assignor, or fiduciary who has been approved or authorized by ABC is considered to be the same as an escrow agent for the purpose of receiving withholds and release letters. Escrows are not required on premise transfers when ownership of the license remains the same.

2. Many types of licenses are excluded from the withhold procedure, as there is no requirement that escrow information be furnished to ABC. These license codes include:
   - 20 Off-Sale beer and wine (not affected by the moratorium)
   - 40 On-Sale Beer
   - 41 On-Sale Beer and Wine
   - 51 Club (worth a maximum of $350)

Form Letters Used in the Withhold Process 765.030

The CDTFA–871, Request for Transfer of Liquor License To Be Withheld, is sent to ABC by the CSB to request a withhold on the transfer of a liquor license.

The CDTFA–872, Release of Hold Against ABC License, is used by the CDTFA to notify ABC to release a withhold placed against the transfer of a liquor license.

The CDTFA–872–A, Release of Withhold on Liquor License Transfer, is used to inform the escrow agent of requirements that need to be met prior to the transfer of the liquor license. If a demand has been made to the escrow agent because of a liability against an account, generally both the CDTFA–872 and CDTFA–872–A, are sent to the escrow holder. After all liabilities against an account have been cleared, the escrow agent will forward the CDTFA–872 to ABC so the liquor license may be transferred. If ABC does not approve the transfer, the release will be returned with a brief explanation.

Form Letters Used in the Withhold Process (Cont.) 765.030

If CDTFA staff sends the CDTFA-872 to ABC to release the withhold, the form should be scanned and emailed as a PDF file attachment to ABC headquarters using the email address LicensingUnit@abc.ca.gov. No copies should be mailed or faxed to ABC’s headquarters or to local offices. ABC will process requests received by email within two business days. For expedited requests, staff must contact the CSB after emailing the release request to ABC. The CSB can be reached by phone at 916-445-1122 or by emailing the CSB representative responsible for that account as determined by the last two digits of the taxpayer’s account number. (Note: the CSB roster is available through Outlook by scrolling down the Navigation Pane on the left of the screen and by selecting the following folders: Public Folders, All Public Folders, CBOE, Legal, Collections Support Bureau Roster.) The CSB will then contact ABC to expedite the release.

Transfer Withhold Requests 765.040

BPC section 24049 provides the CDTFA the authority to refuse the transfer of an ABC license if the applicant is delinquent in the payment of any sales and use taxes due. BPC section 24040 states that each ABC license shall be issued to a specific person for a specific business location.

Collection staff and CSB staff share responsibility with respect to placing holds against the transfer of certain types of liquor licenses. The notification of a pending license transfer may come from the taxpayer or escrow company to a field office, or from daily ABC licensing reports obtained by the CSB.

On a daily basis, the CSB retrieves a licensing report of new ABC applications and identifies the office responsible for the applicant’s business location. These reports are disseminated to Compliance Principals. The reports can assist staff in identifying permit issues, transfers involving an account with a delinquency or liability, or possible sale of a business.

A liquor license withhold may only be requested if the licensee matches the permit holder, with the exception of spouses and registered domestic partners (see CPPM section 765.005). A withhold may be requested if:

1. There is a reporting delinquency, or
2. A final or non-final liability exits.

When the CSB determines that a withhold should be placed on a liquor license, a CDTFA-871, Request for Transfer of Liquor License To Be Withheld, will immediately be sent to ABC headquarters, Sacramento, with a copy to the taxpayer.

When staff has determined that a withhold on the transfer of the liquor license should be placed, staff will notify the CSB either by telephone (if an escrow is pending) or by sending a CDTFA–200–A, Special Operations Action Request. If notification is made by telephone, staff should also send a CDTFA–200–A to ensure the request is documented in ACMS. The request must contain the taxpayer’s name, account number, liquor license number, and reason for requesting a withhold.

When there is a pending liquor license transfer and the CDTFA has a withhold on the license, the responsible office will send a letter to all interested parties informing them a tax liability exists that must be cleared prior to the withhold being removed and the license being transferred.

Compliance Policy and Procedures Manual

DEMAND AND RELEASE PROCEDURE FOR ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE LICENSE WITHHOLDS

Upon receipt of the CDTFA–871, ABC will send the CSB two copies of the application to transfer the license and the CSB will forward this information to the responsible office. Because a liquor license can transfer no earlier than 30 days from date of application to the date of transfer, staff must make every effort to:

1. Clear all delinquent periods.
2. Search for related accounts that may be involved. Note that a withhold may only be placed for liabilities associated with use of the ABC license for a specific business. If there are taxes/fees owed under another account held by the same taxpayer, a Notice of Levy may be sent for any additional funds that may be held in the escrow account.
3. Review the DIF CF screen in IRIS to identify pending Collection Cost Recovery Fees that may be assessed prior to payment being received so that those amounts can be included in the CDTFA–872-A, Release of Withhold on Liquor License Transfer.
4. Once a final or non-final liability is determined, send the CDTFA–872, Release of Hold Against ABC License, and the CDTFA–872–A, Release of Withhold on Liquor License Transfer, to the escrow holder. In cases where the escrow is not being handled by an escrow company (e.g., bank, etc.), or when there are multiple tax agency withholds on the license, only the CDTFA–872–A should be sent to the escrow holder. The CDTFA–872 should be held pending payment of the demand or the CDTFA’s prorated share of the selling price with the other tax agencies.

If a demand is not sent to the escrow holder within 30 days, ABC may allow the license to transfer without payment.

When the escrow holder is in a position to disburse funds, payment will be made to the CDTFA pursuant to the CDTFA–872–A instructions and the escrow holder, except as noted previously, will simultaneously forward the CDTFA–872, Release of Hold Against ABC License, to ABC headquarters, Sacramento. ABC will then remove the withhold on the transfer of the liquor license.

If staff sends the CDTFA-872 to ABC to release the withhold, the form should be scanned and emailed as a PDF file attachment to ABC headquarters using the email address LicensingUnit@abc.ca.gov. No copies should be mailed or faxed to ABC’s headquarters or to local offices. ABC will process requests received by email within two business days.

For expedited requests, staff must contact the CSB after emailing the release request to ABC. CSB can be reached by phone at 916-445-1122 or by emailing the CSB representative responsible for that account as determined by the last two digits of the taxpayer’s account number. (Note: the CSB roster is available through Outlook by scrolling down the Navigation Pane on the left of the screen and by selecting the following folders: Public Folders, All Public Folders, CBOE, Legal, Collections Support Bureau Roster.) The CSB will then call ABC to expedite the release. ABC headquarters will only accept a withhold or release request by telephone when a license transfer is pending.

FOLLOW UP REQUIRED ON WITHHOLDS 765.060

Each office is responsible for follow-up on its liquor license withholds. If an audit is recommended, compliance staff will notify the audit staff immediately so they can initiate the audit promptly or make the determination that no audit is necessary.

Under RTC section 6813, the CDTFA may require the posting of a security deposit in order to issue a Certificate of Tax Clearance that will allow the escrow to proceed with the transfer of the business and the liquor license. When a license withhold cannot be placed because no delinquencies exist with respect to reporting, or the account does not have a final or non-final liability at the time the application for transfer is made, the provisions of RTC section 6813 should be considered in order to ensure payment of any anticipated liability. If additional liabilities are found within the allotted time, or before all the escrow funds are disbursed, an amended demand should be made on the escrow agent.

Once the reason for placing the ABC withhold on the liquor license has been resolved, staff should make sure to have the withhold removed. Staff can make use of the “uncleared items flag” in ACMS to remind themselves that the withhold needs to be removed once the liability is resolved. The uncleared items flag will prevent the case from exiting ACMS until the flag has been cleared. This is important because the CDTFA-872, Release of Hold Against ABC License, is generated in ACMS and an account will route out of ACMS once payment in full is applied to the account.

MISCELLANEOUS INFORMATION — LIQUOR LICENSE WITHHOLD 765.070

BPC section 23959 states, “If an application is denied or withdrawn, one fourth of the license fee paid, or not more than one hundred dollars ($100), shall be deposited in the Alcohol Beverage Control Fund as provided in Section 25761. The balance of this amount shall be credited on any taxes then due from the applicant under Part 14 (commencing with Section 32001) of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code or the Sales and Use Tax Law, and the remaining portion shall be returned to the applicant.” ABC notifies CSB when such fees are available for a potential offset.

REMINDER FOR STAFF — LIQUOR LICENSE WITHHOLDS 765.080

The following information is included as guidelines for staff when considering placement of a withhold against a liquor license.

1. Unless the account has a reporting delinquency, a non-final liability, or a final liability, a withhold on the transfer of a license will not be placed.
2. Withholds are not placed against cancelled, pending, or revoked liquor licenses.
3. After considering all factors, including application of cash deposits, a withhold is not to be requested on balances less than $100.
4. A withhold should not be requested when the name of the ABC licensee does not match the name of the CDTFA permit holder, except in the cases of spouses and registered domestic partners.
5. A withhold should not be requested unless all or part of the liability or delinquency arose from the operation of a business requiring the holding of a liquor license.
6. No “rush” withhold on the transfer of a liquor license can be made unless there is an application for the transfer on the license.

February 2016
BANKRUPTCIES INVOLVING LIQUOR LICENSES 765.090

Normally, penalty and post-bankruptcy interest are charges that are not allowable in bankruptcy claims. However, if the bankrupt was the holder of a liquor license that has been sold by the bankruptcy trustee, a withhold will be placed against the license transfer and will not be removed until the total liability, including all penalty and interest to the date of payment, has been paid, regardless of the amount included in any bankruptcy priority claim previously filed. If the amount realized from the sale of the license is inadequate to pay the total amount due, release of the withhold must be given on the basis of the sales price of the license, rather than the amount of the tax liability. See 11 U.S.C. 326(a) to verify that the proper procedures for reasonable compensation of the bankruptcy trustee were followed.

ESCROWS 765.100

Under the withhold procedure, a claim is made directly upon funds held in escrow pending transfer of the liquor license. Demand and release instructions (CDTFA–872, Release of Hold Against ABC License, and CDTFA–872–A, Release of Withhold on Liquor License Transfer) are sent directly to the escrow agent who, upon payment of the demand, will send the CDTFA–872, Release of Hold Against ABC License, to ABC Headquarters in Sacramento.

If escrow funds are inadequate to pay in full the claims of all agencies that have withholds against the license transfer, the CSB will be contacted to arrange a pro-rate of available funds. The information required includes the total selling price of the license, amount of escrow fee, the name of any other agencies having claims in the escrow, and the name and address of the escrow company.

PAYMENT PLANS — LIQUOR LICENSE WITHHOLDS 765.110

Under no circumstances should a payment plan be accepted when the debtor is the transferor. The transferor is receiving a consideration for the sale of the license and the liability should be paid out of the proceeds.

If the delinquent taxpayer is the transferee and an investigation discloses an inability to pay the obligation, even though acquiring a license, a report and recommendation should be forwarded to the CSB. In certain unusual situations of this kind, the acceptance of a proposal for payment will be in order since the license represents an asset that might, at a later date, be helpful in clearing the account. In such cases, a liquor license withhold will not be removed unless a substantial initial payment has been received.

PAYMENT FOR RELEASE OF WITHHOLD - LIQUOR LICENSE 765.120

Payment by personal check should not be accepted to release a liquor license withhold. An escrow check or a check from a source representing funds held in trust is acceptable.
INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE SEIZURE AND SALE — LIQUOR LICENSE 765.130

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) can seize and sell the liquor license of any person who is delinquent in the payment of federal taxes. To transfer the license once the license has been sold, the IRS and the buyer must open an escrow account with a bona fide escrow holder. The transfer of the license must be processed through ABC. The buyer and the details of the transfer must meet the same requirements as in any other liquor license transfer. Field offices will be notified via the CDTFA–871, Request for Transfer of Liquor License to be Withheld, of these pending transfers in the same manner as in the transfer of other licenses.

When staff becomes aware that the IRS has seized the license, a withhold on the transfer of the license will be requested when application for transfer is made, providing a reporting delinquency or delinquent liability exists. After the responsible office receives notification of the pending transfer, the CDTFA–872 and CDTFA–872–A (the demand and release forms) are sent to the escrow holder. The demand and release forms are never deposited with the IRS even though they may be requested.

ABC DAILY TRANSMITTALS 765.140

Each day, all ABC district and branch offices type a transmittal that shows new liquor license requests, transfer applications (including name and address of transferor and transferee), and temporary applications. This information is sent to ABC Headquarters in Sacramento for immediate forwarding to the CSB. Some CDTFA offices formerly received copies of the transmittals directly from their neighboring ABC district office. This no longer officially occurs since the CSB forwards copies of the transmittals to responsible offices when they are received from ABC Headquarters.

CONTRACTOR LICENSE SUSPENSIONS 766.000

SUSPENSION OF CONTRACTOR’S LICENSE 766.005

Under Business & Professions Code (BPC) section 7145.5, the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) may request that the Contractors State License Board (CSLB) either deny or suspend a taxpayer’s contractor license or application thereof, when that taxpayer has outstanding final tax or fee liabilities assessed by the CDTFA. This section does not apply to any outstanding final liability if the licensee has entered into a payment plan for that liability with the CDTFA and is in compliance with the terms of that plan. Staff may verify whether a taxpayer possesses a contractor license by visiting the Department of Consumer Affairs, Contractors State License Board website at www.cslb.ca.gov, and clicking on the Instant License Check icon.

When staff determines that a taxpayer’s liability is final and the taxpayer possesses a contractor license with the CSLB, before contacting the CSLB to request the license be denied or suspended, staff must first ensure all other forms of collection actions pertaining to the taxpayer, such as issuing levies, sending notices to withhold, issuing wage garnishments, issuing liens, and utilizing offsets, have been exhausted before contacting the CSLB to request the license be denied or suspended. If the taxpayer has entered into a payment plan for a final liability with the CDTFA and is in compliance with the terms of that plan, staff shall not make a request from CSLB to deny or suspend the license. It is CSLB’s policy to inform the taxpayer (licensee) of the request from the CDTFA and to allow the licensee an additional 60 days to resolve the issue before the contractor license is indefinitely denied or suspended.

Once the contractor license has been verified, staff will send the taxpayer (licensee) two warning letters informing the taxpayer of the impending request to CSLB for denial or suspension of his or her contractor license:

- CDTFA-1392-A, CSLB Suspension - Delinquency Warning First Notice,
- CDTFA-1392-B, CSLB Suspension - Warning Final Notice, respectively.

Staff must allow 14 calendar days between both warning letters. If the liability remains unresolved after 14 calendar days from the date of the last warning letter, staff will send the request, via the CDTFA-200-A, Special Operations Action Request, to the Collections Support Bureau (MIC 55) for transmittal to the CSLB.

Staff should note that BPC section 7145.5(e) provides that the section does not apply if the taxpayer (licensee) has entered into a payment plan with the CDTFA and is in compliance with the terms of that plan for the liability owed. If the licensee’s license is suspended and the licensee subsequently enters into a payment plan for an outstanding final liability or pays the liability in full and staff determines that the taxpayer is in compliance, the responsible collector will send a CDTFA-1392-R, CSLB Suspension Release Notice, directly to the CSLB’s Judgment Unit to rescind the original request and reinstate the contractor license. The request can be sent via email directly to the CSLB Judgment Unit at judgments@CSLB.ca.gov, or by calling 916-255-3970 for assistance.
SEIZURE AND SALE 767.000

GENERAL 767.010

As discussed in CPPM 753.000, whenever a warrant is used, the possibility that the action may result in an eventual sale of the taxpayer’s property must be considered. Although in most cases seizure and sale of property is not necessary, this collection technique is commonly employed when a liquor license is involved.

SEIZURE AND SALE OF LIQUOR LICENSE 767.020

The California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) may seize and sell the liquor license of any off-sale or on-sale general licensee, or off-sale beer and wine licensee who, upon termination of business, is delinquent in the payment of any taxes due under the Sales and Use Tax Law. Seizure and sale of off-sale beer and wine licenses will be restricted to those licenses issued for locations in moratorium counties and cities (see CPPM 767.110). In order to seize and sell a liquor license, the licensee shall have either surrendered the license to the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control (ABC) or failed to pay the annual renewal fee to the department.

Business and Professions Code section 23000, et seq., provides that a license may be surrendered for a period of up to one year. Any license voluntarily surrendered shall be revoked if, within one year, it is not:

1. Transferred to another person.
2. Transferred for use at another location.
3. The licensed activity is not resumed.

For good cause, ABC may extend the surrender period. The reason for the surrender, and the expiration of the surrender period, are determined by ABC on a case-by-case basis.

No license is to be seized unless the intent is to immediately take the seized license to sale. Generally, a license should not be seized until 15 to 20 days prior to the expiration of the surrender period or the permanent revocation date because of nonpayment of the renewal fees. If the taxpayer is in bankruptcy, the liquor license may not be seized until the trustee abandons the license. Staff should send a letter to the trustee requesting to file a motion to abandon the license and copies of the letter to the CSB and ABC.
REVOCATION OF GENERAL ON-SALE AND OFF-SALE LICENSES
OR OFF-SALE BEER AND WINE — FAILURE TO PAY RENEWAL FEE 767.030

With the exception of a temporary license or a daily on-sale general license, Business and Professions Code section 24048(d) provides that “Unless otherwise terminated, or unless renewed pursuant to subdivision (b) or (c) [of section 24048], a license that is in effect on the month posted on the license continues in effect through 2 a.m. of the 60th day following the month posted on the license, at which time it is automatically canceled.” Licenses canceled under section 24048(d) that are not reinstated during the 30 days immediately following the cancellation date are automatically revoked on the 31st day. A permanently revoked license cannot be revived. When this happens, the potential for selling the license and obtaining full or partial payment to satisfy the taxpayer’s liability is lost.

The CSB will identify those licensees who have failed to renew their license. The responsible office will follow these non-renewals by checking with ABC district offices up to the 15th day before the permanent revocation date of the license, at which point seizure of the liquor license may be requested.

APPROVAL FOR SEIZURE AND SALE OF LIQUOR LICENSE 767.040

The seizure of a liquor license must be approved by the Administrator who will, once the license is seized, appoint someone to conduct the sale (normally a Business Taxes Compliance Specialist). The forms necessary to seize and sell a liquor license are all accessed through ACMS. These forms are:

CDTFA–21 Liquor License — Notice of Sale.
CDTFA–22 Liquor License — Notice of Seizure.
CDTFA–23 Liquor License — Successful Bidder.
CDTFA–264 Declaration of Service by Mail.

To seize a liquor license, the license need not be physically seized; however, to the extent possible, the license should be taken if the licensee willingly gives up possession. The CDTFA–22 informs the licensee that the license will be offered for sale and the proceeds of sale applied as payment of delinquent taxes.

The licensee is served the first copy of the CDTFA–22, which is sent to the person’s last known residence or business address in this state by United States mail, first-class postage prepaid. The second copy is mailed to the local ABC district office.

The licensee may redeem the license at any time prior to the date of sale of the license by the CDTFA or the appropriate deadline, whichever occurs first, by paying the renewal fee and penalty. If the owner redeems the license, either by paying the fees to ABC or reimbursing the CDTFA for fees advanced, the sale is canceled and the license seizure released. If the licensee redeems the license and finds a buyer, the CDTFA will be paid through escrow. A forced sale by the CDTFA may result in receiving less revenue for the license than a voluntary sale would yield.

RENEWAL FEES — LIQUOR LICENSE 767.050

After seizing the liquor license, responsible office staff will request an advance with which to pay the renewal fee and penalty and prevent the permanent revocation of the liquor license. The request for an advance is routed to the CSB who will deliver the payment warrant to ABC Headquarters for that purpose. The responsible office must ensure that Form ABC–292, Application for Reinstatement, is completed (at the ABC district office) after payment of the renewal fees. Staff should check the ABC web site for current annual renewal fees and penalty amounts.
The CDTFA–21, Liquor License — Notice of Sale, giving the time and place of sale, must be fully completed and served on the licensee and given to interested bidders. The CDTFA–21 shall be sent in an envelope addressed to the person at his or her last known residence or place of business in this state by United States mail, first-class postage prepaid, at least 25 days (30 days for licensees residing out of state) before the date set for the sale. (RTC section 6797 and Code of Civil Procedure section 1013) The notice contains:

1. A description of the license.
2. A statement saying unless the renewal fees are paid on or before the date entered in the CDTFA–21, the license will be sold in accordance with law and the notice.
3. The amount due (including interest, penalties, and costs).
4. The name of the delinquent licensee.
5. The conditions of sale.
6. The minimum acceptable bid.

A CDTFA–264, Declaration of Service By Mail, shall be executed upon the completion of mailing by the person actually placing the notice in the mail. The declaration will be attached to each copy of the CDTFA–21 and become a part of the sale file.

The CDTFA–21 shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation published in the city in which the property is located, if in a city, or if not, in the judicial district, or if none, in the county. A copy of the notice must be in the hands of the newspaper in time to permit the newspaper to make the initial publication not less than twenty days before the date set for sale. The notice must be printed once a week for three weeks and with at least five days between each printing.

The newspaper billing will be sent to the Accounting Services Section, in triplicate, together with two copies of the notice and one copy of the affidavit of publication prepared by the newspaper. The office holding the sale must ask the newspaper to prepare the affidavit although, as a general rule, this is done as a matter of course. Publication costs should be accumulated and reimbursed to the Accounting Services Section from the proceeds of sale. The original affidavit of publication becomes a part of the sale file.

A notice to the general public of the time and place of sale shall also be made by posting the notice in two public places in the county at least twenty days before the date of sale. The outside or the public corridor of a building is considered a public place. The inside of a plate glass window or a private corridor of a public building is not a public place. To attract the maximum amount of prospective bidders and improve the probability of a successful sale, the notice should be posted in four or five places, including the location of the ABC office that has jurisdiction over the license.

A declaration of the posting of notice will be executed by the person actually posting the notice. The places of posting will be part of the declaration. This declaration will become a part of the sale file.

Upon completion of the license transfer, a copy of all Liquor License — Notices of Sale, newspaper announcements and bids should be compiled and sent to the Taxpayer Records Unit for retention in Documentum.

Notice of Public Sale of Liquor License (Cont.) 767.060

The CDTFA-21 will also be posted on the CDTFA’s public website for all liquor licenses being seized and sold. The CDTFA-21 will be posted under the Special Notices section, under the heading “Liquor Licenses for Sale by the CDTFA.” By posting this to the website, the CDTFA will potentially attract more buyers for the liquor license and increase the potential for the license selling at a greater amount, thus increasing the collected amount.

The following are procedures for posting the CDTFA-21 to the CDTFA’s public website:

1. The CDTFA-21 will be completed in the system.
2. Staff will notify the Liquor License Internet Coordinator (LLIC) in the Collections Support Bureau regarding the CDTFA-21 to be posted by sending an email to ABCSeizureDesk@cdtfa.ca.gov. Include the account number, liquor license number, and date of the CDTFA-21 in the request for posting to the LLIC.
3. The LLIC will make the CDTFA-21 document accessible to persons who are visually impaired.
4. The LLIC will email the pdf files and webpage revisions to CDTFAInter@cdtfa.ca.gov for posting to CDTFA’s public website.
5. Staff will email the LLIC for removal of the CDTFA-21 when the auction has been completed or cancelled.

ADDITIONAL ADVERTISING 767.070

In counties where it has been difficult to sell licenses, staff should consider other sources of letting potential bidders know of the pending sale. This might include sending a copy of the CDTFA–21 to those local businesses that might want to upgrade their liquor license. For Off-Sale General licenses, this would include those businesses coded as a Grocery Store with Beer and Wine. For On-Sale General licenses, this would include Bars with only a Beer and Wine license. Mailing labels for these establishments by business code can be obtained by sending a request to the Technology Services Division.
SALE OF LIQUOR LICENSE

The individual selected to conduct the sale will choose the site for the sale. In choosing the site, consideration should be given to weather conditions, anticipated attendance, ease of access, etc. Some typical locations would be the lobby of a state building, the front steps of the City Hall, a state garage, the parking lot of a CDTFA field office, or on the sidewalk in front of the office. Some state buildings may have conference or court rooms available at specified times.

The office responsible for the city or county area where the liquor license is seized is responsible for conducting the sale. The provisions of CPPM 135.020 pertaining to conflict of interest issues will apply to the sale of the liquor license. For future reference, the person responsible for the sale should prepare a list of names and addresses of all persons expressing an interest in the sale.

A record should be kept of all costs attributable to the sale, such as long distance calls, postage, notice of publication, renewal fees, etc. The individual additional expense items may be listed on the CDTFA–21, if the responsible office desires. As noted before, the CDTFA–21 shall contain the minimum bid acceptable. The minimum bid will be based on the going value of that type license in the county where issued and should not be less than 80% of the market value.

The sale at public auction will be made at the precise time and place indicated in the notice. The person conducting the sale will commence proceedings either by reading the Liquor License — Notice of Sale in full or by otherwise indicating the purpose of the sale. In the latter alternative, the person conducting the sale shall state that the sale is for unpaid sales and use taxes and mention the following:

1. Total amount owed, including all incidental expenses.
2. Name of the licensee.
3. Type of liquor license being sold.
4. County in which the license was issued.
5. Minimum bid acceptable.

An announcement should be made that the sale is at public auction to the highest bidder for cash in lawful money of the United States, the full bid price to be deposited with an escrow holder within 48 hours, excluding weekends and holidays. After opening escrow, the buyer is required to make application for transfer and pay transfer fees to the department. The buyer is also required to pay all escrow fees.

Transfer of the license is contingent upon approval of the applicant by ABC. If, after opening escrow and making application for license transfer, ABC finds the applicant to be unacceptable as a license holder, the process to sell the license will start over, with prior costs included in the Liquor License — Notice of Sale. ABC in Sacramento and its appropriate district office will receive copies of all actions taken pursuant to Business and Professions Code section 24049.5, i.e., notices, letters, declarations, etc.

CONCLUSION OF SALE AND ESCROW — LIQUOR LICENSE

The buyer will be given written confirmation (CDTFA–23, Notice of Sale — Successful Bidder), of the successful bid and notified (within 30 days) to file an application for license transfer, and (within 48 hours) deposit with escrow an amount representing the full bid price of the license. The buyer is responsible for notifying the CDTFA when escrow is opened. The responsible office will then complete the escrow instructions.
If there are other holds on the license, the proceeds of sale, less advances, must be prorated with agencies authorized to place holds on the license. Otherwise, surplus funds, if any, will be paid in the order of priority set forth in Business and Professions Code section 24074. For this reason, it is imperative to establish a proper minimum acceptable bid.

Questions about the seizure and sale of liquor licenses should be referred to the CSB.

SEIZURE AND PUBLIC DRAWING OF ORIGINAL ISSUE LIQUOR LICENSE

Newly issued general on-sale or off-sale licenses, or licenses that were previously transferred between counties, cannot be transferred to another owner for a period of two years from the date of the initial issuance or date of the inter-county transfer (Business and Professions Code (BPC) 24070(c)). Exceptions to this provision exist when the owner of the license is deceased, when the owner of the license is a corporation whose stock is publicly traded on the New York Stock Exchange and is required by law to file periodic reports with the Securities and Exchange Commission, or when the ABC determines that the transfer is necessary to prevent undue hardship. Although we do not anticipate encountering any of these exceptional situations, should you do so, you may email the Compliance Policy Unit at BTFD-CTSCPUGroup@cdtfa.ca.gov with any questions. Additionally, a license that was transferred between counties within the last five years cannot be sold for more than the original fee paid for that license (BPC 24070(d)(1)). After these time constraints have passed, there are no further price restrictions and the license may be sold at auction to the highest bidder (BPC 24070(d)(2)).

When determining whether a license should be seized, collection staff must be aware of when the license was initially issued as well as if the license has been transferred between counties. Staff must take into consideration any price restrictions, as noted above, that may apply in determining whether it is cost-effective to seize and sell a liquor license.

The CDTFA cannot accept bids at public auction that exceed the maximum allowable amount. In these instances, the CDTFA may hold a public drawing in lieu of a public auction. The forms necessary to conduct a public drawing for this purpose are not available as standard forms. Sample letters follow this section. The Notice of Sale by Public Drawing shall be advertised by following the procedures in CPPM 767.060.

The Notice of Sale and Entry Letter may be mailed to known interested participants, liquor license brokers, and unsuccessful bidders of prior ABC drawings. Only one entry form should be accepted from each corporation or each family unit (husband-wife, parent-child).

The lower portion of the Notice of Sale and Entry Letter should be severed, folded, and placed in a container large enough to allow room for mixing or shaking before the drawing. Two CDTFA employees should conduct the drawing. All entries should be drawn. The ranking or order of drawing (i.e., 1, 2, 3, etc.) should be placed on the entry form and letter as the control number.

The participant whose name is first drawn, if not present at the drawing, should be notified by telephone and sent a confirmation letter. If the first drawing participant fails to open escrow or complete the license transfer, the license should be offered to the next ranking participant(s) until the sale is completed.
Notice is hereby given that, pursuant to the authority of Section 24049.5 of the Business and Professions Code, the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) will sell the following described liquor license, by public drawing on ______________ 19___, at 10:00 A.M., at the CDTFA, _______________________.

Liquor License No. :
County in which issued:
Type of License:

Said liquor license was seized by the CDTFA to recover delinquent sales and use taxes, interest and penalties incurred by __________________________, a seller within the meaning of the Sales and Use Tax law, to wit:

Tax $___
Interest $___ to____ Penalty $___
Costs $___
TOTAL $___

The license will be offered for sale for $____________ plus applicable costs to the person whose name will be drawn at random from the names of all interested parties. Prospective bidders should refer to Sections 701.510 to 701.680, inclusive, of the Code of Civil Procedure for provisions governing the terms, conditions, effect of the sale, and the liability of defaulting bidders. Names for the drawing will be accepted in the name of the applicant(s) only and cannot be in the name of a nominee. Drawing Entry forms are available from the above CDTFA office. Transfer of said license is contingent upon approval of the applicant by the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control in accordance with the laws, rules, and regulations administered by that department. Within 48 hours of the sale, excluding weekends and holidays, the successful buyer must open an escrow account with an escrow holder approved by the CDTFA. The buyer will deposit in lawful money of the United States an amount representing the full sale price of the license. Within 30 days of the opening of the escrow, the buyer must apply for transfer of the license and pay transfer fees to the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control. Applicant must receive Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control approval of transfer within 75 days from the date of application, and the escrow must close within 120 days of opening, otherwise the sale may be canceled. Buyer is to pay all escrow fees.

SALE PRICE OF LICENSE $ LICENSE SALE COSTS $
TOTAL SELLING PRICE $

The licensee may redeem the license at any time prior to the date of sale by conforming to the requirements for reinstatement of a license pursuant to Sections 24048.1 or 24048.3, Business and Professions Code.

Attachment: Notice of Sale
The number of off-sale beer and wine licenses (Type 20) is limited to one for each 2,500 people in a city or county, and the number of beer and wine licenses that can be issued in a city or county in combination with off-sale general licenses is limited to one for each 1,250 people. (Business and Professions Code section 23817.5). Lists of counties and cities with moratoriums on the issuance of beer and wine licenses are updated every five years by the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control and can be found on their website, at www.abc.ca.gov, by typing “moratorium” in the search field.
This is a step-by-step guide for the process of seizing and selling real property. A seizure and sale may be considered whenever the total liability owed is $5,000 or more.

Step 1:
Using the RealQuest system or CLEAR, obtain a property information print out of each parcel you are reviewing for potential seizure and sale. This document will provide you with the following information:

1. Address: This will be used on the warrant to describe the property to be seized and sold.
2. APN (Assessor’s Parcel Number) and County: This number will also be used in the description of the property for the Court and the law enforcement department serving the warrant.
3. How the Property is Deeded: In the case of joint tenants or tenants in common, the CDTFA can only levy on the interest of the taxpayer per Code of Civil Procedure section 704.820. This means that the purchaser from the seizure and sale would become a joint owner with the joint tenant remaining on the property title. Also, please note that there are certain community property exemptions that might apply when the spouse is not on the seller’s permit. The property is subject to community property law and title would be vested with the community property spouse. See Code of Civil Procedure section 703.110, Exemptions Applicable When Judgment Debtor Married.
4. Date and Instrument Number of the Last Sale: This information will be used to research liens.
5. Land Use: It is not the policy of the CDTFA to seize and sell property used as the primary residence of a taxpayer. Every warrant for a seizure and sale must specify whether or not a dwelling exists on the property. If a dwelling does exist, an application for “Order for Sale of a Dwelling” must be made with the Superior Court within twenty (20) days of the date of the seizure and sale warrant. A request for referral to the Attorney General to file the application must be sent to CSB with the warrant request. See Code of Civil Procedure sections:
   - 704.710 Dwelling Family Unit.
   - 704.720 Exemption of Homestead.
   - 704.730 Amount of Homestead.
   - 704.750 Application for Order for Sale of Dwelling.
   - 704.760 Contents of Application.
   In a forced sale, a homestead need not be recorded with the County Recorder’s Office to be declared in effect. The judge decides the issue of homestead during the hearing process on the Order for Sale of a Dwelling.
6. Original Mortgage Holder and Amount Financed: This will help to determine how much money is owed on the property. This information may not always be available.
7. Current State of Property Taxes and Year of Delinquency: If the property is delinquent for property taxes, there may be a seizure and sale process already in motion. Check with the County Hall of Records to determine if a notice of sale has been issued. You may send a levy to the County Property Tax Assessor’s Office for any excess funds from their seizure and sale procedure.
Step 2
Verify the CDTFA has filed a lien and determine the date the lien was recorded. All liens recorded both before and after the CDTFA’s lien must be reviewed to determine equity and the potential for sale. This is the time to order a property profile on the subject property. These reports are available from local title companies.

Step 3
Through the property profile or via a field call to the local County Hall of Records, determine all liens and encumbrances both superior and inferior to the CDTFA’s lien(s). As you review the liens and encumbrances for the subject property, make a list of names and addresses of all mortgage holders and judgment lien holders. This information will be vital when attempting to determine equity.

Step 4
Determine Fair Market Value (FMV). How do you determine FMV? If possible, make a field call to the subject property to determine the current state of repair (condition) of the property. Obtain prices of sales of similar property (comparables) in the area. This information can be obtained via the property profile or by Internet search. This will enable you to make an estimate of the FMV of the property.

For an exact FMV, have the property appraised by a real estate appraiser. However, remember that there will be a cost for this service. To request funds for these costs, forward a memorandum to CSB and a copy to the Accounting Section.

Step 5
Determine Equity of the Property. To determine the equity for the subject property, send a letter to each judgment creditor, lien holder, and mortgage holder requesting the pay-off balance (see sample letter at the end of this section). The courts require this information if the property being sold is a “dwelling.” If the mortgage holder or lien holder will not respond, a subpoena duces tecum may be needed. Refer to CPPM section 774.000 for information on how to request a subpoena duces tecum. Remember that a separate subpoena will be needed for each lien holder that will not respond to your request for pay-off information.

Step 6
Evaluate the information received. You should evaluate the information received at each step. However, from Step 7 there will be costs to the state and litigation may be required. Therefore, prior to going any further, meet with your supervisor and together evaluate the information received to determine if the seizure and sale is cost efficient.
Collections

Seizure and Sale of Real Property (Cont. 2) 767.150

Step 7

Order Cost of Litigation Guarantee. What is a Cost of Litigation Guarantee? This is a title report, which in addition to the title report, includes an attached schedule C. The schedule C includes the name and address of each litigant required to be notified by the courts in the sale. If the sale is of a “dwelling,” this is a required report [see Code of Civil Procedure section 704.760 (c)]. This report protects the state against lawsuit if a party to the litigation is overlooked. This report does not contain the pay-off amount for the liens. This report only records the original lien amount filed.

To determine the fee for a cost of litigation guarantee contact a local title company. For an estimate of cost, the title company will need to know the amount of the CDTFA lien(s). Once you have determined the cost, send your request via memorandum as follows: one copy to CSB and one copy to the Accounting Section. Once the payment is authorized, go forward with the Cost of Litigation Guarantee report.

Step 8

Determine fees for seizure and sale. Contact your local law enforcement office to determine the amount of warrant fees needed to seize and conduct the sale. For total fees also include the cost of the litigation guarantee.

Step 9

Complete CDTFA–200–W, Special Operations Warrant Request, to obtain a seizure and sale warrant along with a request for Attorney General referral if the subject property is a “dwelling.” The CDTFA–200–W must include a full legal description of the property to be seized. It must also include the present address of the owner of the property. This is required because the law enforcement officer must personally serve the owner of the property with notification that the property has been seized.

Step 10

The law enforcement department will notify you, as the CDTFA’s representative, that the property has been seized. If the property has a “dwelling,” the law enforcement department will give you notice that you have twenty (20) days to obtain an “Order for Sale of Dwelling.” It is at this time that the Attorney General process goes forward. Once the judge has issued the order, the court will notify the law enforcement department to proceed with the sale and any conditions for the sale, such as a homestead or minimum bid.

If no dwelling issue exists, the law enforcement department will proceed with the sale process 120 days after the levy notice is served on the judgment debtor for the interest in the real property. For reference as to the process that the law enforcement department uses to sell the subject property, see the following Code of Civil Procedure sections:

- 701.510 Sale of property levied upon.
- 701.520 Collection; Sale of collectible property.
- 701.530 Notice of sale of personal property.
- 701.540 Notice of sale of real property.
- 701.545 Period that must elapse before giving notice of sale.
- 701.547 Notice to prospective bidders.
- 701.550 Notice of sale to persons requesting notice.
- 701.555 Advertising of sale by judgment creditor or judgment debtor.
- 701.560 Effect of sale without required notice.
- 701.570 Place, time, and manner of sale.
- 701.580 Postponement of sale.

October 2016
After the warrant is sent to the law enforcement department for seizure and sale, see the following Code of Civil Procedure sections:

- 701.590 Manner of payment.
- 701.600 Defaulting bidder.
- 701.610 Persons ineligible to purchase.
- 701.620 Minimum bid.
- 701.630 Extinction of liens upon sale.
- 701.640 Interest acquired by purchaser.
- 701.650 Delivery of possession or of certificate of sale of personal property.
- 701.660 Deed of sale of real property.
- 701.670 Contents of certificate or deed of sale.
- 701.680 Sale as absolute; Liability.
- 701.810 Distribution of proceeds of sale or collection.
- 701.820 Distribution of proceeds.
- 701.830 Procedure where conflicting claims to proceeds.

Once the warrant goes to the law enforcement department, the responsibility for the sale shifts to that agency. However, it is recommended that you remain knowledgeable of the law enforcement department’s process.

Compliance Policy and Procedures Manual

TAXES COLLECTED BY OTHER AGENCIES 768.000

VEHICLE, VESSEL, OR MOBILEHOME USE TAX COLLECTIONS 768.020

Among other things, the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) is responsible for the collection of sales and use taxes and certain special taxes and fees. However, other agencies may act for the CDTFA and collect the use tax on its behalf for certain types of use tax transactions. This situation typically occurs when vehicles, undocumented vessels, and mobilehomes are purchased from persons who are not authorized dealers, manufacturers, dismantlers, or lessor-retailers.

Under Sales and Use Tax Regulation 1610, Vehicles, Vessels and Aircraft, certain exemptions from use tax may apply to purchases of vehicles and undocumented vessels. If the use tax is applicable, the Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) collects the tax from the purchaser based on the purchase price of the vehicle or undocumented vessel.

With certain exceptions listed in Sales and Use Tax Regulation 1610.2, Mobilehomes and Commercial Coaches, purchasers of mobilehomes and commercial coaches required to be registered annually under the Health and Safety Code shall pay tax to the Department of Housing and Community Development (HCD) when making application for registration.

The CDTFA is responsible for collection of the use tax on purchases of other vessels and vehicles (as defined in the Vehicle Code) and mobilehomes (as defined in the Health and Safety Code) that are not registered or subject to identification with the DMV or HCD. (See CPPM chapter 8, Use Tax.)

DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT (HCD) 768.030

HCD provides the ownership and registration information for mobilehomes not registered with DMV. Ownership information is filed by license, serial or decal number, but is sometimes also available by name and address of the owner.

A formal title search may be requested by completing Form No. HCD–491.1, which is available from HCD’s web site located at www.hcd.ca.gov. In addition to providing the title report, HCD will send notification of any title changes for the specified mobilehome that are filed during the subsequent 120 days.

MOBILEHOME DEALER REPORT OF SALE BOOKS 768.040

Mobilehome dealers are required to release their Report of Sale books to HCD upon closure of the business. The CDTFA and HCD have established an agreement allowing for mutual notification when a dealer terminates his or her business.

HCD will notify the CDTFA office that has jurisdiction over the dealer’s place of business when HCD finds that a mobilehome dealer is out of business or has not renewed his or her dealer’s license. If the CDTFA does not require the Report of Sale books, HCD will destroy them. If the account is selected for audit, HCD will deliver them to the responsible CDTFA office. The Report of Sale books will be returned to HCD at the following address upon completion of the audit and after it is determined that there is no further need for the Report of Sale books:

Department of Housing and Community Development Division of Codes and Standards
Occupational Licensing Section
PO Box 31
Sacramento CA  95812–0031
If HCD finds evidence of noncompliance when reviewing the dealer Report of Sale books, copies of the Reports of Sale indicating noncompliance will be sent to the appropriate CDTFA office.

When the CDTFA closes the seller’s permit of a mobilehome dealer, it will contact the HCD Sacramento Occupational Licensing Section at the following number: (916) 323–9803. If Report of Sale books are required for examination or audit, they can be requested at this time. The CDTFA will also provide the location of books and records if known, and the close out date. If HCD has not already contacted the dealer, they will do so and thereafter either deliver the Report of Sale books to the CDTFA, if requested, or destroy them.

To determine a dealer’s financial stability and ensure subsequent public protection, the CDTFA will notify HCD, at the above telephone number, when either of the following situations arise on active mobilehome dealer accounts:

1. A mobilehome dealer has an outstanding liability that requires a field assignment.
2. A mobilehome dealer is being audited and it appears that the dealer is financially troubled. Before contacting HCD and providing this information, the following conditions must exist:
   a. Based on the audit, it does not appear the business is properly financed to clear the probable liability.
   b. There is factual information produced through the audit that the business is in financial trouble.
   c. The Administrator approves the telephone call.

A notation that HCD has been contacted should be entered on the compliance or audit assignment.
PAYMENT PLANS 770.000

GENERAL 770.005

All collectors will collect amounts owed to the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) in a fair, efficient, and timely manner. When a collector contacts a tax/fee payer for payment, he or she should request payment in full and should not solicit the taxpayer to request a payment plan. However, when payment in full is not feasible, accepting payments over time may be the best alternative. RTC section 6832\(^1\) provides the CDTFA discretionary authority to allow an installment payment agreement (payment plan) in cases of financial hardship. In such cases, allowing a payment plan may accommodate a taxpayer’s economic realities while allowing the taxpayer to meet its obligation to the CDTFA.

Taxpayers may request a payment plan online via the CDTFA website or while in contact with a collector. When a payment plan is requested online and meets certain criteria, it may be approved automatically without any action by staff. When a payment plan is not automatically approved, collectors will review the account history and the taxpayer’s financial situation to determine if a payment plan is appropriate and if so, the duration and payment amount.

ONLINE PAYMENT PLANS 770.010

When an online payment plan request is automatically approved, the required payments will be automatically debited from the taxpayer’s bank account or charged to their credit card (see CPPM section 770.022). The details of the payment agreement can be viewed in the system. Except in certain circumstances outlined in this section, payment plans initiated by the taxpayer through the CDTFA’s online services are generally auto approved if they meet the following criteria:

- Outstanding balances less than $50,000 that will be paid in full within 24 months, or
- Outstanding balances $50,000 and greater that will be paid in full within 12 months, and
- Monthly payments are at least $10

Auto Approval of Online Payment Plans

A taxpayer can set up a payment plan online to include both final and non-final bill items. When contacted by a taxpayer who meets the criteria for auto approval, the taxpayer should be directed to apply online and the system should approve the plan without requiring the taxpayer to provide financial documentation.

---

\(^1\) RTC Section 6832 refers to Sales and Use Tax Law; similar provisions exist for special taxes and fees.
Online Payment Plans

Online payment plans will not be auto approved if any of the following exist on an account:

- An active bankruptcy
- Periods discharged from bankruptcy
- An outstanding delinquency
- A revoked license
- An active earnings withholding order for taxes (EWOT), levy, or notice to withhold
- An existing active payment plan
- A payment plan that was defaulted or terminated within the last 12 months
- An active keeper warrant or till-tap
- A dealer or liquor license cancellation/suspension
- Listed on the Top 500 Sales & Use Tax Delinquencies in California
- A jeopardy determination billed within the past 30 days
- An accepted and approved offer in compromise (OIC)\(^1\)
- The taxpayer is registered as a Receivership/Fiduciary
- Investigation Indicator

Online Logon Parameters

To request a payment plan online, taxpayers generally log in with their username and password. If they do not log in with a username and password, they may use the Letter ID from their payment voucher. If a Letter ID is used to establish the payment plan, it will include only the periods of liability on the payment voucher.

Only taxpayers who log in with their username and password will have the ability to view the total amount due, view the current status, and update bank information.

Taxpayers must enter the following information when requesting a payment plan:

- Name and phone number (non-logged in requests only),
- Payment amount (payment must be $10 or more),
- Frequency (weekly, biweekly, or monthly),
- First payment date (first payment must be within 45 days of request), and
- Bank information (routing number, account type, and account number) or credit card information.

The system provides a review screen for taxpayers to verify the information entered and the terms of their proposed payment plan for accuracy. The taxpayer can edit or cancel the request prior to submitting it. Once submitted, the taxpayer will be immediately advised if the plan was approved or submitted for review. They will also be provided a confirmation number. The confirmation number can be found on the Customer springboard “Online Services” tab, “Processed” subtab.

\(^1\) Taxpayers with an OIC case under review may enroll in a payment plan.
Payment plans that meet the criteria for auto approval will be immediately approved without any action required by the collector. If a customer initiates a payment plan online, it is created immediately with the first payment defaulting to 5 days out, or up to 45 days if the taxpayer chooses another date. For purposes of the Collection Cost Recovery Fee (CRF) assessment, the effective date of the payment plan will be the date of the request.

The method in which the taxpayer requests the payment plan (logged in or non-logged in user) and whether the payment plan is auto approved or approved after a collector’s review determines which forms, if any, are required. When a payment plan is auto approved, an approval message displays and no action is required by the collector. See CPPM section 770.012 for the required forms when the payment plan is not auto approved.

When the payment plan is not automatically approved, a work item is created in the system. The collector must evaluate the financial ability of the taxpayer to determine if the request for a payment plan is reasonable. Before accepting a payment plan, the collector will have thoroughly investigated the financial condition of the taxpayer and determined that a payment plan is the most effective method available to collect the amount due.

The primary consideration to accept a payment plan is whether the plan is in the best interest of the state. When it is not in the best interest of the state, the CDTFA is not required to accept a taxpayer’s payment plan request. Collectors must review the taxpayer’s past payment history, the merits of the proposal, and the viability of the business when determining whether to accept the proposed payment plan. When reviewing a taxpayer’s past payment history, the taxpayer’s record under related accounts as an individual, partner, or corporate officer should also be considered. Although a taxpayer’s payment history may be unsatisfactory, the responsible office has discretion to grant an exception. Collectors must document the justification in the system. In addition, financial documentation may be needed to determine the financial need for a payment plan, and to evaluate reasonable repayment terms.

If the taxpayer can pay the liability in full or has assets that can be liquidated or borrowed against to pay the liability, he or she should be required to do so. Some examples of sources to borrow from include:

- Lines of credit – secured and unsecured,
- Life insurance policies or retirement funds,
- Equity in real property interests,
- Equity in vehicles, vessels, or aircraft,
- Credit cards,
- Cash advances,
- Stock certificates or bond holdings, or
- Interests in certain estates or trusts.
By requiring the taxpayer to exhaust other means to pay off the existing liability, the CDTFA is relieved of the burden of financing the tax/fee debt. If the taxpayer can pay the liability in full but refuses to do so, the collector should proceed with collection action. If borrowing funds is not an option for the taxpayer, they should attempt to arrange with other creditors to defer payments, or make smaller payments, and thus allow for the payment in full or the ability to make larger payments towards the delinquent tax/fee liability.

Online Requests Requiring Collector Review

The system displays the terms of the proposal as submitted. The collector will review the proposal and make the decision to accept or deny the request. If the proposal is acceptable, the collector will send a CDTFA-407-CN, Confirmation/Online Payment, to the taxpayer, which is available in the system. If the proposal is not acceptable, the collector must contact the taxpayer to discuss acceptable terms.

Once new terms are agreed upon, the collector will deny the original request in the system and have the taxpayer resubmit a new request online. If the taxpayer is not able to resubmit the request online in a timely manner (i.e., in time for the first payment to be processed, or before a Collection Recovery Fee (CRF) is assessed), the original request should be modified in the system.

The payment plan may be modified only after contact is made with the taxpayer and the terms are negotiated. If the plan is modified or changed, a CDTFA-407 with the new payment plan terms is sent to the taxpayer. Once the signed CDTFA-407 is received from the taxpayer, the payment plan is modified by the collector in the Payment Plan springboard and it is sent to the supervisor for approval.

Direct Contact from Taxpayer

Taxpayers may call a collector directly asking to set up a payment plan. The collector should first request that taxpayers pay their liability in full. Taxpayers who are unable to pay in full should be directed to make their payment plan request online. For those taxpayers unable to make their request online, collectors will evaluate the requested payment plan and if accepted, must send the taxpayer a CDTFA-407 (available in the system) to complete and return, ensuring that all terms of the agreement are documented on the CDTFA-407.

Before accepting a proposal for a payment plan that does not meet the criteria for auto approval, the collector will have thoroughly investigated the financial condition of the taxpayer and determined that a payment plan is the appropriate method to collect the amount due.
REQUESTING FINANCIAL INFORMATION  770.013

Documentation may be required to determine the taxpayer’s need for a payment plan and financial ability to meet its terms. When evaluating a taxpayer’s financial situation, the collector may require an individual to submit information as listed on the CDTFA-58, Payment Plan – Need Information (Individual). A corporation or other entity type may be required to submit information as listed on the CDTFA-60, Payment Plan – Need Information (Non-Individual) Review. Such documentation may include:

- Bank statements (both personal and business),
- Merchant card statements,
- Income tax returns,
- Accounts receivable listings (including names, addresses, phones numbers, and amounts owed),
- Income and expense (or profit and loss) statements,
- Balance sheets,
- Cash flow statements, and
- Other documentation relating to the taxpayer’s finances.

The collector should not make a blanket request for information, but should tailor the requested documents to each taxpayer’s specific situation.

One example of documentation that may be requested, but should not be requested as a matter of routine, is evidence of a loan in process or loan denial letter. While taxpayers should be encouraged to seek other sources of funds to repay their tax debt, staff should not request evidence of a loan in process or denial letter from taxpayers who do not have the means to get a loan. This documentation should also not be requested from taxpayers who meet the criteria for a payment plan without providing financial documentation as outlined in CPPM section 770.012.

Additional information and verification may be required as deemed necessary by the collector; however, only documentation that provides financial information may be requested. Staff should not request any documents that do not provide financial information (e.g., dual questionnaires), and may not require such documents as a condition of acceptance of the payment plan.

The collector should require the taxpayer to start making the proposed payments while financial information is compiled by the taxpayer and evaluated by the collector.

If the payment plan exceeds 2 months on an active account, the taxpayer may be required to make weekly or monthly payments against anticipated liabilities for the upcoming periods in addition to the payment plan payments. This requirement will ensure that the taxpayer does not incur further debt with CDTFA and does not accrue further penalty for failure to file, or to pay, a tax or fee return timely. Since payment plans with automatic debit payments cannot accommodate unbilled future liabilities, these payments must be made separately by the taxpayer.
The financial information submitted in support of a payment plan request should indicate how much money the taxpayer is able to pay in order to satisfy the liability in full, including interest accruals, within the time frame specified. The taxpayer’s income should be compared to his or her claimed expenses. If expenses exceed income, the taxpayer must provide an explanation (i.e., what expenses are not currently being paid).

Evaluating a payment proposal for an active business can be less straightforward than a proposal for a closed account where, for example, the source of income is wages and the only expenses to consider are household expenses. In addition, active businesses owned by sole proprietors or partnerships require a financial review of both the individual owner(s) and the business. For businesses owned by other entities (e.g., corporations, LLCs), the documentation may consist of financial statements and bank records. The following guidelines are based on the Financial Analysis Handbook published by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) and may be helpful when analyzing a taxpayer’s financial condition.

Determining Individual Income

Generally, all household income will be used to determine the taxpayer’s ability to pay. Income consists of the following: wages, interest and dividends, net income from self-employment or Schedule C of the Federal Income Tax Return Form 1040, net rental income, pensions, child support, alimony, or other income (e.g. royalties, gambling winnings, payments from a trust account). Income claimed on the CDTFA-403-E, Individual Financial Statement, should be compared with bank statements, tax returns, and all other financial documents. The taxpayer should be asked to explain any differences noted by the collector.

Business Financial Statements

Many businesses employ accounting firms to maintain books and records or use over-the-counter software programs. Because of the complexity of some business entities, reviewing these records may be very important in determining the business’ ability to pay and the true value of its assets.

When determining ability to pay, the income and expense information must reflect a sufficient time frame to accurately determine the monthly average that could be expected for the entire year. Seasonal variations in business income must be considered, as well as extraordinary events that can lead to excessive increases or decreases in income or expenses at a particular time. Information provided on the CDTFA-403-E, as it pertains to income, assets, and expenses, should match the information provided on other financial statements, tax returns and schedules, and other sources used to verify assets or encumbrances. Discrepancies must be addressed and documented in the system.
The following is a list of financial statements and the information contained in them that may be used to evaluate a payment proposal:

- Income Statement (Profit and Loss Statement)
  The Income Statement (Profit and Loss Statement) shows a business’ revenue, expenses, and profit during a given accounting period, usually either quarterly or annually. Along with the balance sheet, the income statement is a tool used to assess the health and prospects of a company. The income statement shows revenue and expenses, including operating expenses, depreciation, income taxes, and extraordinary items. Staff should be able to determine funds available for a payment plan based on cash flow, profit margins, and other important indicators of how the business is doing by reviewing the income statement.

- Balance Sheet
  A business’ balance sheet is a snapshot of its financial picture on a given day. A balance sheet shows the financial position of a company by indicating the resources that it owns, the debts that it owes, and the amount of the owner’s equity in the business. One side of the balance sheet totals up assets, moving from the most liquid (cash) to least liquid (plant and equipment or goodwill). The other side lists liabilities in order of immediacy or urgency. Remember that assets must equal liabilities plus shareholder’s/owner’s equity. Although the balance sheet by itself may not clearly show funds available for a payment plan, it should be used to identify assets and other liabilities.

- Cash Flow Analysis
  Staff may also request a cash flow analysis. This is often completed when taxpayers seek loans or investors and may already be available for staff’s review. Cash flow is net income minus preferred dividends plus depreciation (as given in the income statement). Generally, depreciation charges are not considered an allowable expense as they are not genuine bills that have to be paid. Cash flow is the key to a company’s ability to cover debts and can be especially useful in assessing businesses in capital-intensive industries where huge depreciation charges can hide healthy profits. Cash flow projections are used by a business to forecast future income to meet upcoming expenses. They are based on comparing money owed to expected revenues. This information is useful when dealing with a business that does not have the ability to pay in full within a short period of time. This information will help determine if the business can remain current with operating expenses and taxes, and also pay the delinquent taxes. The cash flow analysis will help staff determine an appropriate and sustainable payment amount based on revenue and expenses.
ANALYZING FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Analysis of income and expenses may identify many of the assets the taxpayer has available. For example, rental income may identify real property or equipment owned. Expenses such as taxes and licenses may indicate assets such as machinery and equipment. The IRS Financial Analysis Handbook identifies common sources of income, expenses, and assets that may be listed on the taxpayer’s income tax return.

Determining Equity in Assets

To determine the equity in an asset, staff must determine its value, whether there are encumbrances against it, and the priority of the Notice of State Tax Lien. Proper valuation of an asset is necessary to determine whether it is a source for collection. Some assets can be complex or difficult to value. The Fair Market Value (FMV) of an asset is the price set between a willing and able buyer and seller in an arm’s length transaction where both parties have full knowledge of the relevant facts. The FMV can be influenced by market conditions, age of the asset, condition of the asset, demand, and other factors. The Quick Sale Value (QSV) of an asset is an estimate of the price a seller could get for the asset in a situation where financial pressures motivate the seller to sell in a short period of time, usually 90 days or less. Generally, the QSV is calculated at 80% of the fair market value. A higher or lower percentage may be appropriate depending on the type of asset and current market conditions. Sources for determining FMV may also depend on the type of asset. For vehicles, for example, there are several online tools available to help determine the value.

Once the equity in an asset is established, staff may determine the taxpayer has the ability to pay the liability in full if they can liquidate, refinance, or borrow against the asset. Taking payments over time is not in the best interest of the state if the taxpayer's financial information indicates an ability to pay their liability in full.
Analyzing Expenses for Individuals

Allowable expenses are segregated into two categories: “necessary” and “conditional.” Necessary expenses are those expenses that must be paid in order to support health, welfare, and production of income. Conditional expenses are expenses that the taxpayer may be allowed to continue paying if all of the taxpayer's liability, including interest accruals, can be paid during the stipulated time.

When analyzing the necessary and conditional expense allocations of the taxpayer, collectors should use the Collection Financial Standards tables published by the IRS. These standards are based on the Federal Bureau of Labor Statistics, Consumer Expenditure Survey.

These national standards serve as a guide for determining the average expense levels applicable to a taxpayer who is applying for a payment plan. Whenever a taxpayer lists an amount lower than the standard, collectors should use the actual figure given by the taxpayer. Whenever the taxpayer lists an amount higher than the IRS standard and higher than local averages, the collector should question the amount and determine if the claimed amount is excessive.

Necessary Expenses

The first category of expenses on the IRS’s Collection Financial Standards page is the National Standards: Food, Clothing and Other Items, which has a table that provides a set amount allowed depending upon the number of family members. The table lists the following necessary expenses:

1. Food
2. Housekeeping supplies
3. Apparel and services
4. Personal care products and services
5. Miscellaneous - The miscellaneous allowance is for expenses a taxpayer may incur that are not included in any other allowable living expense items, or for any portion of expenses that exceed the standards.

In addition to the table of allowable living expenses for food, clothing, and other items, the IRS website has links to tables for out-of-pocket health care expenses, housing and utilities, and transportation. The table for housing and utilities is organized by state and, once the collector clicks on the California link, by county. The transportation table has an allowance for car ownership (limited to two cars) and is then segregated into operating cost by region. Also listed is a nationwide allowance for public transportation.

Other expenses that do not appear in the IRS tables can be “necessary” if they meet the necessary expense test (health, welfare, or production of income), but the amount of the claimed expense must be reasonable. For example, childcare and dependent care services do not have standardized costs, and the cost for these services can vary greatly depending on a number of factors. The collector should analyze the cost for these types of expenses based on the prevailing living standards where the taxpayer is incurring the expense. In addition, the collector should use his or her best judgment and experience when determining if the amount of the claimed expense is necessary and reasonable. Adequate documentation should be provided when an expense falls into this category and the amount is questionable. The taxpayer is responsible for determining the specific areas in its budget that can be modified or eliminated in order to pay the tax liability.
The following list describes some of the various types of expenses in the “other” category.

1. Accounting and legal fees are necessary only if they meet the necessary expense test. Otherwise, accounting expenses and legal fees are conditional expenses, but they may be allowed if the liability owed to the CDTFA can be paid in full, including projected interest and penalty accruals, within three years.

2. Charitable contributions include donations to tax exempt organizations such as civic groups, religious organizations, and medical services or associations. Contributions to religious organizations as a condition of membership (tithing and educational donations) should be allowed if the amount donated matches the amount required by the organization.

3. Childcare costs, such as baby-sitting, daycare, nursery school, and preschool, can vary greatly, and the collector must determine whether the cost appears reasonable in relation to the type of care provided. If a portion of a childcare expense seems excessive, the taxpayer should be required to provide an explanation or to submit documentation to support the claimed amount.

4. Dependent care expenses for the elderly, handicapped, or infirm are necessary if the taxpayer has no recourse except to pay the expense.

5. The cost of education is a necessary expense if it is required for a physically or mentally challenged child, and no public education providing a similar service is available. If childcare is provided by the educational institution and the cost for the childcare is included as part of the educational expense, it should not also be included by the taxpayer as an additional childcare expense. Where the charge for the childcare is segregated from the charge for the educational expense, the childcare expense should be claimed separately from the educational expense. The cost of education is also a necessary expense if it is required as a condition of employment. Current licensure is a requirement for many professionals in order for them to work. Therefore, continuing education units for professionals such as attorneys, accountants, teachers, healthcare workers, realtors, and other professions that are required to maintain a current license are necessary expenses.

6. The cost incurred in obtaining medical insurance when a separate premium is paid, or when the premium is taken as a deduction from the taxpayer’s wages, qualifies as a necessary expense. Medical and dental services, prescription drugs and medical supplies, eyeglasses and contact lenses, and guide dogs for the visually impaired are also necessary expenses.

7. Involuntary deductions such as Medicare, mandatory union dues, and wage garnishments are necessary expenses. If the taxpayer has extra withholding taken from net wages to offset future income tax liability, this may be allowed if the liability owed to the CDTFA can be paid off within twelve months. Otherwise, the taxpayer must make other arrangements or adjustments to eliminate the extra tax withholding. The taxpayer must arrange for this increase in income to be paid to the CDTFA.
Compliance Policy and Procedures Manual

Analyzing Expenses for Individuals (Cont. 2) 770.015

8. The payment of insurance premiums for a life insurance policy is generally a necessary expense. However, many insurance policies are also used as a vehicle for saving money and the taxpayer may be able to borrow against these funds. For a life insurance policy to be a necessary expense, the policy must be a term-life policy that is already in effect at the time of the taxpayer is billed. Even for term-life policies, expensive premiums must be justified. The collector should determine if the payoff of the policy is high compared to the lifestyle of the beneficiaries. For whole-life policies, the taxpayer should be required to obtain a loan against the value, withdraw the cash value (if it can be done without penalty) or suspend payments while the payment plan is in progress (if allowable by the insurance company). If policy premium payments cannot be suspended, the expense will be considered as conditional.

9. Payments to creditors may be necessary for secured or legally perfected debts. If the claimed debt meets the necessary expense test, then payments to these creditors will be allowed to continue; however, the taxpayer must substantiate that the payments are being made regularly.

10. Current federal and state taxes that are withheld from wages, including FICA withholding, are necessary expenses.

11. Minimum payments to creditors for unsecured debts (such as money due for credit card purchases) will be allowed if the liability owed to the CDTFA, including projected penalty and interest accruals, will be paid in full within three years. With the exception of credit card minimum payments, payments on unsecured debts will not be allowed if omitting them would permit the taxpayer to pay the liability in full within 90 days.

12. Miscellaneous expenses are expenses the taxpayer claims are necessary but that CDTFA staff considers questionable. Examples include extracurricular activities for children, monthly Christmas savings account deposits, and expenses for newspapers, magazines, and trade publications. Allowing or disallowing these expenses is left to the discretion of the collector or the collector’s supervisor.

Conditional Expenses

Conditional expenses are those that do not meet the necessary expense test but may be allowable if the tax liability, penalty, and interest accruals are paid in full within the following guidelines:

1. Three years. For substantiated conditional and excessive expenses to be allowed, the tax debt must be paid in full within 3 years.

2. One year. If the tax liability cannot be paid in full within 3 years, conditional and excessive expenses may be allowed if the taxpayer agrees to modify or eliminate the expense within 12 months. This period may be adjusted from 1 to 12 months based on the nature of the expense.

3. 90 days. Payments on unsecured debts, other than credit card debt, will not be allowed if omitting these payments would permit the taxpayer to pay its tax liability in full within 90 days. Minimum payments will be allowed on credit cards to preserve a taxpayer’s credit rating.

Conditional expenses, and some necessary expenses (e.g., wage garnishments, child support payments, and other court ordered payments), may have an expiration date. The responsible collector should determine whether the expense will expire within the timeframe of the payment plan. If the expense does end within the period of the payment plan, the collector should require the additional available funds to be directed toward paying the CDTFA’s liability and not paid to other creditors.
Examples of Conditional Expenses

The following conditional expense items do not constitute an exhaustive list of all the expenses a taxpayer may have incurred. If a claimed expense is questionable, the collector should ask for an explanation or documentation as the case requires.

1. Accounting and legal fees are necessary only if they meet the necessary expense test (health and welfare or production of income). Other accounting expenses and legal fees are conditional expenses.

2. An expense incurred for private education (unless it meets the criteria for a necessary expense, as previously stated) is considered to be a conditional expense.

3. Housing costs other than for the taxpayer’s primary residence are conditional expenses. Expenses to maintain a secondary dwelling that are not necessary for the health, welfare, or production of income should be disallowed. If the taxpayer owns the secondary dwelling, and if sufficient value in the property exists, the taxpayer should attempt to borrow against the equity and pay off the liability. A state tax lien subordination will generally be allowed in order to refinance a home for purposes of increasing the payments offered in the payment plan or for a lump-sum payment in full from the refinance.

4. Other expenses not associated with the maintenance of the primary residence are considered conditional expenses. For example, pool and gardening services are conditional expenses.

5. Transportation charges falling within the standards in the IRS tables are generally allowable. Excess transportation charges and claimed expenses for more than one vehicle must pass the necessary expense test. Expenses claimed for items such as boats, motor homes, or extra vehicles must be substantiated. In addition:
   a. In order to claim ownership costs as an allowable expense, the taxpayer must provide documentation of a lease or loan on his or her vehicle, vessel, or aircraft.
   b. Transportation costs such as gasoline, maintenance and repairs, vehicle insurance, license and registration fees, towing charges, tolls, and automobile service clubs may also qualify as allowable expenses as long as they are necessary expenses.

Other transportation expenses such as fares for mass transit (buses, trains, ferry services, taxis, airlines, and private school buses) are allowable provided they can be documented as a requirement in the production of income, or they pass the necessary expense test.

ACCEPTING A PAYMENT PLAN

After the taxpayer’s documentation has been analyzed and the amount and frequency of payments have been discussed and agreed to, the collector should direct the taxpayer to use the CDTFA website and enter the agreement online. The collector will then approve the online request and send a CDTFA-407-CN, Confirmation/Online Payment (see CPPM section 770.010). If the taxpayer is unable to submit the request online, the collector must send the taxpayer a CDTFA-407, Payment Plan Agreement, and the cover letter, CDTFA-407-A. These forms are available in the system and must be completed only for taxpayers that are unable to submit their request online. All terms of the agreement must be documented on the CDTFA-407.
Accepting a Payment Plan (Cont. 1) 770.020

Payment Plans Requiring Use of the CDTFA-407 and CDTFA-407-A

When a payment plan has been agreed upon and the taxpayer is unable to make the request online, the collector must send the taxpayer a CDTFA-407 and CDTFA-407-A. The collector should complete all applicable sections of these forms prior to mailing them to the taxpayer. All terms of the agreement must be documented on the CDTFA-407, and the collector must discuss those terms with the taxpayer. Specifically, the collector must explain the circumstances under which a lien may be filed, CRF fees may be assessed, or an FTB refund may be offset. In addition, the collector must also explain that failure to comply with the agreement will result in its termination.

The taxpayer must sign the CDTFA-407 indicating agreement with the terms. Payments should be made by automatic debit (debit payments), and banking information must also be completed on the form, as well as the bank account owner’s signature authorizing the account to be debited. Debit payments are required in most circumstances (see CPPM 770.022 for information regarding the automatic debit requirement).

Payment plans are monitored by the system for appropriate taxpayer notifications and collector follow-ups. All payment plans consisting of three or more payments require supervisory approval and the approval must be noted in the system. Single or two-part payment plans with automatic debit payments also require supervisory approval.

Entering the Payment Plan in ACMS

Detailed instruction on entering payment plan information is available on CDTFA’s intranet by selecting the ACMS heading under the Technology Services tab, and then selecting the “Promise to Pay” link.

The collector must select one of two categories of payment plans, “Manual” or “Auto Pay.” In a Manual payment plan, payments are initiated by the taxpayer. Manual payment plans should generally only be used in situations where the taxpayer is unable to set up debit payments from his or her bank account. For Manual payment plans entered into ACMS, a reminder notice is automatically mailed to the taxpayer several days before the payment due date. Note that when a payment plan is already in effect for the account, the collector will not be able to input another payment plan in ACMS, and therefore a reminder notice will not be sent, and the collector must monitor the payment plan manually. Auto Pay is selected when payments will be automatically debited from the taxpayer’s bank account. Under Auto Pay, the taxpayer will not receive a notice of the debit payment from CDTFA.

Liabilities Included in Payment Plan

The payment plan can be viewed from the Customer, Account, or Collection springboard. The details of the payment plan are displayed on the Payment plan springboard.

For accounts in ACMS, the Take a Promise to Pay screen will automatically display all unpaid, final liabilities available for a payment plan. By default, all liabilities will be selected for inclusion in the payment plan except those that are identified in IRIS as having been discharged from bankruptcy (DFB Difference Status code). If a “Manual” payment plan is selected, no modification can be made to liabilities included in the payment plan. If Auto Pay is selected, ACMS will allow the liabilities and amounts included in the payment plan to be modified, when necessary.

Liabilities included in an active payment plan are identified in IRIS with the Difference Status code PRM. The PRM status code will automatically be removed from the liabilities when the payment plan is no longer active (i.e., completed or terminated).
Review Date for accounts in ACMS

A review date can be selected for any payment plan with three or more payments. A review date would be entered, for example, to schedule a date to contact the taxpayer for a review of his or her financial condition. A review date can be set for up to one year in the future. When the review date is reached, the account will route to the Promise Review work state in ACMS. While an account is in Promise Review, the payment plan remains in effect and debit payments or payment reminder notices (for Manual payment plan) will continue. Regardless of whether or not a review date is entered, the account will automatically route to Promise Review once the account has been in the Promise to Pay state for 365 days. If the account routes to a different state within that time the 365-time period starts over.

Payment Plan Statuses

The status of the payment plan indicates its current disposition. The following is a list of statuses:

- Active – The payment plan is active and ongoing. Debit or credit card payments are automatically initiated, or payment reminder notices are automatically sent.
- Cancelled – The payment plan has been cancelled.
- Collector Review – The payment plan is awaiting collector review.
- Defaulted – The payment plan is defaulted.
- In Grace – The payment plan termination warning letter is automatically created if the plan was put into In Grace status by the system. Otherwise, the collector must create the termination letter and mail to the taxpayer.
- Inactive – The payment plan had gone inactive.
- Paid in Full – All liabilities included in the payment plan have been paid in full.
- Pending Approval – The payment plan has been entered in the system, but is pending approval.
- Rejected – The payment plan has been rejected.
- Request Additional Information – The payment plan is not yet approved and additional information is requested from the taxpayer.
- Supervisor Approval – The payment plan is awaiting supervisor approval.
Accounts in ACMS:

- Pending – The payment plan has been entered in the system, but it has not been approved by a supervisor. While a payment plan is in pending status, debit payments and payment reminder notices will not occur. While in pending status, the payment plan can be modified. However, if the payment plan was submitted online, some fields cannot be modified.

- Active – The payment plan is active and ongoing. The debit payments will be initiated, or payment reminder notices will be sent. Liabilities included in the active payment plan are identified in the system by the PRM status code. This status not only indicates there is an active payment plan for the account but identifies the specific liabilities included in the payment plan. While in Active status, bank account information fields can be modified in the Promise to Pay screen.

- Completed – All liabilities included in the payment plan have been paid in full or the amount required to be paid by the taxpayer (i.e., the “Maximum Amount”) has been received.

- Terminated – The payment plan is terminated. The status changes to terminated after the collector has initiated the termination process, a CDTFA-407-T, Payment Plan – Notice of Termination, has been sent, and the 15-day period from the date the Notice of Termination was sent has passed. Note: during the 15-day period, the status of the payment plan remains active and debit payments and reminder notices continue.

- Cancelled – The payment plan has been cancelled by the collector. If, for example, a new payment plan is negotiated with the taxpayer due to a change in the tax/feepayer’s circumstances, the existing payment plan must be cancelled before a new one can be entered into the system.

- Taxpayer Cancelled – The payment plan has been cancelled at the taxpayer’s request.

- Legal Cancelled – The payment plan has been cancelled as a result of a bankruptcy case filed by the taxpayer or other legal proceeding. The status will automatically change to Legal Cancelled when bankruptcy information is entered in IRIS. For all non-bankruptcy related legal types in IRIS, the payment plan will not be cancelled automatically. Collectors with supervisor security capability in ACMS have the ability to change the status to Legal Cancelled.

- Denied – The pending payment plan has been denied by a collector or supervisor.

- Unable to be Processed – The status of the pending payment plan will automatically change to Unable to be Processed when any of the following enter ACMS:
  - New bankruptcy
  - All periods of liability are paid in full and/or adjusted to zero
  - All periods of liability become non-final

Accepting a Payment Plan (Cont. 4) 770.020

Approving a Payment Plan in the System

Other than online payment plans that have been automatically approved, payment plans with automatic debit payments require supervisor approval in the system prior to becoming active. Manual payment plans with three or more payments also require supervisor approval. Until the payment plan is active, no payments are debited and no payment reminder notices are mailed. Therefore, timely review and approval of a pending payment plan is imperative.

All attempts should be made to review and approve (if appropriate) these payment plans no later than two business days prior to the due date of the first debit payment. In instances where an automatic debit payment plan is not approved within this time period, the payment dates identified on the payment plan will need to be modified prior to approval. Generally, this involves retaining the previously agreed to payment schedule and merely advancing the start date of the payment plan to the date of the next regularly scheduled payment. If the only modification to the payment schedule is the date of the first payment, the taxpayer is not required to complete a new CDTFA-407. The taxpayer should, however, be informed of the new date on which the debit payments will begin. Additionally, the taxpayer should be requested to make the “missed” payment online or by check.

Supervisors review and approve or deny payment plans in the system. To initiate the supervisor approval, the status of the payment plan must be changed from Collector Review to Supervisor Approval and all details regarding the payment plan should be reviewed prior to approval. When reviewing the payment plan, the supervisor must select one of the following three options:

- Approve – The payment plan is approved and the status changes to Active.
- Reject or Deny (ACMS) – The payment plan is not approved and the status changes to Denied.
- Send Back – The payment plan is not approved, but is returned to the collector for additional work. All payment plan information is retained and the status remains Pending.

Once approved by a supervisor, a CDTFA-407-CN, Confirmation/Online Payment, may be sent to the taxpayer.
Automatic debit payments are the preferred payment method for all payment plans established in the system. However, if a payment plan calls for only one or two payments, taxpayers are not required to pay using automatic debit. These taxpayers should generally be directed to make their payments online, or if they are unable to pay online, payment made by check, money order, etc., will be accepted.

Payments by credit card are acceptable in most cases. The system will limit the payment plan to 12 months when using a credit card. When a customer’s payment plan is approved, and they have opted to pay by credit card, the system will redirect the customer to the ACI Payments, Inc. website. ACI Payments, Inc. charges a service fee for each credit card payment. When the payment due dates occur, the CDTFA will transmit the customer’s name and an electronic key (eKey) to ACI Payments, Inc., who will then place the transaction on the customer’s credit card and return the payment to CDTFA.

For accounts in ACMS, the CDTFA requires that the payments be made by automatic debit when the payment plan will have three or more payments. The only exceptions to the mandatory requirement are the Water Rights Fee and the Cigarette and Tobacco Products Internet Program Excise Tax.

For all other accounts in ACMS, only in the following circumstances will the taxpayer be allowed to pay by another method:

• The taxpayer does not have a checking or savings account,
• The taxpayer’s financial institution is unable to process Automated Clearing House (ACH) payment transactions (debit payments), or
• More than one payment plan exists for the account (e.g., partnership accounts), and a payment plan is already established.

Note: Accounts should not be set up for automatic debit payments when any Legal status (e.g., bankruptcy, probate) exists on the account, and payment plans should be established using the manual payment plan method, if appropriate.

The CDTFA-407 is used only when taxpayers cannot enter their payment plan online. When the CDTFA-407 is used, the section with the banking information and signature for authorization for payments to be debited must be completed. Attached to the CDTFA-407 is an information sheet (CDTFA-FAQ). Another type of authorization form (CDTFA-407-CA) is available in the system, and also has a CDTFA-FAQ attached. The CDTFA-407-CA would be used when a taxpayer already in an active payment plan wants to change bank accounts from which payments are debited. Completed authorization forms must be received before the payment plan can be processed. Forms received by fax are acceptable.

Bank Account Information

A checking or savings account may be used for debit payments. The bank name and routing number and the taxpayer’s bank account number are required. Since taxpayers may be unfamiliar with routing and bank account numbers, the CDTFA-FAQ is automatically sent with the CDTFA-407. The CDTFA-FAQ provides detailed information about bank account and routing numbers and asks taxpayers to provide a copy of a cancelled check or bank specification sheet. In some instances, a financial institution may use a unique routing number for ACH transactions (debit payments) that is different from the routing number on the taxpayer’s checks. In addition, the numbers on deposit slips are generally not the routing number for debit payments. Therefore, taxpayers should be requested to verify the routing number with their financial institution and provide the bank specification sheet if appropriate.
Before entering the bank information in the system, the collector should compare the numbers on the CDTFA-407 to the numbers on the cancelled check or bank specification sheet. If a simple error is found (e.g., transposed numbers), the collector should use the number on the cancelled check, etc., and enter a comment in the system regarding the correction. If the banking information provided on the CDTFA-407 differs significantly from the cancelled check or bank specification sheet, or if there is any question as to the correct bank account information, the taxpayer should be contacted to determine the correct information. A comment must be entered in the system detailing the contact and identifying the correct bank information.

ACH Debit Block/Filter

In some cases, a taxpayer’s bank may have an ACH debit block on their bank account. If a taxpayer makes an ACH Debit payment and has an ACH Debit block on their account, they must inform their financial institution of the CDTFA’s Company Identification Numbers to avoid their payment from being rejected. The taxpayer should provide all three of CDTFA’s Company Identification Numbers to their financial institution to ensure the payment goes through. The CDTFA Company Identification Numbers are 2822162215, 1822162215, and 1282435088.

Collection Cost Recovery Fee

Generally, a Collection Cost Recovery Fee (CRF) is imposed on past due liabilities over $250 that remain unpaid for more than 90 days from the date of the demand notice, unless the liability is included in an active payment plan.

In some instances, the CRF may be automatically assessed when it may not be appropriate. For example, the collector may exclude penalty amounts from the payment plan when entering the promise in the system. This is done when the taxpayer has requested or will request relief of the penalty. When all amounts included in the payment plan have been paid, the promise will automatically “complete”, resulting in the payment plan status being removed in the system. This may result in the CRF being assessed on the outstanding penalty amount for which the taxpayer has requested relief. The collector should inform the taxpayer that this may occur when the payment plan is initially established. Assuming relief of the penalty is granted, the CRF amount will be adjusted to zero by the office granting the relief. In instances where relief of penalty is denied, relief of the CRF may be granted assuming the taxpayer pays the penalty amount in full.

The collector should also be mindful when a taxpayer qualifies for relief of the finality penalty. If the finality penalty is excluded from the payment plan and the taxpayer qualifies for relief, a CRF could be assessed on the outstanding finality penalty if the account is no longer in payment plan status. A CRF relief request is not required and the removal of the CRF should be included in their recommendation to relieve the finality penalty.

Court-ordered restitution (COR) can only be considered a payment plan with respect to the CRF exclusion when the COR expressly established a defined payment plan and the COR was issued prior to the CRF being assessed. When this occurs, the collector must follow procedures to initiate adjustment of the CRF amounts (see CPPM section 525.045).
Payment Method

Payment Processing

The debit payment process starts two days prior to the due date of a payment. This generally allows the CDTFA to debit a taxpayer’s bank account on the actual due date of the payment. If the due date falls on a weekend or bank holiday, the payment will be debited from the taxpayer’s bank account on the first banking day following the due date.

In rare instances the final debit payment received may exceed the balance of the liabilities in the payment plan. This can happen if, for example, the taxpayer makes an additional payment that is not reflected in the system until after the automatic payment is debited. If this occurs, the excess payment will generally be applied automatically to any other billed, unpaid liabilities that exist on the account. If no other billed liabilities exist on the account, the overpayment will be refunded. However, for accounts managed in ACMS, the overpayment may remain unapplied until a refund is requested or the payment is moved to a period of liability.

Reversed Payments

Usually a debit payment is reversed due to insufficient funds or an invalid or closed bank account. If the bank information is valid, but the funds were not available on the date the debit was attempted (insufficient funds or uncollected funds), a second attempt will automatically be made two to three business days after the first attempt. If funds are not available after the second attempt, the payment will be identified as “reversed” or “rejected.” Information regarding the reversed payment, including the specific reason, is captured in the system.

The system reverses the allocations for the payment, effectively removing the payment from the system, and changes the status of the payment to Reversed. The reversed allocation can still be viewed on the Payment springboard on the History tab. However, the application or details of the payment cannot be updated when a check is returned from the bank for insufficient funds. The instructions to reverse a payment can be found in the system’s Help Manager, under the Fully Reverse a Payment topic.

If the payment is reversed for any reason other than insufficient funds (e.g., the bank account is closed, payment was not authorized, taxpayer is deceased, etc.), the collector must terminate the payment plan immediately. Continuing to debit the taxpayer’s account after the payment was reversed for these reasons may constitute a violation of National Automated Clearing House Association rules and may result in the CDTFA being fined. Generally, reversed payments will cause the account to route into the In Grace or Broken Promise work state in the system which must be reviewed daily (see CPPM section 770.024).

A report containing information for all reversed payments will automatically be produced. The report will be produced for statistical purposes and will assist management in identifying any potential issues with the debit payments.

Moving Payments

Collectors with the appropriate security level necessary to move payments in the system will have the ability to move debit payments. However, these payments should generally not be moved from one liability to another. If a payment is moved to a liability that was not included in the payment plan, this could result in the CDTFA debiting the taxpayer’s bank account for an amount in excess of the sum of the total payment plan. Supervisor approval is required for any payment or portion of a payment over $5,000 that is moved.
Unscheduled Payments

An unscheduled payment (e.g., FTB offset payment) is not considered part of the payment plan and will not cause the due date of the next scheduled debit payment to change, unless the liability in the payment plan is paid in full.

Payment Errors

When establishing the payment plan, reasonable precautions should be taken to avoid potential debit payment errors. For example, the collector should call the taxpayer to resolve any apparent issues with bank account information before proceeding. Collectors must also use care when inputting the payment information, including bank account information, payment terms, etc.

Regardless of the precautions taken, the possibility exists that an error may occur. Errors may consist of debiting an incorrect bank account if the account number was entered incorrectly, debiting the wrong amount if the payment amount was entered incorrectly, or continuing to debit the bank account after the taxpayer requested to cancel the agreement (see CPPM 770.032 for cancellation requests).

Resolving Payment Errors

The CDTFA will most commonly be made aware of a payment error when a taxpayer or other person contacts the CDTFA to resolve the problem. The collector assigned to the account is responsible for taking prompt action to confirm and resolve the error before another debit payment is attempted. If the assigned collector is not available, the designated back-up collector, supervisor, or other designee must provide assistance in resolving the error.

First, the collector must confirm the error occurred by reviewing the debit payment information input in the system and comparing it to the information provided on the taxpayer’s payment plan agreement (CDTFA-407) or authorization form (CDTFA-407-CA), and then comparing it to the payment information in the system. If the error is on the agreement or authorization form, a corrected CDTFA-407-CA should be obtained from the taxpayer. The correction must also be made in the system. An error with the bank routing number or bank account number can be corrected by updating the existing (active) payment plan. Errors involving the payment amount and frequency will require the existing payment plan to be cancelled and a new (corrected) payment plan input.

The collector must then take action to correct the payment error. Depending on the circumstances of the error, the erroneous payment transaction can either be reversed or refunded. The following table identifies the recommended action for resolving a payment error based on type of error and the number of banking days that have passed since the person’s bank account was debited:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Error Type</th>
<th>6 Days or Less Since Debt Occurred</th>
<th>7 Days or More Since Debt Occurred</th>

Payment Method

Reversal of Payment due to Error – 6 Days or Less

A payment reversal is similar to a stop payment for a check and must, therefore, be initiated by the taxpayer. To initiate a reversal, taxpayers must contact their financial institution and request an ACH dispute to reverse the transaction.

Reversal of Payment due to Error – 7 Days or More

Reversal of a payment transaction after six banking days requires the CDTFA to authorize its financial institution to allow the reversal. CDTFA authorization must occur prior to the attempted reversal of the payment. To authorize the reversal, the collector must provide the following information in an email to their supervisor (or designee):

- Subject line should be “Payment Reversal Authorization,”
- Taxpayer’s name and the CDTFA account number to which the payment was applied,
- Name on the bank account that was debited in error,
- Name, title, and phone number of the person requesting the reversal,
- Copy of payment screen showing the remittance to be reversed, and
- Copy of system notes pertaining to the error added to the remittance.

The supervisor is responsible for reviewing the request and confirming an error has occurred requiring reversal. The supervisor should also confirm the email contains all necessary information for Return Analysis Unit (RAU) Return Processing Branch (RPB), or Motor Carrier Office (MCO) representative to authorize the reversal. The supervisor should enter a comment in the system stating that the request has been reviewed and approved. Requests should be marked as high importance and sales and use tax, prepaid MTS, lumber assessment, and motor vehicle fuel pre-collection accounts should be forwarded to the RAU email group at BTFD RAU Auto Pay Reversal Refund Group, and special taxes and fees accounts should be forwarded to the designated RPB or MCO representative.

Team members in RAU, RPB, or MCO are responsible for contacting the CDTFA’s financial institution to request the reversal of the erroneous payment. The CDTFA initiate the reversal through CDTFA’s financial institution on a specific form. Afterwards, RAU, RPB, or MCO will inform the collector whether the reversal was completed or if a problem was encountered.

Refund Check

The CDTFA will issue a refund check for erroneous debit payments in instances where:

- The taxpayer’s financial institution refuses to reverse the payment; or
- The taxpayer prefers that CDTFA issue a refund in lieu of a reversal of the transaction.

A refund check cannot be issued unless seven or more banking days have passed since the bank account was erroneously debited. This is necessary to confirm the debit payment is valid and not rejected. In instances where the incorrect bank account that was debited belongs to someone other than the taxpayer, a payment reversal should be used to correct the error if possible.

Prior to initiating a refund request, the collector should first confirm the mailing address on the taxpayer’s CDTFA account is accurate since this is the address to which the refund check will be mailed. If the taxpayer wants the refund check mailed to a different address, the taxpayer must provide a signed, written request identifying the mailing address for the refund check. A signed request is also required when issuing a refund to a person that does not have a CDTFA account.
To initiate the refund request, the collector must provide the following information in an email to his or her supervisor (or designee):

- Subject line “Payment Refund Authorization;”
- Taxpayer’s name and the CDTFA account number to which the payment was applied;
- The name on the bank account that was debited in error;
- The name, title, and phone number of the person requesting the refund;
- The mailing address to which the refund check should be mailed if different than the mailing address on the taxpayer’s CDTFA account or if refund is being issued to a person that does not have a CDTFA account;
- Copy of the payment screen showing the remittance to be reversed; and
- Copy of the system notes pertaining to the error the collector added to the remittance.

The supervisor is responsible for reviewing the request and confirming an error has occurred which requires a refund. The supervisor should also confirm the email contains all information necessary for RAU or the designated RPB or MCO representative to initiate a refund of the erroneous payment. The supervisor should enter a comment in the system stating that the request has been reviewed and approved. Requests should be marked as high importance and forwarded to the RAU email group BTFD-RAU-Auto Pay Reversal Refund Group for sales and use tax, prepaid MTS, lumber assessment, and motor vehicle fuel pre-collection accounts, and those related to special taxes and fees accounts should be forwarded to the designated RPB or MCO representative. If applicable, the signed, written request regarding the mailing address for the refund check must be faxed to RAU or provided to the RPB or MCO representative.

RAU, RPB, or MCO team members are responsible for taking actions necessary to initiate the refund. Processing of the refund should be expedited by all sections and units involved in the process so that the taxpayer receives the payment as quickly as possible. However, refunds over $50,000 require approval from the appropriate Deputy Director (or designee). In addition, if CDTFA determines that a claim for refund in excess of $50,000 should be granted, the decision must be made available as a public record for at least ten days before it becomes effective.

Requesting Waiver of Bank Fees

In some instances, an erroneous debit payment may cause the taxpayer to incur bank fees. For example, a taxpayer may be assessed fees for items returned due to insufficient funds. If the erroneous payment was caused by an error on the part of a CDTFA employee, the collector is responsible for providing the taxpayer’s financial institution with a letter on CDTFA letterhead requesting any bank fees associated with the erroneous debit payment be waived. The request should be addressed to the taxpayer’s financial institution and should include pertinent information regarding the erroneous payment (e.g., bank account, settlement date, payment amount). The request should either be faxed or mailed to the financial institution and a copy of the letter provided to the taxpayer.
In situations where the financial institution will not waive bank fees relating to an erroneous payment caused by CDTFA error, the account holder may file a claim for reimbursement. Under Revenue and Taxation Code (RTC) section 7096, and equivalent special taxes and fees statutes, a taxpayer may file a claim for reimbursement of bank charges and any other reasonable third-party check charge fees incurred as a direct result of an erroneous levy or notice to withhold, erroneous processing action, or erroneous collection action by the CDTFA (see CPPM section 155.025 for detailed information about requirements under the RTC sections and what constitutes “CDTFA error”). These claims must be filed in writing within 90 days from the date the bank or third-party charges were incurred by the taxpayer. Responsible offices and headquarters units should forward claims for reimbursement to the Taxpayers’ Rights Advocate (TRA). Claims forwarded should include:

- The original, written claim filed by the taxpayer/feepayer/claimant
- A copy of the notice of charge(s) from the taxpayer’s/feepayer’s/claimant’s bank, and
- A memorandum explaining the facts that led to the filing of the claim and a recommendation whether the claim should be paid. The memorandum should be written by the collector that is knowledgeable of the case and approved by his or her immediate supervisor.

The statute requires a response within 30 days; therefore, the responsible offices or headquarters units should review and forward claims as soon as they are received. The TRA will evaluate the claim and notify the claimant of its decision. If the claim is approved, it will be forwarded to the Accounting Section of the Financial Management Division for payment and the claimant will receive a check from the State Controller approximately two to four weeks later.

Notice of Change to Banking Information

Banks routinely notify the CDTFA of changes to a taxpayer’s banking information. Changes in banking information can occur, for example, as a result of bank mergers or acquisitions. A bank may notify CDTFA of a change in banking information for a specific taxpayer in response to the CDTFA debiting the taxpayer’s bank account. The CDTFA must take action on these items to avoid future debit payments from being reversed. The correct bank information on the Notification of Change must be corrected within six banking days of receipt or before initiating another entry, whichever is later.

As a result of receiving updated banking information, the system will automatically update the information. If the automatic update cannot be completed, an ACH Notice of Change work item is created and RAU assigns the work item to the responsible collector. If the work item is for a special tax or fee program, RAU assigns the work item to a designated representative of that program. An email is created for the responsible collector, with a copy to their supervisor, that contains the banking information received. The email should be sent as a high priority and should have “Auto Pay Bank Information Change” in the subject line.

If the payment plan is still active, the collector must put notes in the system stating the banking information has been changed. Taxpayers are not required to complete a new authorization form since electronic banking guidelines allow the CDTFA to update the information based on what was provided by the bank.
REJECTING A PAYMENT PLAN 770.023

A taxpayer’s payment proposal may be rejected if the taxpayer’s financial circumstances do not warrant the CDTFA accepting payments over time. Rejection of a payment proposal may also occur for other reasons, such as the failure of the taxpayer to provide adequate documentation to support the need for a payment plan. Collectors must be able to show that the reasons for rejecting a taxpayer’s payment proposal are justified.

The reason for rejecting a taxpayer’s payment proposal must be entered into notes in the system. The responsible collector should contact the taxpayer and verbally explain why the payment proposal was not acceptable. This contact should be followed by mailing a CDTFA-407-D, Payment Plan Denial Letter, to the taxpayer that summarizes the verbal explanation and declines the payment proposal.

If a payment proposal is declined, all documentation provided by the taxpayer should be returned or placed in a confidential destruction bin. If the taxpayer subsequently makes a new request for a payment plan the collector should request current financial documents.

REVIEWING ACCOUNTS – IN GRACE OR BROKEN PROMISE (ACMS) 770.024

When the system determines the payment plan is in default, it will route to the In Grace/Broken Promise work state in the system.

In Grace status occur when:

- The balance of the payment plan isn’t reduced to the forecasted balance by the due date,
- One installment payment is skipped,
- The payment was reversed (insufficient funds),
- A subsequent return or prepayment is not filed and paid in full when due.

Broken Promise in ACMS is generally due to:

- A payment that is dishonored because of insufficient funds,
- Failure to file a current return or prepayment, or
- Failure to make a manual payment on time.

While accounts are in the In Grace or Broken Promise work state, the payment plan is still active and debit payments and payment reminder notices continue.

The collector must review the account thoroughly to determine if the payment plan is actually in default, and not in Grace or Broken Promise in error (e.g., payment erroneously applied to another account or another reporting period). If it is determined that the plan is in default, the collector should call the taxpayer first to try to resolve the issue immediately. In some instances, a payment agreement may need to be modified, or temporarily modified, due to the taxpayer’s unexpected financial crisis, but a history of any defaulted payment plans should be considered, and documentation to support the situation should be requested prior to modifying the payment plan.
If a debit payment is rejected for invalid or closed bank account, a Stop Automatic ACH Debit indicator is automatically placed on the account. If the CDTFA receives notification that a plan payment was dishonored for any reason other than insufficient funds or uncollected funds, the collector must cancel the payment plan or modify the banking information immediately. Continuing to debit the taxpayer’s account after the payment was dishonored may constitute a violation of National Automated Clearing House Association rules and may result in the CDTFA being fined. Therefore, all collection accounts in Grace or Broken Promise must be reviewed daily. To determine why the debit was dishonored, the collector must highlight the “Returned Payment” history line in the system and click the “Details” button to open the history detail window. The reason for the dishonored payment will appear in the top center of the window. Note: To prevent another debit attempt, the cancellation must occur at least two business days prior to the scheduled due date of the payment.

In any case, if the payment plan is in default and resolution is not immediate, the collector should terminate the agreement (see CPPM section 770.025).

Reforecast/Modify a Payment Plan

A payment plan can be modified in the system. The supervisor will update the payment plan schedule through the change schedule button in the Payment Plan springboard.

For accounts in ACMS, the collector will update the payment plan using the Modify Promise to Pay screen in ACMS if the payment plan is in Pending or Active status. When a payment plan is in Active status, only the banking information fields can be modified. If any other information needs to be changed, the payment agreement must be cancelled, and a new payment plan entered.

If banking information is updated, the collector may send a CDTFA-407-CC, Payment Plan – Confirmation, Automatic Payment Modification, to the taxpayer informing them the bank information has been updated.

Skipping a Payment

Collectors can allow the taxpayer to skip a payment without terminating the payment plan. The collector responsible for the account has the discretion to determine whether or not a taxpayer should be allowed to skip a payment based on the circumstances. The payment plan schedule must be updated through the Change Schedule button in the Payment Plan springboard. For accounts in ACMS, supervisor approval is not required to skip a payment once every 365 calendar days, up to a maximum of two times during the entire length of the payment plan. The skip payment option is available in the Modify Promise to Pay screen in ACMS.

Skipping a payment is not an option for payment plans with only one or two payments, and is not available for accounts where termination of the payment plan has been initiated. For a debit payment to be skipped, the collector must initiate the skip payment option at least two business days prior to the due date of the payment to be skipped. Otherwise, the following payment will be skipped instead. For Manual payment plans, the skip payment option can be initiated up to, and including, the due date of the payment. Where appropriate, a CDTFA-407-SP, Payment Plan – Notice of Skipped Payment, may be sent to the taxpayer.
TERMINATING A PAYMENT PLAN

Under RTC section 6832, and equivalent special taxes and fees statutes, the CDTFA has authority to terminate a payment plan upon default of the agreement by the taxpayer. It requires CDTFA to mail a notice of termination to the taxpayer, and requires the CDTFA to wait 15 days after the notice before taking collection action. The CDTFA-407-T, Notice of Termination, states that if the requested items are not received within 15 days, the payment plan will be terminated, and collection action will be taken. The 407-T also advises of the taxpayer’s right to an administrative review.

RTC section 6832, and equivalent special taxes and fees statutes, also allows the CDTFA to bypass the required notification process if it finds that collection of the liability is in jeopardy. Collectors seeking to terminate a payment plan must fully document their reasons in the system and, if the liability is in jeopardy, they must secure supervisory approval before initiating collection action.

While a taxpayer may terminate the payment plan at any time, the CDTFA may only terminate it when the taxpayer defaults on the agreement and the provisions in the law for terminating a payment plan have been met. A taxpayer defaults on the payment plan when any or all of the terms in the agreement are not met. It is considered to be in default for missed or late payments, delinquent or partial remittance returns, or failure to disclose assets or income on a financial statement. Failure to increase the payment amount when a financial review warrants an increase, or failure to comply with a required financial review, may likewise result in default of the agreement.

The termination process is initiated from the Payment Plan springboard or for accounts in ACMS, the Modify Promise to Pay screen, and is only available for payment plans in Active status (Note: If a payment plan is in Pending status, the only way to terminate it is for the supervisor to deny approval ). When termination is initiated, the CDTFA-407-T is automatically displayed in the system so that it can be printed and provided to the taxpayer.

The collector must immediately mail the CDTFA–407–T when a taxpayer defaults on the payment agreement. The taxpayer then has 15 days from the mailing date of the CDTFA–407–T to file a written request for an administrative review during which time collection action will be suspended, except when collection of the liability is in jeopardy (RTC section 6832(d) and equivalent special taxes and fees statutes). Any scheduled debit payments or payment reminder notices continue during the 15-day period. After the 15-day period has elapsed, collection action may begin even though an administrative review has been scheduled or is ongoing. A supervisor has discretion to extend the hearing period if the taxpayer can provide a reasonable explanation as to why an administrative hearing cannot be set within the 15-day period.
Situations can occur where a payment plan is not formally established because the taxpayer did not complete and return a CDTFA–407, but a termination letter (CDTFA-407-T) must still be sent and the 15-day period must have passed before collection action may be taken. To decide whether a termination letter should be issued, the collector should first determine whether the actions taken have given the taxpayer a reasonable presumption to believe that they are in a payment plan. Generally, if the collector and taxpayer agree to a payment plan, and the collector sends the CDTFA-407, and the taxpayer does not return the form, the collector should still send a CDTFA-407-T and suspend collection until the 15-day period has passed. Below are three examples of possible situations:

1. The taxpayer proposes a monthly payment plan of $500 and the collector verbally accepts the offer. A CDTFA–407 is not issued or, if one is issued, the taxpayer did not sign and return it. Although there is no further contact between the collector and taxpayer, the taxpayer has paid some of the agreed upon payments. In this situation the taxpayer can reasonably presume the acceptance of the payment proposal since we have not indicated anything to the contrary and have been accepting the taxpayer’s payments without contacting the taxpayer to inform them otherwise. If the taxpayer defaults on the verbal agreement, they should be contacted and a CDTFA–407–T should be issued before initiating any new collection action.

2. The taxpayer proposes a monthly payment plan of $500, which is verbally agreed to pending receipt of supporting documentation. The taxpayer does not remit any payments and does not provide any supporting documentation (i.e. financial information). In this situation, the taxpayer has not made any effort toward compliance and cannot reasonably presume that a payment plan is in effect. The collector does not need to send CDTFA–407–T in this situation, but an attempt to contact the taxpayer prior to initiating any new collection action should be made.

3. Same situation as #2 above, however; the taxpayer sends us the financial information and begins making voluntary payments while the financial information is being reviewed. The payments being remitted are not sufficient to pay off the liability in a reasonable amount of time, but they are accepted while we are reviewing the account. To ensure there is no misunderstanding, the taxpayer should be sent a letter stating that the voluntary payments are being accepted only until the financial information has been reviewed. Assuming the financial information is reviewed timely, sending the taxpayer a CDTFA–407–T is not required. The collector should contact the taxpayer once the review of the financial information is completed and provide them with the appropriate payment proposal form to complete and return.
REINSTATING A PAYMENT PLAN 770.030

A payment plan can be reinstated if the termination process has been initiated, as long as the status has not changed to Terminated. Once the reason causing the payment plan to be In Grace is resolved, the system will change the status to Active. For accounts in ACMS, reinstatement of the payment plan is initiated in the Modify Promise to Pay screen. Once the payment plan is reinstated, the termination process is cancelled and the status of the payment plan remains active. A payment plan can be reinstated up to a maximum of three times during the length of the payment plan.

After reinstatement, a CDTFA-407-R, Payment Plan – Notice of Reinstatement, must be provided to the taxpayer. This letter is available in the system and documents the fact that the payment plan is not being terminated and informs the taxpayer that the payment plan will continue.

Although the system will allow a payment plan to be reinstated if new liabilities or delinquencies exist on the account, only liabilities that were included in the payment plan when it was originally approved will be included in the reinstated payment plan. To add new liabilities that were not included in the original payment plan, if appropriate, the existing payment plan must be cancelled and a new one established. The taxpayer should be directed to request the new payment plan online. If the payment plan is not auto approved, but is accepted by the collector, it must then be approved by the supervisor. A CDTFA-407-CN must then be sent to the taxpayer. If the taxpayer is unable to make the request online, the collector will send a CDTFA-407 that includes the new liabilities and outlines the terms of the agreement. The CDTFA-407 must be received by the collector, entered into the system and approved by the supervisor before the new payment plan is confirmed.

ADMINISTRATIVE REVIEW UPON TERMINATION 770.031

A taxpayer’s request for an administrative review upon termination of a payment plan by CDTFA will be conducted at a time convenient for the taxpayer but within the 15-day period mentioned in CPPM section 770.025. The taxpayer may choose at which CDTFA office to have their administrative review. For special taxes and fees accounts, the administrative review will be held in CDTFA Headquarters in Sacramento if convenient or by conference call.

The review will be informal and the reviewing officer will be a compliance supervisor who, if at all possible, will not be the assigned collector’s direct supervisor. The reviewing officer will verbally notify the taxpayer of the time and place of the administrative review when possible, and may also send a CDTFA-407-AR, Payment Plan - Notice of Administrative Review, to the taxpayer’s address of record. The reviewing officer will document this action in the system.

The reviewing officer will advise the taxpayer that the issues subject to discussion are limited to the reasons for terminating the payment plan. Any documentation presented at the review must relate to the reasons why the taxpayer defaulted on the payment plan.

Within 5 calendar days following the administrative review, the reviewing officer must issue a written decision to the taxpayer and the originating office indicating whether the payment plan was:

1. Reinstated,
2. Referred back to the originating office for further evaluation, or
3. Terminated.

March 2020
Administrative Review Upon Termination (Cont.) 770.031

If the reviewing officer determines that the original payment plan terms should be modified, the termination will be reversed, and the case sent back to the originating office. The originating office will re-evaluate the circumstances and modify the agreement accordingly. Modification of a payment plan can only occur with the mutual consent of the taxpayer and the reviewing officer. If the terms of the original agreement are modified, a new CDTFA–407 must be completed.

CANCELLING A PAYMENT PLAN 770.032

A payment plan in Active status can be cancelled in the system. The three different cancellation status types are Cancelled, Taxpayer Cancelled, and Legal Cancelled (see CPPM section 770.020). Cancellation of a payment plan in Pending status can only be accomplished by having a supervisor deny approval.

A taxpayer whose payments are automatically debited can request CDTFA to stop debiting the account at any time. Taxpayers can request cancellation either verbally or in writing. Taxpayers are advised in writing on the CDTFA-407 that a request to cancel the agreement and stop a debit payment must be received at least five business days prior to the due date of a payment. This allows the CDTFA time to process the request prior to the next scheduled payment. Regardless of the manner in which a cancellation request is received, it must be processed immediately to avoid the taxpayer’s bank account from being erroneously debited. After cancelling the payment plan, the collector should send the taxpayer a CDTFA-407-C, Payment Plan – Notice of Automatic Payment Cancellation and Termination, which can be accessed in the system. The letter advises the taxpayer that the automatic payment has been cancelled and the payment plan will be terminated after 15 days. The collector must wait for the 15-day period to pass before taking collection action.

ANNUAL REVIEWS 770.033

All payment plans lasting more than a year must be reviewed every 12 months, at a minimum. After 12 months, a work item called “Yearly Review of Payment Plan” is created. For accounts in ACMS, accounts in the Promise to Pay work state (XX05) for 365 days will automatically be routed to the Promise Review state (XX65). If the account routes to a different state within that time, the 365 time frame starts over.

The review will be recorded in notes. As part of the review, collectors must verify the taxpayer’s current income by obtaining recent payroll stubs, copies of the current income tax returns, etc. Collectors should also review the original CDTFA–403–E, Individual Financial Statement, to see if any claimed expenses previously allowed have been paid in full. If the taxpayer has paid off some claimed expenses, the amount of payment previously directed to that debt is to be paid to the CDTFA.

When performing a review of an existing payment plan, collectors will use the appropriate review letter when requesting updated financial documentation from the taxpayer. The review letters are the CDTFA–59, Payment Plan — Review (Individual), and the CDTFA–61, Payment Plan — Review (Non-Individual). Collectors will review the agreement as discussed above and, when appropriate, route the account back to the Promise to Pay state (ACMS). When ACMS routes the accounts into the Promise Review state, the payment plan remains in effect and any scheduled debit payments or promise reminder notices scheduled to be mailed to the taxpayer will continue. Existing payment plans determined to still be in the State’s best interest will be manually routed back into the Promise to Pay state by the collector.

ANNUAL REVIEWS  (CONT.) 770.33

If cancellation of a payment plan is necessary, collectors will route the account to their supervisor. Accounts remaining on the Promise Review state for more than 15 days are automatically routed to the work list of the assigned collector’s supervisor.

When performing an annual review of a payment plan, the collector must check to see if any liability periods will become 30 months old prior to the next annual review. Liability periods exceeding 30 months may be nearing the 3-year statute of limitations for filing liens and are subject to CDTFA’s lien policy outlined in CPPM section 757.000. Prior to requesting a lien, the collector will mail a CDTFA–407–L, Notice of Intent to Lien, to the taxpayer. If the taxpayer does not remit payment for the aged liability periods within 45 days of the CDTFA–407–L mailing date, the lien request will be initiated through the system.

SUCCESSFUL COMPLETION - RELIEF FROM FINALITY PENALTY  770.035

Pursuant to RTC section 6832(e) in the Sales and Use Tax Law, 55209(e) in the Fee Collection Procedures Law, and similar statutes under certain special tax and fee programs, except in the case of fraud, the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) will generally relieve finality penalties for taxpayers who satisfactorily complete payment plans under certain conditions. To be eligible for relief, the liability must be CDTFA-assessed and the payment plan must be entered into within 45 days from the due date of the determination or redetermination (billing).

If the finality penalty is relieved, all finality penalty amounts actually remitted by the taxpayer (if any) must be refunded to the taxpayer. The taxpayers are not required to submit a request for relief of finality penalty or file a claim for refund to receive this relief. Furthermore, the six-month statute of limitations for refunds is not applicable.

Relief of finality penalties will not be granted when:

1. The determination includes a fraud penalty. Fraud requires clear and convincing evidence of a deliberate intent to deprive the state of taxes or fees legally due, or intent to evade the payment of taxes or fees.
2. The taxpayer fails to complete the payment plan as agreed. This does not include payments which are late due to circumstances beyond the taxpayer’s control including, but not limited to, late U.S. Postal Service delivery of timely mailed payments and checks dishonored due to bank error.

This section only applies to relief of a finality penalty when the basis for relief is successful completion of a payment plan. All other requests for relief from penalty must be requested through the process outlined in CPPM section 535.055.

For payment plans made online that are approved, the finality penalty is included in the payment plan, so relief is not automatically granted or processed. Therefore, on a monthly basis, each office must review the Payment Plan Reports and identify the accounts that qualify for relief of the finality penalty. Once identified, the collector will set a reminder to review the account for a date immediately prior to completion of the payment plan and take action to prevent the finality penalty amount from automatically being debited.

1 A finality penalty is a penalty assessed pursuant to RTC sections 6565 or 55086 and similar provisions for special tax and fee programs.

August 2020
After the payment plan is completed, the collector will initiate the adjustments in the system if the adjusted amount does not exceed $50,000. Note: the collector should not create a relief case to process these adjustments because it will negatively affect relief requests that are submitted online. The collector should include the following in the adjustment note:

- Name of the taxpayer who entered into the payment plan
- Account number associated with the request
- Payment plan start date and completion date
- Audit period/return period
- Determination date and finality date
- Finality penalty amount and collection cost recovery fee amount
- All other penalties associated with the liability

The collector will send a request in the system to their supervisor for review. The supervisor will add notes indicating approval or denial. If the supervisor does not approve the adjustment, the reason will be provided in the notes and the assignment will be sent back to the collector. If the adjustment is approved, the supervisor will send the assignment to the Office Administrator, or equivalent, for final approval. See the cheat sheets available on the CDTFA's intranet for instructions on the relief from finality process in the system.

In the case where the payment is applied to the finality penalty, the system will process the credit automatically after the Office Administrator’s approval. If a refund is due and does not process automatically, the collector should contact the Audit Determination and Refund Section after the adjustments have been processed.

Adjustments in excess of $50,000 must be processed by the Petitions Section or the Appeals and Data Analysis Branch (ADAB) since they are responsible for submitting these adjustments to the public record pursuant to RTC sections 6901 and 6981 and equivalent special taxes and fees statutes. If the Petitions Section or ADAB processes the adjustment to the finality penalty, they will also adjust the Collection Cost Recovery Fee, if needed. The collector must not process adjustments in excess of $50,000. After the payment plan is completed, the collector will make a written recommendation for relief of the finality penalty to the supervisor, and if appropriate, the supervisor will forward the request to the administrator. If approved, the administrator will send a memo to the Petitions Section for sales and use tax, or the Appeals and Data Analysis Branch for special taxes and fees, stating that the finality penalty is to be waived. The memo should be sent to the Petitions Section’s shared mailbox, BTFD-HOD Petitions. If, in the opinion of the administrator, relief should not be granted, the administrator will provide the reason for denying relief to the collector’s supervisor.

While verbal payment agreements do not qualify for relief under RTC sections 6832, 55209, and similar special tax and fee statutes, if the agreement is made within 45 days from the due date of the determination or redetermination, the taxpayer may still qualify for relief under RTC section 6592(c) or 55044(c) and equivalent special taxes and fees statutes. If the terms of the verbal agreement are completed, the administrator of the office of account may request the finality penalty be waived by sending a recommendation to the Petitions Section or the Appeals and Data Analysis Branch. Unlike relief under RTC section 6832, the collector should not make the adjustment in the system, nor should they create a relief case in the system. Relief of the penalties in these instances shall constitute an efficient resolution pursuant to RTC section 6592(c), and equivalent special taxes and fees statutes.
The Government Code authorizes any state agency to request payment from any other state agency that owes money to a person or entity when that person or entity owes a liability to a state agency.

Government Code section 12419.4 provides that the State has a lien for any taxes due the State from any person or entity, upon any and all personal property belonging to such person or entity and held by the State or amount owed to such person or entity by the State. The lien shall apply to all such property held or such amount owed by an agency of the State while such person or entity owes any taxes to that agency or another agency of the State. This lien does not apply to salary or wages owing to officers or employees of the State.

To enforce the lien, CDTFA must send written notification to the agency holding money for refund and include the taxpayer’s name, the amount due, and request that the payment be intercepted and sent to CDTFA and applied towards the person’s liability. Some intercepts are automatically created in the system, some are initiated by the Collection Support Bureau (CSB), while others are initiated by collectors.

FRANCHISE TAX BOARD (FTB) INTERCEPTS

Intercepts Against Individuals

CDTFA electronically sends FTB an annual list of all individual taxpayers (sole proprietor, partnership, co-owner accounts) with qualified final balances every January. The system automatically sends FTB information on new taxpayers that qualify for intercept, as well as offset balance updates (adjustments, accrued interest, new balances, etc.) every month, except for the month of December.

Intercepts Against Business Entities

Intercepts for business entities (corporation, LLC, LLP, and limited partnership accounts) are processed by CSB. FTB sends an electronic listing of potential refunds eligible for intercept to CSB daily, excluding holidays. CSB manually searches system files to identify matching business entity customers who meet the criteria for FTB intercepts (see CPPM section 771.020).

CSB sends an email regarding the potential intercept to the team member assigned to the case with a copy to their supervisor inquiring whether they wish to request or decline the intercept. The team member replies by email with their decision based on their review. If the team member approves of the intercept request, the CSB Offset Desk team member prepares a memo to FTB and uploads it to the secured FTB File server. Notes must be entered on the Customer springboard whether the intercept requested is approved or declined.
CRITERIA FOR FTB INTERCEPTS 771.020

Accounts selected for intercept must meet the following conditions:

1. Individuals with a valid Social Security Number, or business entities with a valid Federal Employer Identification Number in the system.
2. There is a final liability which exceeds $250.00.
3. A demand notice was previously sent to the debtor with the standard FTB pre-intercept blurb.
4. Taxpayer is not in bankruptcy or received a discharge from bankruptcy. A petition in bankruptcy carries with it an automatic stay, so the intercept of the liability is withheld until the debtor receives a discharge or the automatic stay is lifted.
5. The balance is at least 30 days old.

If the taxpayer is on a payment plan, an intercept may still be requested for final liabilities. Payment plan forms (CDTFA 407 series) include language to notify the taxpayer of CDTFA’s ability to initiate an intercept against their property held by another state agency. However, the collector should consider not requesting the intercept if the payment plan will be completed and paid in full within the next 90 days, considering whether the taxpayer is likely to default within that time.

If the FTB refund is determined to be community property, it is subject to an intercept for debt incurred by either spouse before or during the marriage. Debt incurred after the dissolution of the marriage, or while the couple lived apart, is not the responsibility of the non-liable spouse and not subject to intercept (see CPPM section 753.240). Team members should look for dissolution of marriage or evidence the couple is living apart. If the couple is living apart, the income of each spouse is separate property.

If an intercept occurs, the taxpayer will receive a letter of notification and team members must be prepared to respond to calls from the affected taxpayer. Taxpayers should be directed to contact FTB only if the taxpayer has a tax problem involving FTB. If the liability is paid in full or it becomes apparent that it will be paid in full without the intercept, or if conditions for the intercept are no longer met, a Stop EDD/FTB Debt Files indicator should be added by the team member.

EMPLOYMENT DEVELOPMENT DEPARTMENT (EDD) INTERCEPT REQUESTS 771.030

EDD sends files containing intercept information and the system automatically creates the refund intercept if the account meets the following criteria:

- Valid Social Security Number (SSN) for the individual in the system,
- The final liability exceeds $50, and
- The taxpayer is not in bankruptcy and has not received a discharge in bankruptcy for the period of liability.

CDTFA sends EDD offset balance updates (credits, adjustments, increases, accrued interest) electronically on a weekly basis.
ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE CONTROL (ABC) INTERCEPT REQUESTS  771.040

Business and Professions Code section 23959 states, “If an application [for an alcoholic beverage license] is denied or withdrawn, one-fourth of the license fee paid, or not more than one hundred dollars ($100), shall be deposited in the Alcohol Beverage Control Fund as provided in Section 25761. The balance of this amount shall be credited on any taxes due from the applicant under the Sales and Use Tax Law, and the remaining portion shall be returned to the applicant.”

ABC periodically transmits a “Refund Schedule for Sales Tax” to CDTFA that lists the applicant’s name, address, and amount of funds available for intercept. These transmittals from ABC do not arrive on any specific schedule, but they do have a deadline of 14 days from the date of the notice to request intercept of the funds. These refunds typically occur because an ABC license applicant, after paying the fee for a license, has withdrawn an application and ABC is refunding the fee paid. Generally, the entity that responds first is the one to receive the funds, so a timely response is critical. ABC intercepts are handled in the same manner as FTB intercepts with business entities (see CPPM section 771.015).

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH CARE SERVICES (DHCS)  INTERCEPT REQUESTS  771.050

DHCS, which administers the Medi-Cal program, annually distributes over $4 billion to California health providers. Among their clients are physicians, dentists, chiropractors, optometrists, pharmacies, hospitals, ambulance services, and retailers of hearing aids, prosthetic devices, wheelchairs, etc.

Healthcare provider participation in the Medi-Cal program can be confirmed through the Open Data Portal – Profile of Enrolled Medi-Cal Fee-for-Service (FFS) Providers link on the DHCS website.

To request an intercept, a work item must be created in the system and assigned to CSB who will request the intercept under the provisions of Government Code section 12419.5.

FUNDS DUE TO TAXPAYERS FROM OTHER STATE AGENCIES  771.070

Although most intercepts are automated or initiated by CSB, the responsible office may find funds owed to a delinquent taxpayer by agencies that are not monitored by CSB, such as bonds subject to refund posted with Contractors State License Board (see CPPM section 720.035). The responsible office creates a work item in the system and assigns it to CSB. CSB, in turn, may request an intercept of funds from any state agency that owes a taxpayer a refund.

REQUESTS FOR INTERCEPTS TO COLLECTIONS SUPPORT BUREAU  771.080

The responsible office requesting an intercept of funds from agencies other than EDD, FTB, and ABC, will create a work item from the Customer springboard and assign it to CSB with the following information:

1. Taxpayer's name, address, and account number.
2. Amount of taxpayer's liability.
3. Amount of intercept requested, if known.
4. A summary of the account history.
5. Name and address of the agency that is holding funds available for intercept.
6. Any documentation or information showing the taxpayer is due funds from the respective agency.
CSB sends an email to the team member assigned to the case with a copy to their supervisor that an intercept is available from EDD, FTB, or ABC. CSB uses two standard sets of email notifications and system notes entered on the Customer springboard are as follows:

Sample Email and System Notes for ABC/EDD Intercepts

Subject: ABC/EDD Intercept/Account Number/Taxpayer’s Name

There is an ABC/EDD intercept available in the amount of $(intercept amount) on the above account. Please review the account and determine if the intercept should be taken. So that CDTFA may receive the funds, please respond to this email by close of business today. If you have any questions, please contact me at (phone number) or by replying to this email.

Once the responsible team member responds with a decision, CSB enters notes in the Customer springboard like the following:

CSB received notice from ABC/EDD of an intercept available in the amount of $(intercept amount). The account was reviewed and (Team Member’s Name) replied via email to accept/decline the intercept.

Sample Email and System Notes for FTB Intercepts

Subject: FTB Intercept/Account Number/Taxpayer’s Name

There is an FTB intercept available in the amount of $(intercept amount) on the above account. NOTE: Before we can intercept this amount, the Pre-Intercept Notice* requirement must be met. Also, 30 days must have passed from the Demand date for each period in which an intercept is requested. Please review the account and determine if the intercept should be taken. So that CDTFA may receive the funds, please respond to this email by close of business today. If you have any questions, please contact me at (phone number) or by replying to this email.

*Pre-Intercept Notice (see below) is generally the last blurb found on the Demand billing:

The Franchise Tax Board (FTB) administers the Interagency Intercept Collection Program in conjunction with the State Controller’s Office. FTB is authorized to redirect a refund owed to a tax or fee payer to the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) to offset the tax or fee payer’s liability under California Government Code section 12419.5. If you have any questions or objections to the liability on this notice, contact the CDTFA office indicated above within 30 days from the date of this notice and a CDTFA representative will review and discuss your account with you. You have 30 days from the date of this notice to either remit payment in full, contact CDTFA, or provide documentation to CDTFA to show the liability is not due. Failure to respond within 30 days from the date of this notice will result in CDTFA forwarding your account to FTB to proceed with intercept collections.

Once the responsible team member responds with a decision, CSB enters notes on the Customer springboard like the following:

CSB received notice from FTB of an intercept available in the amount of $(intercept amount). Emailed (Team Member Name) regarding the Pre-Intercept Notice requirement, the 30-day waiting period from the Demand date, and whether the intercept should be accepted/declined. The account was reviewed and (Team Member Name) replied via email to (accept or decline) the intercept.
The Offer in Compromise (OIC) program is available to all taxpayers that do not have the income, assets, or means to pay their liability within a reasonable period of time, in most cases within 5 to 7 years. Generally, if an OIC is accepted, the taxpayer’s liability is eliminated and liens are released.

In order to participate in the OIC program, taxpayers must meet the following requirements:

1. The account is closed (not active) and the liability is final.
2. The taxpayer is not disputing the liability.
3. The person making the offer is not involved or associated with the same, or similar, type of business.
4. The liability is assessed by the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA), is final, and there is no evidence of tax reimbursement.

Effective January 1, 2009, through January 1, 2023, the OIC program will extend to qualified active businesses where the taxpayer has not received reimbursement for the taxes, fees, or surcharges owed to the state, to successors of businesses that may have inherited tax liabilities of their predecessors, and to consumers who incurred a use tax liability.

To assist taxpayers in determining if they are eligible for an OIC and an appropriate offer amount, a new Offer in Compromise Pre-Qualifier web-based tool is available on the CDTFA website. The tool is intended for use by individuals and not by corporations or limited liability companies. Taxpayers should be encouraged to use the tool before submitting their OIC application to ensure they qualify and are making a reasonable offer. Taxpayers who pass the initial vetting questions process are asked to provide additional financial information.

Once the information is added, the tool calculates a proposed offer based on the amount of the tax/fee debt, equity in assets, and monthly income. If the taxpayer decides to continue and apply for an OIC, they can click the link to the CDTFA-490, Offer in Compromise Application, within the tool’s webpage. A hardcopy of the application must be submitted to the CDTFA. While the tool may inform a taxpayer they appear to qualify for the OIC program, the OIC Section is responsible for reviewing the application and supporting documentation to determine whether the taxpayer’s OIC request is approved.

If the taxpayer is not able to use the OIC Pre-Qualifier tool and it appears the taxpayer is a good candidate for the OIC program, the responsible collector may invite them to participate by sending a CDTFA-908, Offers in Compromise Program, and/or an OIC application (CDTFA-490 or CDTFA-490–C).
FRAUD

An OIC will not be considered in situations where the taxpayer has been convicted of criminal (felony) fraud. However, taxpayers who have been assessed a civil fraud penalty may participate in the OIC program. In these cases, the CDTFA requires a minimum offer of the tax plus the fraud penalty. The minimum offer requirement may be waived if it can be shown that the taxpayer making the offer was not the person responsible for perpetrating the fraud. Usually, this situation occurs in partnership accounts where the intent to commit fraud can be clearly attributed to another partner.

PROCESSING AN OFFER IN COMPROMISE PROPOSAL

All OIC proposals must be filed with the OIC Section using a CDTFA–490, Offer in Compromise Application (for individuals, sole proprietors, married couples and domestic partners), or CDTFA–490–C, Offer in Compromise Application for Corporations, LLCs, Partnerships, etc. Individuals that have multiple tax liabilities with the CDTFA, Franchise Tax Board (FTB), or Employment Development Department (EDD) may use the Multi-Agency Application (DE–999CA). All three application forms are available to CDTFA staff and the public via the CDTFA’s website at www.cdtfa.ca.gov.

The taxpayer is required to complete and sign the application and provide all the required supporting documentation (see Check List of Required Items on page 2 of the OIC application).

OIC packages are either submitted to the office responsible for the account or directly to the OIC Section. When the OIC package is submitted to the responsible office, the collector shall scan and upload the OIC package into the system within three business days of receipt. The collector will send an email to the OIC lead and OIC support team member informing them an OIC package has been uploaded in the system. The collector will forward the original package to the OIC Section (MIC 52) via inter-office mail.

If there is a payment plan already in place, the OIC Section will advise the taxpayer to continue remitting their payments as promised, or inform them the payment plan is being terminated. While the OIC is under review, existing Earnings Withholding Order for Taxes (EWOT) payments and offsets from other state agencies will continue. When accounts are under the OIC review, collectors may continue to monitor existing payment plans and collections, but should not invoke any new collection actions. If delaying any collection actions will jeopardize the CDTFA’s ability to collect, the collector must contact the OIC Section prior to taking any new collection actions.

Some OIC proposals may involve partnership accounts. If only one partner has requested an OIC, the responsible office should suspend collection actions only for the partner requesting the OIC.
Collections
OFFER IN COMPROMISE SECTION — PROCESSING APPLICATIONS 772.040

In accordance with CDTFA policy, all OIC applications sent to the OIC Section are acknowledged in writing, within 12 working days of receipt. The taxpayer receives an acknowledgement letter along with a copy of the CDTFA–324–OIC, Privacy Notice. The OIC Section inputs notes in the system after the acknowledgement letter and privacy notice is mailed.

The OIC Section assumes control of the account while the offer is under consideration, unless there are partners who are not involved in the offer.

SECURING THE OFFERED AMOUNT 772.050

The taxpayer is not required to post the offered amount at the time the application is submitted. The OIC Section will notify the taxpayer when it is appropriate to fund the offer. However, funds received in a field office should be processed with an OIC payment voucher. If the offered funds are provided by a person not associated with the business entity (e.g., relatives, friends), notes identifying the person making the deposit must be entered into the system.

If an OIC is not accepted, the deposited funds are either applied to the liability or returned to the taxpayer, based on the written direction of the taxpayer. If a third party posted the deposit, the written direction of the third party is needed. When the CDTFA retains an OIC deposit, it is applied to the taxpayer’s liability using the date the funds were received as the effective date of payment.

PROCESSING ACCEPTED OFFERS 772.060

The OIC Section will evaluate all OIC requests to determine if they are consistent with statutory requirements and CDTFA policy. If the offer is formally accepted, the OIC Section will initiate the approval process.

Upon approval of the accepted offer, the OIC Section will apply the offered funds, adjust balances, release liens, remove offsets, and enter notes in the system. The OIC Section will send the taxpayer an acceptance letter indicating the periods of liability that have been compromised. The release of lien documents will be auto-generated and mailed separately to the taxpayer. In addition, a public records notice will be issued if the compromise exceeds $500. If there is an offset or Earnings Withholding Order for Taxes (EWOT) in place, the OIC Section will release any offsets, and notify the employer, as applicable.

If the compromise involves a partnership, the partner making the OIC offer is relieved from debt upon acceptance of the offer. Any partner that was not included in the OIC request is responsible for the remaining balance due after the offered funds are applied to the liability. The OIC Section shall enter the appropriate notes in the system to confirm the partner’s approval and unlink the approved partner from the liability’s balance. The approved partner shall remain in account history and notes.

April 2020
If an offer is not acceptable, the OIC Section notifies the taxpayer in writing of the rejection, denial or withdrawal and provides an explanation for the decision. The OIC Section is responsible for closing the case in the system and entering the appropriate notes. Upon closure, the OIC indicator is removed. If the taxpayer posted the offered amount, the deposited funds either remain applied to the liability or are returned to the taxpayer, based on the written direction of the taxpayer. When a third party posts the deposit and a refund is requested, the refund will be sent directly to the third party. The OIC Section is responsible for initiating the refund request.

APPEALS

A denied or rejected Offer is not subject to administrative appeal or judicial review.
When a husband and wife or registered domestic partnership (registered with the Secretary of State) owe a tax/fee to the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) both parties are individually and jointly liable for the amount due when the account is registered as a co-ownership or a partnership. (Hereinafter, a reference to “spouse” shall also refer to a registered domestic partner.) However, California law recognizes that it is not always reasonable or equitable to hold a spouse liable for the liability when certain conditions exist. Innocent Spouse (IS) claims usually occur when spouses divorce, separate, or no longer live with one another. Generally, the requesting spouse claims that he or she was not involved with the business when the liability was generated. The burden of proof for this claim rests with the requesting spouse.

To seek relief, the claiming spouse must submit a written request for IS relief to the CDTFA within the later of:

1. One year from the date the CDTFA first made contact about the tax owed.
2. Five years from the due date of the return filed without payment of tax.
3. Five years from the date the liability became final.

The written request must contain:

1. The account number.
2. The period for which IS relief is requested.
3. The basis for the IS request. This includes documentation that establishes that the requirements below have been met.

The claiming spouse may meet this requirement by completing a CDTFA–682-A, Request for Innocent Spouse Relief, located in Publication 57, Innocent Spouse Relief, which is available on the CDTFA website (www.cdtfa.ca.gov) or in any CDTFA office.

Relief or partial relief of liability may be granted if all the following qualifying conditions are met:

1. A liability is incurred under the Sales and Use Tax Law or special taxes and fees laws administered by the CDTFA.
2. The liability is attributable to the non-claiming spouse.
3. The spouse claiming relief establishes that he or she did not know of, and that a reasonably prudent person in the claiming spouse’s circumstances would not have had reason to know of, the liability.
4. It would be inequitable to hold the claiming spouse liable, taking into account whether the claiming spouse significantly benefited directly or indirectly from the liability, and taking into account all other facts and circumstances.
5. The claiming spouse makes a timely request for IS relief in writing to the CDTFA.
6. At the time the spouse makes a request for IS relief, the claiming spouse:
   a. Is no longer married to, or is legally separated from, the non-claiming spouse.
   b. The claiming spouse is no longer a member of the same household.
Innocent Spouse

The written request for IS relief or a completed CDTFA–682-A, Request for Innocent Spouse Relief, along with the supporting documents, is sent to the CDTFA, Offers in Compromise (OIC) Section (MIC:52), P.O. Box 942879, Sacramento, CA 94279–0052. The non-claiming spouse is notified of the IS request and is given the opportunity to provide documentation to support or counter the claiming spouse’s request.

When the outcome of the claimant’s IS request is determined, both parties will be notified by letter. The letter will explain how relief will affect the liability period(s) and will also address lien issues.¹

If the claiming spouse receives relief as an innocent spouse, OIC staff will create an arbitrary account with account prefix “96” by selecting “RUPA Arb” on the “Type of Arbitrary” pop-up screen when creating the account. This allows the innocent spouse to receive a paid-in-full statement without affecting the primary account. OIC staff will enter the No Mail (NM) indicator on the Maintain Partnership screen so the innocent spouse will not receive copies of statements mailed to the primary account after the IS Relief is granted. OIC staff will send a request to the CDTFA-ACMS email group to delete the name of the innocent spouse from the primary account.

The innocent spouse may be entitled to a full refund of monies collected either voluntarily or involuntarily. However, the claiming spouse’s written request for refund must be submitted within the statute of limitations for claims for refund. Therefore, when making a payment(s) the claiming spouse should be provided with Publication 117, Filing a Claim for Refund, and informed to submit a CDTFA–101, Claim for Refund or Credit, if applicable.

¹ IS cases may result in partial relief being granted on a particular period of liability. In these cases, the claiming spouse’s name is not removed from registration and the claiming spouse may not receive a single party release of lien. Although the claimant may receive real property through a divorce settlement, the property may have been transferred without a clear title (quit claim). A single party release of lien may not remove the effects of our tax lien for the non-claiming spouse’s ownership interest or for the community property interests.
A claiming spouse whose request for IS relief is denied may still be eligible for “Equitable Relief.” Instructions for filing an Equitable Relief (ER) claim as an innocent spouse are contained in the denial letter sent to the claimant by the OIC Section.

The claimant has 30 days from the date of the denial letter to file a request for ER. If the claiming spouse does not respond within 30 days, the CDTFA assumes that the claiming spouse is not interested in pursuing equitable relief and the OIC Section will close the case file.

If the claiming spouse responds within 30 days and would like to pursue an ER claim, the OIC Section will examine the following factors to determine if it is inequitable to hold the claimant liable for the existing liability:

1. Would the claimant suffer an economic hardship if relief is not granted?
2. How much knowledge did the claimant have regarding the understatement or non-payment of the liability?
3. Did the claimant receive a significant benefit because the liability was not paid?
4. Is the liability attributable to the claimant or the non-claiming spouse?
5. Does the claimant have the legal obligation under a divorce decree or agreement to pay the liability?
6. Did duress or abuse towards the claimant contribute to the understatement or nonpayment of liability?
7. Did the claimant comply with the tax/fee laws during the period of liability or subsequent periods?
8. Does the non-claimant’s spouse or registered domestic partner support the request for relief of liability?

If the OIC Section approves the claimant’s request for equitable relief, both the claiming spouse and non-claiming spouse are notified. Should the claimant’s request for equitable relief be denied, the claimant may file a request for reconsideration with the OIC Section. Taxpayers who are denied ER are entitled to reconsideration by the CDTFA (see Publication 17, Appeals Procedures: Sales and Use Taxes and Special Taxes and Fees).

If the ER claim is approved, the claimant is relieved of the unpaid liability; however, he or she is not entitled to a refund of payments collected.
Government Code section 15613 authorizes the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) to issue a subpoena duces tecum if, in the course of conducting an audit or investigation of a taxpayer’s business, the CDTFA representative is denied access to business records necessary to carry out his or her official duties.

The Administrator must authorize, and the Field Operations Division Deputy Director or Program and Compliance Bureau Chief must approve, all requests for the legal staff to draft a subpoena duces tecum. The request must include:

1. The purpose for which the records are needed.
2. The date, time of day, and place for the person to appear.
3. The name and position title of the CDTFA representative before whom the person must appear.
4. A list of the records sought and the period of time to which the records relate.
5. The name, nature, and location of the business to which the records relate and the name, address, and relationship to the business of the person who has custody and control of the records.
6. A statement indicating the specific reason, or reasons, why examination of the records sought is material and necessary to the audit or investigation.
7. A statement showing that demands have been made for the records and the response to such demands.
8. Any additional information that will disclose the full circumstances of the situation requiring the use of a subpoena duces tecum.

This information is necessary to ensure against infringements of the taxpayer’s constitutional guarantees relating to unreasonable search and seizure and due process of law. The subpoena and the declaration of materiality (under penalty of perjury) supporting the issuance of the subpoena must clearly identify the particular records being requested and specify the reasons why their contents are necessary and material to the work of the CDTFA in carrying out its duties. A sample request for a subpoena duces tecum is included at the end of this section.
A CDTFA-301, Request for Issuance of Subpoena, should be prepared for all subpoena requests, and should include all information outlined in CPPM section 774.020. Those requests initiating from the field offices under the direction of the Field Operations Division should be forwarded to the Deputy Director for approval. Upon approval, the Deputy Director will forward the CDTFA-301 and any accompanying documents to the CDTFA’s legal staff in the Litigation Bureau for the drafting and issuance of the Subpoena Duces Tecum, Notice and Acknowledgment of Receipt, and Proof of Service. Once the documents have been processed by the Litigation Bureau and all required signatures obtained, they will forward the documents to the Administrator together with complete information regarding the service of the subpoena by either the responsible office or an attorney’s service.

Service of the subpoena on the taxpayer occurs by personally showing the original subpoena duces tecum to the person required to appear and, at that time, providing him or her with a copy of the subpoena together with a copy of the declaration of materiality. At the time of service, the person serving the subpoena will also execute a proof of service, in the form of a declaration under penalty of perjury, and attach it to the original subpoena. After serving the subpoena, the original subpoena, declaration of materiality, and the proof of service are sent back to the Litigation Bureau.

When a subpoena is served on a financial institution, the institution generally charges a fee for each record that is provided to the CDTFA. In many cases, not all of the records obtained provide the information expected. To address this situation, the CDTFA-31 was developed, the use of which may assist in preventing the cost of the records from exceeding the expected benefit in obtaining them. The letter may accompany a subpoena and instruct the financial institution to notify the CDTFA when the total cost of the requested records reaches $100 or another specific amount. Use of this letter is optional; however, it should be used when deemed appropriate. The letter is available in ACMS.

The California Right to Financial Privacy Act has two additional requirements when staff serves a subpoena duces tecum on a financial institution for the production of a customer’s records. In addition to the normal service on the financial institution, the California Right to Financial Privacy Act requires that (1) the customer affected is also served with a copy of the subpoena and (2) the customer shall have a ten-day period in which to notify the financial institution of his or her intention to move to quash the subpoena. (See CPPM section 135.073.)

DISCHARGE FROM ACCOUNTABILITY 776.000

GENERAL 776.010

When an amount due from a taxpayer is not economically feasible to pursue, or when collection efforts have proven to be unsuccessful and recovery of the amount due is improbable, the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) may file an Application for Discharge (Std. 27) requesting the liability be discharged from accountability. Requests for discharge are forwarded to the State Controller’s Office (SCO) for approval pursuant to the Government Code. A discharge from accountability, also referred to as a “write-off,” relieves CDTFA of the responsibility to actively pursue uncollectible amounts due and removes the liability from CDTFA’s accounts receivable.

MANUAL WRITE-OFFS

Write-offs are initiated by the responsible collector. A write-off checklist (see Exhibit 1) and all supporting documents must be submitted to the compliance supervisor or their designee for review and approval for all accounts over $2,000. Collectors should use the checklist as a tool to ensure all efforts to collect the liability have been exhausted. Not all points on the write-off checklist are applicable for all accounts. The designated write-off reviewer will use the checklist to determine if there are actions appropriate to the case that have not been addressed.

The compliance supervisor, or their designee, reviews the case and all supporting documentation and approves the write-off request in the system. Once approved, the write-off case is staged in the system to the Collections Support Bureau (CSB). The write-off checklist and documentation are only used by the collector and the designated reviewer and do not need to be forwarded to CSB.

The CDTFA-908, Important Notice: OIC Program for Closed Businesses, should be mailed to all accounts prior to being written off, except for:

1. Accounts that previously requested an offer in compromise (OIC) and were rejected,
2. Accounts that do not qualify for the OIC Program, and
3. Accounts that do not have a good mailing address.

A reasonable amount of time, generally 15 days, should be given to the taxpayer to respond before initiating the write-off.

CSB reviews and approves write-off cases submitted through the system, which places the liability in pending write-off status. Every month, the system generates schedules of uncollectible items, which are submitted to SCO for final approval along with the Application for Discharge.

Supervisors should encourage their team members to actively submit accounts for write-off when collection efforts have been exhausted. If an account is not collectible, the case is not completed until the write-off recommendation is forwarded to CSB, accepted for discharge from accountability, and subsequently approved by SCO.
WRITE-OFF DOES NOT RELIEVE THE TAXPAYER OF LIABILITY 776.020

Although CDTFA is relieved of the collection responsibility after writing off a liability, this action does not relieve the taxpayer from the liability. If assets are located after the write-off, collection action should be taken as though the liability was still active in CDTFA’s records. Full collection action may be taken, provided the appropriate statute of limitations has not expired. However, a notice of levy should not be issued on a deceased taxpayer’s account once CDTFA has been notified and the information has been confirmed. If a taxpayer requests a release of lien after the write-off process is complete, full payment of the liability is required before the lien can be released, barring a court order stipulating a release for a lesser amount paid. If the taxpayer does not pay with certified funds, additional time is required to allow the funds to clear the bank before a lien release can be issued.

Write-off Re-establish Work item

Written off accounts can be recommended for re-establishment either automatically by the system or by team members if assets are located from sources such as EDD, FTB, IRS, and others. A write-off does not need to be re-established for one payment or lien payoff. See Write-off Re-establish Work item in the system’s Help Manager for additional information.

WRITE-OFF RECOMMENDATION 776.030

The write-off recommendation is processed on the Customer case in the system. When preparing a recommendation to request a discharge from accountability, complete the required fields for the corresponding reason selected in a Write-Off Taxpayer case.

Before initiating a write-off recommendation, the following issues must be resolved:

1. Unapplied credits,
2. Negative amounts entered in the system for tax, penalty or interest,
3. Credits,
4. Unbilled collection costs, and
5. Unresolved tasks requiring user action, including legal actions.

SCO, in conjunction with the State Administrative Manual, requires that multiple accounts owned by the same entity/customer must be written off together. This means these accounts must be on the same write-off schedule and have the same write-off status.

CSB will either:

1. Approve the write-off recommendation and schedule a request for discharge from accountability, or
2. Stage the case in the system to the requestor’s supervisor for additional information or further investigation.

REASONS FOR RECOMMENDATION 776.035

In the system, only one reason for recommending a write-off can be selected for a taxpayer even though more than one category may be applicable. A summary of the collection activity must be recorded to support a recommendation for write-off.

The completed write-off may be reviewed by SCO, the Attorney General, or other control agencies. Common outcomes in the drop-down list of write-off points should be used for consistency. Do not use catch phrases, acronyms, initialisms, form numbers, or terminology exclusive to CDTFA.
TAXPAYER DECEASED 776.040

A recommendation for write-off may be submitted if a taxpayer is deceased and has no estate, or the estate has been distributed by the time CDTFA obtains knowledge of the death. If a claim in probate has been filed, and CSB later learns through correspondence with the estate attorney that the assets of the estate are insufficient to pay the claim or any portion thereof, a write-off request can be initiated by a collector. CSB will enter notes in the system that no payment is expected from CDTFA’s claim.

TAXPAYER CANNOT BE LOCATED 776.050

A recommendation for write-off because a taxpayer cannot be located should occur only after making a diligent effort to locate the taxpayer. The amount of the liability is a prime factor in determining whether sufficient time and effort was expended to support requesting a discharge from accountability. Some other factors to consider are:

1. Whether all sources of information have been checked.
2. If the taxpayer is absent from this state, whether it appears that such absence is permanent.
3. Possible future sources of information, e.g., relatives, personal references, or business associates remaining in this state.

TAXPAYER OUTSIDE OF STATE JURISDICTION 776.060

Generally, taxpayers who are permanently situated outside of California, owe a liability less than $10,000, and have no assets in California are potential cases for write-off. However, a case is never an automatic candidate for write-off even though the liability is less than $10,000. The final course of action depends upon the availability of assets owned by the taxpayer and the type of legal action anticipated. Each case must be evaluated individually for write-off potential or possible referral for an out-of-state judgment.

The collector is responsible for the initial investigation and should check on the following points prior to forwarding their recommendations to CSB:

1. Does the taxpayer have any out-of-state assets? If so, is the value of the asset(s) sufficient and/or cost effective to pursue and of a nature to make a referral to CDTFA counsel worthwhile?
2. Is the taxpayer sufficiently established in their new location to the extent that obtaining a judgment would be practical? For example:
   a. Is the taxpayer operating a business?
   b. Does the taxpayer currently own a home or are they in the process of buying one?
   c. Is the taxpayer employed? If so, who is the employer?
3. Are the taxpayer’s assets encumbered and, if so, to what extent? For example, is their home mortgage nearly paid in full or was the home newly purchased and subject to a lengthy loan term or large payments?

The above items are not all-inclusive, but merely some of the items to review before deciding to proceed with a legal referral or requesting a discharge from accountability.

Legal referrals on out-of-state taxpayers can range from corresponding with the taxpayer for payment, to offers in compromise, to proceeding with full collection efforts through out-of-state attorneys after obtaining a judgment in California. If CDTFA enlists the services of an out-of-state attorney to pursue collection from the taxpayer, the attorney will retain approximately 1/3 of any money collected as payment for their fees.
Collections

Taxpayer Outside of State Jurisdiction (Cont.) 776.060
If the amount exceeds $10,000, a decision must be made whether the amount due, when considered with the financial condition of the taxpayer, will warrant a legal referral for further action. CSB will make this decision after examining the facts supplied by the collector and ensuring that all collection efforts have been exhausted.

Inactive Corporation/LLC 776.070
A recommendation for write-off is appropriate when a corporation or limited liability company is found to be:
1. Inactive or suspended.
2. Without assets.
4. Without any collection against secondary parties due to collection being exhausted and written off.

No Assets or Income 776.090
Prior to recommending a write-off because of inability to pay, a number of factors must be evaluated, such as:
1. The amount of the liability.
2. The possibility of acquiring future assets or income.
3. The taxpayer’s age, occupation, physical and mental condition, earning capacity, rehabilitation if disabled, or release from an institution or prison.

If the taxpayer appears to have placed, or is placing, assets in the name of another person, a write-off should not be processed. Continued investigation to establish the taxpayer’s interest in the assets should be made prior to a write-off recommendation.

Balance Outlawed 776.100
“Balance Outlawed” is used when a liability is discharged in bankruptcy, but a valid state tax lien was recorded prior to the bankruptcy petition date (see CPPM 740.160).

Small Balance 776.110
Small balances often do not justify further collection effort. A compliance supervisor will approve these types of cases with balances up to $500.00 after a reasonable effort has been made to collect the liability. To avoid costly collection efforts out of proportion to the amount to be realized, balances of $500.01 through $5,000.00 can be submitted to CSB with a minimum explanation of previous collection efforts required from the responsible office. (See CPPM section 776.180 for automatic write-off of balances of $10.01 through $500.00.)

A reasonable effort is defined as collection effort(s) where the cost is commensurate with the amount to be realized. For example, conducting several field calls to collect an item of less than $5,000 goes beyond a reasonable effort.
COLLECTIONS SUPPORT BUREAU NOTIFICATION 776.150

Once the case is approved by the supervisor, the write-off case should be staged to CSB in the system. The CSB reviewer will retrieve the approved case through the system. For additional steps see the system’s Help Manager “Review and Approve a Write-Off Case.”

When the write-off case is staged to “Approved-Send to SCO” in the system by the CSB reviewer, the collection will automatically stage to “Pending Write-Off” and a Pending Write-off indicator is added to the customer. The collection is also automatically unassigned from the collector when staged to “Pending Write-Off.” Several months may elapse before final approval is granted and CSB receives notification of the discharge from SCO. A Written-Off indicator is added to the customer when SCO approval is noted in the system for every schedule that listed the customer’s liabilities.

AUTOMATED WRITE OFF OF BALANCES OF $500 OR LESS 776.180

A write-off case should not be prepared for liabilities of $500 or less. Under Government Code section 12438, CDTFA is not required to collect small balances under $500. Although all amounts over $10 are billed, liabilities of $10.01 through $500 are automatically written off once the liability is final for 180 days provided:

1. All accounts are closed.
2. No delinquency or other active collection task exists.
3. No payments or adjustments have been made in the preceding six months.
4. A security deposit is not available to be applied to the existing liability.

Since CDTFA does not normally make demand on a surety bond for amounts of $250 or less, surety bonds solely securing the liability and meeting the other three automatic write-off criteria should be “ended” by a supervisor or authorized designee.

AUTOMATED WRITE-OFF RECOMMENDATION FOR BALANCES GREATER THAN $500 776.190

The system will automatically create a write-off case when all of the conditions below are met. Once the write-off case is created, the case must then be completed by a collector:

1. Balance is over $500.
2. No impact exists that would prevent write-off, such as an active payment plan or delinquency
3. No SCO collected account with a balance on the customer.
4. No secondary/dual debt is linked to the customer.
5. No open offer-in-compromise or bankruptcy case.
6. All accounts have a cease date over three years old.

OTHER PROGRAMS

REWARD PROGRAM

Revenue and Taxation Code section 7060 provides for a rewards program for information resulting in the identification of underreported or unreported sales and use taxes. If a person indicates that, for a reward (monetary compensation), he or she has information that would enable the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (CDTFA) to recover sales tax revenues, the person should be advised that, to date, the Legislature has not appropriated funds for the reward program. Although no reward money is currently available, an appeal to the person’s sense of fair play (equal treatment/payment of taxes for all) and responsibility as a good citizen may result in the person divulging the information.

CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES

Assembly Concurrent Resolution (ACR) 143 deals with the illegal sales of narcotics and other illegal drugs (Controlled Substances). Under the Controlled Substances program, the CDTFA will be contacted by FTB and will issue determinations when there are assets being held by the arresting authorities or some other third party that can be levied upon or when FTB has monies to refund to the taxpayer because FTB has reduced the amount of its liability.

The Controlled Substances program is controlled by headquarters and the Sacramento Office. This procedure, however, should not deter staff from issuing determinations on controlled substances and following-up with collection action on those cases where the responsible office identifies a cause or is contacted directly by a FTB field office, local police authorities, or some other source.

If a loss of assets is probable through regular determination procedures, existing jeopardy determination procedures should be utilized. Headquarters should be contacted immediately and the levy initiated for collection on a same-day basis when possible. Experience with these types of cases has shown that any delays in levying upon the assets may result in the loss of the assets to attorneys or other third parties. If the assets are going to be retained by the arresting authorities as evidence, a levy should still be served to establish the CDTFA’s priority lien.
IDENTITY THEFT PROGRAM

Identity theft occurs when a person makes an unauthorized use of another person’s personal identifying information for any unlawful purpose, such as to evade tax. Even though the perpetrator may be a family member or friend, it cannot be assumed that a person authorized such use of their personal information merely because of their relationship to the perpetrator. The discovery of identity theft may arise from an audit or collection activity. It may also be discovered after a person unlawfully uses another person’s name and personal information when applying for a permit or license without their consent, thus making the other person appear to be the person responsible for any debts incurred. However, merely adding a person’s name and personal information, including a signature or electronic signature, when applying for a permit or license does not always establish an intent to evade tax. A person may have received authority and consent from the other person to act on their behalf in specified circumstances. For example, if a partner completes the permit application for him or herself as well as another partner, the act of registering for the other partner may not have been done with the intent to evade tax.

In the event a tax or fee liability is accrued on an account where a person alleges to have been fraudulently registered for that permit, the responsible office or headquarters section that discovers the alleged identity theft or forgery is responsible for evaluating the evidence and having the account adjusted if appropriate. If team members other than the responsible collector or auditor becomes aware of the possible identity theft, the information should be sent for review to the office responsible for the collection of the liability.

Team members are responsible for clearing an innocent party of any CDTFA liability resulting from identity theft or forgery. However, team members are not responsible for pursuing or identifying the perpetrator. In all cases, team members should send a memo to the Investigations Section (Investigations) with all pertinent information and any documentation obtained as evidence to support that identity theft has occurred, so investigations may begin an investigation and take appropriate action. Investigations is responsible for contacting law enforcement.

Evidence

The innocent party is responsible for providing team members with documentary evidence supporting the claim of identity theft. Documentation may include the following:

- Police and/or court reports;
- Documentation that shows a fraud alert has been placed on credit reports;
- A copy of the Identity Theft Affidavit filed with the Federal Trade Commission (FTC). (The FTC serves as the federal clearinghouse for complaints by victims of identity theft.);
- Written responses of results of investigations by creditors, banks, or companies that provided the perpetrator with unauthorized goods or services;
- Written responses of results of investigations by district attorney’s office or other investigators supporting the claim of identity theft;
- Copies of other applications and business records relating to transactions and accounts that show that those transactions involved identity theft;
- Affidavits from landlords, vendors, accountants, or bookkeepers supporting a claim of identity theft;
- Deposition from a private handwriting expert certifying a forged signature; or
- A birth certificate indicating that the innocent party was a minor at the time the application was signed which may indicate identity theft occurred.
IDENTITY THEFT PROGRAM

This list of documentation is not intended to be all inclusive and not all of the items listed are required to substantiate claims of identity theft.

Procedure

The responsible office or section that discovers the alleged theft or forgery will examine the evidence. The Compliance Principal or section supervisor should contact other potentially affected offices (e.g., Collections Support Bureau, Program and Compliance Bureau, Use Tax Collection Bureau) when a related account, or tax or fee program, is identified that may have additional pertinent information. Once the responsible office is satisfied the documentation supports the identity theft, the Compliance Principal or section supervisor should review the case, and if in agreement, should approve a request for a legal adjustment to the account.

Once approved by the Compliance Principal or headquarters section supervisor, the responsible collector will create and send a letter to the customer informing them that a legal adjustment and release of liens (if warranted) is forthcoming. The responsible collector will create a request package and send it to the Collections Support Bureau (CSB) to perform the legal adjustment. The package must contain:

1. Memo addressed to CSB listing the documentation provided, and if liens were filed in the innocent party’s name, the request to release lien(s) filed in error should be included in the letter and the recommendation for legal adjustment.
2. Documentation proving the identity theft claim (outlined in 799.100).
3. Copy of the letter of acknowledgement/action sent to the customer by the responsible office/collector.

CSB will process the legal adjustment in the system and add notes thoroughly explaining the identity theft adjustment.

Team members will send the lien release directly to the county recorder unless otherwise instructed by the innocent party or an escrow company acting on behalf of the innocent party.
Revenue and Taxation Code (RTC) section 7063 directs CDTFA to make public each quarter a list of the 500 largest sales and use tax delinquencies (liabilities) in excess of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000). The list is available on CDTFA’s website.

Effective July 1, 2012, state governmental licensing entities that issue professional or occupational licenses, certificates, registrations, or permits, are generally required to suspend or refuse to issue or renew a license if the applicant’s or licensee’s name is included on the list of the 500 largest sales and use tax delinquencies. The Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) is required to suspend the license of any person whose name is on the list. The State Bar of California and the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board (ABC) are generally not mandated, but at their discretion, may participate with the application of this section of the law. The Contractors State License Board may also suspend, or refuse to issue or renew the license of any person whose name is on this list. For further information see Business and Professions Code (BPC) sections 494.5, and 7145.5.

The law also prohibits a state governmental agency from entering into any contract for the acquisition of goods or services with a contractor whose name appears on the Top 500 list. For further information see Public Contract Code Section 10295.4.

For purposes of compiling the Top 500 list, a liability means an amount owed to CDTFA that meets all of the following criteria. The liability must be:

1. Based on a determination deemed due and payable or self-assessed by the taxpayer;
2. Recorded as a notice of state tax lien in any county recorder’s office in this state; and
3. For an amount of tax delinquent for more than 90 days.

For purpose of the Top 500 list, a liability does not include any of the following, and, therefore, may not be included on the Top 500 list:

1. A liability that is under litigation in a court of law;
2. A liability for which payment arrangements have been agreed to by both the taxpayer and CDTFA and the taxpayer is in compliance with the arrangement; and
3. A liability of an individual or business taxpayer under federal bankruptcy protection, and the taxpayer has not yet exited or emerged from bankruptcy.

Each quarter the list of the Top 500, with respect to each liability, will include all of the following:

1. The names of the person(s) liable for payment of the tax and their last known address(es);
2. The amount of the liability as shown on the notice or notices of state tax lien including any applicable interest or penalties, less any amounts paid;
3. The earliest date that a notice of state tax lien was filed;
4. The telephone number of the Compliance Policy Unit (CPU) located at Headquarters, for taxpayers to contact if they believe their name was included on the list in error;
5. The number of persons that have appeared on the list who have satisfied their liability in full, along with the total dollar amounts that have been applied to the related liabilities; and
6. Any payments made toward liabilities on the list if requested by the taxpayer.
Collections

Top 500 Program (Cont.1) 799.200

Thirty (30) days prior to making a liability a matter of public record on its website, CDTFA shall send a preliminary written notice (CDTFA-1401, Possible Public Disclosure of Tax Delinquency) by certified mail, return receipt requested to each person(s) liable for the payment of tax. The notice will advise each person(s) of CDTFA’s intent to place their name on the list and the basis for the action.

CPU will send the CDTFA-1401 letters to notify taxpayers of the possibility of public disclosure of their tax liability. The notice will provide warning to the person(s) that if their name is included on the list, it may lead to the loss or denial of their professional or occupational licenses, including driver licenses, pursuant to BPC section 494.5, and prevent them from entering into contracts for the acquisition of goods or services with California state agencies as noted in Public Contract Code section 10295.4. If within 30 days after the issuance of the notice, the person(s) does not remit the amount due, or make arrangements with the CDTFA for payment of the amount due, the delinquent amount shall be included on the list.

Once the tax delinquencies are published, CDTFA will provide the state governmental licensing agencies, via secure file transfer, a “Certified List” of the Top 500 largest sales and use tax delinquencies for purposes of administering BPC section 494.5. These agencies shall refuse to issue, reactivate, reinstate, or renew a license and shall suspend a license if a licensee’s (our taxpayer) name is included on the “Certified List.”

Each state licensing agency shall determine whether an applicant or licensee is on the “Certified List.” If applicants or licensees are listed, the licensing agency shall then deliver, within 30 days of receipt of the list, a preliminary notice to the applicants or licensees stating the intent to suspend or withhold issuance or renewal of their licenses. The notice will include CPU’s address, a telephone number for immediate contact, and the License Suspension Release form (provided by the state agency suspending the license) in the event the licensees wish to challenge the submission of their names on the “Certified List.”

Taxpayers challenging the submission of their names on the list will complete the form and make a timely written request (explained below) for release to CPU. The criteria for release are:

1. The applicant or licensee has complied with the tax obligation, by either payment of the unpaid taxes or entry into a payment plan;
2. The applicant or licensee has submitted a request for release not later than 45 days after receipt of the state licensing agency’s preliminary notice; or
3. The applicant or licensee is unable to pay the outstanding tax obligation due to a current financial hardship. BPC section 494.5(h)(3) defines financial hardship as determined by CDTFA where the taxpayer is unable to pay any part of the outstanding liability and is unable to qualify for a payment plan. In order to establish existence of a financial hardship, the taxpayer shall submit any information requested by CDTFA, including information related to reasonable business and personal expenses, for purposes of making that determination. Hardship requests will be considered on a case-by-case basis.
CDTFA must remove the taxpayer’s name from the Top 500 list no later than five business days from the occurrence of any of the following:

1. The person(s) liable for the tax has contacted CDTFA and entered into a payment plan to satisfy the liability. However, if the person fails to comply with the payment plan after having their name removed from the list, CDTFA shall add that person’s name to the list without providing additional written notice. The responsible collector must notify CPU if a payment plan is terminated. This notification should include the reason for termination and indicate if all criteria for inclusion on the Top 500 list have been met;

2. CDTFA has received notice, or discovered that the delinquent taxpayer is under federal bankruptcy protection;

3. CDTFA has analyzed the delinquent taxpayer’s bankruptcy case docket and papers confirm that there are no more assets to pay down an aged, dischargeable delinquency; or

4. Collections Support Bureau (CSB) has approved the liability for write-off because it is uncollectible. Once Field Operations Division (FOD) team members determine that an account eligible for the Top 500 list should be written off, the write-off should be initiated and sent to CSB as soon as possible. Notify CPU once the write-off has been initiated so CPU can refrain from placing the taxpayer on the list until the write-off occurs. It may take over 30 days before the write-off is approved by CSB and sent to the State Controller’s Office. With a new Top 500 list posting roughly every 90 days, the write-off process may not be completed before the next Top 500 list is posted.

HEADQUARTERS RESPONSIBILITY

Compliance Policy Unit (CPU)

Each quarter, CPU will:

1. Extract a list of candidates that may qualify for the Top 500 list, based on the required criteria stipulated above. The list will be distributed to FOD to determine if all the criteria have been met for inclusion on the list;

2. Post the Top 500 Tax Delinquencies on CDTFA’s website once the accounts have been certified by FOD;

3. Provide state governmental licensing agencies with the quarterly “Certified List” of the Top 500 largest sales and use tax delinquencies pursuant to section 7063 for purposes of administering BPC section 494.5, and act as a point of contact with state licensing agencies, licensees, and FOD to facilitate tax resolutions;

4. Receive “License Suspension Release” requests from taxpayers wishing to challenge their placement on the Top 500 tax delinquency list and distribute them to FOD for processing of tax payment arrangements; and

5. Notify licensees on the outcome of their License Suspension Release requests. Copies of these responses will be mailed to state governmental licensing agencies related to the licensee. CDTFA will respond within 45 days from the date CPU received the License Suspension Release request. In the event CDTFA is unable to complete the release review within 45 days after receipt of the licensee’s request for release, the release should be granted and CDTFA shall notify the licensing agency to reinstate the applicable license with retroactive effect back to the date of the erroneous suspension, and the suspension shall not be reflected on any licensee’s record.
Collections Support Bureau (CSB)

Once an account on the list has received final approval by CSB for write-off, CSB shall immediately notify CPU, so that the account may be removed from the list.

FIELD OPERATIONS DIVISION (FOD)

To determine the potential liabilities to be placed on the Top 500 quarterly list, the system will create a list for field offices to review. The list includes the name of the collector assigned to each account. A team member from the respective office is responsible for performing the review. Once the office has determined whether all the criteria has been met for inclusion on the list, a Business Taxes Administrator I or higher will approve the case in the system. After determining whether candidates can be included on the list and approving or denying the case in the system, team members in the responsible offices must continue to monitor those accounts until the Top 500 list is published. Any change in status must be communicated to CPU as soon as possible. As used below, the term “qualifying liabilities” means individual differences that solely, or in combination, cause the account to qualify for listing on the website. The responsible offices must ensure that:

1. The qualifying liabilities have been final for more than 90 days;
2. CDTFA has recorded a notice of state tax lien for the qualifying liabilities in a California county recorder’s office;
3. The current delinquency amount due for the qualifying liabilities is in excess of $100,000;
4. The qualifying liabilities are not under litigation in a court of law;
5. The qualifying liabilities are not in the appeals process. For the purpose of this process, if all of the tax liability, with the exception of the penalty and interest, has been paid and a refund request has been submitted, we will consider this as an appeal;
6. The taxpayer is not in bankruptcy status;
7. The account is not on a payment plan;
8. The mailing address is current by checking EDD, DMV, Franchise Tax Board (FTB), Clear and/or other available search tools;
9. For partnerships, husband-wife co-ownerships, and registered domestic partnerships, ensure that all listed taxpayers are liable for the qualifying liabilities. If individual partners are liable for lesser amounts, specify those amounts on the list. If all partners are liable for the full amount, no special notation will be required;
10. The qualifying liabilities were not discharged in bankruptcy. Discharged liabilities will not be adjusted off of the taxpayer’s total outstanding tax liability when a lien survives the discharge and remains in place. If a liability was discharged in bankruptcy but a lien remains in place, collection against the property subject to the lien may occur, however not against the individual who was discharged in bankruptcy. Therefore, discharged liabilities cannot be included in the calculation of liabilities qualifying a taxpayer for listing. Verify the taxpayer qualifies for listing based only on the non-discharged liabilities that remain subject to collection action. To determine liabilities subject to collection after a bankruptcy, search the notes on the customer level and review it for a “bankruptcy summary, discharge review” note, or contact CSB Bankruptcy Team;
11. The accounts have not been written off. An account is considered written off when it has been approved by all required levels within CSB;

Collections Support Bureau (CSB)
12. The taxpayer does not qualify for License Suspension Release. Review taxpayers’ “License Suspension Release” requests received by CPU and determine if taxpayers qualify for the license suspension release by agreeing to pay the liability in full or by entering into reasonable payment plans. Once taxpayers agree to either form of payment, FOD should notify the taxpayer of the agreement using current acceptance documents. There may be instances where taxpayers will send their release requests directly to FOD offices instead of CPU. In this case, the responsible offices should begin working the account and immediately send a copy of the Release Request via email (PDF) to CPU or fax a copy to CPU at 916-322-4530; and

13. Immediately notify CPU of the outcome of the License Suspension Release review so that state licensing agencies can be informed whether or not to release the license suspension.

FOD will continue to be responsible for collection of accounts posted on the Top 500 list. Returned mail updates will be sent from CPU to the responsible office to determine if a better address exists by using skip tracing tools such as EDD, DMV, FTB and Clear, etc. If a better address is found, the address should be updated in the system. The information should also be relayed to CPU who will then generate a new letter and mail it to the taxpayer. CPU will ensure that the account is not posted to the list if the CDTFA-1401 letter is generated less than 30 days from the next list update. Returned mail labeled as unclaimed and or refused need not be further researched and will be included on the list.

Once an account has been posted on the Top 500 list, it should be closely monitored for any changes that would require it to be removed from the list. CPU must be contacted immediately by email if it is necessary to remove an account from the list. RTC section 7063 requires that the taxpayer’s name must be removed from the list within five business days after CDTFA is notified of an action that disqualifies it from placement on the list.
